

deficits that are literally turning this Nation into a debtor nation. We are, in effect, no better off than a Third World debtor nation today because of it.

I came here in 1978, 2 years before you, Mr. Speaker, and that great President, Ronald Reagan who arrived here in 1980, and we at that time started the Reagan Revolution to shrink the size and the power of the Federal Government and return that power to the States and to the countries, towns, villages, cities, and local school districts, and to the private sector.

Mr. Speaker, we could not quite accomplish it, because we did not have control of the House and the Senate. Ronald Reagan, being the leader that he was, was forced to compromise and never succeeded in doing what we are doing here today.

Today, Mr. Speaker, you and I and the Republican leadership in both the House and the Senate, we now have the votes to pass this kind of legislation which is going to restructure this Federal Government. It is going to shrink its size and we are going to set that example throughout this entire country where we are going to have less government, less bureaucratic regulation, so that business and industry can strive and be successful in creating jobs and making profits in this country.

So, Mr. Speaker, I appreciate the Chair's indulgence in letting me speak this morning.
