A BILL

To provide a framework for consideration by the legislative and executive branches of proposed unilateral economic sanctions in order to ensure coordination of United States policy with respect to trade, security, and human rights.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “Sanctions Policy Re-
5       form Act”.

1 SEC. 2. PURPOSE.

2 It is the purpose of this Act to establish an effective
3 framework for consideration by the legislative and execu-
4 tive branches of unilateral economic sanctions in order to 5 ensure coordination of United States policy with respect
6 to trade, security, and human rights.

7 SEC. 3. STATEMENT OF POLICY.

8 It is the policy of the United States—

9 (1) to pursue United States interests through 10 vigorous and effective diplomatic, political, commer-
11 cial, charitable, educational, cultural, and strategic 12 engagement with other countries, while recognizing 13 that the national security interests of the United 14 States may sometimes require the imposition of eco-
15 nomic sanctions on other countries;

16 (2) to expand trade and investment with the de-
17 veloping world to create the conditions for free mar-
18 ket democracies and the rule of law;

19 (3) to foster multilateral cooperation on vital
20 matters of United States foreign policy, including 21 promoting human rights and democracy, combating 22 international terrorism, proliferation of weapons of 23 mass destruction, and international narcotics traf-
24 ficking, and ensuring adequate environmental pro-
25 tection;

1           (4) to promote United States economic growth
2           and job creation by expanding exports of goods,
3           services, and agricultural commodities, and by en-
4           couraging investment that supports the sale abroad
5           of products and services of the United States;

6           (5) to maintain the reputation of United States
7           businesses and farmers as reliable suppliers to inter-
8           national customers of quality products and services,
9           including United States manufactures, technology
10          products, financial services, and agricultural com-
11          modities;

12          (6) to avoid the use of restrictions on exports
13          of agricultural commodities as a foreign policy weap-
14          on;

15          (7) to oppose policies of other countries de-
16          signed to discourage economic interaction with coun-
17          tries friendly to the United States or with any 18          United States national; and

19          (8) when economic sanctions are necessary—

20                 (A) to target them as narrowly as possible
21                 on those foreign governments, entities, and offi-
22                 cials that are responsible for the conduct being 23                 targeted, thereby minimizing unnecessary or 24                 disproportionate harm to individuals who are 25                 not responsible for such conduct; and

1 (B) to the extent feasible, to avoid any ad-
2 verse impact of economic sanctions on the hu-
3 manitarian activities of the United States and 4 foreign nongovernmental organizations in a
5 country against which sanctions are imposed.
