1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2 Congress finds the following:

3 (1) All human beings are created equal and 4 possess certain rights and freedoms, including the 5 fundamental right to participate in the political life 6 and government of their respective countries. These 7 inalienable rights are recognized in the Declaration 8 of Independence of the United States and in the 9 Universal Declaration of Human Rights of the 10 United Nations.

11 (2) Political legitimacy derives from the consent 12 of the governed, whether expressed directly or 13 through representatives chosen by free, fair, and 14 open elections.

15 (3) In his Inaugural Address and State of the 16 Union Address, President George W. Bush upheld 17 the pursuit of freedom as the driving ideal of the 18 foreign policy of the United States and made clear 19 that the best way to defend freedom is to spread lib-

1 erty to the places where tyranny thrives, opportunity 2 is stifled, and terrorism grows.

3 (4) The right to democracy was affirmed as a 4 human right by the United Nations Commission on 5 Human Rights on April 27, 1999, by a vote of 50–
6 0 with only two abstentions. The resolution recog-
7 nized that democracy is based on free, fair, and open 8 elections, a foundation of open and transparent civil 9 institutions, an independent judiciary, the rule of 10 law, a free press, the right of peaceful assembly, the 11 freedom of religion, and the right of every citizen to 12 participate fully in the political life of the citizen’s 13 country.

14 (5) Over the past three decades, the number of 15 fully democratic countries has more than doubled to 16 89 from 41, while the number of countries governed
17 by a dictator or a totalitarian government decreased 18 by 37 percent, often as a result of nonviolent resist-
19 ance by the peoples of such countries, aided by sup-20 port from democratic countries.

21 (6) According to the annual Freedom in the 22 World report published by Freedom House (an an-23 nual comparative assessment of the state of political 24 rights and civil liberties in 192 countries and 18 re-25 lated and disputed territories), 75 percent of the

1 population of the world currently lives in countries 2 categorized as “entirely free” or “partly free”, as 3 opposed to only 57 percent in 1973.

4 (7) These changes have been achieved in part 5 through sustained and comprehensive efforts by 6 democratic countries, including the United States
7 and the democratic countries of Europe, to support 8 dissidents and democracy activists in non-democratic 9 countries.

10 (8) The continued lack of democracy, freedom, 11 and fundamental human rights in some countries is 12 inconsistent with the universal values on which the 13 United States is based, the promotion of which com-14 prises a fundamental element of United States for-15 eign policy.

16 (9) The continued lack of democracy, freedom,
17 and fundamental human rights in some countries 18 also poses a security threat to the United States, its 19 interests, and its friends, as it is in such countries
20 that radicalism, extremism, and terrorism can flour-21 ish.

22 (10) There is a correlation between nondemo-
23 cratic rule and other threats to international peace
24 and security, including war, genocide, famine, pov-
25 erty, drug trafficking, corruption, refugee flows,

1 human trafficking, religious persecution, environ-
2 mental degradation, and discrimination against 3 women.

4 (11) Wars between or among democratic coun-5 tries are exceedingly rare, while wars between and 6 among nondemocratic countries are commonplace, 7 with nearly 170,000,000 people having lost their 8 lives because of the policies of totalitarian govern-9 ments.

10 (12) There is a strong correlation between non-11 democratic rule and famine.

12 (13) Seventy-seven percent of refugees in the 13 world come from countries that lack electoral democ-
14 racy.

15 (14) In nondemocratic countries, women are 16 often exposed to particular hardships and a lack of 17 opportunity, and trafficking in women and children
18 often flourishes.

19 (15) There is a positive correlation between eco-20 nomic and political freedom and preservation of the 21 environment.

22 (16) A world that fully reflects fundamental 23 human and political rights would be free of dictator-24 ship. Such a world would be profoundly safer and 25 more just, peaceful, prosperous, and stable. Coun-

1 tries that lack freedom and democracy necessarily 2 limit the full flourishing of human potential and, as 3 such, a goal of United States foreign policy is to 4 promote universal democracy.

5 (17) The transition to democracy must be led 6 from within nondemocratic countries and by nation-
7 als of such countries who live abroad. Nevertheless, 8 democratic countries have a number of instruments 9 available for supporting democratic reformers who 10 are committed to promoting effective, nonviolent 11 change in nondemocratic countries.

12 (18) United States efforts to promote democ-
13 racy in countries where it is lacking can be strenght-
14 ened. A full evaluation of United States funds ex-15 pended for the support of democracy is necessary to 16 ensure an efficient and effective use of such funds.

17 (19) In 2002, Congress passed the Freedom In-18 vestment Act of 2002 (subtitle E of title VI of divi-
19 sion A of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, 20 Fiscal Year 2003) to increase the focus on pro-
21 moting human rights and democracy as an element
22 of United States foreign policy.

23 (20) United States ambassadors and diplomats
24 can play a critical role in the effort to promote de-25 mocracy by publicly demonstrating support for

1 democratic principles, by discussing democratic, so-
2 cial, and economic freedoms with citizens and lead-
3 ers of non-democratic countries, and by building re-4 lationships with citizens that promote democratic 5 principles, practices, and values. United States mis-6 sions in non-democratic countries are potential “is-7 lands of freedom” in such countries. Training and 8 incentives are needed to assist United States offi-
9 cials in strengthening the techniques and skills re-10 quired to promote democracy.

11 (21) Nongovernmental organizations and pri-
12 vate individuals and movements also play a vital role
13 in promoting democracy, and the United States
14 must expand its support of such organizations, indi-
15 viduals, and movements.

16 (22) The promotion of democracy requires a 17 broad-based effort with collaboration between all 18 democratic countries. One forum for advancing this 19 effort is the Community of Democracies, which first 20 met in Warsaw, Poland, in June 2000, and which is 21 scheduled to meet in 2005 in Santiago, Chile.

22 (23) The promotion of such universal democ-
23 racy constitutes a long-term challenge that does not 24 always lead to an immediate transition to full de-25 mocracy, but universal democracy is achievable.

1 SEC. 3. STATEMENT OF POLICY.

2 It shall be the policy of the United States —

3 (1) to promote freedom and democracy in for-4 eign countries as a fundamental component of 5 United States foreign policy;

6 (2) to affirm fundamental freedoms and human 7 rights in foreign countries and to condemn offenses 8 against those freedoms and rights as a fundamental 9 component of United States foreign policy;

10 (3) to use all instruments of United States in-11 fluence to support, promote, and strengthen demo-12 cratic principles, practices, and values in foreign 13 countries, including the right to free, fair, and open 14 elections, secret balloting, and universal suffrage;

15 (4) to protect and promote fundamental polit-16 ical, social, and economic freedoms and rights, in-17 cluding the freedom of association, of expression, of 18 the press, and of religion, and the right to own pri-
19 vate property;

20 (5) to protect and promote respect for and ad-
21 herence to the rule of law in foreign countries;

22 (6) to provide appropriate support to organiza-
23 tions, individuals, and movements located in non-24 democratic countries that aspire to live in freedom 25 and establish full democracy in such countries;

1 (7) to provide, political, economic, and other 2 support to foreign countries that are willingly under-3 taking a transition to democracy;

4 (8) to commit United States foreign policy to 5 the long-term challenge of promoting universal de-6 mocracy; and

7 (9) to strengthen alliances and relationships
8 with other democratic countries in order to better 9 promote and defend shared values and ideals.

9 (4) develop, adopt, and pursue strategies to ad-
10 vance common interests in international organiza-
11 tions and multilateral institutions to which members 12 of the alliance of democratic countries belong; and 13 (5) provide political, economic, and other nec-

14 essary support to countries that are undergoing a 15 transition to democracy.

16 (c) AUTHORIZATION.—The President is authorized to 17 take such actions as the President determines to be nec-
18 essary and appropriate to establish alliances with other 19 democratic countries to achieve the purposes described in 20 subsection (b).

21 (d) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING PARTICIPA-
22 TION.—It is the sense of Congress that any foreign coun-23 try that is categorized as nondemocratic in the most recent 24 Annual Report on Democracy under section 102(b) should

1 not participate in any alliance of democratic countries
2 aimed at working together to promote democracy.

3 SEC. 202. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING THE ESTAB-
4 LISHMENT OF A DEMOCRACY CAUCUS.

5 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that with the passage
6 of the Intelligence Reform and Terrorism Prevention Act
7 of 2004 (Public Law 108–458), Congress—

8 (1) encouraged the establishment of a Democ-
9 racy Caucus within the United Nations, the United 10 Nations Human Rights Commission, the United Na-
11 tions Conference on Disarmament, and at other 12 broad-based international organizations; and 13 (2) required increased training in multilateral 14 diplomacy for members of the Foreign Service and 15 appropriate members of the Civil Service to support 16 such an establishment.

17 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
18 gress that the creation of a Democracy Caucus in each 19 international organization and multilateral institution of 20 which the United States is a member will not only improve 21 the internal governance of such organizations but will also 22 strengthen the implementation of commitments by such 23 organizations and institutions regarding democracy and 24 human rights.

1 SEC. 203. ANNUAL DIPLOMATIC MISSIONS ON MULTILAT-
2 ERAL ISSUES.

3 The Secretary of State, acting through the principal

17 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-

19 Community of Democracies may eventually be necessary 20 in the future, at which time the United States should 21 guide and strongly support such a development. It is the 20 untary contribution for the acquisition, refurbish-21 ment, or construction of a headquarters building for 22 the Community of Democracies. Such funds may 23 also be applied toward the costs of meetings and 24 studies to formalize the location of such head-

11 sitions to full democracy.

12 (2) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—

19 paragraph shall remain available until expended.

20 (3) USE OF FUNDS.—Any grant or voluntary
21 contribution made in fiscal year 2006 by the Sec-

5 grams and activities of the Democracy Transition
6 Center referred to in paragraph (3) are programs 7 and activities that—

8 (A) develop, adopt, or pursue programs,
9 campaigns, and tactics to promote the peaceful 10 transition to democracy in nondemocratic coun-
11 tries and, in addition, to work with countries 12 that have gone through a transition to a partly 13 democratic form of government in order to con-14 solidate and accelerate progress toward a fully 15 democratic form of government;

16 (B) provide political, financial, and other
17 necessary support to individuals and nongovern-18 mental organizations that promote democratic 19 principles, practices, and values in each non-

15 (F) undertake any other appropriate or 16 necessary actions that are compatible with the

4 TITLE IV—SUPPORT FOR SPE-
5 CIAL AND REGIONAL INITIA-
6 TIVES

7 SEC. 401. FINDINGS.

8 Congress finds the following:

9 (1) The Helsinki Final Act of 1975 of the Con-
10 ference on Security and Cooperation in Europe (1 11 August 1975) and the Helsinki Process empowered 12 democrats living in nondemocratic countries to orga-
13 nize and insist that the governments of such coun-14 tries honor the commitments to economic and 15 human rights that such governments had pledged.
16 These local democrats and the Helsinki Process 17 played a fundamental role in bringing about the 18 peaceful end to the communist dictatorships of East-19 ern Europe.

20 (2) Since 1975, Algeria, Egypt, Israel, Jordan,
21 Morocco, and Tunisia have been “Mediterranean 22 Partners for Cooperation” with the Organization for 23 Security and Cooperation in Europe.

24 (3) Conferences regarding security and coopera-
25 tion in the regions of Africa, Asia, and the Middle

1 East present an opportunity to establish an agree-
2 ment concerning organizing principles and processes
3 to guide the countries of these regions in the transi-
4 tion to greater security, prosperity, justice, and free-5 dom.

6 (4) At the Second Ministerial Conference of the 7 Community of Democracies in Seoul, South Korea,
8 all participating governments endorsed the impor-
9 tance of furthering democracy through the formation 10 of regional groups and initiatives. United States sup-11 port for this regional approach would have a bene-12 ficial impact on the promotion of democracy in non-13 democratic countries.

14 SEC. 402. SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING SUPPORT FOR 15 REGIONAL INITIATIVES.

16 It is the sense of Congress that the President, acting 17 through the Secretary of State, the Under Secretary of 18 State for Global Affairs, and relevant United States chiefs 19 of mission, should support the efforts of countries and 20 groups in the regions of the Mediterranean, the Middle 21 East, Asia, and Africa to organize regional processes simi-
22 lar to the Helsinki Process to promote better relations 23 among each other and among the other countries of the 24 world, to promote peaceful relations, to strengthen re-

1 gional security, and to promote fundamental rights and 2 political, economic, and social progress.

3 TITLE V—PRESIDENTIAL 4 ACTIONS

5 SEC. 501. DESCRIPTION OF PRESIDENTIAL ACTIONS.

6 (a) AUTHORIZATION.—With respect to a foreign 7 country categorized as nondemocratic in the most recent 8 Annual Report on Democracy under section 102(b), the 9 President is authorized to—

10 (1) issue a private or public demarche to, or a 11 public condemnation of, the government or any offi-
12 cial of the government of such country;

13 (2) issue a public condemnation within one or 14 more multilateral fora to the government or any offi-
15 cial of the government of such country;

18 investigation, regulate, direct and compel, nullify, 19 void, prevent, or prohibit any acquisition, holding,
20 withholding, use, transfer, withdrawal, transpor-
21 tation, importation or exportation of, or dealing in, 22 or exercising any right, power, or privilege with re-
23 spect to, or transactions involving, any property sub-24 ject to the jurisdiction of the United States in which

1 the government of such country or any official of the 2 government of such country has any interest;

3 (5) instruct, through the Secretary of the 4 Treasury, the United States executive directors to 5 each international financial institution to vote
6 against and actively oppose any extension by the re-
7 spective institution of any loan, credit, or guarantee 8 to or for the benefit of the government, or any speci-9 fied official of the government, of such country;

10 (6) direct the Overseas Private Investment Cor-
11 poration, and the Trade and Development Agency, 12 as appropriate, to not approve the issuance of any 13 (or a specified number of) guarantees, insurance, ex-
14 tensions of credit, or participations in the extension 15 of credit for the benefit of or with respect to the 16 government, or any specified official of the govern-
17 ment, of such country;

18 (7) prohibit the United States from procuring, 19 or entering into any contract for the procurement of, 20 any goods or services from any specified official of 21 the government of such country;

22 (8) order the heads of appropriate United 23 States agencies to not issue any (or a specified num-24 ber of) specific licenses, and to not grant any other 25 specific authority (or a specified number of authori-

1 ties), to export any goods or technology to any speci-2 fied official of the government of such country, or to 3 any other specified resident of such country, 4 under—

5 (A) the Export Administration Act of 1979
6 (50 U.S.C. App. 2401 et seq.);

7 (B) the Arms Export Control Act (22
8 U.S.C. 2751 et seq.);

9 (C) the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (42 10 U.S.C. 2011 et seq.); or

11 (D) any other Federal law that requires 12 the prior review and approval of the United 13 States as a condition for the export or reexport 14 of goods or services; and

15 (9) consistent with section 212(f) of the Immi-
16 gration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C 1182(f)), deny
17 entry into the United States of any specified alien 18 who—

19 (A) is an official of the government of such 20 country; or

21 (B) is a spouse, minor child, or agent of 22 such an official.

23 (b) NO EFFECT ON EXISTING LAW.—The encourage-24 ment to Presidential action provided under this section is

1 in addition to and shall not supersede United States obli-
2 gations under domestic law or international agreement.

3 (c) REGULATIONS.—The President may issue such 4 regulations, including regulations prescribing definitions,
5 as may be necessary for the exercise of the actions de-6 scribed in this section.

7 SEC. 502. INVESTIGATION OF VIOLATIONS OF INTER-
8 NATIONAL HUMANITARIAN LAW.

9 (a) IN GENERAL.—The President, with the assist-10 ance of the Secretary of State, the Under Secretary of 11 State for Global Affairs, and the Ambassador-at-Large for 12 War Crimes Issues, shall collect information regarding in-13 cidents that may constitute crimes against humanity,
14 genocide, slavery, or other violations of international hu-
15 manitarian law by leaders or other government officials 16 of foreign countries categorized as nondemocratic in the 17 most recent Annual Report on Democracy under section 18 102(b).

19 (b) REPORT.—Not later than January 15 of each 20 year, the President, acting through the Secretary, with the 21 assistance of the Under Secretary of State for Global Af-
22 fairs and the Ambassador-at-Large for War Crimes
23 Issues, shall submit to the appropriate congressional com-
24 mittees a report concerning the information collected

1 under subsection (a) and any findings, determinations, or 2 recommendations made on the basis of such information.

3 (c) ACCOUNTABILITY.—The President shall consider 4 what actions can be taken to ensure that the leaders or 5 other government officials of foreign countries who are 6 identified in accordance with subsection (a) as responsible 7 for crimes against humanity, genocide, slavery, or other 8 violations of international humanitarian law are brought 9 to account for such crimes in an appropriately constituted 10 tribunal.

11 (d) LIMITATION ON DISCLOSURE.—Nothing con-
12 tained in this section shall require the disclosure, on a 13 classified or unclassified basis, of information that the 14 President determines would jeopardize sensitive sources 15 and methods or other national security interests of the 16 United States.

17 SEC. 503. PRESIDENTIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

18 (a) FINDING.—Congress finds that direct commu-19 nications from the President to citizens of countries that 20 are categorized as nondemocratic in the most recent An-21 nual Report on Democracy would be extremely beneficial
22 to demonstrate that the United States supports such citi-
23 zens and the efforts and actions of such citizens to pro-
24 mote and achieve transition to democracy in such coun-25 tries.

1 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-
2 gress that—

3 (1) from time to time as the President shall de-
4 termine appropriate, the President should broadcast 5 a message to the citizens of countries categorized as 6 nondemocratic in the most recent Annual Report on 7 Democracy under section 102(b) expressing the sup-
8 port of the United States for such citizens, dis-
9 cussing democratic principles, practices, and values, 10 and political, social, and economic freedoms, and 11 condemning violations of internationally recognized
