A BILL

To require the President to call a White House Conference on Children and Youth in 2010.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “White House Con-
5       ference on Children and Youth in 2010 Act”.

6       SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND POLICY.

7       (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

1           (1) In 2006 there were over 3,000,000 reports
2           of child abuse and neglect. Only 60 percent of the 3           children from the substantiated reports received fol-
4           low-up services, and 20 percent of such children
5           were placed in foster care as a result of an investiga-
6           tion.

7           (2) Each year there are nearly 900,000 sub-
8           stantiated reports of child abuse and neglect.

9           (3) Each year approximately 60 percent of such 10          substantiated reports are reports of neglect, 30 per-11          cent are physical or sexual abuse reports, and more
12          than 20 percent are reports that involve other forms 13          of abuse.

14          (4) Each year child abuse and neglect costs the 15          United States an estimated $104 billion.

16          (5) Over 500,000 children (including youth)
17          were in foster care at the end of fiscal year 2006
18          and nearly 800,000 spent at least some time in fos-
19          ter care during the year.

20          (6) While 51,000 children are adopted from the 21          foster care system each year, more than 125,000
22          children are waiting to be adopted.

23          (7) Each year approximately 25,000 youth
24          leave the foster care system not because they have

1 found permanent placements, but because they have 2 reached the age at which foster care ends.

3 (8) The child welfare system includes State and 4 local governments, tribal governments, child welfare
5 agencies, child welfare caseworkers, private agencies,
6 social workers, the courts, volunteer court-appointed 7 special advocates, mental health, public health and 8 health care professionals, educators, and advocates.

9 (9) There is an overrepresentation of certain 10 populations, including Native Americans, African-
11 Americans and Hispanic populations, in the child
12 welfare system.

13 (10) Rural communities face special barriers to 14 addressing human service needs including a lack of 15 providers, the challenge posed by attempting to serve
16 a widely dispersed population over a large geo-
17 graphic area and cultural differences.

18 (11) The number of children being raised by 19 grandparents and other relatives is increasing and 20 exceeds 6,000,000 children. The Government recog-
21 nized that kinship care is a permanency option
22 through the enactment of the Adoption and Safe
23 Families Act of 1997.

24 (12) The State courts make key decisions in the 25 lives of children involved in the child welfare system,

1 including decisions about whether children have been
2 victims of child abuse, whether parental rights
3 should be terminated, and whether children should 4 be reunified with their families, adopted, or placed 5 in other settings.

6 (13) The child welfare system will never fully 7 address its primary mission unless the courts are an 8 integral and functioning component of a statewide
9 system of care and protection.

10 (14) The child welfare system has an important
11 role to play in preventing abuse and neglect from oc-
12 ccurring in the first place, but is often unable to sup-
13 port prevention efforts due to funding and regu-
14 latory constraints.

15 (15) Key indicators of child health indicators
16 demonstrate declining health of our Nation's chil-
17 dren including increased rates of chronic disease
18 among children, preventable deaths from childhood
19 injury, and the potential for children born in this 20 generation to not live as long as their parents.

21 (b) POLICY.—It is the policy of Congress that—

22 (1) the Government should work jointly with 23 the States and their residents to develop rec-
24 ommendations and plans for action to meet the chal-
25 lenges and needs of children and families involved

1 with the child welfare system, consistent with this
2 Act;

3 (2) in developing such recommendations and 4 plans, the persons involved should emphasize the 5 role of the Government, State and local child welfare
6 systems, State and local family court systems, State
7 and local health departments, child welfare advo-
8 cates, child abuse prevention experts, guardians,
9 parents and other key participants in such child wel-
10 fare systems, with a goal of enhancing and pro-
11 tecting the lives, health and well-being of children
12 and families who are involved with such child welfare 13 systems; and

14 (3) Federal, State, and local programs and poli-15 cies should be developed to reduce the number of 16 children who are abused and neglected in the first
17 place, to reduce the number of children in foster
18 care, and to dramatically increase the number of 19 children in permanent placements through family re-20 unification, kinship placement, and adoption, and in-21 crease the overall health and well-being of children.

22 SEC. 3. AUTHORIZATION OF THE CONFERENCE.

23 (a) AUTHORITY TO CALL THE CONFERENCE.—The 24 President shall call a White House Conference on Children
25 and Youth in 2010 (referred to in this Act as “the Con-

11          majority;

12          (7) to make recommendations that will reduce 13          the overrepresentation of certain populations includ-

16          fare system;

17          (8) to examine the role of the Government in

20          State, local, and tribal coordination;
