

negotiate with the EPA on a range of acceptable compliance measures. In the absence of a more deliberative process that allows States to carefully analyze all of their options, we could provoke a repeat of last year, when States like Maine tried to implement programs but met stiff public opposition. That kind of scenario will not bring us any closer to cleaner air.

States need a temporary break from the sanctions threat, and my bill will provide that break. It establishes a 1-year moratorium on sanctions and penalties related to marginal and moderate ozone nonattainment areas. It applies only to States, and it simply gives the States with these areas a reprieve from the Clean Air Act's heavy-handed sanctions so that they are not forced to act too hastily in what appears to be an evolving regulatory landscape.

Mr. President, my bill offers a reasonable approach to a major controversy affecting many States. I think it will advance the cause of clean air by allowing States to develop emissions reductions plans that have some credibility in the eyes of the public. I invite my colleagues from other States facing similar problems to join me in cosponsoring this legislation, and to work with me for prompt passage of it.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill be printed in the RECORD.

There being no objection, the bill was ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

S. 721

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, SECTION 1. OZONE NONATTAINMENT AREAS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—During the 1-year period beginning on the date of enactment of this Act, the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency shall not initiate or continue in effect an enforcement action against a State with respect to an area that, before, on, or after that date, is designated nonattainment for ozone and classified as a Marginal Area or Moderate Area under section 181 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7511), including such an area that is located in the ozone transport region established by section 184(a) of that Act (42 U.S.C. 7511c(a)).

(b) DEFINITION.—In this section, the term "enforcement action" includes—

(1) the withholding of a grant under section 105 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7405);

(2) the promulgation of a Federal implementation plan under section 110(c) of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7410);

(3) the imposition of a sanction under section 110(m) or 179 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7410(m), 7509); and

(4) any other action intended to obtain compliance (unless the action is agreed to by the State) or punish noncompliance with a requirement applicable to an area described in subsection (a) under the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7401 et seq.).
