1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the “Senior Nutrition Act
3 of 2005”.

4 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

5 Congress finds that—

6 (1) senior citizens in the United States have 7 significant out-of-pocket costs for medical expenses,
8 especially for prescription drugs;

9 (2) 3 in 5 Medicare beneficiaries do not have 10 dependable, affordable, prescription drug coverage;

11 (3) as medical costs continue to rise, many sen-
12 ior citizens are forced to make the difficult choice
13 between purchasing prescription drugs and pur-
14 chasing food;

15 (4) the commodity supplemental food program
16 provides supplemental nutritious foods to senior citi-
17 zens in a number of States and localities;

18 (5) under the commodity supplemental food
19 program—

20 (A) women, infants, and children with 21 household incomes up to 185 percent of the 22 Federal Poverty Income Guidelines published
23 annually by the Department of Health and 24 Human Services may be eligible for supple-
25 mental foods; but

1 (B) senior citizens are ineligible for supple-
2 mental foods if their household incomes are
3 greater than 130 percent of the Federal Pov-
4 erty Income Guidelines;
5 (6) during fiscal year 2000—

6 (A) an average of more than 388,000 peo-
7 ple each month participated in the commodity
8 supplemental food program; and

9 (B) the majority of those participants, 10 293,000, were senior citizens; and

11 (7) in order to serve the neediest senior citi-
12 zens, taking into account their high out-of-pocket
13 medical (including prescription drug) expenses, the 14 eligibility requirements for the commodity supple-
15 mental food program should be modified to make 16 more senior citizens eligible for the supplemental 17 foods provided under the program.

18 SEC. 3. ELIGIBILITY OF ELDERLY PERSONS UNDER THE 19 COMMODITY SUPPLEMENTAL FOOD PRO-
