The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question is on agreeing to the amendment.

The amendment (No. 1788) was agreed to.

Mr. LEVIN. Mr. President, today, the Senate will be voting on the passage of the Federal Reports Elimination and Sunset Act of 1995 which will eliminate and modify over 200 outdated or unnecessary congressionally mandated reporting requirements and will also place a sunset on those reports with an annual, semiannual, or other regular periodic reporting requirement 4 years after the bill's enactment. The passage of this piece of legislation will help to improve the efficiency of agency operations by reducing staff time in and resources spent on producing unnecessary reports to Congress.

The Congressional Budget Office estimates that enactment of this legislation could result in savings of up to $5 to $10 million even without factoring in the savings from the sunset provision.

The legislation that we will be voting on today is similar to the bill Senator COHEN and I introduced last year, S. 2156. That bill contained nearly 300 recommendations for eliminations or modifications, and was the product of an extensive process that started with recommendations from executive and independent agencies. Senator COHEN and I wrote to all 89 executive and independent agencies and asked that they identify reports required by law that they believe are no longer necessary or useful and, therefore, that could be eliminated or modified. We stressed the importance of a clear and substantiated justification for each recommendation made.

S. 2156 was unanimously approved by the Governmental Affairs Committee on August 2, 1994. Senators GLENN, ROTH, STEVENS, and MCCAIN cosponsored the bill. Unfortunately, the Senate was unable to act on the bill before the close of the 103d Congress. But I am more hopeful that both Houses of Congress will pass this very timely piece of legislation this year.

In March 1995, the Senate agreed to include the language for S. 2156 in the form of two separate amendments to S. 244, the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995. The amendments, however, were struck in conference. But the chairman of the House Committee on Government Reform and Oversight—Representative WILLIAM CLINGER—proposed to combine and introduce the amendments as a free-standing piece of legislation in the House of Representatives. The Senate also decided to combine the amendments into our piece of legislation—S. 790—and placed directly onto the Senate Calendar for immediate consideration since the language had previously been approved as amendments.

S. 790 will eliminate 157 reports and modify 59 reports. The legislation also includes a modified version of Senator MCCAIN'S sunset provision which will eliminate those reports with an annual, semi-annual, or regular periodic reporting basis 4 years after the bill's enactment, while allowing Members of Congress to reauthorize those reports it deems necessary in carrying out effective Congressional oversight. The sunset provision does not apply to any reports required under the Inspector General Act of 1978 or the Chief Financial Officers Act of 1990.

The House of Representatives circulated its reports elimination and sunset companion bill to all of its appropriate committees in order to receive their input on the items slated for elimination and modification. Since that time, the House has requested several minor changes—the overwhelming majority of which are technical, having no effect whatsoever on those items being eliminated and modified. For example, a certain legal cite had to be corrected. In other cases, the House requested that certain reports selected for elimination be kept in order to conduct proper oversight functions. The House has also requested the elimination of five additional Department of Energy reports beyond those listed in S. 790. The Senate Committee on Energy and Natural Resources—both the majority and minority sides—concurred with the House on this matter. On the Senate side, one report slated for elimination was reinstated. As of this moment, the language for the Senate and House bills are identical.

Both the Senate and House of Representatives are ready to eliminate those reports that are never or are simply dropped into file cabinets and wastebaskets, never to be seen again. In this era, we must ensure that our scarce resources are utilized efficiently toward productive activities. I urge my colleagues to support this bipartisan piece of legislation.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. If there is no objection, the bill is deemed read the third time, and passed.

So the bill (S. 790), as amended, was passed, as follows:

S. 790

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,
