A BILL

To prohibit employers from compelling or coercing any person to authorize access to a protected computer, and for other purposes.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-

2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “Password Protection

5       Act of 2013”.

1   SEC. 2. PROHIBITED ACTIVITY.

2       (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 1030(a) of title 18,

3   United States Code, is amended—

4               (1) in paragraph (7)(C), by inserting “or” after 5               the semicolon; and

6               (2) by inserting after paragraph (7)(C) the fol-
7               lowing:

8               “(8) acting as an employer, knowingly and in-
9               tentionally—

10               “(A) for the purposes of employing, pro-
11               moting, or terminating employment, compels or 12               coerces any person to authorize access, such as 13               by providing a password or similar information
14               through which a computer may be accessed, to 15               a protected computer that is not the employer’s
16               protected computer, and thereby obtains infor-
17               mation from such protected computer; or

18               “(B) discharges, disciplines, discriminates
19               against in any manner, or threatens to take any 20               such action against, any person—

21               “(I) for failing to authorize access de-
22               scribed in subparagraph (A) to a protected
23               computer that is not the employer’s pro-
24               tected computer; or

25               “(ii) who has filed any complaint or 26               instituted or caused to be instituted any

1           proceeding under or related to this para-
2           graph, or has testified or is about to testify
3           in any such proceeding;”.

4       (b) FINE.—Section 1030(c) of title 18, United States
5   Code, is amended—

6           (1) in paragraph (4)(G)(ii), by striking the pe-
7           riod at the end and inserting “; and”; and

8           (2) by adding at the end the following:

9           “(5) a fine under this title, in the case of an 10          offense under subsection (a)(8) or an attempt to 11          commit an offense punishable under this para-
12          graph.”.

13       (c) DEFINITIONS.—Section 1030(e) of title 18,
14   United States Code, is amended—

15           (1) in paragraph (11), by striking “and” after 16           the semicolon;

17           (2) in paragraph (12), by striking the period
18           and inserting a semicolon; and

19           (3) by adding at the end the following:

20           “(13) the term ‘employee’ means an employee,
21          as such term is defined in section 201(2) of the Ge-
22          netic Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 (42 U.S.C.
23          2000ff(2));

24           “(14) the term ‘employer’ means an employer, 25          as such term is defined in such section 201(2); and

1           “(15) the term ‘employer’s protected computer’
2       means a protected computer of the employer, includ-
3       ing any protected computer owned, operated, or oth-
4       erwise controlled by, for, or on behalf of that em-
5       ployer.”.

6       (d) EXCEPTIONS.—Section 1030(f) of title 18,
7       United States Code, is amended—

8           (1) by striking “(f) This” and inserting “(f)(1) 9       This”; and

10          (2) by adding at the end the following:

11          “(2)(A) Nothing in subsection (a)(8) shall be con-
12       strued to limit the authority of a court of competent juris-13       diction to grant equitable relief in a civil action, if the 14       court determines that there are specific and articulable
15       facts showing that there are reasonable grounds to believe 16       that the information sought to be obtained is relevant and 17       material to protecting the intellectual property, a trade se-
18       cret, or confidential business information of the party
19       seeking the relief.

20          “(B) Notwithstanding subsection (a)(8), the prohibi-
21       tion in such subsection shall not apply to an employer’s 22       actions if—

23           “(I) the employer discharges or otherwise dis-
24       ciplines an individual for good cause and an activity
25       protected under subsection (a)(8) is not a motivating

1 factor for the discharge or discipline of the individual;

3                 “(ii) the employer is complying with the requirements of Federal or State law, rule or regulation, or a rule of a self-regulatory organization, as defined in section 3(a)(26) of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78c(a)(26)), applicable to brokers, dealers and investment advisers;

9                 “(iii) a State enacts a law that specifically waives subsection (a)(8) with respect to a particular class of State government employees or employees who work with individuals under 13 years of age, and the employer’s action relates to an employee in such class; or 15                 “(iv) an Executive agency (as defined in section 105 of title 5), a military department (as defined in section 102 of such title), or any other entity within the executive branch that comes into the possession of classified information, including the Defense Intelligence Agency, National Security Agency, and National Reconnaissance Office, specifically waives subsection (a)(8) with respect to a particular class of employees requiring eligibility for access to classified information under Executive Order 12968 (60 Fed. Reg. 40245), or any successor thereto, and the

1        employer's action relates to an employee in such 2        class.”.
