A BILL

To ensure the coordination and integration of Indian tribes in the National Homeland Security strategy and to establish an Office of Tribal Government Homeland Security within the Department of Homeland Security, and for other purposes.

- 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
- 2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE; TABLE OF CONTENTS.

- 2 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the
- 3 "Tribal Government Homeland Security Coordination and
- 4 Integration Act".
- 5 (b) Table of Contents for
- 6 this Act is as follows:
 - Sec. 1. Short title; table of contents.
 - Sec. 2. Findings and purposes.
 - Sec. 3. Definitions.
 - Sec. 4. Office of tribal government homeland security.
 - Sec. 5. Report to congress.
 - Sec. 6. Authorization of appropriations.

7 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

- 8 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:
- 9 (1) Since the terrorist attacks of September 11,
- 10 2001, and the subsequent introduction of weapons
- grade anthrax into the United States Postal System
- and Congressional office buildings in Washington,
- DC, the President and the Congress have worked
- 14 closely to respond to the need to rebuild and
- strengthen the Nation's public health, national secu-
- rity, and emergency response systems.
- 17 (2) Based on article I, section 8 of the United
- 18 States Constitution, treaties, Federal statutes, and
- court decisions, the United States has a unique his-
- torical and legal relationship with American Indian
- and Alaska Native people, which serves as the basis
- for the Federal Government's trust responsibility

- and obligations. There are currently 558 federally-recognized Indian tribes in the United States, with some 40 percent of Indian tribes located in the State of Alaska. Indian tribes have principle responsibility for lands and people within their jurisdiction.
 - (3) Despite the government-to-government relationship between Indian tribes and the United States, the United States has failed to include and consult with Indian tribes with regard to homeland security prevention, protection, and response activities planning. Moreover, there are no specific provisions for the Bureau of Indian Affairs or the Indian Health Service to participate in homeland security programs and funding.
 - (4) Throughout many areas of the United States, facilities operated, and services, activities and government functions carried out, by Indian tribes, the Bureau of Indian Affairs and the Indian Health Service are the only sources available to provide emergency health services, disaster response, and law enforcement to the tribal and non-tribal community, thus serving the role as "first responders" in the event of a terrorist attack.
 - (5) To provide for the public health and safety on tribal lands and in the surrounding communities,

- it is imperative to establish tribal participation in homeland security initiatives. Indian tribes must be included in the national strategy for homeland security and receive an appropriate share of related funding.
 - (6) The treatment of Indian tribes as State governments, as appropriate, for developing funding methodologies, planning, consultation, coordination, and for eligibility for grant monies will ensure Indian tribes are adequately prepared to respond to Homeland Security threats.
 - (7) Indian tribes shall be treated as State, as appropriate, for purposes of planning, consultation, coordination, eligibility for grant monies and other purposes to improve the United States capacity to prepare, prevent and respond to terrorist activities.
- 17 (b) Purposes.—The purposes of this Act are as follows:
 - (1) To establish within the Department of Homeland Security an office known as the Office of Tribal Government Homeland Security.
 - (2) To authorize the Secretary of Homeland Security to appoint, in consultation with Indian tribes, a Director of Tribal Government Homeland Security.
