S. 2030

To bring the FBI to full strength to carry out its mission.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

NOVEMBER 17, 2005

Mr. Biden introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary

A BILL

To bring the FBI to full strength to carry out its mission.

- Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

 This Act may be cited as the "Full-strength Bureau Initiative Act of 2005" or the "FBI Act of 2005".

 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.
- 7 Congress finds the following:
- 8 (1) Throughout its history, the FBI has been 9 an integral part of anti-crime investigatory efforts in
- the United States.
- 11 (2) While the FBI has increased its overall FBI 12 field agent numbers by more than 1,000 since pre-

- 9/11 levels, it has increased its counter-terror agents by more than 2,000. While this staffing-up of increased resources for counter-terror investigations is necessary and proper, it has had the unintended consequence of precluding the FBI from adequately and satisfactorily discharging its traditional anticrime investigatory efforts.
 - (3) The FBI's shift to counterterrorism has reduced the Bureau's involvement in traditional crime investigations, including—
 - (A) fewer agents to the successful High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area (HIDTA) task forces;
 - (B) fewer violent crime cases, as the Bureau has reduced the number of agents committed to Federal-State-local task forces like "Safe Streets" and Violent Crime Task Forces; and
 - (C) fewer agents handling bank robbery and white collar crimes, which involve technical areas of investigative expertise that State and locals often lack.
 - (4) Before September 11, 2001, the FBI had 7,738 field agents fulfilling traditional anti-crime efforts. The President has proposed a fiscal year 2006

- budget with less than 6,700 field agents fulfilling these same functions.
 - (5) The FBI is thus faced with a gap of 1,000 field agents in its traditional anti-crime function, compromising the investigations the FBI is able to undertake and to assist in.
 - (6) The FBI's traditional anti-crime investigations complement and assist investigations by State and local law enforcement around the country.
 - (7) Through direct assistance and various joint task forces, the FBI provides invaluable expertise and resources to help State and local law enforcement agencies combat criminal enterprises impacting their local communities.
 - (8) The post 9–11 reprogramming of FBI agents from criminal to counterterrorism investigations is occurring at the many State and local agencies that are facing tough budget cuts that is reducing their capacity to fight crime.
 - (9) In a recent survey, 27 of 44 major urban police departments surveyed are experiencing a "cop crunch". Cleveland, Ohio, has lost 250 officers in 2004, 15 percent of its force. New York City has lost 3,400 over the last three years. Pittsburgh,

- Pennsylvania, has lost ½ of its force, and Philadelphia has lost 2,000 officers.
- (10) Compounding the lack of local revenue
 many local jurisdictions are faced with since 9–11,
 Federal financial assistance to local law enforcement has been reduced every year for the past 4 years.
- 7 (11) The FBI is charged with preventing ter-8 rorism and fighting traditional crime. In order for 9 the FBI to attain both critical goals, the FBI needs 10 an additional 1,000 agents to do the job.

11 SEC. 3. AUTHORIZATION FOR MORE AGENTS.

There are authorized to be appropriated $160,000,000 for each of the fiscal years 2006 through 2010 to fund 1,000 Federal Bureau of Investigations field agents in addition to the number of Federal Bureau of Investigations field agents serving on the date of enactment of this Act.
