

112TH CONGRESS
2D SESSION

S. 3577

To eliminate conditions in foreign prisons and other detention facilities that do not meet primary indicators of health, sanitation, and safety, and for other purposes.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

SEPTEMBER 19, 2012

Mr. LEAHY (for himself and Mr. INHOFE) introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations

A BILL

To eliminate conditions in foreign prisons and other detention facilities that do not meet primary indicators of health, sanitation, and safety, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Foreign Prison Conditions Improvement Act of 2012”.

6 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7 Congress makes the following findings:

8 (1) Millions of incarcerated people in the world 9 suffer inhumane conditions in prisons and other de-

1 tention facilities that are overcrowded, unsanitary,
2 and unsafe to the point of endangering their lives.
3 Many governments do not respect their international 4 commitments to ensure that all individuals in deten-5 tion or incarceration are treated with humanity and 6 with respect for the inherent dignity of the human 7 person.

8 (2) Rates of malnutrition and death among 9 prisoners and other detainees far exceed those of the 10 general population, and medical treatment for seri-11 ous illness or injury is, in many instances, non-exist-12 ent or grossly inadequate.

13 (3) Prisons are extremely high-risk environ-
14 ments for transmitting diseases, particularly HIV
15 and tuberculosis, and create grave risks to commu-
16 nities in which released prisoners live; studies esti-
17 mate that HIV infection rates in prisons in devel-18 oping countries can be as much as 50 times higher 19 than in the general population, and tuberculosis in-20 fection rates in prisons are more than 20 times high-21 er than in the general population.

22 (4) These conditions are compounded by severe 23 overcrowding in prisons and other detention facili-
24 ties. Excessive pre-trial detention and dysfunctional 25 justice systems frequently result in prisoners and

1 other detainees spending years in such conditions be-2 fore their cases are adjudicated. In some countries, 3 such facilities are filled to capacity many times over 4 resulting in conditions so cramped that individual 5 prisoners cannot move without all doing so en 6 masse.

7 (5) Experts have documented widespread inhu-8 mane prison conditions, including overcrowding, in-9 adequate food and water, no access to hygiene prod-
10 ucts or medical care, juveniles detained with adults, 11 and denial of visits from family.

12 (6) Some governments fail to provide even the 13 most rudimentary sanitation in prisons and other 14 detention facilities, putting prisoners and other de-15 tainees at even greater risk of easily preventable and 16 often life-threatening diseases. Toilets are few or 17 non-existent and human waste repositories often are 18 located among the general prison population, forcing 19 prisoners to eat, sleep, and live in grossly unsanitary 20 conditions.

21 (7) Some governments fail to permit prisoners
22 and other detainees reasonable contact with family 23 members or other visitors. Many governments deny 24 access to certain prisoners and detainees, or do not

1 provide information about their location, health, and 2 well-being, leaving them unaccounted for.

3 (8) Inhumane conditions in prisons and other 4 detention facilities often exist in countries where re-5 sources for law enforcement are limited and only a 6 small fraction of such resources are made available 7 for the operation and maintenance of prisons and 8 other detention facilities. Inadequate, misplaced, or 9 lost records often result in prisoners and other de-10 tainees being incarcerated indefinitely because their 11 cases have never been tried or otherwise adjudicated.
12 In other cases, poor recordkeeping results in pris-13 oners and other detainees being held long after their 14 sentences have expired. Allocating the relatively 15 modest resources necessary to provide for the basic 16 human needs of prisoners and other detainees and to 17 remediate the inhumane conditions under which 18 such prisoners are held is often a low priority.

19 (9) The United States Government currently 20 provides significant amounts of assistance to coun-21 tries whose governments operate prisons and other 22 detention facilities that, because of their inhumane
23 conditions, seriously jeopardize the lives of prisoners 24 and other detainees held under their authority.

(11) On February 14, 2012, a fire at the Comayagua Prison in Honduras killed 360 prisoners. United States officials who investigated the fire attributed the deaths to severe overcrowding and poor safety practices. In one overcrowded cell block, only 4 of 105 prisoners survived. More than half of the prisoners were pretrial detainees who had never been convicted of any crime.

18 (13) The United States Government should use
19 its influence and resources to ensure that govern-20 ments that receive United States assistance do not 21 operate prisons and other detention facilities under 22 inhumane conditions. The United States Govern-
23 ment also should assist countries to eliminate inhu-24 mane conditions in prisons and other detention fa-25 cilities.

(14) Eliminating inhumane conditions in foreign prisons and other detention facilities will strengthen the rule of law, save lives, and enhance the health and well-being of vulnerable people in poor countries, and it will advance United States interests.

7 SEC. 3. DEFINITIONS.

8 In this Act:

1 in a foreign country that is a recipient of United 2 States assistance, the following:

3 (A) The number of inmates or detainees
4 held in a facility does not so exceed prison ca-
5 pacity such that per capita floor space is insuf-
6 ficient to allow for humane sleeping conditions 7 and reasonable physical movement.

8 (B) Human waste facilities are sanitary 9 and accessible, and human waste is disposed of 10 regularly and in a sanitary manner.

11 (C) The lighting, ventilation, temperature, 12 and physical construction of prisons and other 13 detention facilities do not seriously endanger 14 the health and safety of prisoners.

15 (D) Prisoners and other detainees have ac-
16 cess to adequate food and potable drinking 17 water.

18 (E) Prisoners and other detainees have ac-
19 cess to essential and emergency medical care.

20 (F) To the maximum extent practicable,
21 prisoners and other detainees are allowed reli-
22 gious observance and materials, and contact
23 with clergy, family, and friends, by both cor-24 respondence and personal visits.

2 tention facilities.

3 (B) CONTENT.—The report required under 4 subparagraph (A) shall, for each country, de-

8 whenever possible, of each of the primary 9 indicators set forth in section 3(2) and 10 noting any efforts made to eliminate inhu-
11 mane conditions as described in paragraph 12 (2); and

13 (ii) an identification of those coun-
14 tries, if any, receiving United States assist-15 ance, whose governments—

16 (I) do not meet one or more of 17 the primary indicators for the elimi-
18 nation of inhumane conditions in pris-19 ons and other detention facilities but 20 are making significant efforts to com-21 ply; and

22 (II) do not meet one or more of 23 the primary indicators and are not 24 making significant efforts to comply;
25 and

1 tion concerning conditions and investigations
2 available to the public and the Secretary of 3 State;

4 (B) taking effective steps to eliminate in-5 humane conditions in prisons and other deten-6 tion facilities, which may include, among other 7 steps, appointing ombudsmen to serve on behalf 8 of prisoners and other detainees, providing al-9 ternatives to incarceration for nonviolent of-10 fenders in order to alleviate inhumane over-11 crowding, addressing the status and cir-
12 cumstances of confinement of juveniles, improv-
13 ing pretrial detention practices, and imple-14 menting bail and recordkeeping procedures to 15 reduce pretrial detention periods and to ensure 16 that prisoners do not serve beyond the max-17 imum sentence for the charged offense; and 18 (C) increasing the amount of government 19 resources to eliminate inhumane conditions in 20 prisons and other detention facilities.

21 (3) USE OF COUNTRY REPORTS.—The report

24 Country Reports on Human Rights Practices re-25 quired under sections 116(d) and 502B(b) of the

1 Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 (22 U.S.C.

11 the Administrator of the United States Agency for 12 International Development should furnish assistance
13 authorized under section 7 for the purpose of elimi-
14 nating inhumane conditions in prisons and other de-15 tention facilities where such assistance would be ap-16 propriate and beneficial.

17 (2) INAPPLICABILITY OF PROHIBITION.—The 18 prohibitions under section 660 of the Foreign Assist-

10 (1) CONSULTATIONS.—In the case of a govern-
11 ment of a country that is listed in the report sub-12 mitted under subsection (a)(1)(B)(ii)(II) as not

Such information shall also be included in the next report required under subsection (a). If the Secretary determines that United States assistance to such government should not be restructured, reprogrammed, or reduced, the briefing and report shall contain an explanation for that decision.
