 - (4) There presently exists no straightforward way for a taxpayer to determine exactly how much he or she paid for specific governmental activities.
 - (5) The failure to provide taxpayers with an itemized listing showing how their tax dollars are spent contributes to a lack of knowledge about the Government and subsequently to a less informed electorate.
 - (6) The Internal Revenue Service must update its technology and treat taxpayer information as a strategic asset to improve customer service.
 - (7) Taxpayer education by the Internal Revenue Service aimed at showing taxpayers how their tax dollars are spent leads to increased compliance.
