SAFE DRINKING WATER

HON. PAT WILLIAMS

OF MONTANA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 25, 1996

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, today I am introducing a bill to ensure a safe and reliable water supply system for the residents of the Fort Peck Reservation in Montana.

This legislation would authorize a reservation-wide municipal, rural, and industrial water system for the Fort Peck people living on that Reservation. This bill also provides final quantification of the water rights of the Assiniboine and Sioux Tribes in northeastern Montana. It also protects the rights of non-Indian water users existing since 1985, establishes a joint tribal State board to resolve disputes and allows for water marketing outside of the reservation to Montana communities.

The future needs of the reservation are expanding. The solution to this is a reservation-wide pipeline that will deliver a safe and reliable water supply system to the residents. A similar system for water distribution is currently in use on a reservation in South Dakota.

Mr. Speaker this legislation is an important step in the tribes' effort to secure and build a water system and realize the benefit of the compact the tribe negotiated in good faith with the State of Montana and the United States.

TRIBUTE TO LUCILLE MATYAS ON HER RETIREMENT

HON. WILLIAM O. LIPINSKI

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Wednesday, September 25, 1996

Mr. LIPINSKI. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a longtime staff member in my district office, Lucille Matyas. Lucille has been an exceptional staff member in my office. She recently retired after 11 years of exceptional service to the residents of the Third District of Illinois.

Family has always been of the utmost importance to Lucille. Lucille is the wife of the late Richard A. Matyas, Sr. Lucille and her husband had three children, George A. Matyas, Richard A. Matyas, and Victoria A. Smith. She has two grandchildren, Richard and Reanna Matyas. While raising her three children, Lucille was involved in local activities and charities. In the past she has devoted her time to such groups as Clear Ridge Baseball,

St. Rene Mother's Club, Girl Scouts, De La Salle High School Parent's Club, and the Maria High School Mother's Club. Lucille's dedication to these and other groups led to her involvement with politics on a local level. Lucille was a member of the 23d Ward Democratic Women's Organization as well as the Chicago Democratic Women's Organization. The VFW Women's Auxiliary and St. Rene's Alter and Rosary Society have also received the benefit of support and volunteer time from Lucille.

Like a true Chicagoan, Lucille enjoys watching all Chicago sports teams and counts herself as one of the biggest Bulls fans in Chicago. Lucille enjoy's spending time with her family and friends. In her spare time Lucille plays bingo, is an avid reader of books, collects dolls with her daughter, and devotes quality time with her two grandchildren. Clearly, Lucille lives a life rich in experience and goodwill.

Lucille has a great many plans for after her retirement, these include enjoying life, spending time with her grandchildren and visiting with friends and family. Additionally, Lucille plans on traveling and sightseeing around the United States. Finally Lucille will volunteer her spare time at local charities.

Mr. Speaker, I thank Lucille Matyas for her many years of dedicated service to the citizens of the Third District and to her family. With the combination of dedication to her community and family, Lucille is an inspiration and example to all. I will surely miss seeing her in my district office in Illinois. Lucille has truly been a joy to work with and her hard work and positive attitude have served my district well. I wish Lucille good luck in all of life's adventures.

INTERNATIONAL WELSHERS

HON. CHRISTOPHER SHAYS

OF CONNECTICUT

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 25, 1996

Mr. SHAYS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to submit to you an editorial from the New Canaan Advertiser regarding the United States' debt to the United Nations and one Connecticut community's attempt to repay it.

INTERNATIONAL WELSHERS

Detractors of the United Nations probably applaud the failure of the United States to get current on its dues for membership in that global association.

But if isolationism and a disdain for foreign influences on our sovereignty are to be perceived as some sort of super-patriotism, then it would seem incumbent on American flag-wavers also to rid us of our unenviable reputation as international welshers.

Like it or not, it is true the United States had agreed to a treaty that stipulated the level of dues we'd have to pay as a member of this "family of nations." Alas, we are more than a billion dollars in arrears and Congress seems loathe to make up the short-

Of course, it is inherently true that despite the delinquency, the United States contributes more to support the UN than any other country in the world. That does not, however, alter the fact that we also owe more in unpaid dues than any other country. Americans, even those who don't subscribe to participation in the UN, ought to be embarrassed by the "deadbeat" status of their country.

Unlikely as it may seem for a small Connecticut community to assume a role in an international drama, a group in New Canaan has undertaken a unique attempt to ease that national embarrassment. Taking its cue from John Whitehead, a former member of the Reagan cabinet, the citizen initiative here is expressing indignation over the fact that this nation is shirking an obligation that it knowingly incurred by treaty. That, not necessarily the worthiness of the United Nations, is the heart and soul of the symbolic protest here.

Mr. Whitehead had calculated that if each American sent in a check for $4.40, the United States' debt to the UN would be paid off. So more than 220 people in New Canaan have done that and are urging others to join them. Of course, it won't really happen. Even in

Of course, it won't really happen. Even in New Canaan, where the issue is viewed so passionately by so many, less than $1000 has been sent in. That's a far cry from a billion dollars, even if the effort is copied in other communities across the nation, but the message it sends is far more powerful than the cash value.

It says pointedly that we are ashamed that our country has failed to meet responsibilities it agreed to assume. It emphasizes that we want to project a more positive international image and that our status as welshers impairs our standing among nations. It tells Congress that we ought to pay what we owe and then, if it's really all that painful and we don't want to get caught in that kind of bind again, maybe we ought to see about renegotiating that treaty.

Citizens joining the symbolic protest here are sending their "dues money" to Pay Our UN Debt, P.O. Box 1002, New Canaan 86840. Each $4.40 check turns up the volume on that message. Maybe Congress will finally hear it.

COMMUNITY ON-LINE ACT

HON. JOHN JOSEPH MOAKLEY

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 25, 1996

Mr. MOAKLEY. Mr. Speaker, I am introducing the Community On-Line Act, legislation which would provide schools, libraries, and community centers across the country with the capability to use new technology to its fullest potential.

Today, we have the amazing ability to access vital information and important news stories from the computer. Teachers can show their students maps and information about foreign countries, encyclopedias, biographical information about famous people, and thousands and thousands of other important resources. The opportunities for learning are endless.

However, many schools throughout the country cannot access the Internet, have obsolete computers, lack the necessary funding to install new computers, or don't have the resources to train teachers. This is unacceptable in this day and age. We can build bombs that do back-flips but we can't provide access to the latest technology for most Americans.

It is vital that the Federal Government get involved. Failure to upgrade technology and train educators in our Nation's schools will result in a poorly educated work force because students will not have the skills to become computer literate. A skilled work force is absolutely essential to maintain our country's competitiveness.

A recent Fortune 500 company report found that companies spend half of their technology budget on education and training, while school systems only spend 10 to 15 percent. Clearly, it is important for businesses and local school districts to work together to get our schools, libraries, and community centers on-line.

Today, I am introducing legislation to provide grants to local schools, libraries, and community centers to purchase, install and operate the most up-to-date computer systems, access, the Internet, and train educators to use technology to its fullest potential. The bill requires the eligible entities to form a partnership with local businesses, or State or local governments. The purpose of the bill is to get the community involved and maximize its resources.

Access to the latest technology and appropriate training is essential to enhance the skills of many Americans. We need parents, business leaders, community leaders, and teachers to ban together to give the community access to the latest technology and the capability of using it to its fullest potential.

TRIBUTE TO DR. RICHARD JANEWAY

HON. W.G. (BILL) HEFNER

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 25, 1996

Mr. HEFNER. Mr. Speaker, it is my distinct honor to recognize Dr. Richard Janeway and his work in medical education. As of July 1997, Dr. Janeway will relinquish his seat as executive dean of health affairs for Wake Forest's Bowman Gray School of Medicine. As the school merges with its affiliate hospital, North Carolina Baptist Hospital, Dr. Janeway will serve on the steering committee to insure a smooth transition. In addition, he will bring his considerable expertise to the newly endowed position of distinguished professor of health care management at Wake Forest University.

Loóking back on Dr. Janeway's career is like looking through a kaleidoscope of academic and civic contributions. Examples of his civic activities include chairman of the Greater Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce, vice-chairman of the Forsyth County Development Council and member of the board of North Carolina Citizens for Business and Industry. Also, Dr. Janeway was integral in the creation of a planned downtown research park, which now houses Bowman Gray's Department of Physiology and Pharmacology as well as facilities for Winston-Salem State University and the Piedmont Triad Engineering Research Center.

An important part of Dr. Janeway's work at Bowman Gray has been to focus research on how nutrition can prevent or manage chronic disease. The mission of the Center for Research on Human Nutrition and Chronic Disease Prevention has been to educate patients about the importance of nutrition and diet and to promote preventive health care. It is in this capacity that I have gotten to know Dr. Janeway and it has been my privilege to work with him and his colleagues in the development of this important nutrition research facility.

Dr. Janeway is credited with ensuring that Bowman Gray keeps pace with the rapid advances in technology. The recently announced Wake Forest/Bowman Gray nutrition web site is an incredible tool for sharing the information gathered by the center with the public. Users may design and track a personalized guide to good nutrition and exercise.

On behalf of many of my colleagues in the House, I would like to thank Dr. Richard Janeway for his unending quest for excellence in the field of medical education. Wake Forest University's Bowman Gray School of Medicine has benefited enormously from his foresight and dedication to improving our Nation's medical education, and consequently, our Nation's health. He is a great personal friend and I want to wish him well in his latest pursuits on behalf of Bowman Gray School of Medicine.

PETE GAGLIARDI—WORKING FOR A SAFER AMERICA

HON. JIM LIGHTFOOT

OF IOWA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 25, 1996

Mr. LIGHTFOOT. Mr. Speaker, I want to take this opportunity to recognize a true public servant, Special Agent Pete Gagliardi of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms [ATF]. For the past 2 years Pete has served in the position of ATF's Director of Legislative Affairs.

Given the laws the ATF is called upon to enforce, the legislative affairs position can be a difficult one in which to serve. It requires a person who can balance the diverse views of Congress with the needs of the Bureau and the Department of the Treasury. Special Agent Gagliardi, an agent of 19 years of service at the Bureau, has met and exceeded the expectations of this difficult position. He has worked tirelessly for the past 2 years providing prompt, straightforward and responsive service to Members of Congress and their staffs. On numerous occasions over the past 2 years, Pete has been able to achieve consensus between the administration and Congress on difficult law enforcement issues.

Because of his outstanding performance, Special Agent Gagliardi will be leaving the Office of Legislative Affairs for a well-deserved promotion to ATF Deputy Associate Director for Law Enforcement Programs. Pete's shoes will be tough to fill at Legislative Affairs but we all wish him the best in his new position.

TRIBUTE TO THE MIDLAND JAYCEES' 15TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. DAVE CAMP

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 25, 1996

Mr. CAMP. Mr. Speaker, it is with great pleasure that I rise today to congratulate the Midland Jaycees on the 15th anniversary of their founding.

The Midland Jaycees were chartered in 1946 with 81 members, including my father, Robert Camp. Through the years, leaders of many organizations and official boards have said "thank you" to the Jaycees. They have more than fulfilled their stated purpose of "civic service through organized efforts * * * promoting the welfare of the community and its citizens through active, constructive projects."

The Midland Jaycees have been a strong, positive force in their community. By teaching young people leadership skills, they have instilled a sense of community spirit that has led to their involvement in projects like Junior Achievement, the Cancer Service Foundations, The Heart Foundation, Shelter House, and the Salvation Army.

More recently, the Jaycees have been involved in donating playground equipment to the city of Midland, building homes for the homeless with Habitat for Humanity, and gathering volunteers to work at the Voluntary Action Center. One of their main projects, however, is helping disadvantaged children during the holidays. In cooperation with the Michigan Family Independence Agency, the Jaycees purchase presents for the children and take them shopping for gifts to give their families.

It is this spirit of selfless giving and community service that makes the Midland Jaycees a sterling example of dedication, friendship, and community service. Mr. Speaker, I know you will join me in congratulating the Midland Jaycees on their 15th anniversary. May their example of service to their community continue for years to come.

TRIBUTE TO JOHN PALLADINO

HON. WILLIAM H. ZELIFF, JR.

OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 25, 1996

Mr. ZELIFF. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a personal friend of mine, John Palladino. John is not only a friend of mine, he has been a real friend of all small business men and women across New Hampshire for the past 30-plus years. He is a small business owner himself. A restaurant owner for more than 30 years, John has experienced the hardships and the dedication it takes to be successful, and he knows what it means to sign the front of a paycheck.

John knows, as all of us who own small businesses know, that signing the front of a paycheck means much more than just a salary. John understands that in New Hampshire, as in most of the country, it is small business that drives the local economies, creates jobs for their citizens, and promotes an atmosphere of community spirit and cooperation. For all his life, John has embodied those ideals.

He is a past president of the Hampton Chamber of Commerce, he was program director of the local DARE chapter, and he was a trustee of the "My Greatest Dream" program, which takes donations for children with terminal illnesses to live out their greatest dream. These are honorable causes that show his dedication to his trade and to his community.

I wanted to take a moment out of the House's busy schedule to salute John Palladino on behalf of this Congress, and to do so in the hope that he serves as a model American for his generation and for future generations.
