

116TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

S. 2243

To amend the Expedited Funds Availability Act to require that funds deposited be available for withdrawal in real-time, and for other purposes.

---

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

JULY 24, 2019

Mr. VAN HOLLEN (for himself and Ms. WARREN) introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs

---

A BILL

To amend the Expedited Funds Availability Act to require that funds deposited be available for withdrawal in real-time, and for other purposes.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “Payments Moderniza-
5       tion Act of 2019”.

6       SEC. 2. FINDINGS AND PURPOSES.

7       (a) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

8           (1) Families in the United States spend billions
9           of dollars in overdraft fees in part because they are

1 waiting for checks to clear over a weekend or holi-
2 day.

3 (2) The inefficient payment system in the
4 United States drives families, especially those living
5 paycheck to paycheck, to use high-cost financial
6 services to access funds more rapidly.

7 (3) A faster payment system would provide peo-
8 ple of the United States immediate access to funds
9 and relief for those who overdraw their accounts be-
10 cause their deposits are not available in real-time,
11 helping families potentially save billions of dollars
12 each year.

13 (4) The United States lags behind other coun-
14 tries in the speed and efficiency of its payment sys-
15 tem.

16 (5) Central banks around the world have al-
17 ready implemented real-time payment systems, in-
18 cluding in the United Kingdom, Australia, Mexico,
19 Poland, Japan, and South Africa.

20 (6) The Federal Reserve System was created by 21 Congress on December 24, 1913, in response to the 22 financial panic of 1907.

23 (7) Since its beginning, the Federal Reserve
24 System has played a crucial role in the payment sys-
25 tem of the United States.

(8) The role of the Federal Reserve System in providing payment services is—

(A) to promote the integrity and efficiency of the payment mechanism; and

9                         (9) The Monetary Control Act of 1980 (title I
10                         of Public Law 96-221; 94 Stat. 132) provided the 11                         Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System
12                         with the authority to oversee the payment system in 13                         the United States.

(10) The Expedited Funds Availability Act (12 U.S.C. 4001 et seq.), enacted on August 10, 1987, provided the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System with full authority to regulate all aspects of the payment system, including the receipt, payment, collection, clearing of checks, and related functions of the payment system pertaining to checks.

1       ment settlement services to the United States when
2       the Department recommended the Board of Gov-
3       ernors work to facilitate a faster retail payment sys-
4       tem, in particular, for smaller financial institutions
5       such as community banks and credit unions, noting
6       that such institutions should also have the ability to
7       access the most innovative technologies and payment
8       services.

9                 (12) The authorities described in paragraphs
10          (9) and (10) are more critical than ever given how
11          the financial services sector has been defined as a
12          vital component of critical infrastructure in the 13          United States.

14                 (13) The role of the Board of Governors of the 15          Federal Reserve System in the financial services sec-
16          tor will ensure the resiliency of the payment system
17          in the United States.

18                 (14) The Board of Governors of the Federal
19          Reserve System should develop a real-time interbank
20          payment system to ensure that—

21                         (A) consumers are prioritized;
22                         (B) consumers and small businesses are 23                  protected from fraud and errors, including with 24                  respect to a payment initiated by a consumer or 25                  small business;

(C) the payment system is open to increased competition; and

(D) outsized entities do not monopolize the financial infrastructure of the United States.

5 (b) PURPOSES.—The purposes of this Act are—

(1) to ensure that the United States has a safe, fast, efficient, equitable, and fair payment system;

(2) to clarify that the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System has the existing authority to build a real-time payment system; and

15 SEC. 3. DEFINITION.

16 In this Act, the term “real-time” has the meaning
17 given the term in section 602 of the Expedited Funds
18 Availability Act (12 U.S.C. 4001), as amended by section
19 4(a) of this Act.

21              (2) by redesignating subsection (e) as sub-
22              section (d).

23 SEC. 5. PAYMENTS MANDATE.

24              The Federal Reserve shall create a real-time payment
25              system that—

- 1                     (1) at a minimum, conforms with the principles
2                     outlined in the final report of the Faster Payments
3                     Task Force of the Federal Reserve System;
- 4                     (2) allows end users have fast access to funds
5                     in real-time;
- 6                     (3) operates as a utility, allowing end users to 7                     reach any other end user, including unbanked, un-
8                     derserved and cross-border end users, regardless of 9                     the solution used by the end user;
- 10                    (4) prioritizes safety and soundness, consumer
11                     health, efficiency, and other relevant public interest
12                     considerations;
- 13                    (5) provides end users with the confidence and 14                     trust in the safety and security of the system by en-
15                     suring that—
- 16                         (A) fraud and errors are minimized and re-17                     solved quickly; and
- 18                         (B) the assets, accounts, and information
19                     of the end user are protected, even as payments
20                     cross different solutions;
- 21                         (6) has transparent operating information; and
- 22                         (7) ensures that there are no volume discounts
23                     made that disadvantage smaller financial institu-
24                     tions.
