S. 756

To authorize appropriations for the Department of Defense to address the equipment reset and other equipment needs of the National Guard, and for other purposes.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

March 5, 2007

Mr. Dodd introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Armed Services

A BILL

To authorize appropriations for the Department of Defense to address the equipment reset and other equipment needs of the National Guard, and for other purposes.

- 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,
 3 SECTION 1. FUNDING FOR EQUIPMENT RESET AND OTHER
 4 EQUIPMENT NEEDS OF THE NATIONAL
 5 GUARD.
 6 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following find-
- 8 (1) In his testimony before the Commission on 9 the National Guard and Reserves, the Chief of the

1	National Guard Bureau, Lieutenant General Blum,
2	warned about equipment shortfalls for the Army Na-
3	tional Guard and Air National Guard stating that
4	"88 percent of the forces that are back here in the
5	United States are very poorly equipped today in the
6	Army National Guard. And in the Air National
7	Guard for the last three decades, they have never
8	had a unit below C2 in equipment readiness".
9	(2) In the March 1, 2007, report of the Com-
10	mission on the National Guard and Reserves, the
11	Commission observes that—
12	(A) while the operational tempo of the re-
13	serve components of the Armed Forces has in-
14	creased substantially, resourcing has not kept
15	pace;
16	(B) the lack of sufficient and ready equip-
17	ment is a problem common to both the active
18	and reserve components of the Armed Forces;
19	(C) the equipment readiness of the Army
20	National Guard is unacceptable and has re-

- (C) the equipment readiness of the Army National Guard is unacceptable and has reduced the capability of the United States to respond to current and additional major contingencies, whether foreign and domestic; and
- (D) while the budget of the President for fiscal year 2008 includes large increases in

1 funds for equipment for the National Guard, 2 historical practice in the Department of De-3 fense indicates that Army plans for projected 4 funding increases for equipment for the Army 5 Guard National not reliably carried are 6 through.

> (3) According to the Commission on the National Guard and Reserves, procurement for the Army National Guard during the period from 1999 through 2005 has been reduced significantly from amounts proposed for such procurement before that period. The budget for fiscal year 2001 indicated that the Army planned to expend $1,346,000,000 in fiscal year 2004 for procurement for the Army National Guard, but the budget for fiscal year 2006 revealed that the Army expended only $578,400,000 for procurement for the Army National Guard in fiscal year 2004. Similarly, the budget for fiscal year 2001 indicated that the Army planned to expend $1,625,000,000 in fiscal year 2005 for procurement for the Army National Guard, but the budget for fiscal year 2006 revealed that the Army planned to expend only $660,900,000 for procurement for the Army National Guard in fiscal year 2005.

- (4) According to the Commission on the National Guard and Reserves, the difference between the amounts proposed for procurement for the Army National Guard for fiscal years 2003 through 2005 and the amounts actually expended for such procurement in such fiscal years was atypical and extreme.
 - (5) According to a January 2007 report of the Government Accountability Office, inventories of equipment for the National Guard in the United States have decreased because of overseas operations, particularly inventories of the Army National Guard. The Comptroller General found that State officials expressed concerns about having enough equipment to respond to large scale natural or man made disasters such as Hurricane Katrina.
 - (6) The Comptroller General found that before current overseas operations began, the majority of the combat forces of the Army National Guard were supplied with approximately 65 to 79 percent of their required equipment. As of November 2006, nondeployed Army National Guard forces nationwide still had approximately 64 percent of the total amount of authorized dual-use equipment, including authorized substitute items, based on their

1	warfighting missions even as overseas and domestic
2	missions have expanded.
3	(b) Authorization of Appropriations.—

24	(v) For Operation and Maintenance
25	Air National Guard $720,000,000

1 (2) SUPPLEMENT NOT SUPPLANT.—The
2 amounts authorized to be appropriated by paragraph
3 (1) for a fiscal year and account specified in that
4 paragraph is in addition to any other amounts au5 thorized to be appropriated for the Department of 6 Defense for such fiscal year for such account.

(c) REPORT ON DEFENSE INDUSTRIAL BASE.—

- (1) In General.—Not later than 60 days after the date of the enactment of this Act, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report assessing the capability, during the 5-year period beginning on October 1, 2007, of the defense industrial base of the United States to produce the equipment to be procured using amounts applicable amounts authorized to be appropriated by subsection (b).
