19   SEC. 403. SENSE OF CONGRESS WITH RESPECT TO PROS-
 20                           ECUTIONS UNDER SECTION 2422(b) OF TITLE
 21                           18, UNITED STATES CODE.

22           (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

23           (1) a jury convicted Jan P. Helder, Jr., of 24           using a computer to attempt to entice an individual

1       who had not attained the age of 18 years to engage 2       in unlawful sexual activity;

3           (2) during the trial, evidence showed that Jan
4       Helder had engaged in an online chat with an indi-
5       vidual posing as a minor, who unbeknownst to him, 6       was an undercover law enforcement officer;

7           (3) notwithstanding, Dean Whipple, District
8       Judge for the Western District of Missouri, acquit-9       ted Jan Helder, ruling that because he did not, in 10      fact, communicate with a minor, he did not commit 11      a crime;

12          (4) the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals, in United 13      States v. Jeffrey Meek, specifically addressed the 14      question facing Judge Whipple and concurred with 15      the 5th and 11th Circuit Courts in finding that “an 16      actual minor victim is not required for an attempt 17      conviction under 18 U.S.C. 2422(b).”;

18          (5) the Department of Justice has successfully 19      used evidence obtained through undercover law en-20      forcement to prosecute and convict perpetrators who 21      attempted to solicit children on the Internet; and 22          (6) the Department of Justice states, “Online 23      child pornography/child sexual exploitation is the 24      most significant cyber crime problem confronting the 25      FBI that involves crimes against children.”.

1       (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of Con-2 gress that—

3           (1) it is a crime under section 2422(b) of title
4 18, United States Code, to use a facility of inter-
5 state commerce to attempt to entice an individual 6 who has not attained the age of 18 years into unlaw-
7 ful sexual activity, even if the perpetrator incorrectly
8 believes that the individual has not attained the age 9 of 18 years;

10          (2) well-established caselaw has established that 11 section 2422(b) of title 18, United States Code, 12 criminalizes any attempt to entice a minor into un-13 lawful sexual activity, even if the perpetrator incor-
14 rectly believes that the individual has not attained 15 the age of 18 years;

16          (3) the Department of Justice should appeal
17 Judge Whipple’s decision in United States v. Helder, 18 Jr. and aggressively continue to track down and 19 prosecute sex offenders on the Internet; and 20          (4) Judge Whipple’s decision in United States 21 v. Helder, Jr. should be overturned in light of the 22 law as it is written, the intent of Congress, and well-23 established caselaw.

 3 person, the Attorney General shall release the person to 4 the appropriate official of the State in which the person

12 (b) INFORMATION.—The register described in sub-

17 (1) IN GENERAL.—

18 (A) TREATMENT OF REPORTS.—The infor-
19 mation to be provided to the Secretary of 20 Health and Human Services under this section 21 shall relate to substantiated reports of child 22 abuse or neglect. Except as provided in sub-23 paragraph (B), each State, or, at the option of 24 a State, each political subdivision of such State, 25 shall determine whether the information to be

1 provided to the Secretary of Health and Human 2 Services under this section shall also relate to 3 reports of suspected instances of child abuse or 4 neglect that were unsubstantiated or deter-
5 mined to be unfounded.

6 (B) EXCEPTION.—If a State or political 7 subdivision of a State has an equivalent elec-
8 tronic register of cases of child abuse or neglect 9 that it maintains pursuant to a requirement or 10 authorization under any other provision of law,

20 (B) shall contain case-specific identifying 21 information, except that, at the option of the 22 entity supplying the information, the confiden-
23 tiality of identifying information concerning an 24 individual initiating a report or complaint re-

1           garding a suspected or known instance of child
2           abuse or neglect may be maintained.

3       (d) CONSTRUCTION.—This section shall not be con-

5       to modify—

6           (1) an equivalent register of cases of child
7           abuse or neglect that it maintains pursuant to a re-8           quirement or authorization under any other provi-9           sion of law; or

18       or neglect. Such standards shall preserve the confiden-

20       and the child’s parents or guardians while also ensuring

5 TITLE VIII—CHILD PORNOG-
6 RAPHY PREVENTION ACT OF 7 2005

8 SEC. 801. SHORT TITLE.

9 This title may be cited as the “Child Pornography 10 Prevention Act of 2005”.

11 SEC. 802. FINDINGS.

12 Congress makes the following findings:

13 (1) The effect of the intrastate production, 14 transportation, distribution, receipt, advertising, and 15 possession of child pornography on interstate market
16 in child pornography.

17 (A) The illegal production, transportation,
18 distribution, receipt, advertising and possession
19 of child pornography, as defined in section
20 2256(8) of title 18, United States Code, as well 21 as the transfer of custody of children for the 22 production of child pornography, is harmful to 23 the physiological, emotional, and mental health
24 of the children depicted in child pornography

1 and has a substantial and detrimental effect on 2 society as a whole.

3 (B) A substantial interstate market in 4 child pornography exists, including not only a 5 multimillion dollar industry, but also a nation-
6 wide network of individuals openly advertising 7 their desire to exploit children and to traffic in 8 child pornography. Many of these individuals 9 distribute child pornography with the expecta-
10 tion of receiving other child pornography in re-11 turn.

12 (C) The interstate market in child pornog-
13 raphy is carried on to a substantial extent
14 through the mails and other instrumentalities 15 of interstate and foreign commerce, such as the 16 Internet. The advent of the Internet has greatly 17 increased the ease of transporting, distributing, 18 receiving, and advertising child pornography in 19 interstate commerce. The advent of digital cam-
20 eras and digital video cameras, as well as video-21 tape cameras, has greatly increased the ease of 22 producing child pornography. The advent of in-23 expensive computer equipment with the capacity
24 to store large numbers of digital images of child 25 pornography has greatly increased the ease of 1       possessing child pornography. Taken together, 2       these technological advances have had the un-

3       fortunate result of greatly increasing the inter-4       state market in child pornography.

5               (D) Intrastate incidents of production,
6       transportation, distribution, receipt, advertising,
7       and possession of child pornography, as well as 8       the transfer of custody of children for the pro-9       duction of child pornography, have a substantial 10      and direct effect upon interstate commerce be-11      cause:

12               (i) Some persons engaged in the pro-
13      duction, transportation, distribution, re-
14      ceipt, advertising, and possession of child 15      pornography conduct such activities en-
16      tirely within the boundaries of one state.
17      These persons are unlikely to be content 18      with the amount of child pornography they 19      produce, transport, distribute, receive, ad-20      vertise, or possess. These persons are 21      therefore likely to enter the interstate mar-
22      ket in child pornography in search of addi-
23      tional child pornography, thereby stimu-
24      lating demand in the interstate market in 25      child pornography.

1           (ii) When the persons described in 2           subparagraph (D)(i) enter the interstate 3           market in search of additional child por-4           nography, they are likely to distribute the 5           child pornography they already produce, 6           transport, distribute, receive, advertise, or 7           possess to persons who will distribute addi-
8           tional child pornography to them, thereby 9           stimulating supply in the interstate market
10          in child pornography.

11          (iii) Much of the child pornography
12          that supplies the interstate market in child 13          pornography is produced entirely within 14          the boundaries of one state, is not trace-15          able, and enters the interstate market sur-
16          reptitiously. This child pornography sup-17          ports demand in the interstate market in 18          child pornography and is essential to its 19          existence.

20          (E) Prohibiting the intrastate production,
21          transportation, distribution, receipt, advertising,
22          and possession of child pornography, as well as 23          the intrastate transfer of custody of children for 24          the production of child pornography, will cause 25          some persons engaged in such intrastate activi-

1           ties to cease all such activities, thereby reducing 2           both supply and demand in the interstate mar-
3           ket for child pornography.

4           (F) Federal control of the intrastate inci-
5           dents of the production, transportation, dis-6           tribution, receipt, advertising, and possession of 7           child pornography, as well as the intrastate
8           transfer of children for the production of child 9           pornography, is essential to the effective control 10          of the interstate market in child pornography.

11          (2) The importance of protecting children from 12          repeat exploitation in child pornography:

13           (A) The vast majority of child pornography 14           prosecutions today involve images contained on 15           computer hard drives, computer disks, and re-16           lated media.

17           (B) Child pornography is not entitled to 18           protection under the First Amendment and 19           thus may be prohibited.

20           (C) The government has a compelling state 21           interest in protecting children from those who 22           sexually exploit them, and this interest extends 23           to stamping out the vice of child pornography 24           at all levels in the distribution chain.

1 (D) Every instance of viewing images of 2 child pornography represents a renewed viola-
3 tion of the privacy of the victims and a repeti-4 tion of their abuse.

5 (E) Child pornography constitutes prima
6 facie contraband, and as such should not be dis-
7 tributed to, or copied by, child pornography de-8 fendants or their attorneys.

9 (F) It is imperative to prohibit the repro-
10 duction of child pornography in criminal cases 11 so as to avoid repeated violation and abuse of 12 victims, so long as the government makes rea-
13 sonable accommodations for the inspection, 14 viewing, and examination of such material for 15 the purposes of mounting a criminal defense.

1       erwise arranging for the participation of the per-2       formers depicted” and inserting “actually filming, 3       videotaping, photographing; creating a picture, dig-
