

113TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. 3711

To reduce risks to the financial system by limiting banks' ability to engage in certain risky activities and limiting conflicts of interest, to reinstate certain Glass-Steagall Act protections that were repealed by the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

DECEMBER 11, 2013

Mr. TIERNEY (for himself and Mr. JONES) introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Financial Services, and in addition to the Committee on the Judiciary, for a period to be subsequently determined by the Speaker, in each case for consideration of such provisions as fall within the jurisdiction of the committee concerned

A BILL

To reduce risks to the financial system by limiting banks' ability to engage in certain risky activities and limiting conflicts of interest, to reinstate certain Glass-Steagall Act protections that were repealed by the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, and for other purposes.

- 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
- 2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,
- 3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.
- 4 This Act may be cited as the “21st Century Glass-
- 5 Steagall Act of 2013”.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

2 (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds that—

3 (1) in response to a financial crisis and the en-
4 suing Great Depression, Congress enacted the Bank-
5 ing Act of 1933, known as the “Glass-Steagall Act”, 6 to prohibit commercial banks from offering invest-
7 ment banking and insurance services;

8 (2) a series of deregulatory decisions by the 9 Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System
10 and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency,
11 in addition to decisions by Federal courts, permitted
12 commercial banks to engage in an increasing num-13 ber of risky financial activities that had previously 14 been restricted under the Glass-Steagall Act, and 15 also vastly expanded the meaning of the “business of 16 banking” and “closely related activities” in banking 17 law;

18 (3) in 1999, Congress enacted the “Gramm-
19 Leach-Bliley Act”, which repealed the Glass-Steagall
20 Act separation between commercial and investment 21 banking and allowed for complex cross-subsidies and 22 interconnections between commercial and investment
23 banks;

24 (4) former Kansas City Federal Reserve Presi-
25 dent Thomas Hoenig observed that “with the elimi-26 nation of Glass-Steagall, the largest institutions with

1 the greatest ability to leverage their balance sheets
2 increased their risk profile by getting into trading,
3 market making, and hedge fund activities, adding 4 ever greater complexity to their balance sheets.”;

5 (5) the Financial Crisis Inquiry Report issued
6 by the Financial Crisis Inquiry Commission con-7 cluded that, in the years between the passage of 8 Gramm-Leach Bliley and the global financial crisis, 9 “regulation and supervision of traditional banking
10 had been weakened significantly, allowing commer-
11 cial banks and thrifts to operate with fewer con-12 straints and to engage in a wider range of financial 13 activities, including activities in the shadow banking 14 system.”. The Commission also concluded that 15 “[t]his deregulation made the financial system espe-
16 cially vulnerable to the financial crisis and exacer-
17 bated its effects.”;

18 (6) a report by the Financial Stability Over-
19 sight Council pursuant to section 123 of the Dodd-
20 Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection 21 Act states that increased complexity and diversity of 22 financial activities at financial institutions may 23 “shift institutions towards more risk-taking, increase 24 the level of interconnectedness among financial 25 firms, and therefore may increase systemic default

1 risk. These potential costs may be exacerbated in 2 cases where the market perceives diverse and com-3 plex financial institutions as ‘too big to fail,’ which 4 may lead to excessive risk taking and concerns about 5 moral hazard.”;

6 (7) the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on In-
7 vestigations report, “Wall Street and the Financial 8 Crisis: Anatomy of a Financial Collapse”, states that 9 repeal of Glass-Steagall “made it more difficult for 10 regulators to distinguish between activities intended
11 to benefit customers versus the financial institution 12 itself. The expanded set of financial services invest-13 ment banks were allowed to offer also contributed to 14 the multiple and significant conflicts of interest that 15 arose between some investment banks and their cli-16 ents during the financial crisis.”;

17 (8) the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on In-
18 vestigations report, “JPMorgan Chase Whale
19 Trades: A Case History of Derivatives Risks and 20 Abuses”, describes how traders at JPMorgan Chase 21 made risky bets using excess deposits that were 22 partly insured by the Federal Government;

23 (9) in Europe, the Vickers Independent Com-
24 mission on Banking (for the United Kingdom) and 25 the Liikanen Report (for the Euro area) have both

1 found that there is no inherent reason to bundle “re-
2 tail banking” with “investment banking” or other 3 forms of relatively high risk securities trading, and 4 European countries are set on a path of separating
5 various activities that are currently bundled together
6 in the business of banking;

7 (10) private sector actors prefer having access
8 to underpriced public sector insurance, whether ex-9 plicit (for insured deposits) or implicit (for “too big 10 to fail” financial institutions), to subsidize dan-
11 gerous levels of risk-taking, which, from a broader 12 social perspective, is not an advantageous arrange-13 ment; and

14 (11) the financial crisis, and the regulatory re-15 sponse to the crisis, has led to more mergers be-16 tween financial institutions, creating greater finan-
17 cial sector consolidation and increasing the domi-
18 nance of a few large, complex financial institutions
19 that are generally considered to be “too big to fail”, 20 and therefore are perceived by the markets as hav-
21 ing an implicit guarantee from the Federal Govern-
22 ment to bail them out in the event of their failure.

23 (b) PURPOSE.—The purposes of this Act are—

1 (1) to reduce risks to the financial system by 2 limiting banks' ability to engage in activities other 3 than socially valuable core banking activities;

4 (2) to protect taxpayers and reduce moral haz-
5 ard by removing explicit and implicit government
6 guarantees for high-risk activities outside of the core 7 business of banking; and

8 (3) to eliminate conflicts of interest that arise 9 from banks engaging in activities from which their 10 profits are earned at the expense of their customers
11 or clients.

12 SEC. 3. SAFE AND SOUND BANKING.

13 (a) INSURED DEPOSITORY INSTITUTIONS.—Section
14 18(s) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act (12 U.S.C.
15 1828(s)) is amended by adding at the end the following:

9 BOARDS OF DEPOSITORY INSTITUTIONS.—

10 “(i) IN GENERAL.—An individual who 16 insured depository institution.

17 “(ii) EXCEPTION.—Clause (i) does not 18 apply with respect to service by any indi-
19 vidual which is otherwise prohibited under 20 clause (i), if the appropriate Federal bank-

22 respect to a limited number of cases, that 23 service by such an individual as an officer,
24 director, employee, or other institution-af-25 filiated party of an insured depository in-

1 stitution would not unduly influence the in-
2 vestment policies of the depository institu-
3 tion or the advice that the institution pro-
4 vides to customers.

5 “(iii) TERMINATION OF SERVICE.—
6 Subject to a determination under clause
7 (i), any individual described in clause (i)
8 who, as of the date of enactment of the 9 21st Century Glass-Steagall Act of 2013,
10 is serving as an officer, director, employee, 11 or other institution-affiliated party of any 12 insured depository institution shall termi-
13 nate such service as soon as is practicable
14 after such date of enactment, and in no
15 event, later than the end of the 60-day pe-
16 riod beginning on that date of enactment.

1 of the 21st Century Glass-Steagall Act of 2 2013, which is prohibited under subpara-
3 graph (A) shall be terminated as soon as 4 is practicable, and in no event later than 5 the end of the 5-year period beginning on 6 that date of enactment.

15 “(I) such action is necessary to 17 sources, decreased or unfair competi-

18 tion, conflicts of interest, or unsound 19 banking practices; and

“(II) is in the public interest.

21 “(iii) EXTENSION.—Subject to a de-
22 termination under clause (ii), an appro-
23 priate Federal banking agency may extend
