

106TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. J. RES. 14

Designating Monday, January 3, 2000, as the day for the observance of the New Year's Day holiday in that year.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JANUARY 6, 1999

Mr. LINDER (for himself and Mr. DREIER) introduced the following joint resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Government Reform

JOINT RESOLUTION

Designating Monday, January 3, 2000, as the day for the observance of the New Year's Day holiday in that year.

Whereas the problem commonly referred to as the “Year 2000 computer problem” may undermine the ability of computers to function correctly, and cause a disruption in business, government, and other important services; and

Whereas January 1, 2000, occurs on a Saturday, and hence, in accordance with applicable provisions of law, the New Year's Day holiday would, but for this resolution, be observed on Friday, December 31, 1999: Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives
2 of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 That, in order to provide the public and technology profes-
2 sionals with an additional day, prior to the start of the
3 workweek, to begin repairs on failed computer systems
4 caused by the Year 2000 computer problem, the New
5 Year's Day holiday in the year 2000 shall be deemed to 6 occur on January 3, 2000 (rather than the date that
7 would otherwise apply under section 6103(a) of title 5,
8 United States Code).
