Mr. KANJORSKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Mr. Frank Schubert, a labor leader in northeastern Pennsylvania. Mr. Schubert will be honored by the Northeast Alliance of AFL-CIO Retirees on May 11, 1995 for his outstanding contributions to labor.

Since 1974, Frank has been director of District Council 87 of Pennsylvania's largest AFL-CIO public employee and health care worker's labor union, the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees or AFSCME.

AFSCME District Council 87 represents more than 5,000 public employees and health care workers in northeastern Pennsylvania. Mr. Schubert has served on the negotiations committee and the statewide safety committee since 1975. Frank also serves on the advisory committee of the Greater Wilkes-Barre Central Labor council.

Frank is a member of the board of trustees of the Pennsylvania Public Employees Benefits Trust fund and a past labor representative on the Pennsylvania Health Care Cost Containment committee.

Mr. Schubert's leadership in the labor movement has been evident during the 8 years that he served as a vice-president of the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO, and as a member of the executive committee of the Scranton Lackawanna Labor Management Committee. Also, for 8 years, he served as an executive board member of the greater Scranton Central Labor Council. He served as trustee of the Pennsylvania Public Employees Health and Welfare fund, and a trustee of the AFSCME Health and Welfare fund. Prior to his present position, Schubert was an AFSCME international staff representative.

Mr. Speaker, the accomplishments listed here are a testament to the dedication this man has shown to the members of the AFSCME and the causes of the labor movement.

I join with his friends, family and the community in thanking Frank Schubert for his leadership and am proud to commend him on a job well done.

TRIBUTE TO PANAMAX

HON. LYNN C. WOOLSEY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, May 12, 1995

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and celebrate the 20th anniversary of Panamax of San Rafael. Panamax, the country's foremost designer and manufacturer of power protection equipment, is deserving of special congressional recognition. What started out as a one-room, single-employee operation has become a multimillion-dollar enterprise that provides employment opportunities to over 100 individuals. Panamax has been a strong supporter of small business and has a record of hiring employees from the Sixth Congressional District.

Panamax has earned a reputation for innovation and service to producers and users of a wide variety of high-technology equipment. The company has developed an important niche in the area of devices that provide protection from power surges and spikes. It also provides a complete guaranty on every unit produced.

Panamax has strongly supported international trade and has substantially expanded its trade with Canada, Mexico, and other Latin America countries. The company is currently preparing to expand further to the Pacific Rim countries.

Mr. Speaker, it is my great pleasure to pay tribute and congratulate Panamax as they mark two decades of service. I am very proud to be representing such a fine company in Congress. I extend my best wishes to Henry Moody, and the Panamax family, for continued success in the years to come.

A TRIBUTE TO PHIL MAROOT

HON. CALVIN M. DOOLEY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, May 12, 1995

Mr. DOOLEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and honor K. Phillip Maroot, of my hometown of Hanford, CA, who is being honored today by the Hanford Chamber of Commerce as its 1994 Distinguished Citizen for his many years of service to his community.

Phil Maroot is an attorney who has practiced in Hanford for more than 30 years, first as a Kings County assistant district attorney, then in private practice, where he is a partner in the law firm of Maroot, Hardcastle, Hatherly. While Phil has developed a successful law practice, he has contributed countless hours to improving his community.

Phil has been very involved with our local schools, serving on the Hanford Elementary School District board of trustees, on the Hanford High School District budget and curriculum committee, and as president of the College of the Sequoias Foundation.

Phil's community service has also extended to serving as president of the Rotary Club of Hanford, vice president of the Hanford chapter of the American Cancer Society, president of the Kings County Bar Association, and board member for the Kings County Salvation Army.

Phil has long been active in the Hanford Chamber of Commerce, serving a term as president, and also chairing task forces on the restoration of Hanford's 100-year-old courthouse and the carousel in Courthouse Park. For the past 8 years, he has chaired the Visitor Agency advisory board, where he is also chairman of its downtown hotel development project.

Phil Maroot's Kings County roots run deep. Born in Corcoran, Phil is the son of the late John Maroot, a former member of the Kings County board of supervisors. He graduated from Corcoran High School, where he was student body president, earned his bachelor's degree at Pomona College, and graduated from Stanford Law School in 1957. Upon graduation, he served as an Army officer before joining the Kings County district attorney's office in 1964.

Phil's wife, Jeannette, is the owner of Carlson-Wagonlit United Travel Agency in Hanford. The Maroots raised two children, Greg and Becky.

Phil Maroot's long and varied record of service to his community has truly earned him the title "Distinguished Citizen."

Please join me, Mr. Speaker and my colleagues, in honoring Phil Maroot.

ILLEGAL IMMIGRATION

HON. MARGE ROUKEMA

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, May 12, 1995

Mrs. ROUKEMA. Mr. Speaker, I rise to call attention to last night's "48 Hours" broadcast on CBS regarding immigration.

If any of us had any doubts about the blight of illegal immigration that is plaguing this Nation, they were most certainly set aside by last night's well-documented television coverage. This program clearly illustrated that our borders are quite obviously no longer under control. Instead, immigration is out of control in this country. We are already at a point of crisis and the problem grows daily. I cannot understand why the American people—the legitimate, legal, native-born or legally naturalized American people—are not in revolt over this issue. Illegal immigration takes jobs away from Americans, takes additional taxes out of American pockets, crowds American schools and hospitals, and contributes to the crime that makes Americans afraid to walk their own streets. We may not have an all out revolt just yet, but I believe that anger over this issue was one of the factors in last fall's election results. We in Congress should take heed because we have been derelict in our responsibility on this issue.

Last night's program cited many examples of the costs of illegal immigration. I will repeat but a few of them here:

Despite all our attempts to be certain that illegal immigrants are excluded from employment, there are loopholes in our laws that permit U.S. companies to fire American workers and replace them with temporary foreign workers. Corporate downsizing is one thing but firing American citizens in order to replace them with foreigners willing to work for a lower wage is another. I was particularly shocked to learn that a New Jersey company, the AIG insurance company in Livingston, has participated in this practice.

For two centuries, our Constitution has guaranteed citizenship to anyone born on our soil. But illegal immigrants have found a way to abuse this right: Pregnant women cross the border into the United States as illegals, give birth to a child and then claim the right to immigrate legally based on the citizenship of that child. Some 40 percent of children born in California are now born to parents who are illegal aliens. This is an outrageous abuse not only of our Constitution and legal system, but of the innocence of childhood as well. This end-run around the Constitution was not the intent of the Founding Fathers and we must find a way to stop it. The birth of these children not only circumvents our law, but results in huge medical costs for the hospital care of the mothers and their children. These costs are not covered by insurance and ultimately drive up the cost of insurance premiums for American citizens.

Education is another issue involving the children of illegal immigrants. When illegal aliens are enrolled in public schools, costs go up but tax revenue does not—illegal parents don't pay taxes. This results in overcrowding of schools and, ultimately, higher taxes for tax-paying citizens. In some border communities, as many as 40 percent of school enrollments come from illegal aliens.

Crossing our borders illegally is not the only crime committed by some illegal aliens. Thousands turn out to be criminals come to prey on American citizens. This not only increases fear and reduces safety, but runs up exorbitant costs when these criminals are caught, convicted and housed in U.S. prisons.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service has been hampered by incompetence, inefficiency, and indifference. The inability of this agency to do its job has become common knowledge, to the point that it is not longer a serious deterrent to attempts to illegally enter our country. The INS must be improved and we must do our part by ensuring that it is adequately staffed and funded and has the legal tools it needs to do its job.

Illegal immigrants may be the lawbreakers in this equation, but U.S. employers are often their accomplices, turning a blind eye and deaf ear to the issue. Employers have not taken seriously their responsibility to determine that would-be workers are, in fact, legal U.S. citizens, and to not only reject illegals but report them to the authorities. An immigration task force headed by Barbara Jordan recently concluded that a national identification card may be the only answer here. Such an idea is supported even by a broad spectrum of opinion, liberal to conservative.

These costs of illegal immigration add up very quickly. How can we balance the budget or make difficult cuts in worthy programs when this illegal activity is allowed to continue unchecked at such expense? As a member of the Congressional Task Force on Immigration Reform, I call on the House leadership to make this a priority of the House of 104th Congress. We must focus the spotlight on this national scandal and see that it is ended, not next year, next month or next week or even tomorrow but today. There can be no more excuses, no more delays.

THANK YOU, FRANK RECHSTEINER

HON. JAMES A. BARCIA

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, May 12, 1995

Mr. BARCIA. Mr. Speaker, people who generously and graciously give of themselves time and time again are most deserving of our gratitude. Mr. Frank Rechsteiner of Bay City, MI, is one such individual. He is being honored on May 31 by the Boys and Girls Clubs of Bay County, Inc., for his 25 years of service to this outstanding organization as an officer and a member of its board of directors with the awarding of its 1995 Helping Hand Award. This seventh annual Night to Remember will truly be a special one.

Frank was born in the Bay City area, in the town of Kawkawlin, which also gave us the 1993 recipient of this prestigious award, our former colleague and my predecessor, Bob Traxler. He graduated from Bay City Handy High School and continued to apply himself as a most capable individual, rising to his current position of president and CEO of Rechsteiner Trenching.

Frank's love for youth is very easy to understand. As the father of four children, MaryAnn, Michael, Matthew, and Marc, he knows personally how precious children are, and how vital careful upbringing is for their adult lives. He and his wife RoseMarie can be proud of their success as parents.

His devotion to his community includes his service on the 4-H board of directors, and his efforts as director of the Bay County Fair and Youth Exposition. As a member of the Bay City Lions Club, St. Maria Goretti Church, the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rites, and as a Noble of the Mystic Shrine Elf Khurafeh Temple, he has exemplified what it means to be involved for the betterment of his friends and neighbors.

Frank Rechsteiner is also known for supporting many organizations and individuals, including myself with his legendary pancake breakfasts. Frank doesn't say "no" when asked to help. He asks "how" and "when." That is one reason why he continues to serve today as the vice president of the Boys and Girls Club Foundation.

Mr. Speaker, we all know that our communities can be a little better, and problems easier to solve if we take the time to become involved. Some have the best of intentions, but never get involved. Frank Rechsteiner has the best of intentions and the best of involvement. He is a model to us all.

I urge you and all of our colleagues to join me in congratulating Frank Rechsteiner for his well-deserved Helping Hand Award from the Boys and Girls Clubs of Bay County.

TRIBUTE TO OUR LADY OF REDEMPTION CHURCH AND BISHOP NICHOLAS J. SAMRA

HON. DAVID E. BONIOR

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, May 12, 1995

Mr. BONIOR. Mr. Speaker, this coming weekend Our Lady of Redemption Church in my home State of Michigan, is celebrating its 75th anniversary. In addition, their interim pastor, Bishop Nicholas J. Samra, is celebrating his 25th anniversary as a priest.

From the very beginning, the founders of Our Lady of Redemption Church were committed to seeing the emotional, educational, and spiritual needs of the Melkite community fulfilled. These Christian immigrants from Syria and Lebanon had been attracted to the growing opportunity of Detroit since before the turn of the century. However, not until 1920 did these faithful Melkites receive their own priest. In that year Bishop Michael Gallagher of the Roman Catholic Church requested Melkite Patriarch Dimitri Cadi to send a priest for the 2000-member Melkite community within his diocese. Since that time the Melkite community has grown to become a vital part of the Detroit metropolitan area.

Originally in Detroit, the church moved to Warren to accommodate the changing demographics of the community. This weekend, in addition to celebrating the past, the members of Our Lady of Redemption Church are proudly looking toward the future. The success of this vibrant community has enabled them to begin the construction of a new church on the current grounds. The groundbreaking ceremony will take place this weekend along with the other festivities.

The Diamond Anniversary of the founding of the church is a proud milestone. Likewise, so is the Silver Anniversary of the ordination of Bishop Samra. As the community prepares to celebrate these historic anniversaries, I applaud the Melkite community for its rich contributions to the tapestry that makes up American life in Michigan. I commend the congregation for their work and faith and urge my colleagues to join with me in wishing congratulations to all the members of Our Lady of Redemption Church. May their next 75 years be a continued fruitful ministry.

Mr. PAYNE of New Jersey. Mr. Speaker, on March 31, 1995, a distinguished public servant, Mr. Allen C. Martin, retired from his position as undersheriff in the Union County Sheriff's Office. Mr. Martin, a lifelong resident of Elizabeth, had a 37-year career in law enforcement which was distinguished by his decency, commitment to the principles of justice, and his concern for his community.

Mr. Martin began his law enforcement career in 1953 when he joined the Elizabeth Police Department, where he was assigned to the Elizabeth Port area. In 1962, Mr. Martin joined the New Jersey Department of Corrections as a corrections officer. In 1968 he transferred to the Union County Sheriff's Office where he served as a sheriff's officer assigned to the warrant squad.

In 1978, Ralph Froehlich, a man who has since distinguished himself with his service and commitment to the ideals of justice, was elected sheriff of Union County. Sheriff Froehlich appointed Mr. Martin as undersheriff and placed him in charge of the process unit and warrant squad. Undersheriff Martin computerized the office and increased its capacity.
