RESOLUTION

Recognizing the threats to freedom of the press and expression around the world and reaffirming freedom of the press as a priority in the efforts of the United States Government to promote democracy and good governance.

Whereas Article 19 of the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights, adopted at Paris December 10, 1948, states that “everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive, and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers”;

Whereas, in 1993, the United Nations General Assembly proclaimed May 3 of each year as “World Press Freedom Day” to celebrate the fundamental principles of freedom of the press, to evaluate freedom of the press around the world, to defend the media from attacks on its independence, and to pay tribute to journalists who have lost their lives in the exercise of their profession;

Whereas, on December 18, 2013, the United Nations General Assembly adopted a resolution (A/RES/68/163) on the safety of journalists and the issue of impunity, which unequivocally condemns all attacks and violence against journalists and media workers, including torture, extrajudicial killings, enforced disappearances, arbitrary detention, and intimidation and harassment in both conflict and non-conflict situations;

Whereas 2014 is the 21st anniversary of World Press Freedom Day, which focuses on the theme “Media Freedom for a Better Future: Shaping the Post-2015 Development Agenda”;

Whereas the Daniel Pearl Freedom of the Press Act of 2009 (22 U.S.C. 2151 note; Public Law 111–166), which was passed by unanimous consent in the Senate and signed into law by President Barack Obama in 2010, expanded the examination of freedom of the press around the world in the annual human rights report of the Department of State;

Whereas according to Reporters Without Borders, 71 journalists and 39 citizen journalists were killed in 2013 in connection with their collection and dissemination of news and information;

Whereas according to the Committee to Protect Journalists, the 3 deadliest countries for journalists on assignment in 2013 were Syria, Iraq, and Egypt, and in Syria, the deadliest country for such journalists, an unprecedented number of journalists were abducted;

Whereas according to the Committee to Protect Journalists, 617 journalists have been murdered since 1992 without the perpetrators of such crimes facing punishment;

Whereas according to the Committee to Protect Journalists, the 5 countries with the highest number of unpunished journalist murders between 2004 to 2013 are Iraq, Somalia, the Philippines, Sri Lanka, and Syria;

Whereas according to Reporters Without Borders, 826 journalists and 127 citizen journalists were arrested in 2013;

Whereas according to the Committee to Protect Journalists, 211 journalists worldwide were in prison on December 1, 2013;

Whereas according to Reporters Without Borders, the 5 countries with the highest number of journalists in prison are Syria, China, Eritrea, Turkey, and Iran;

Whereas according to Reporters Without Borders, the Government of Syria and extremist rebel militias have intentionally targeted professional and citizen journalists, causing dramatic repercussions for the freedom of the press throughout the region;

Whereas the Government of the Russian Federation has engaged in an unprecedented campaign to silence the independent press and undermine freedom of expression, including its recent efforts to destabilize Ukraine;

Whereas Reporters Without Borders has expressed concern that journalists in Cuba have suffered physical attacks, arbitrary detention, and death threats, and have been prevented access to information;

Whereas Freedom House has cited a deteriorating environment for internet freedom around the world and has ranked Iran, Cuba, China, Syria, and Ethiopia as having the worst obstacles to access, limits on content, and violations of user rights among the countries and territories rated by Freedom House as “Not Free”;

Whereas freedom of the press is a key component of democratic governance, the activism of civil society, and socio-economic development; and

Whereas freedom of the press enhances public accountability, transparency, and participation: Now, therefore, be it

1       Resolved, That the Senate—

2               (1) expresses concern about the threats to freedom of the press and expression around the world
3               following World Press Freedom Day, held on May 3,
4               2014;

6               (2) commends journalists and media workers
7               around the world for their essential role in promoting government accountability, defending democratic activity, and strengthening civil society, despite threats to their safety;

11              (3) pays tribute to the journalists who have lost
12              their lives carrying out their work;

13              (4) calls on governments abroad to implement
14              United Nations General Assembly Resolution (A/
15              RES/68/163), by thoroughly investigating and seek-

1       ing to resolve outstanding cases of violence against
2       journalists, including murders and kidnappings,
3       while ensuring the protection of witnesses;

4                 (5) condemns all actions around the world that
5       suppress freedom of the press, such as the recent
6       kidnapping of journalists and media workers in
7       eastern Ukraine by pro-Russian militant groups;

8                 (6) reaffirms the centrality of freedom of the 9       press to efforts by the United States Government to 10      support democracy, mitigate conflict, and promote
11      good governance domestically and around the world;
12      and

13                 (7) calls on the President and the Secretary of 14      State—

15                         (A) to ensure that the United States Gov-
16      ernment rapidly identifies, publicizes, and re-
17      sponds to threats against freedom of the press
18      around the world;

19                         (B) to continue to urge foreign govern-
20      ments to transparently investigate and bring to 21      justice the perpetrators of attacks against jour-
22      nalists; and

1                   (C) to continue to highlight the issue of
2                   threats against freedom of the press year-
3                   round.
