

116TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. 4102

To require the screening of 100 percent of international mail and express cargo inbound into the United States from high-risk countries to detect and prevent the importation of illicit fentanyl and other illicit synthetic opioids, and for other purposes.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

JULY 30, 2019

Ms. CLARK of Massachusetts introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on Homeland Security

A BILL

To require the screening of 100 percent of international mail and express cargo inbound into the United States from high-risk countries to detect and prevent the importation of illicit fentanyl and other illicit synthetic opioids, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Screening All
5 Fentanyl-Enhanced Mail Act of 2019” or the “SAFE Mail
6 Act”.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2 Congress makes the following findings:

3 (1) The United States continues to experience
4 an epidemic of overdoses of fentanyl, heroin, and
5 prescription opioids that claimed more than 49,000
6 lives in 2017.

7 (2) Fentanyl is a synthetic opioid that de-
8 presses central nervous system and respiratory func-
9 tion, with euphoric effects that may be more power-
10 ful than the euphoric effects of heroin or morphine.

11 (3) The effect of fentanyl can be up to 50 times
12 stronger than the effect of heroin, and 50 to 100
13 times stronger than the effect of morphine.

14 (4) Although pharmaceutical fentanyl can be di-
15 verted for misuse, most fentanyl deaths are believed 16 to be linked to illicit fentanyl.

17 (5) Across the United States, the use of illicit 18 fentanyl and deaths related to that use are rising at 19 alarming rates.

20 (6) According to the Centers for Disease Con-
21 trol and Prevention, between 2016 and 2017, the 22 rate of drug overdose deaths involving synthetic
23 opioids—largely fentanyl—increased by 45 percent.

24 (7) In 2017, more than 28,000 deaths involving 25 synthetic opioids—largely fentanyl—occurred in the 26 United States, outnumbering deaths from any other

1 type of opioid. According to preliminary data from
2 the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, that
3 figure increased to nearly 32,000 deaths in 2018.

4 (8) Depending on the route of administration
5 and other factors, as little as 2 milligrams of illicit
6 fentanyl (similar in size to a few grains of salt) can 7 be fatal.

8 (9) Fentanyl is the primary synthetic opioid
9 available in the United States.

10 (10) The internet has significantly increased
11 the availability of illicit fentanyl and other illicit syn-
12 thetic opioids in the United States. Those drugs are 13 widely advertised for sale, and are available for pur-
14 chase, on the open and dark web.

15 (11) Most illicit fentanyl trafficked into the 16 United States originates in the People's Republic of 17 China and is transported into the United States in 18 parcel packages directly from the People's Republic
19 of China or from the People's Republic of China
20 through Canada.

21 (12) Fentanyl arriving in the mail directly from
22 the People's Republic of China can have exception-
23 ally high purities—over 90 percent—posing a great
24 risk to the purchaser and user, and allowing it to be

1 adulterated many more times and turned into larger
2 amounts for sale and use.

3 (13) As the designated postal operator in the 4 United States, the United States Postal Service ac-
5 cepts and delivers inbound international mail on be-
6 half of designated postal operators around the world.

7 (14) Express consignment operators accept
8 items from customers in foreign countries and trans-
9 port and deliver those items in the United States.

10 (15) U.S. Customs and Border Protection in-
11 spects mail and express cargo arriving in the United
12 States and seizes illegal goods, including those that 13 may pose threats to health and safety, ecology, and
14 businesses in the United States.

15 (16) U.S. Customs and Border Protection is 16 able to screen only a tiny fraction of all inbound
17 international mail and express cargo into the United
18 States, contributing to the influx of illicit fentanyl
19 that is causing tens of thousands of deaths in the 20 United States annually.

21 SEC. 3. SENSE OF CONGRESS.

22 It is the sense of Congress that—

23 (1) in order to save potentially tens of thou-
24 sands of lives in the United States annually, the 25 Federal Government must make it a high priority to

1 stem the flow of illicit fentanyl into the United
2 States through increased detection and interception
3 of inbound international mail and express cargo; and

4 (2) the Federal Government must resolve to 5 achieve the automated screening of 100 percent of 6 international mail and express cargo inbound into
7 the United States from high-risk countries for illicit
8 fentanyl and other illicit synthetic opioids.
