105TH CONGRESS 2D SESSION

S. RES. 190

To express the sense of the Senate regarding reductions in class size.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

March 3, 1998

Mr. Feingold (for himself and Mrs. Feinstein) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Labor and Human Resources

RESOLUTION

To express the sense of the Senate regarding reductions in class size.

- Whereas long-range projections by the Bureau of the Census indicate a rising number of births, rising to 4,200,000 in 2010 and 4,600,000 in 2020;
- Whereas in the coming years the population of school-aged children is expected to increase to a record 52,200,000;
- Whereas academic achievement for all students is one of our Nation's highest priorities;
- Whereas increased enrollments have resulted in a further increase of the average class size;
- Whereas research has shown that children in small classes in the earliest grades achieve better academically than the peers of such children in larger classes;

Whereas research has shown substantial lasting benefits for children who were in small classes during the earliest grades;

Whereas smaller classes allow students to receive more individual attention from their teachers, and reduce teachers' burden of managing large numbers of students and the other work of the teachers; and

Whereas several States have been forward thinking in trying to address this classroom size problem: Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved, That it is the sense of the Senate that—

2 (1) experiments in reducing class size have had 3 an effect on academic achievement in the earliest

4 grades; and

5 (2) the Senate should seek to assist States in 6 the efforts of States to reduce class size and access 7 the benefits of such a reduction.
