2 SEC. 251. FINDINGS, AUTHORITIES, AND COMPETITIVE RE-
3 SEARCH GRANTS UNDER FOREST AND 4 RANGELAND RENEWABLE RESOURCES RE-
5 SEARCH ACT OF 1978.

6 (a) FINDINGS.—Section 2 of the Forest and Range-
7 land Renewable Resources Research Act of 1978 (16 8 U.S.C. 1641) is amended by striking “SEC. 2.” and sub-9 section (a) and inserting the following:

10 “SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

11 “(a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

12 “(1) Forests and rangelands, and the resources 13 of forests and rangelands, are of strategic economic 14 and ecological importance to the United States, and 15 the Federal Government has an important and sub-16 stantial role in ensuring the continued health, pro-
17 ductivity, and sustainability of the Nation’s forests
18 and rangelands.

19 “(2) Over 75 percent of the productive commer-20 cial forest land in the United States is in private 21 ownership, with some 60 percent owned by small 22 nonindustrial private owners. These 10,000,000 non-23 industrial private owners are critical to providing 24 both commodity and noncommodity values to the 25 citizens of the United States.

1 “(3) The National Forest System manages only 2 17 percent of the Nation’s commercial timberlands,
3 with over half of the standing softwoods inventory 4 located on those lands. Dramatic changes in Federal 5 agency policy during the early 1990’s have signifi-
6 cantly curtailed the management of this vast timber 7 resource, causing abrupt shifts in the supply of tim-8 ber from public to private ownership. As a result of 9 these shifts in supply, some 60 percent of total wood 10 production in the United States is now coming from 11 private forest lands in the southern United States.

12 “(4) At the same time that pressures are build-13 ing for the removal of even more land from commer-
14 cial production, the Federal Government is signifi-
15 cantly reducing its commitment to productivity-relat-16 ed research regarding forests and rangelands, which 17 is critically needed by the private sector for the sus-
18 tained management of remaining available timber 19 and forage resources for the benefit of all species.

20 “(5) Uncertainty over the availability of the 21 United States timber supply, increasing regulatory 22 burdens, and the lack of Federal Government sup-23 port for research is causing domestic wood and 24 paper producers to move outside the United States 25 to find reliable sources of wood supplies, which in

1 turns results in a worsening of the United States
2 trade balance, the loss of employment and infra-3 structure investments, and an increased risk of in-4 festations of exotic pests and diseases from imported 5 wood products.

6 “(6) Wood and paper producers in the United 7 States are being challenged not only by shifts in 8 Government policy, but also by international com-
9 petition from tropical countries where growth rates
10 of trees far exceed those in the United States. Wood 11 production per acre will need to quadruple from 12 1996 levels for the United States forestry sector to 13 remain internationally competitive on an ever de-14 creasing forest land base.

15 “(7) Better and more frequent forest
16 inventorying and analysis is necessary to identify 17 productivity-related forestry research needs and to 18 provide forest managers with the current data nec-
19 essary to make timely and effective management de-20 cisions.”.

21 (b) HIGH PRIORITY FORESTRY RESEARCH AND EDU-22 CATION.—Subsection (d) of section 3 of the Forest and 23 Rangeland Renewable Resources Research Act of 1978
24 (16 U.S.C. 1642) is amended to read as follows:

1 “(d) HIGH PRIORITY FORESTRY AND RANGELANDS
2 RESEARCH AND EDUCATION.—The Secretary may con-
3 duct, support, and cooperate in forestry and rangelands 4 research and education that is of the highest priority to 5 the United States and to users of public and private forest
6 lands and rangelands in the United States. Such research 7 and education priorities include the following:

8 “(1) The biology of forest organisms and range-9 land organisms.

10 “(2) Functional characteristics and cost-effec-
11 tive management of forest and rangeland eco-12 systems.

13 “(3) Interactions between humans and forests
14 and rangelands.

15 “(4) Wood and forage as a raw material.

16 “(5) International trade, competition, and co-17 operation.”.

18 (c) FOREST INVENTORY AND ANALYSIS.—Section 3
19 of the Forest and Rangeland Renewable Resources Re-
20 search Act of 1978 (16 U.S.C. 1642) is amended by add-21 ing at the end the following new subsection:

22 “(e) FOREST INVENTORY AND ANALYSIS.—

23 “(1) PROGRAM REQUIRED.—In compliance with 24 existing statutory authority, the Secretary shall es-
25 tablish a program to inventory and analyze, in a

1 timely manner, public and private forests and their 2 resources in the United States.

3 “(2) ANNUAL STATE INVENTORY.—Not later
4 than the end of each full fiscal year beginning after 5 the date of the enactment of this subsection, the 6 Secretary shall prepare for each State, in coopera-
7 tion with the State forester for the State, an inven-8 tory of forests and their resources in the State. For 9 purposes of preparing the inventory for a State, the 10 Secretary shall measure annually 20 percent of all 11 sample plots that are included in the inventory pro-
12 gram for that State. Upon completion of the inven-
13 tory for a year, the Secretary shall make available 14 to the public a compilation of all data collected for 15 that year from measurements of sample plots as well 16 as any analysis made of such samples.

17 “(3) FIVE-YEAR REPORTS.—At intervals not 18 greater than every five full fiscal years after the date
19 of the enactment of this subsection, the Secretary 20 shall prepare, publish, and make available to the 21 public a report, prepared in cooperation with State 22 foresters, that—

23 “(A) contains a description of each State
24 inventory of forests and their resources, incor-
25 porating all sample plot measurements con-

1 ducted during the five years covered by the re-2 port;

3 “(B) displays and analyzes on a nationwide
4 basis the results of the annual reports required 5 by paragraph (2); and

6 “(C) contains an analysis of forest health 7 conditions and trends over the previous two 8 decades, with an emphasis on such conditions 9 and trends during the period subsequent to the 10 immediately preceding report under this para-
11 graph.

12 “(4) NATIONAL STANDARDS AND DEFINI-
13 TIONS.—To ensure uniform and consistent data col-
14 lection for all public and private forest ownerships
15 and each State, the Secretary shall develop, in con-
16 sultation with State foresters and Federal land man-17 agement agencies not under the jurisdiction of the 18 Secretary, and publish national standards and defi-19 nitions to be applied in inventorying and analyzing 20 forests and their resources under this subsection.
21 The standards shall include a core set of variables 22 to be measured on all sample plots under paragraph 23 (2) and a standard set of tables to be included in 24 the reports under paragraph (3).

1 “(5) PROTECTION FOR PRIVATE PROPERTY
2 RIGHTS.—The Secretary shall obtain written author-
3 ization from property owners prior to collecting data 4 from sample plots located on private property pursu-5 ant to paragraphs (2) and (3).

6 “(6) STRATEGIC PLAN.—Not later than 180
7 days after the date of the enactment of this sub-8 section, the Secretary shall prepare and submit to 9 Congress a strategic plan to implement and carry 10 out this subsection, including the annual updates re-11 quired by paragraph (2) and the reports require by 12 paragraph (3), that shall describe in detail—

13 “(A) the financial resources required to 14 implement and carry out this subsection, in-15 cluding the identification of any resources re-16 quired in excess of the amounts provided for 17 forest inventorying and analysis in recent ap-
18 propriations Acts;

19 “(B) the personnel necessary to implement 20 and carry out this subsection, including any 21 personnel in addition to personnel currently 22 performing inventorying and analysis functions;

23 “(C) the organization and procedures nec-
24 essary to implement and carry out this sub-25 section, including proposed coordination with

1 Federal land management agencies and State
2 foresters;

3 “(D) the schedules for annual sample plot
4 measurements in each State inventory required 5 by paragraph (2) within the first five-year in-6 terval after the date of the enactment of this 7 subsection;

8 “(E) the core set of variables to be meas-
9 ured in each sample plot under paragraph (2) 10 and the standard set of tables to be used in 11 each State and national report under paragraph 12 (3); and

13 “(F) the process for employing, in coordi-14 nation with the Department of Energy and the 15 National Aeronautics and Space Administra-
16 tion, remote sensing, global positioning systems,

15 section 3 to make competitive grants regarding rangelands 16 research in the high priority research areas identified in 17 section 3(d).

18 “(d) PRIORITIES.—In making grants under sub-19 sections (b) and (c), the Secretary shall give priority to 20 research proposals in which—

21 “(1) the proposed research will be collaborative 22 research organized through a center of scientific ex-23 cellence;

21 SEC. 511. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING DESIGNATION
22 OF DEPARTMENT CRISIS MANAGEMENT
23 TEAM.

24 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

25 (1) The Department of Agriculture plays a cru-26 cial role in ensuring that the United States is a

1 world leader in maintaining the most affordable, 2 abundant, wholesome, and safe food supply for its 3 citizens.

4 (2) It is in the best interest of consumers, pro-
5 ducers, processors, retailers, government officials, 6 and other interested parties to ensure that any crisis 7 that may affect the operation of the Department or 8 the production of a safe and wholesome food supply 9 is addressed in an effective manner.

10 (3) Unforeseen circumstances, including natural 11 disaster, personnel management problems, threats to 12 public health, and trade disruptions, have the poten-
13 tial to undermine the operation of the Department
14 and the Nation's ability to efficiently provide a safe, 15 affordable, abundant, and wholesome food supply.

16 (4) Department of Agriculture employees, con-
17 sumer confidence, and the food production sector
18 have been adversely impacted as a result of the chal-
19 lenges associated with Federal agencies' ability to 20 respond to incidents in a coordinated and timely 21 fashion.

22 (5) An effective response to crises, emergencies, 23 and similar situations depends upon the timely and 24 efficient coordination of Federal, State, and local 25 government agencies.

1 (6) It is in the best interests of the Nation to 2 ensure that whenever a crisis occurs the appropriate
3 Federal agencies coordinate their activities.

4 (7) The Department of Agriculture should take 5 the lead in ensuring a safe and wholesome supply of 6 food for the Nation because of its broad and diverse 7 relationship with consumers and the food production 8 sector.

9 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-10 gress that the Secretary of Agriculture should—

11 (1) designate a Crisis Management Team with-12 in the Department of Agriculture, which would be 13 composed of senior departmental personnel with 14 strong subject matter expertise selected from each 15 relevant agency of the Department and would be 16 headed by a team leader with strong management 17 and communications skills;

18 (2) upon establishment of such a Crisis Man-
19 agement Team, direct that the Crisis Management
20 Team—

21 (A) develop a department-wide crisis man-
22 agement plan, taking into account similar plans 23 developed by other government agencies and 24 other large organizations;

1 (B) develop detailed written procedures for 2 implementing the crisis management plan;

3 (C) conduct periodic reviews and revisions
4 of the crisis management plan and procedures;

5 (D) ensure compliance with crisis manage-
6 ment procedures by departmental personnel;

7 (E) coordinate the Department's informa-
8 tion gathering and dissemination activities con-
9 cerning issues managed by the Crisis Manage-
10 ment Team;

11 (F) ensure that all employees of the De-12 partment are familiar with the crisis manage-13 ment plan and procedures and are encouraged 14 to bring information regarding crises or poten-
15 tial crises to the attention of team members;

16 (G) ensure that departmental spokes-
17 persons convey accurate, timely, and scientif-18 ically sound information that is easily under-19 stood by the target audience; and

20 (H) cooperate and coordinate with other 21 Federal agencies, States, local governments, in-22 dustry, and public interest groups; and

23 (3) seek to enter into cooperative agreements 24 with other Federal departments and agencies that 25 have related programs or activities to help ensure

1 consistent, accurate, and coordinated dissemination 2 of information throughout the executive branch in 3 the event of a crisis.

Passed the House of Representatives November 8, 1997.
