A BILL

To provide, develop, and support 21st century readiness initiatives that assist students in acquiring the skills necessary to think critically and solve problems, be an effective communicator, collaborate with others, and learn to create and innovate.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “21st Century Readi-
5       ness Act”.

1   SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2       Congress finds the following:

3           (1) Students must be prepared in core academic 4           subjects.

5           (2) Students must possess the skills to be able 6           to think critically and solve problems, be effective 7           communicators, collaborate with others, and learn to 8           create and innovate.

9           (3) In order for students in the United States
10          to be prepared to succeed in citizenship and work-
11          places of the present and future, core academic sub-
12          jects must be fused with critical thinking and prob-
13          lem solving, communication, collaboration, and cre-
14          ativity and innovation skills, as such skills are crit-
15          ical for success in the 21st century.

16          (4) The work of the National Governors Asso-
17          ciation, along with the Council of Chief State School
18          Officers, in developing a set of voluntary and inter-
19          nationally benchmarked national common standards
20          in mathematics and English that include rigorous 21          content and 21st century skills, is a positive develop-22          ment and should serve as a basis for incorporating 23          those skills and other critical skills throughout other 24          core academic subjects in the future. Federal policy
25          must support State leadership and encourage contin-
26          ued State innovation.

1   SEC. 3. COLLEGE AND CAREER READINESS STATEMENT OF 2                   PURPOSE.

3                 Section 1001 of the Elementary and Secondary Edu-

5                 (1) in paragraph (11), by striking “and” after 6         the semicolon;

7                 (2) in paragraph (12), by striking the period
8         and inserting “; and”; and

9                 (3) by adding at the end the following:

10                 “(13) fusing core academic subject knowledge 11         mastery and higher-order thinking skills (such as 12         critical thinking and problem solving, communica-
13         tion, collaboration, creativity, and innovation) to en-
14         sure that students can apply a range of skill com-15         petencies alongside content knowledge, and do so in 16         real-world contexts.”.

17   SEC. 4. EVALUATING OF COLLEGE AND CAREER READI-
18                   NESS.

19                 Section 1501(a)(2) of the Elementary and Secondary

21         ed—

22                 (1) by redesignating subparagraph (O) as sub-23         paragraph (P); and

24                 (2) by inserting after subparagraph (N) the fol-25         lowing:

1                 “(O) The extent to which fusing core aca-
2 demic subjects and higher-order thinking skills
3 (such as critical thinking and problem solving, 4 communication, collaboration, creativity, and in-
5 novation) to ensure that students can apply a 6 range of skill competencies alongside content
7 knowledge in real-world contexts leads to readi-
8 ness for postsecondary education and careers.”.
