(c) Consultation With Congress.—(1) Consultations under subsection (a) in the case of any operation shall be initiated before the initial deployment of United States Armed Forces units to participate in the operation and, whenever possible, at least 15 days before such deployment. However, if the President determines that the national security so requires, the President may delay the initiation of such consultations until after such initial deployment, but in no case may such consultations be initiated later than 48 hours after such deployment.

(2) Such consultations shall include discussion of all of the following:

(A) The goals of the operation and the mission of any United States Armed Forces units involved in the operation.

(5) A resumption of nuclear testing by the Republic of France raises serious environmental and health concerns.

(6) The United Nations Conference on Disarmament presently is meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, for the purpose of negotiating a Comprehensive Nuclear Test Ban Treaty (CTBT), which would halt permanently the practice of conducting nuclear test explosions.

(7) Continued underground weapons testing by the Republic of France and the People's Republic of China undermines the efforts of the international community to conclude a CTBT by 1996, a goal endorsed by 175 nations, at the recently completed NPT Extension and Review Conference (the conference for the extension and review of the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty).

(2) such bonus is part of restructuring costs associated with a business combination.

SEC. 8123. SEC. 8124. It is the sense of Congress that none of the funds available to the Department of Defense shall be obligated or expended for the deployment or participation of United States Armed Forces in any peacekeeping operation in Bosnia-Herzegovina, unless such deployment or participation is specifically authorized by a law enacted after the date of enactment of this Act: Provided, That this section shall not apply to operations of the nature and extent conducted by United States Armed Forces in Bosnia-Herzegovina during fiscal year 1995, emergency air rescue operations, the airborne delivery of humanitarian supplies, or the planning and execution of OPLAN 40104 or similar operations to extract UNPROFOR personnel.

THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The managers on the part of the House and the Senate at the conference on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses on the amendment of the Senate to the bill (H.R. 2126), making appropriations for the Department of Defense for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1996, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the House and the Senate in explanation of the effect of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report.

The conference agreement on the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1996, incorporates some of the provisions of both the House and Senate versions of the bill. The language and allocations set forth in House Report 104-208 and Senate Report 104-124 should be complied with unless specifically addressed in the accompanying bill and statement of the managers to the contrary.

Senate Amendment: The Senate deleted the entire House bill after the enacting clause and inserted the Senate bill. The conference agreement includes a revised bill.

DEFINITION OF PROGRAM, PROJECT, AND ACTIVITY

The conferees agree that for the purposes of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 (Public Law 99-177) as amended by the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Reaffirmation Act of 1987 (Public Law 100-119) and by the Budget Enforcement Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-508), the term program, project, and activity for appropriations contained in this Act shall be defined as the most specific level of budget items identified in the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1996, the accompanying House and Senate Committee reports, the conference report and accompanying joint explanatory statement of the managers of the Committee of Conference, the related classified annexes and reports, and the P-1 and R-1 budget justification documents as subsequently modified by Congressional action. The following exception to the above definition shall apply:

For the Military Personnel and the Operation and Maintenance accounts, the term 'program, project, and activity" is defined as the appropriations accounts contained in the Department of Defense Appropriations Act. At the time the President submits his budget for fiscal year 1997, the conferees direct the Department of Defense to transmit to the congressional defense committees a budget justification document to be known as the "0-1" which shall identify, at the budget activity, activity group, and subactivity group level, the amounts requested by the President to be appropriated to the Department of Defense for operation and maintenance in any budget request, or amended budget request, for fiscal year 1997.

OPERATIONS PROVIDE COMFORT/ENHANCED SOUTHERN WATCH

agreement The conference includes $647,100,000, as proposed by the House, for unbudgeted costs associated with Operations Provide Comfort and Enhanced Southern Watch. Of this amount, $77,500,000 is appropriated in Title I, Military Personnel, and $569,600,000 is appropriated in Title II, Operation and Maintenance. The conferees designate these funds as an item of Congressional interest, meaning they can only be used for additional incremental costs of Operations Provide Comfort and Enhances Southern Watch unless prior approval is granted by the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations through normal reprogramming procedures. In addition, the conferees direct that none of these funds may be obligated or expended unless the costs of these operations are fully submitted in the President's fiscal year 1997 budget request. The conferees direct that funds shall be available for obligation only after submission of the fiscal year 1997 budget request, and only if the request fully funds and details the estimated costs of these operations. The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to provide a report to the House and Senate Committees on Appropriations by January 30, 1996, on planned obligations and expenditures of these funds.

FORCE STRUCTURE CHANGES

The conferees recommend an increase of $38,500,000 to maintain fiscal year 1995 Primary Authorized Aircraft (PAA) levels in Air National Guard general purpose fighter forces during fiscal year 1996.

The conferees recommend an increase of $34,200,000 to sustain the maritime patrol aircraft force structure at 13 active and 9 reserve squadrons in fiscal year 1996.

The conferees also recommend an increase of $9,600,000 for additional Marine Corps Reserve full-time support, in order to facilitate the Marine Corps Reserve's contingency role and operations.

MILITARY TECHNICIAN AND MEDICAL PERSONNEL REPROGRAMMING

The conferees direct that the Department of Defense, in the event of sequestration during fiscal year 1996, protect military (civilian) technicians and medical personnel necessary to maintain the current level of medical and Reserve Component operations, from any associated reduction of personnel pay medical programs (to include CHAMPUS).

BASIC ALLOWANCE FOR QUARTERS

The conferees agree to provide $72,366,000, as proposed by the Senate, for an increase in the Basic Allowance for Quarters, to be effective January 1, 1996.

MILITARY (CIVILIAN) TECHNICIANS

The conferees recommend an increase of $40,500,000 in the Operation and Maintenance accounts of the Army Reserve, Air Force Reserve, Army National Guard, and Air National Guard for additional military (civilian) technicians. The conferees remain concerned about the significant reduction to military technicians contained in the President's budget request and expect these funds to not be used for any other purpose without a prior approval reprogramming being submitted through normal channels. Additionally, the conferees direct the Department to provide the required number of workyears needed to sustain the levels of military (civilian) technicians as provided in this Act. The conferees also include a general provision (Section 8087) which prohibits reducing the full-time support levels for technicians unless such technicians are a result of a reduction in military force structure. The conferees expect the Department to follow the intent of this provision.

SUPPORT OF THE U.S. ANTARCTIC PROGRAM

The conferees agree to continue the Department of Defense support to the U.S. Antarctic Program. However, in light of the Congressional requirement for the National Science and Technology Council to undertake a Government-wide policy review of DoD's role in the Antarctic program no later than March 31, 1996, future Defense involvement in this mission will be reassessed after receipt of that report. The conferees believe that Air National Guard participation in this project is predicated only on full reimbursement by the National Science Foundation and shall not conflict with any other Air National Guard mission.

BUDGET JUSTIFICATION AND EXECUTION MATERIALS

The conferees are encouraged by the steps the Department has taken too improve the Operation and maintenance program justification materials submitted to the Congress. In order to further these efforts, the conferees direct the Department to:

provide the Committees on Appropriations quarterly budget execution reports for all Operation and maintenance accounts for fiscal year 1996. These reports should reflect the O-1 categories used in the budget justification materials. Reports should be submitted within 60 days of the end of the quarter to which they apply, concurrently to the Office of Management and Budget; provide the Committees on Appropriations quarterly reports describing the execution of real property maintenance programs. These reports should describe those activities specifically and/or generally described by the Congress and should separately identify activity related to barracks renovation. Real Property Maintenance is designated an item of congressional interest; transfers from real property maintenance programs to other activities are subject to prior-notification reprogramming procedures.

The conferees agree that proposed transfers of funds between O-1 budget activity funding categories in excess of $20,000,000 are subject to normal reprogramming procedures. In addition, due to continuing concerns about force readiness and the possible diversion of Operation and maintenance funds, the conferees agree that the Department should provide written notification to the congressional defense committees prior to transfers in excess of $20,000,000 from the following subactivity group categories:

O&M, Army

Operating forces: Combat units; Tactical support; Force related training/special activities; Depot maintenance.

O&M, Navy

Operating forces: Mission and other flight operations; Aircraft depot maintenance; Mission and other ship operations; Ship depot maintenance.

O&M, Marine Corps

Operating forces: Operational forces O&M. Air Force

Operating forces: Primary combat forces; Primary combat weapons; Air operations training, Mobilization: Airlift operations.

FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

The conferees are concerned about the state of financial management in the Department of Defense and the measures that may be taken to improve upon past performance.

Both the House and Senate reports on the fiscal year 1996 Department of Defense Appropriations Bill recommended several items for the Department's consideration. These items should be merged into a single report due to the Committees on Appropriations not later than May 31, 1996. The DoD report should address the following issues:

the state of Defense Finance and Accounting Service (DFAS) consolidation and future reorganization plans. Of specific interest are DoD plans concerning establishment of 20 DFAS operating locations; opportunities for utilizing private sector financial services to meet non-unique departmental requirements such as travel processing, payroll and contract disbursements;

procedureal changes designed to improve DoD performance in the areas of unmatched disbursements and negative unliquidated obligations;

the estimated resource requirements to achieve long term improvements of DoD financial management procedures and systems

REAL PROPERTY MAINTENANCE

The conferees agree with the Senate in providing an additional $322,000,000 for barracks renovation. The conferees have a provided a total increase of $700,000,000 to the Real Property Maintenance account.

[In thousand of dollars]

REAL PROPERTY MAINTENANCE

The conferees agree to reduce the military department's security program accounts and the On-Site Inspection Agency. In order to meet emergent requirements stemming from valid treaty obligations, the conferees expect the Department of Defense to submit a reprogramming request subject to normal, prior approval reprogramming procedures.

TRANSPORTATION IMPROVEMENTS

The conferees agree that the Department of Defense should be able to improve the efficiency of the transportation organizations and infrastructure under the control of the U.S. Transportation Command (USTRANSCOM). The conferees direct that the Department of Defense report to the congressional defense committees not later than March 31, 1996, on measure that will be taken to achieve improvements in this area.

INTERNATIONAL MILITARY TRAINING AND EDUCATION

The conferees express their continued support for the International Military Education and Training Program. The conferees note however that this program is funded within international affairs programs and is properly within the jurisdiction of the Subcommittees on Foreign Operations. Therefore, the conferees direct that no funds appropriated in this act be used for foreign operations costs associated with the International Military Education and Training program.

DEFENSE COMMISSARY ACCESS POLICY

The conferees direct a report be made by the General Accounting Office to the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate and the House of Representatives on any changes in DoD commissary access policy, including providing reservists new or additional privileges, and addressing any resulting financial impact on the commissaries.

MILITARY TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT COMMAND REENGINEERING PROGRAM

The conferees direct the Department of Defense to provide a report on its pilot program to implement commercial business practices and standards of service for its movement of military household goods, to the congressional defense committees by March 1, 1997. This report should fully assess how the pilot program impacts the government's transportation costs as compared to the current program. The conferees expect the Department to fairly evaluate the present program as modified by the removal of government unique terms, conditions and regulations and using simplified procedures. This analysis determine whether the proposed reengineering of the current program is economically justified, can achieve a higher level of service and lower claims frequency.

In addition, the conferees direct the Department to report by January 1, 1996, prior to the implementation of any element of the pilot program, on its impact on small businesses resulting from, but not limited to, the application of the Federal Acquisition Regulations, and the requirement of any program elements that are not standard commercial business practices.

NATIONAL PRESTO

The conferees direct that not less than $15,000,000 be made available in the "Operation and Maintenance, Army" account only for the remediation of environmental contamination at the National Presto Industries, Inc. site in Eau Claire, Wisconsin. These funds are to be made available only for the implementation and execution of the 1988 agreement between the Department of the Army and National Presto Industries, Inc., within sixty days of the enactment of this Act and without being made subject to any studies, reports or other pre-conditions that would in any way delay or obstruct the obligation and disbursal of the funds. The conferees are satisfied that sufficient studies of this matter already have been done.

LIFE SCIENCES EQUIPMENT LABORATORY

The conferees direct that the Army shall make available $500,000 to the Life Sciences Equipment Laboratory at Kelly AFB, Texas, for work in support of the Joint Task Force—Full Accounting.

FORT WAINWRIGHT EMERGENCY REPAIRS

The conferees agree to provide $8,000,000 of available funds, for emergency repairs for the Fort Wainwright Central Heat and Power Plant.

$\begin{array}{c} {\tt CONTRACTOR}\text{-}{\tt OPERATED} \ {\tt PARTS} \ {\tt STORES} \\ ({\tt COPARS}) \end{array}$

The conferees are concerned by the issues raised in a recent GAO study of the COPARS program questioning the methodology used by certain military commanders to justify the use of alternative approaches. The conferees direct the services to suspend all efforts directed toward the elimination of COPARS unless and until economic analyses are approved that clearly show other alternatives to be more cost-effective. Such economic analyses must compare like items of cost (including labor and overhead costs of any COPARS alternative) and must fully address the concerns about earlier analyses cited in the GAO report. To ensure the fairness and objectivity of any such analysis, the conferees direct the Secretary to designate a single point of contact within the Office of the Secretary of Defense for approval of study methodology and any final recommendations.

JOINT ANALYSIS MODEL IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

Missions

The conferees agree that, of the funds provided, $11,200,000 shall be made available for the Joint Analysis Model Improvement Program.

300,000

PENTAGON RENOVATION

The conferees direct that the Pentagon renovation funding be consolidated in the Operation and Maintenance, Defense-wide account. The conferees have provided a total of $108,020,000 for the Pentagon renovation.

TROOPS TO COPS AND TEACHERS

The Senate included language providing $52,000,000 to continue the Troops to Cops and Troops to Teachers programs. The conferees have deleted this language. The conferees expect the Defense Department to consider using existing resources within this appropriation, if available, to continue these programs.

TRANSITION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM AND RELOCATION ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

The conferees agree to provide $49,300,000 for the Transition Assistance Program and $18,504,000 for the Relocation Assistance Program for fiscal year 1996. However, the conferees are concerned that these programs have become permanent entities, even though they were initiated to provide service members and their families with separation and relocation assistance resulting from the drawdown. At the end of fiscal year 1996, the Department of Defense will have largely completed its downsizing effort. Accordingly, the conferees direct the Department to report to the Defense Committees no later than March 1, 1996, on phasing out these programs, and what, if any residual level of continued resourcing is required.

Environmental Restoration, Defense The conferees agree to provide $1,422,200,000 for Environmental Restoration, Defense.

Total Adjustments

ENVIRONMENTAL REMEDIATION

The conferees support the "relative risk" approach to environmental remediation and expect the Department to make sure the most hazardous sites receive primary attention. While the conferees believe that all bases—those closing and those remaining open—must meet environmental standards the Department must not let ongoing environmental clean-up efforts preclude reuse opportunities at closing military installations. In these cases, the Department should work aggressively and innovatively with State and local officials to lower clean-up costs and to be sure environmental issues do not make it harder for affected communities to recover from losing a military installation.

SUMMER OLYMPICS

The conference agreement recommends an appropriation of $15,000,000 as proposed by the House and Senate for support of the 1996 Games of the XXVI Olympiad.

OVERSEAS HUMANITARIAN, DISASTER, AND CIVIC AID

The conferees agree to provide $50,000,000 for these functions of which $20,000,000 is specifically earmarked for training and activities related to the clearing of landmines for humanitarian purposes.

The conferees also agree to the House recommendation to consolidate all funds for humanitarian, disaster, and civil aid into a single account.

FORMER SOVIET UNION THREAT REDUCTION

The conferees agree to provide $300,000,000 for the Former Soviet Union Threat Reduction program, a reduction of $71,000,000 from the budget request. Funding provided at the subprogram level appears in the following table:

[In millions of dollars]

| Program | Budget | House | Senate | Con- ference |
|------------------------------|---------|---------|---------|-----------------|
| Nuclear Arms Reduction | $167.5 | $167.5 | $167.5 | $167.5 |

| Other | 30.5 | 26.5 | 24.5 | 24.5 |
| Total | 371 | 200 | 325 | 300 |

Although no new funds are provided for the Defense Enterprise Fund, the conferees agree that up to $200,000,000 of previously appropriated funds may be expended to administer the continued operation of the Defense Enterprise Fund program currently underway. The conferees have included two general provisions regarding the Former Soviet Union Threat Reduction program involving the limitation on expenditures of funds for the Chemical Weapons Destruction program and a prohibition on providing funds for housing for current or former Soviet military officers.

JOINT FORCES COMMAND, CONTROL AND COMMUNICATIONS

The conferees understand the importance of interoperability for joint forces in war and peacetime and have provided an additional $103,300,000 to correct critical deficiencies. However, through testimony from the Vice Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff, Service Chiefs and Commanders in Chief of the various Unified and Specified Commands, the conferees believe that deficiencies in command, control and communications still exist. The conferees encourage the Secretary of Defense to provide adequate resources for joint interoperability initiatives and will entertain reprogramming action that provides additional funds for this purpose.

AMMUNITION AND MISSILE QUANTITIES

The conferees agree the quantities of missiles and ammunition noted in the following tables are to be considered a floor and direct the Department to buy as many units as appropriated funds will allow. In no case shall the Department buy less than the quantities noted in the table unless the congressional defense committees are informed as to why these levels are unachievable.

AH-64 MODIFICATIONS

The conferees agree to provide the budget request of $53,596,000 for AH-64 modifications. Of this amount, $3,000,000 shall be used to procure additional embedded global positioning/inertial navigation systems for Apache helicopters.

UH-60

The conferees agree with the Senate language regarding enhanced protection systems. However, in view of the conference agreement to fund a multi-year procurement program for the UH-60, the conferees believe that the House-recommended report on helicopter production strategies is not required.

HIGH CAPACITY AIR AMBULANCE

The conferees are deeply concerned by the failure of the Army to address the need for a High Capacity Air Ambulance (HCAA). The Army Surgeon General has stated that this is one of his highest priorities. The conferees direct the Army to seek an appropriate solution and report the results of the planned joint exercise with the Air Force and National Guard by February 15, 1996. The report should include the feasibility of utilizing C-130s for the HCAA fixed wing requirement, the role of the Army and Air National Guard in this mission, and requirements for the UH-60L and or UH-60Q helicopters for the National Guard in order to accomplish the rotary wing portion of this mission. The conferees direct that, of the funds appropriated for UH-60Ls, the first 9 aircraft to be procured within the Aircraft Procurement, Army appropriation will be assigned to the National Guard.

F/A-18C/D HORNET

The conferees agree to provide $822,669,000 for the acquisition of eighteen F/A-18C/D aircraft. The conferees do not agree with the House reduction of funds for procurement of ALR-67(V)3 radar warning receivers.

T-39N

The conferees agree to provide $45,000,000 to purchase 17 T-39N aircraft. The conferees also agree with the House's direction for the Navy to transition to a competitive purchase of services contract for logistical support for the T-39N fleet after aircraft acquisition. However, the conferees direct that this transition should occur at the conclusion of the current T-39N contract, which is due to expire at the end of fiscal year 1998.

EA-6B

The conferees agree to provide $165,000,000 for modifications and improvements to the EA-6B electronic warfare aircraft. The funds are approved for the following purposes: $100,000,000 to modify 20 more aircraft to enable the Navy to support Air Force requirements; $40,000,000 to buy 60 shipsets of Band 9/10 jammer transmitters; and $25,000,000 to buy 30 USQ-113 radio countermeasures sets. The conferees further agree to modify the Senate's direction to use prior year funds for the acquisition of Band 9/10 jammers, which is now not necessary because they have provided sufficient fiscal year 1996 funds to procure these systems. The conferees urge the Navy to buy these systems expeditiously.

P-3 MODIFICATIONS

The conferees agree with the Senate's direction regarding acquisition of the AN/AAQ-22 thermal imaging system and incorporation of that system into the P-3 Antisurface Warfare Improvement Program (AIP).

[In thousands of dollars]

COMMON ECM EQUIPMENT

The conferees support the use of the LAU-138/A launch rail chaff dispenser system on Navy tactical aircraft as a cost effective means for improving aircrew/aircraft survivability. The conferees direct that these systems be managed as fleet armament equipment pool assets to afford maximum flexibility and cost savings, and that all remaining prior year funds appropriated for these systems be expeditiously applied toward this purpose.

AVIATION MULTIYEAR FUND

The conferees do not agree to provide funds for an Aviation Multiyear Fund as proposed by the House. The Navy is therefore not required to solicit multiyear bids from E-2C, AV-8B, and T-45 manufacturers, although it may do so if circumstances warrant.

5 INCH/54 GUN AMMUNITION

The conferees agree to provide \$36,000,000, an increase of \$14,499,000 only for 5 inch/54 gun ammunition. Despite Congressional direction to correct the requirements process and provide adequate funding for fleet training ammunition, the Navy has chosen once again to provide insufficient funding. The conferees direct the Secretary of Navy to ensure that adequate funding is provided in subsequent budget requests for fleet training ammunition. $\label{eq:constraining}$

DDG-51

The conferees agree with the House recommendation of $2.162,457,000 for the DDG-51 program, which will procure two destroyers. The conferees further provide legislative authority for the Secretary of the Navy to negotiate contracts for two additional DDG-51 class destroyers, and to award the contracts for those vessels on October 1, 1996. The conferees believe this acquisition strategy will generate increased economies of scale and stability for the Navy and the shipbuilding industrial base.

LPD-17 RCS ENGINEERING SUPPORT

The conferees note that as a result of the Base Realignment and Closure decisions, the Navy has reorganized and consolidated its Radio Communications Systems (RCS) engineering, production, testing, integration and training support activities. In assigning RCS engineering support workload for the LPD-17 class of ships, the conferees expect that the Navy will assign such workload to the most appropriate facility.

T--AGS--64

The conferees agree to provide $16,000,000 for advance procurement for a T-AGS-64 multi-purpose oceanographic survey ship.

LSD-52

The conferees agree to provide $20,000,000 as recommended by the House for one additional SSDS MK-I unit which the conferees direct be installed on LSD-52 during its construction prior to delivery of this vessel to the fleet.

SHIP COST ADJUSTMENT

The conferees do not agree to the House proposal to modify the ship cost adjustment process by eliminating specific designations in the bill, providing new transfer authority, and providing reprogramming limitations. The conferees also do not agree to the House requirement to include ship cost adjustments in the annual omnibus reprogramming

Within the ship cost adjustment implemented in section 8091 of the Act, the con-[In thousands of dollars] ferees have allocated funds for potential settlement of claims on the AOE class of ships. This action is taken solely to facilitate the Navy's ability to implement a settlement, should one be reached.

The conferees agree to provide $33,389,000 for "HM&E Items Under $2,000,000", a reduction of $10,000,000. This decrease, which is applied against the Surface Ship Support Equipment portion, includes a reduction of $3,760,000 against the Gaseous Nitrogen Generator subproject.

FLEET MODERNIZATION

The conferees agree to provide $3,000,000 for procurement of propeller shaft composite fairwaters to be backfit on CG 47 class cruisers during overhaul.

RADAR SUPPORT

The conferees agree to provide $14,466,000 for the Radar Support program, an increase of $14,000,000. The increase includes $9,000,000 for the AN/BPS-16 submarine radar and $5,500,000 for the AN/SPA-25G Radar Display program.

SURFACE SONAR WINDOWS AND DOMES

The conferees agree to provide $6,000,000 for procurement of replacement sonar rubber domes and windows, provision of safety-related field service repair and change-out of this equipment, and product improvements to increase durability and service life.

WEAPONS RANGE SUPPORT EQUIPMENT

The conferees agree to provide $48,830,000, an increase of $8,550,000, for Weapons Range Support Equipment program. The net increase includes a decrease of $1,200,000 for the Electronic Monitor Warfare Response subprogram and an increase of $9,750,000 as proposed by the Senate.

SURFACE TOMAHAWK SUPPORT EQUIPMENT

The conferees agree to provide $61,293,000 for the Surface Tomahawk Support Equipment program, a reduction of $10,000,000. The reduction is against the Afloat Planning System (APS) subprogram. The conferees are concerned that the Navy does not currently have an operational doctrine for the tactical use of Tomahawk cruise missiles by ship commanders. Furthermore, the conferees question the need to deploy APS on all carriers in light of the Challenge Athena satellite communications project.

AN/SPS-48E RADAR

The conferees direct that the funds previously appropriated for Pulse Doppler Mod Kits for $\overline{AN/SPS}$ -48E radars be released to the Navy. The modification of the radar will significantly improve its operational effectiveness when operating in littoral waters and therefore will improve the entire surface fleet's tactical situation awareness when it is incorporated into the Cooperative Engagement Capability. Given the vital link between these two programs, the conferees further direct that management and execution of the upgrade to the AN/SPS-48E radar program be conducted by the Program Executive Officer for Theater Air Defense.

The conferees agree to provide $35,283,000 for intelligence support equipment, an increase of $29,000,000. Of the increase, $16,500,000 is only for two JSTARS ground stations and $12,500,000 is only for Commander's Tactical Terminals.

RIGHT HAND DRIVE VEHICLES

The conferees have reviewed the implementation of Public Law 100-370, which amended title 10 USC (2253) to limit the amount available for purchase of right hand drive vehicles to $12,000. The conferees agree that this limitation should only apply to the purchase of passenger sedans manufactured outside of the United States. Further, this limitation does not affect the use of any right hand drive vehicle provided as part of the local contribution towards the basing of U.S. forces in the Host Nation.

STRATEGIC AIRLIFT

The conferees agree to provide $183,757,000 for strategic airlift, the amount of the budget request. It is the conferees' belief that the Defense Acquisition Board's upcoming decision on the optimal composition of the airlift fleet will require the continued production of C-17 aircraft. The conferees therefore direct that from the amount of funding provided for strategic airlift the Department of Defense must give first priority to fully funding advance procurement for continued production of C-17 aircraft in fiscal year 1997.

B-1B MODIFICATIONS

The conferees agree to provide $68,483,000 for B-1B modifications, a decrease of $6,900,000 to the budget request. The amount provided by the conferees includes a decrease of $14,100,000 from cost savings for miscellaneous modifications and an increase of $7,200,000 for reliability and maintainability improvements identified during the B-1B operational readiness assessment. The conferees also agree with the Senate's reporting requirement about expanding the B-1B conventional mission upgrade program.

A-10

The conferees agree to provide $41,024,000, a decrease of $38,400,000 to the budget request for A-10 modifications. The deleted funds are excess to program requirements for fiscal year 1996.

F-15 MODIFICATIONS

The conferees agree to provide $78,288,000, a decrease of $1,200,000 to the budget request for F-15 modifications. The conferees agree with the House reduction of funds for installation of landing gear wiring switch kits. The conferees do not agree with the Senate reduction of funds for a fighter data link modification. In restoring the $15,800,000 deleted by the Senate, the conferees direct that $9,000,000$ may only be used to acquire Joint Tactical Information Distribution System (JTIDS) class II terminals for one squadron of F-15 aircraft. The remaining <math>$6,800,000$ is available only for the Multifunctional Information Distribution System (MIDS) variant project.

The Under Secretary of Defense (Acquisition and Technology) has informed the conferees of the Defense Department's recent decision to meet the F-15 fighter data link (FDL) requirements through the MIDS program. The conferees understand that the Department intends full and open competition for FDL production. The conferees direct the Under Secretary to assure the congressional defense committees in writing that the use of MIDS architecture and software will not place U.S. companies at a competitive disadvantage. This assurance is required before release of the formal Request for Proposal for the F-15 fighter data link.

F-16 MODIFICATIONS

The conferees agree to provide $120,606,000 for F-16 modifications, an increase of $2,000,000 to the budget request. The additional funding provided is only for initial acquisition of 600 gallon fuel tanks for destructive testing, evaluation and limited operational use.

C-130 MODIFICATIONS

The conferees agree to provide $94,399,000 for C-130 modifications, an increase of $10,000,000 to the budget request. Of the additional funding provided by the conferees, $6,000,000 is only for threat defensive systems, and $4,000,000 is only for acquisition of AN/AAQ-22 thermal imaging systems for 10

Air Force Reserve HC-130 aircraft, as recommended by the Senate.

C-135 MODIFICATIONS

The conferees agree to provide $238,764,000, for C-135 modifications, an increase of $96,000,000 to the budget request. The additional funding provided by the conferees is only for continued reengining of the Air Guard and Reserve KC-135 tanker fleet. The conferees have provided sufficient funding for four reengining kits.

DARP MODIFICATIONS

The conferees agree to provide $53,000,000 for Defense Airborne Reconnaissance Program (DARP) modifications, an increase of $53,000,000 to the budget request. Of the additional funding provided by the conferees, $48,000,000 is only for the acquisition of two RC-135 reengining kits and $5,000,000 is only for costs associated with the refurbishment of the SR-71 aircraft.

AIRCRAFT SPARE AND REPAIR PARTS

The conferees agree to provide $586,281,000 for aircraft spare and repair parts, a decrease of $17,338,000 to the budget request. The amount of funding provided by the conferees includes a decrease of $21,900,000 for C-17 spares, a decrease of $8,938,000 for T-1 spares and an increase of $13,500,000 for F100-229 engine spares.

ELECTRONIC WARFARE FORCE STRUCTURE

The conferees strongly agree with Senate report language with respect to retaining at least 12 EF-111A Raven jammer aircraft in the primary aircraft inventory through fiscal year 1999, and with the Senate directed reporting requirements.

SPACE BOOSTERS

The conferees agree to provide $433,853,000 for the procurement of the Titan IV heavy lift space booster, a decrease of $31,100,000 to the budget request. The recommendation makes the following reduction: $20,000,000 for no longer needed relocation costs; $6,100,000 for unadjudicated claims; $5,000,000 from contractor consolidation savings.

DEFENSE AIRBORNE RECONNAISSANCE PROGRAM

The conferees agree to provide $161,575,000 for procurement for the Defense Airborne Reconnaissance Program (DARP), a decrease of $17,732,000 to the budget request. The conferees support the Army's identified need for a short range unmanned air vehicle (UAV), but remain concerned with the continuing problems associated with the Hunter program. As a result, the conferees have denied funding for marinization of the Hunter UAV and direct that the remaining fiscal year 1996 funds provided for Hunter not be obligated until the Appropriations Committees receive the results of the Defense Acquisition Board's review of the program. This review should include all options for fulfilling the Army's UAV requirement. The conferees further direct that use of these funds for any other purpose is to be handled through normal reprogramming procedures.

PATROL CRAFT—CYCLONE CLASS

The conferees agree to provide $20,000,000 for the procurement of one additional PC-Cyclone class operations patrol craft/vessel to continue to meet force requirements.

NATURAL GAS VEHICLES

The conferees recommend the Department develop an implementation plan and a demonstration effort based on the 1993 Navy study which specified natural gas vehicles as the vehicle of choice for achieving significant emission reductions on military bases.

NATIONAL GUARD AND RESERVE EQUIPMENT

The conferees agree to provide $777,000,000 for National Guard and Reserve Equipment as proposed by the Senate instead of $980,125,000 as proposed by the House.

The conferees agree to the Senate provision which requires the Chiefs of the Reserve and National Guard components to prepare and submit a modernization priority assessment for their respective Reserve and National Guard components and have established November 1, 1995 as the deadline for this submission.

MISCELLANEOUS EQUIPMENT

The conferees concur with the Senate position that the Reserves and National Guard should exercise control of funds provided for their modernization in this account with priority consideration for miscellaneous equipment appropriations given to the following items:

Avenger, heavy truck modernization, radar warning receivers, laser leveling systems, AH-64 combat mission simulators, automatic building machines, HMMWVs, UH-60 Upgrades, F-18 upgrades, 2½ ton truck ESP, UH-1 Huey SLEP, AH-1 (C-NITE), M-9 ACE, night vision equipment, IFTE, external fuel tanks, AN/AQS-14 airborne mine countermeasures, MIUW vans, modular airborne fire fighting systems, AH-1 borsighting devices, FADEC for UH-1 and CH-47, C-9 upgrades, small arms simulators, HC-130N conversions, M-915/916 heavy dump trucks, 5-ton flatbed trailers, SQQ-T1 trainer, KC-135 re-engining, UH-60Q helicopter upgrades, driver's night viewers, unmanned aerial vehicles, heavy equipment transport system, C-12 and C-20 aircraft, CT-39 Navy/Marine Corps replacement aircraft, SINCGARS radios, and Medium Truck SLEP.

The conferees also agree that while they have established a separate aircraft account, other aircraft may be purchased from the miscellaneous equipment account at the discretion of the Reserve and National Guard component chiefs.

NATIONAL GUARD AND RESERVE AIRCRAFT

JOINT LOGISTICS SYSTEMS CENTER

The conferees do not agree to the House proposal to provide an additional $100,000,000 in the Operation and Maintenance, Defensewide appropriation for the Joint Logistics Systems Center (JLSC). The conferees recognize that there is the potential for significant cost savings from effective logistics systems modernization, and believe that JLSC and its programs should remain a top priority. A September, 1995 report to the House Appropriations Committee by the Committee's Surveys and Investigations staff, however, indicates that the JLSC is not properly organized to accomplish the redesign of the Department of Defense's logistics systems. The conferees direct that not more than half of the funds requested in the budget and appropriated for JLSC may be obligated until the Secretary of Defense has taken appropriate action to correct JLSC's organizational deficiencies and has designated the Air Force as the executive agency for the JLSC, which will remain the responsibility of the Deputy Undersecretary of Defense (Logistics) and will remain located at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. The conferees further direct that the Secretary of Defense provide a report to the congressional defense committees by February 1, 1996 which explains his plan for improving the management of the Joint Logistics Systems Center, including improved levels of management, technical, contracting, and acquisition support.

NAVY STANDARD INTEGRATED PERSONNEL SYSTEM

The conferees have provided $18,000,000 as recommended by the House for the Navy Standard Integrated Personnel System (NSIPS). The additional funding is only for NSIPS as directed in House Report 104-208, page 134, except that $13,000,000 is appropriated in Other Procurement, $2,500,000 in Operation and Maintenance, Navy Reserve; and $2,500,000 in Operation and maintenance, Navy. The conferees concur with the Department's plan to use a joint working group to define the functional and technical requirements for a standard military personnel management system. The conferees believe that parallel development of NSIPS is critical and direct the Navy, the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness, and the Assistant Secretary of Defense for C31 to continue NSIPS development and implementation as a joint Naval Reserve and active team project which will include the core capabilities required to support joint requirements for the objective DOD field level data collection personnel system. The conferees concur with the Department's decision to designate the Navy as executive agent for prototyping and testing these field level applications or core capabilities and the Air Force as the executive agent for the database.

The conferees are aware of Navy needs to also continue to consolidate and integrate its headquarters personnel systems. The House previously directed that the Navy Military Personnel Distribution System (NMPD) central design authority (CDA) be assigned to the Enlisted Personnel Management Center (EPMAC) to assure the most efficient and cost effective development and maintenance of this system. The conferees understand that the Military Assignment, Selection, and Transfer System (MAST) has been conceived to modernize Naval personnel management by combining legacy systems and allowing these systems to operate in a more cost effective and client friendly environment. EPMAC has been identified as the technical expert possessing the expertise required to meet the development demands of MAST and NMPD systems. The conferees direct the Navy to assign CDA responsibilities, implementation, and funding functions to EMPAC for the MAST and NMPD systems by January, 1996, and that the transfer of the NMPD system to EPMAC be completed by September, 1996. The conferees direct the Navy to allocate the required funding to EPMAs in support of the MAST and NMPD system development to include hardware. software, and personnel requirements.

The conferees concur with the House direction that the Department of the Navy place the collocated Naval Telecommunications and Communications Station (NTCS) functions and operations under the operational control and command of the Naval Reserve Information Systems Office, except that this direction shall only apply to the Central Design Agency functions and its related support functions and civilian personnel. The conferees direct that these functions continue to be supported through the Defense Business Operations Fund.

OTHER DEFENSE AGENCIES

The conferees concur with the House direction provided in House Report 104–208, pages regarding DISA megacenter outsourcing. The conferees are adamant that the reporting requirements and directions provided in the House report be followed by the Department of Defense. While the conferees may be able to support outsourcing some non-essential military functions and services prior to the completion of recommended base closing and realignment consolidations, the conferees expect the reporting requirements contained in the House report to occur first along with proper Congressional committee oversight.

The conferees concur with the House National Security Committee efforts urging the Department of Defense to privatize or outsource non-essential military services such functions as civilian payroll and payroll-and-accounting for nonappropriated instrumentality functions. However, the conferees recommend the Department also look to franchising for these and other similar services from other Federal agencies that already provide similar, cost effective services. In this regard, the conferees urge the Department to proceed with the recommendation made in the statement of the managers accompanying the fiscal year 1995 Defense Appropriations Act to initiate a prototype for using the National Finance Center cross servicing functions, in conjunction with existing DFAS and private operations in the area, for some financial management and personnel services at DOD as recommended by Military Department Comptrollers in January, 1994.

RESERVE COMPONENT AUTOMATION SYSTEM

The Army has spent eighteen years and close to a billion dollars without successfully providing modern computer technology to its Reserve Component. For the first time in the RCAS program's history, there now appears to be general consensus between the active Army, the National Guard, the Army Reserve, the Office of the Secretary of Defense, and the Congress on its future direction based on the restructure proposed by the Chief of the National Guard Bureau. Given this apparent consensus, there is no longer the need for legislation to accomplish the goals set out by the Congress for this program. The conferees therefore do not agree to retain bill language as proposed by the House. This action should not be construed as a diminution of Congressional support for RCAS, a Congressional authorization to change the program responsibilities of the Chief of the National Guard Bureau, or an invitation to the Army to change the program architecture to parallel or merge with active Army computer modernization programs. The funding provided in this Act is available solely to implement the restructured RCAS program as proposed by the Chief of the National Guard Bureau, endorsed by the Office of the Secretary of Defense in a formal Major Automated Information Systems Review Council, and recently presented to the Congress. All RCAS funds are hereby designated to be of special Congressional interest, any other use of which would require approval by the Congress through the formal reprogramming process; this would include the use of RCAS funds to modernize active Army systems or to finance co-development of new systems. The conferees agree to the certification requirements by the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Reserve Affairs in the House report.

For many years, the Congress has denied the use of government furnished equipment and software in the RCAS system primarily because the Army would not identify it in advance to the Congress. The Chief of the National Guard Bureau has proposed the limited use of government furnished software in the restructured program. The Army has touted for many years the large amount of government furnished software that potentially could be used in RCAS. However, of the 16 existing Army information systems that will be examined for reuse in RCAS during fiscal year 1996, the Guard Bureau indicates that not even one is likely to have more than 14 percent of the software available for reuse. Many of these are also very old systems. The conferees wish to assure that software reuse is not done simply for its own sake or solely to satisfy the technical community. The conferees impose no restrictions on the use of government furnished software in the restructured program, but direct that the Program Executive Office for RCAS certify each time it tasks the RCAS contractor to use a significant amount of government furnished software that such action is the most cost-effective approach.

Finally, for many years the Congress had a very tight restriction in law prohibiting the purchase of interim equipment outside of the RCAS program. The Reserve Components have recently disclosed that there are 12,000 modern computers which are available for the restructured program. The conferees direct the Inspector General of the Defense Department to conduct an investigation on how the Reserve Component was able to obtain such a large number of computers, whether any of these acquisitions violated law, and/or if anti-deficiency violations occurred.

UNIVERSITY AND INDUSTRY RESEARCH CENTERS

The conferees have provided $49,779,000. Included in this amount is $22,847,000 for the Army's new federated labs program. The conferees direct that these funds may only be used to initiate the three federated lab programs which the Army determines are most important to its needs important to its needs.

The conferees are concerned that the Army's plan to enter into long term agreements could limit its ability to respond to new ideas and changes in the defense industry. Therefore, the conferees direct that the Army shall not enter into any federated lab agreement or contract which provides for the non-competitive continuation of a federated lab for more than five years. The conferees further direct that the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Research, Development and Acquisition provide a report identifying the three fiscal year 1996 federated labs, the participants, the allocation of funds, the management structure, and the planned research program by March 1, 1996 to the congressional defense committees.

EW DEVELOPMENT

The conferees understand that funds are included in the budget request for the development of an electronic protection system and encourage the Army to obligate up to $10,300,000 in fiscal year 1996 for the SHORT-STOP project.

MEDICAL ADVANCED TECHNOLOGY

The conferees agree to provide $75,000,000 for the Army's peer reviewed breast cancer research program. The conferees expect the Army to provide special emphasis to research that addresses the specific needs of military beneficiaries.

AIR DEFENSE COMMAND, CONTROL AND INTELLIGENCE

The conferees provided $2,000,000 in fiscal year 1995 for the evaluation of the Air Defense Alerting Device (ADAD). The conferees direct the Department of Defense to release the fiscal year 1995 funds appropriated for ADAD and proceed with testing.

TASK FORCE XXI SOLDIER

The conferees agree to provide $30,000,000 for a new project, Task Force XXI Soldier, to accelerate the development of integrated, modular equipment designed for the individual soldier. The Army's strategy to develop and field the interim Land Warrior system and then immediately begin production of the objective GEN II Soldier system appears to be an inefficient allocation of resources.

The conferees believe that accelerating the GEN II soldier program will eliminate the need for an interim system allowing the Army to field a more capable system at an earlier date. Therefore, the conferees have consolidated funds from the existing programs to accelerate the GEN II Soldier program and provided additional funds to continue only the Land Warrior efforts necessary to support the objective program. The conferees direct the Assistant Secretary of the Army for Research, Development and Acquisition to provide a report defining a revised acquisition strategy to the congressional defense committees by March 1, 1996.

AIRBORNE RECONNAISSANCE LOW

The conferees understand that upgrading the Airborne Reconnaissance Low (ARL) aircraft with the RAH-66 Comanche engine will significantly enhance operational capabilities and reduce support costs. Although no funds were requested in the fiscal year 1996 budget, the conferees encourage the Army to pursue upgrading the ARL engine in fiscal year 1997.

SHIP SELF-DEFENSE

The conferees do not agree to the House bill language on ship self-defense programs, as there is now agreement between the Congress and the Defense Department on the direction of the affected programs. This action should not be construed as a diminution of Congressional support for achieving robust self-defense capabilities on Navy ships, particularly on the LPD-17 class, as soon as possible.

SURFACE SHIP TECHNOLOGY

The conferees believe recent efforts to develop state-of-the-art curved plate technology for constructing large double hull tankers hold promise to significantly reduce construction costs and provide an improved level of safety and performance for navy tanker vessels. The conference agreement includes $15,000,000 only to complete the development, design, construction and testing of full scale prototype equipment essential to evaluating and deploying this technology. Funds are to be used for detailed design and construction of full scale prototype equipment for curved plate panel forming, coating, subassembly and final welding.

OCEANOGRAPHIC AND ATMOSPHERIC TECHNOLOGY

The conferees agree to provide $10,000,000 for oceanographic research as recommended by the House. These funds are available only for collaborative research for the continued development, integration and application of cost-effective underwater multisensing systems (physical, chemical, optical, and acoustic) and unmanned underwater vehicles for continental shelf oceanographic measurements for mine countermeasures and other oceanographic applications, both fundamental and applied. These funds are to continue the project explained in House report 103-254, whose focus is on in-situ oceanographic senof multiple reconfigurability, interoperability to achieve low cost, reduced size and flexible payload/ platform systems, adaptive capabilities for extended deployments, and navigation by self-convergent approaches using onboard sensors and intelligent control.

JOINT ADVANCED STRIKE TECHNOLOGY

Due to a recent restructure of the JAST program, there is now $131,000,000 in the fiscal year 1996 budget that is for work to be accomplished in fiscal year 1997. Such work should be budgeted in that year. The conferees agree to this reduction in the Navy and Air Force accounts, and direct that the Office of the Secretary of Defense ensure that the fiscal year 1997 budget to Congress includes a restoration of these funds.

F/A-18 SQUADRONS

The conferees agree to provide an additional $4,500,000 only for BOL chaff as recommended by the House. These funds are only to complete certification of the BOL chaff system on the F/A-18C/D series aircreft.

E-2 SQUADRONS

The conferees have provided an increase of $10,000,000 only to support evaluation of technologies for an E-2 radar modernization program (RMP). The conferees support an expansion of current development and test efforts at a site which permits elevated testing of an ADS-18S antenna and is involved with evaluation of space time adaptive processing (STAP) algorithms. Based on analysis and testing completed to date, the Navy has concluded that upgrades to the E-2 can provide substantial warfighting improvements in a littoral environment. The conferees direct that the additional funds shall only be available for radar development work, antenna testing and site enhancements in conjunction with ongoing efforts.

LCAC SERVICE LIFE EXTENSION PROGRAM

The conferees agree to provide $37,000,000 as recommended by the House for advanced planning and engineering of a Landing Craft Air Cushion (LCAC) service life extension program. The program will include component improvements and structural modifications to reduce maintenance costs, meet increased lift requirements, and restore growth margins. Modifications will be incorporated into the last craft during production and into existing fleet craft beginning in fiscal year 1996 as an expansion of the current corrosion control effort.

INTERCOOLED RECUPERATIVE GAS TURBINE ENGINE

The conferees agree to provide $41,008,000 for the continued development of the Intercooled Recuperative (ICR) gas turbine engine. This includes the amount requested in the budget and additional funds for the recuperator recovery plan and the U.S. test site.

NAVY RANGE SUPPORT SHIP

In the process of restructuring its fleet of oceanographic research vessels, the Navy recently decided that the Kaimalino would not be part of the future Navy oceanographic fleet. The conferees are aware of a plan for the Pacific Missile Range Facility (PMRF) to acquire the Kaimalino to support operational training needs as well as research and development programs, such as Navy Upper and Lower Tier Patriot, and THAAD. The conferees believe this would be an effective use of the Kaimalino. The conferees direct the Navy to review PMRF's request and to report to the Committees on Appropriations prior to taking any other action on the ship. The conferees further direct that the reuse of the Kaimalino shall have no effect on other ships in the Navy's oceanographic fleet.

SPACE BASED INFRARED ARCHITECTURE—DEM/VAL

The conferees agree to provide $265,744,000 for the demonstration/validation stage of the space based infrared architecture program, an increase of $135,000,000 to the budget request. The conferees have agreed to provide the additional $135,000,000 to accelerate development of the space missile tracking system (SMTS), formerly known as Brilliant Eyes. The additional funds provided for the program shall be used only for efforts identified jointly by both the Ballistic Missile Defense Organization and the Air Force to accelerate the deployment of SMTS.

The conferees agree to provide $202,438,000 for the B-1B upgrade program, an increase of $28,600,000 to the budget request. The additional funding includes an increase of $7,000,000 for B-1B JDAM integration, an increase of $6,600,000 for ECM risk reduction activities, and $15,000,000 for efforts to equip the bomber with precision guided munitions, including the B-1B virtual umbilical demonstration (BVUD). The conferees agree that none of the funding used for BVUD may be obligated until the Commander of the Air Combat Command and the Air Force Director of Operational Requirements certify to the appropriations committees that (a) a documented requirement for BVUD exists; and (b) that BVUD will be incorporated as part of the B-1B conventional upgrade program.

The conferees also direct that the Commander of the Air Force Operational Test and Evaluation Center provide a report no later than March 15, 1996 on the test and evaluation plan for BVUD and other precision guided munitions demonstrations. Finally the conferees direct the Department of the Air Force to consider other available alternatives to providing precision guided capability for the Mk-82 munition with the additional funding provided.

The conferees agree to provide $73,803,000 for continued development of the C-17 advanced transport aircraft, a decrease of $11,950,000 to the budget request. The conferees direct that these funds be allocated as follows: flight test support, $17,850,000; T-1 refurbishment, $11,700,000; aircraft structural integrity, $11,000,000; mission support. $10,900,000; aircraft armor, $5,000,000; flight test hours, $4,000,000; automatic communications processor; $4,000,000; station-keeping equipment, $1,300,000; passenger oxygen mask $1,000,000; improvements. enhanced aeromedical litters, $1,000,000; cargo compartment heating, $600,000; troop seats, $553,000; GPS integrity monitoring, $500,000; airlift defensive system survivability study, $400,000; signature reduction study, $400,000.

The conferees agree with Senate's direction regarding crew armor.

SENSOR FUZED WEAPON PRODUCT IMPROVEMENT

The House and Senate both included $10,000,000 in their respective bills to begin a product improvement program for the Sensor Fuzed Weapon (SFW). The conferees direct the Air Force to program those funds required in the outyears to complete development of these improvements. Currently programmed SFW production funds shall not be used as a source for the required development funds. The conferees strongly urge the Air Force to begin this development as soon as possible and to examine ways to streamline and shorten the effort.

The conferees also agree with the Senate requirement for a reevaluation, to be submitted no later than May 1, 1996, of total inventory needs for smart munitions.

JOINT SURVEILLANCE/TARGET ATTACK RADAR SYSTEM

The conferees agree with the Senate position regarding funds for both the Air Force and the Army to continue development and procurement of the Joint Surveillance/Target Attack Radar system, with the exception of restoring $6,100,000 of the Senate recommended reduction to the Air Forces procurement request. The conferees direct that the restored funds are available only to pay over and above expenses for repair actions during aircraft refurbishment. The reduction recommended by the conferees shall only be assessed against the funds originally identified in budget justification materials as allocated for engineering change orders.

In addition, the conferees direct that $12,000,000 in fiscal year 1995 research, development, test and evaluation funds allocated to an unadjudicated Request for Equitable Adjustment is only available to support fiscal year 1996 development requirements.

The conferees further agree with the Senate requirements regarding the NATO Alliance Ground Surveillance (AGS) program.

B-52 SQUADRONS

The conferees agree to provide $21,005,000 for B-52 development, an increase of $4,500,000 to the budget request. The additional funding is only for integration of the AGM-130 munition onto B-52 bombers. The conferees direct that not more than $1,000,000 may be obligated until the Secretary of the Air Force certifies that there is a validated operational requirement for the weapon and reports to the Committees on Appropriations about the annual and total costs, schedule, technical risks, and operational considerations of such integration.

JOINT-AIR-TO-SURFACE STANDOFF MISSILE

The conferees agree to provide $25,000,000 to initiate the Joint-Air-to-Surface Standoff Missile (JASSM) program. The conferees agree to the Senate requirements regarding a report and a cost and operational effectiveness analysis. However, the Senate proposed obligation restrictions are not required. The required report is due no later than June 1, 1996.

THREAT SIMULATOR DEVELOPMENT

The conferees direct that none of the funds available for the Real-Time Electromagnetic Digitally Controlled Analyzer and Processor (REDCAP) may be used to fund any activities which would produce permanent improvements which could not be relocated in accordance with the Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) decision to move this facility.

HISTORICALLY BLACK COLLEGES AND OTHER MINORITY INSTITUTIONS

The Department is encouraged to continue its support of minority institutions, including Hispanic serving institutions, through academic collaborations for research and education related to science and technology, relevant to the Department's mission.

COMPUTING SYSTEMS AND COMMUNICATIONS TECHNOLOGY

The conferees agree to provide \$8,000,000 for a Global Broadcast Service (GBS) as recommended by the House. The conferees also agree to the House language directing that the GBS initiative is to be managed by the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition and Technology (USD (A&T)). The conferees do not agree to the House language directing that the \$8,000,000 is to be released to the Navy for a near-term GBS pilot program. Instead, the conferees believe that the GBS program must address the needs of all of the services and direct the USD (A&T) to compete the acquisition of both the near-term and objective GBS. After the competition is completed, the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller) is to certify to the defense committees that \$8,000,000 has been released to the service chosen as executive agent to conduct the near-term GBS pilot $\bar{\text{program}}$. The conferees do agree to the House language directing the USD (A&T) to provide to the defense committees a long-term master architecture. Additionally, the conferees direct that the USD (A&T) provide a comparison of cost, schedule, technical risk and operational considerations for several potential GBS host spacecraft including UFO follow-on, Milstar, DSCS, classified, and commercial satellites with the master architecture.

ADVANCED ELECTRONIC TECHNOLOGY

The conferees agree with the House report concerning the ECRC program and also direct the Department to enter into a five-year contract with each of the two system integrators, the National ECRC and CAMP, who will continue to manage their respective sites.

The conferees commend ARPA for recent advancements in low-cost dense plasma focus x-ray source technology and 0.18 micron synchrotron-based x-ray technology. The conferees urge ARPA to continue efforts in the point source area and direct the Agency to allocate $11,000,000 to fund an integrated point source x-ray lithography system based on these latest x-ray source and stepper developments. This research should target defense related applications such as the production of Microwave Monolithic Integrated Circuit (MMIC) chips for military uses, including missile seekers, digital battlefield systems and F-22 radar modules.

ELECTRONIC COMBAT MASTER PLAN

The conferees direct the Secretary of Defense to develop and provide to the congressional defense committees, no later than March 31, 1996, an Electronic Combat Master Plan to establish an optimum infrastructure for electronic combat assets.

STRATEGIC TARGET SYSTEM (STARS)

The conferees agree to provide $10,000,000, the budget amount, only to continue planning, preparation and actual conduct of STARS flight tests. The conferees direct that BMDO take no actions to terminate or place the STARS program in a caretaker status.

NAVAL THEATER BALLISTIC MISSILE DEFENSE

The conferees believe that the Navy's area wide (Lower Tier) and theater wide (Upper Tier) programs should be deployed as rapidly as possible. The Navy's current plan to build on existing ship platforms, the Aegis system, proven launch systems, and the operational Standard missile family has resulted in a cost effective, technically capable and manageable program that is planned to produce a user operational capability (UOES) Upper Tier system not later than FY 1999 with an initial operational capability (IOC) by 2001. The conferees are committed to a rapid and actual deployment of an effective sea-based missile defense system. The conferees direct the Department to place highest priority on proceeding with a development program that achieves deployment of the Navy Upper Tier system by the planned 2001 IOC. The conferees endorse the Navy Theater Wide system as a core TMD program and endorse fully funding the core program in the five year defense plan. The conferees direct that not less than $200,442,000 shall be spent on Navy Upper Tier and not less than $282,473,000 Navy Lower Tier for research and development activities. Funding allocations through BMDO to the Navy for these programs should proceed expeditiously.

TIER II UNMANNED AIR VEHICLE

The conferees agree to provide $45,250,000 for the Tier II (Predator) unmanned air vehicle program, an increase of $25,300,000 to the budget request. The conferees also agree that the additional funding provided shall only be used for attrition replacement air vehicles and shall not be used to marinize the Predator air vehicle.

RIVET JOINT RE-ENGINING

The conferees have provided $79,000,000 solely for the purpose of initiation of reengining the Rivet Joint fleet. The conferees direct that future funding for this project be included in budget submissions for fiscal year 1997 and beyond, thus ensuring completion of this project in an expeditious and cost effective manner.

USH-42 MISSION RECORDER

The conferees agree that from funding provided in fiscal year 1996 for the Defense Air-Borne Reconnaissance Program, $10,000,000 may be used for the planned product improvement that will result in a low cost, lightweight, high capacity, digital version of the Navy's USH-42 recorder/reproducer suitable for a wide range of applications in reconnaissance and surveillance platforms.

MARITIME PREPOSITIONING SHIPS

The legislative authority in this Act to Maritime additional Prepositioning Ship for up to $110,000,000 may not be used until a notification has been provided at least 30 days in advance of release of a RFP under this authority to the congressional defense committee on the Department of the Navy's intent to use the authority and on identification and justification of proposed financing sources.

BREAST CANCER

The conferees have provided an increase of $100,000,000 only for breast cancer. The conferees have provided $75,000,000 to continue the Army's peer-reviewed research program. In addition, the conferees have provided $25,000,000 to the Department for: increased recruitment, training and education for military cancer specialists; diagnostic equipment and improved detection technologies, such as digital mammography; and prevention and education efforts for the military community.

TRICARE IMPLEMENTATION

The conferees commend the significant progress of the Department of Defense in moving toward a nation-wide managed health care system for the military, known as TRICARE. Existing law mandates that the TRICARE system be implemented by September 30, 1996, and the Department has attempted to meet this deadline. Unfortunately, complications with the issuance and implementation of these large, complex, competitively bid contracts, have caused significant problems and associated delays. The conferees are concerned that the Department has accelerated the process in order to meet this statutory deadline. The conferees understand the Department is fully committed to the full implementation of TRICARE, as well as a standard health benefit for all military beneficiaries, but believe that the Department, the offerors, and the beneficiaries would greatly benefit from additional time in meeting the complex requirements of TRICARE. Therefore, the conferees agree to extend the deadline for implementation of the TRICARE managed care system by one year.

UNIFORMED SERVICES UNIVERSITY OF THE HEALTH SCIENCES

The conferees remain committed to the continuation of the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USUHS) at its current level and direct that, within funds made available to the Defense Health program, the amount provided for USUHS shall fully fund the programs and functions of the University at existing levels.

The conferees have deleted bill language which provided $5,000,000 for the conversion of surplus Department of Defense helicopters by State and local governments for use in counterdrug activities and agree that funding may be requested in annual plans submitted by individual states.

The conferees agree that, if authorized, up to $3,000,000 in available funds may be used to continue the Community Outreach pilot program.

The conferees agree that, in accordance with normal reprogramming procedures, up to $25,000,000 in available funds may be used to procure low-energy/backscatter x-ray equipment.

OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL

The conferees agree to provide $178,226,000 for the Office of the Inspector General. Of this amount, $177,226,000 shall be for operation and maintenance activities and $1,000,000 for procurement.

The conferees direct the Director of Central Intelligence, in coordination with the NSETF Board, to establish criteria and procedures to ensure that all individuals accepting fellowships or scholarships from this fund meet qualifications for employment by the Department of Defense or Intelligence Community. The conferees further direct that any recipient must be engaged in a course of study that is an identified critical shortage within the Department of Defense or the Intelligence Community. Upon meeting these requirements, the recipient must agree to serve at least two years with the Department of Defense or the Intelligence Community or reimburse the U.S. Treasury for the total costs of the scholarship or fellowship.

TITLE VIII—GENERAL PROVISIONS

The conference agreement incorporates general provisions of the House and Senate versions of the bill which were not amended. Those general provisions that were amended in conference follow:

(FFRDCs). The conferees direct that the restrictions on consultants only shall apply to the use of consulting services for specific projects undertaken by an FFRDC as part of its core mission responsibilities to meet sponsor requirements. The restrictions do not apply to administration and management functions necessary to operate an FFRDC as an organizational entity.

The conferees included a general provision (Section 8062) which amends Senate language that limits payment to Uniformed Services Treatment Facilities to $315,000,000.

The conferees included a general provision (Section 8088) which amends Senate language prohibiting the obligation or expenditure of any funds provided in this Act for aid to the Government of North Korea.

The conferees included a general provision (Section 8092) which amends Senate language that reallocates funds to cover unanticipated shipbuilding cost increases.

The Executive Branch Mid Session Review of the budget revised the inflation estimate on which the fiscal year 1996 budget was based downward from its original assumptions. This downward revision results in overall savings to the Department of Defense and the reduction in this provision reflects those savings.

The conferees included a new general provision (Section 8126) which makes funds available from the Defense Business Operation Fund for termination liability for the VC-137 replacement aircraft.

HIGH ONE

(Mr. DOGGETT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. DOGGETT. Mr. Speaker, fair and equitable treatment of our military personnel and our veterans deserves greater attention in this Congress.

Dedicating one's self to our national security should at least result in some personal security at retirement time.

Unfortunately, the Republican leadership has approved a plan to refigure the retirement pay that our men and women in the military had figured on as being theirs at retirement time.

They call it High One, but the Texans that I have been hearing from say it is little more than "hi and bye."

We have folks who have served in the military for 10 and 20 years, the whole time thinking that they had a fixed income when they retired. Then along comes this formula refiguring and all of a sudden some folks who calculated a particular retirement find out they have got to do some recalculating. This is all the more unfortunate given the inattention and inaction on some other issues like COLA inequity, Medicare subvention, and forgotten widows.

It is time to give our veterans and those who are in our military the attention they deserve. As the old saying goes, "It's not doing our veterans a favor, it's repaying one."

THE 1-YEAR ANNIVERSARY OF RE-PUBLICAN CONTRACT AND RE-LATED EVENTS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of May 12, 1995, the gentleman from Texas [Mr. DOGGETT] is recognized for 60 minutes as the designee of the minority leader.

Mr. DOGGETT. Mr. Speaker, it is an appropriate time to focus America's attention on what occurred 1 year ago tomorrow, because we have come to the first anniversary, birthday party No. 1, so to speak, of the so-called Contract on America, announced on the Capitol steps with many smiles about this time last year.

Certainly if one is to assess and evaluate that contract based on hyperbole, based on rhetoric from the floor of this Congress, it has been a great success. It has been something that would give cause for great celebration, if we were to analyze what has been said about it in this Chamber rather than what is actually happening out in the real lives of real people across America.

If one is to evaluate this contract in terms of what legislation has been passed and signed into law in the law books of America that might have some impact on people across America, one gets a more modest evaluation, because in fact thus far we have had a bill passed and signed into law dealing with the question of unfunded mandates; a bill passed and signed into law that was really a Democratic idea that passed the last session of Congress, to require that the House and the Senate and all of our congressional institutions abide by and follow the same laws that we pass and apply to businesses across America and to people across America. A good idea, signed into law, should have been signed into law and would have been, had the will of this House last year been accomplished.

So that is two bills out of many proposed and discussed from this microphone, not exactly revolutionary, that have been placed into law.

There is a third measure that has passed both the House and the Senate, another Democratic idea. It is called the line-item veto. The line-item veto would be law now and would allow President Clinton to go in and pencil out, redline certain bits of pork barrel either in the Tax Code or in the appropriations bills, but for Republican objection.

Members will recall that last year when this great Contract on America was unfolded here on the steps of the Capitol, with all the smiles and the bright lights and cameras rolling, that it included a line-item veto that apply not only to pork barrel spending but to tax loopholes. But when the bill got here to the floor of the House, a little surgery was performed and the tax loophole part was kept out. They are protected. They are preserved.

The President, under the line-item veto as passed by the House and by the Senate, would be powerless to really get at the tax loopholes that protect the privileged few, that need attention in this country. But there is still some merit to the bill. We passed it in a way that the President would be able to do something about pork-barrel spending, and certainly there is too much of that

But again, despite the hyperbole and the announcement of the great revolutionaries about all they were accomplishing in this bill, and how they wanted to rush it over to President Clinton so he would have a chance to either put up or shut up in terms of line iteming some of these items, they decided that they really did not want that to happen. So they have dillydallied around and delayed and just never gotten around to adjusting the differences between the House and the Senate

In fact, we had to wait until just this past month for there even to be conferees appointed to adjust the differences between the House and the Senate, and some Members of the Senate were saying what is obviously true; that is, that the House leadership, which proclaimed itself to be so revolutionary from this and other microphones back in January, did not really want President Clinton to have the power to go in and line item out the pork barrel that they put in this set of appropriations bills, the few that they have gotten past the Congress, and those that will be dumped out in the President's lap within the next week or

So the line-item veto, which was one of the centerpieces of this contract that you would expect people to be celebrating today, is not law today, and it is not law today because the self-proclaimed revolutionaries did not want the revolution to occur so early that it might clip a little of their pork barrel out of the appropriations bills.

It is also appropriate, as we look at and evaluate what has happened with reference to this Contract on America, to look at what lies ahead in the next few days. We got an indication of how really extreme its proponents are in comments that were made over the last
