

the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation for an additional 5 years. The Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, established by statute in 1966, is charged with a variety of responsibilities in carrying out the National Historic Preservation Act. The authorization for the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation is scheduled to expire at the end of the current calendar year.

On March 20, the National Parks, Forest and Lands Subcommittee has scheduled a hearing to conduct oversight of the process for listing resources on the National Register of Historic Places and the section 106 review process for analyzing impacts to National Register properties, as well as several historic preservation measures currently before the subcommittee. It is my intent to consider this legislation at this hearing. Therefore, I encourage all Members who have an interest in this topic to make their views known to the subcommittee so they can be fully considered.

ADVISORY COUNCIL ON HISTORIC PRESERVATION,
Washington, DC, February 26, 1996.

Hon. NEWT GINGRICH,
Speaker of the House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Enclosed is a bill amending the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, as amended, that will continue the appropriations authorization for the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation. Established in 1966, the Council is an independent Federal agency responsible for advising the President and the Congress on historic preservation matters and commenting to Federal agencies on the effects of their activities upon significant historic properties.

In 1992, the Council requested the President and the Congress to amend Section 212 of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 (16 U.S.C. Section 470t) to continue the appropriations authorization for the Council at a level of $5 million from FY 1993 through FY 1996. That amendment was subsequently enacted as Public Law 102-575 on October 30, 1992.

Because the Council's appropriations authorization expires with the current fiscal year, we are now requesting that legislation be passed to continue the necessary authorization. We recommend that the enclosed bill be referred to the appropriate committee for consideration, and that it be enacted. The draft bill would coordinate the Council's reauthorization with current budgetary planning, which attains a balanced budget in FY 2002, by providing appropriations authority from FY 1997 through FY 2002.

Sincerely,

CATHRYN BUFORD SLATER,
Chairman.

A POINT-OF-LIGHT FOR ALL AMERICANS: MARY ELLEN PHIFER-KIRTON

HON. MAJOR R. OWENS

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 6, 1996

Mr. OWENS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to join thousands of my constituents and friends in Brooklyn and New York in saluting Mary Ellen Phifer-Kirton as a point-of-light for all Americans.

"First Lady of Brooklyn CORE" is the title we assigned Mary Phifer in the turbulent sixties, when Brooklyn's chapter of the CORE movement was on the cutting edge of the boldest actions. More than 800 people were arrested challenging discrimination in the construction industry at Downstate Medical Center. We dumped garbage on the steps of Borough Hall to demand better collection in Bedford Stuyvesant. We organized over 100 buildings with rent strikes. Through it all Mary Phifer was our inspiration in Brooklyn CORE.

Mary Phifer moved to Brooklyn from Kannapolis, NC, in 1948. As a single parent she has raised four sons—John, Willis, Bernard, and Quentin—a daughter Teresa, plus several nieces and nephews. In 1975 she married Randolph Kirton. During the entire period of her residency in New York, Mary has always resided in Brooklyn. This adopted daughter of Brooklyn obtained an AA in public administration from Kingsborough Community College and a BS in public administration from Medgar Evers College.

A very special person, Mary Ellen Phifer-Kirton is retiring after 28 years of dedicated service with the New York City Community Development Agency. Mary has been a committed community advocate and volunteer. She serves on the boards of the Association of Community Organizations for Reform Now [ACORN], the Brooklyn chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, Fort Greene Senior Citizens Council, the Mutual Housing Association of New York, and the United Communities Democratic Club. She is also a member of the Greater Bibleway Temple, 100 Women for Major Owens, and the League of Women Voters, Midwood chapter.

In addition to her lifetime of activism in the world community, Mrs. Phifer-Kirton has devoted 28 years of her civil service career to community action at the New York City Community Development Agency [CDA]. During the 6 years that I served as commissioner of the CDA, Mary was a staff member. Mary has been in the field since April 1967 when she began her first assignment at CDA monitoring the neighborhood summer programs. By May 1981, she was the district officer of all of the CDA funded agencies in the borough of Brooklyn.

Individuals like Mary are all too rare. She cares deeply about the community, so much that she has devoted over two decades of struggle in the fight to improve the lives of others. At a time when voluntarism and community involvement is decreasing, it is appropriate that we join with Mary's friends and family in celebrating this point-of-light in the 11th Congressional District. Before she relocates to Kannapolis, NC, friends and followers of Mary Phifer are assembling for a special tribute to Mary Phifer on Friday, March 8, 1996. We all welcome this opportunity to show how much we appreciate Mary's life of service in New York. She will always be "First Lady" in our hearts. And for the people of the Nation Mary Ellen Phifer-Kirton is a great point-of-light.

MELISSA CORNELL NAMED TO CARRY OLYMPIC TORCH

HON. BARNEY FRANK

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 6, 1996

Mr. FRANK of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, one of the few positive issues on which much of the world unites these days is support for the Olympic games. For most Americans, the fact that the games will be held in the United States makes this year's games especially important. And for these reasons, the people of southeastern Massachusetts, and especially the people of the town of Freetown, are proud that Melissa Cornell of Freetown has been named as one of those who will carry the Olympic torch. As the accompanying article from the New Bedford Standard Times shows, Melissa Cornell is an extremely impressive young woman, and I congratulate Lisa Devlin of the I.H. Schwartz Center for nominating her and the U.S. Olympic Committee for selecting her for this honor. Mr. Speaker, the story of this young woman is an inspiring one and I ask that the article from the New Bedford Standard Times about Melissa Cornell and her selection as an Olympic torch bearer be printed here.

[From the New Bedford Standard Times]
COMMUNITY HERO CHOSEN TO CARRY OLYMPIC TORCH

(By Elizabeth Lawton)

In July, the Olympics will be coming to Atlanta. For lifelong resident Melissa Cornell, the festivities have already begun.

Thanks to a nomination sent in to the U.S. Olympic Committee by Lisa Devlin of the I.H. Schwartz Center in New Bedford, stating Melissa's kindness, generosity and willingness to always help others, a package arrived at her Chipaway Lane home via UPS, informing her of being selected to carry the Olympic torch on June 15 in Boston.

"I'm wicker excited, but I didn't really believe it," said Melissa.

The road that brought Melissa here has not been without pain and struggles.

Melissa, daughter of Steven and Alice Cornell, was 4 years old when a brain tumor was discovered. She endured three operations that left her partially paralyzed. She was a student at the I.H. Schwartz Center before going on to graduate in 1983 from Apponequet Regional High School in Lakeville.

She has since given freely of her time at the center, and to Easter Seals and many other charitable organizations that she feels she can help.

Melissa's philosophy for life is one of giving back to those who have helped her along the journey. Some might look at Melissa and see her as physically challenged; I had the privilege of spending a recent snowy afternoon watching her teach an 8-year-old to tie shoes, do origami and zipper, all with the use of only her left hand. It was I who felt challenged.

Melissa doesn't allow much to slow her down. "I like to get up every day and do things," she says.

On Feb. 21, Melissa, along with 67 other Massachusetts residents, was honored as a community hero in a reception at Boston City Hall, with the Boston Mayor Thomas Menino welcoming his guests, along with Marion Heard, president of the United Way of Massachusetts Bay, and representatives of Coca-Cola Bottlers of New England.

Melissa will receive an official Olympic running uniform that she will wear June 15 as she carries the 3½-pound torch and runs her half mile toward yet another goal: representing Freetown in this official Olympic event.

We all need heroes to help us remember the goodness in all people.

Melissa, we are proud to know you and have you as our hometown hero. We will be with you—if not in body, in spirit—on June 15 as you continue on your journey.

The Olympic Search Committee lists a community hero as someone who performs outstanding volunteer work, serves as a community leader, role model or mentor, performs acts of generosity or kindness; and performs extraordinary feats locally or nationally.

The statement of purpose of the U.S. Olympic Committee in Atlanta says: "The committee for the Olympic Games seeks to honor America's community heroes, people whose service to others embraces the Olympic Spirit. For 84 days and 15,000 miles across America, Community Hero Torchbearers will bring the glow of the Olympic Flame to their communities along the route of the 1996 Olympic Torch Relay."

RURAL AIR SERVICE SURVIVAL ACT

HON. EARL POMEROY

OF NORTH DAKOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 6, 1996

Mr. POMEROY. Mr. Speaker, today I am introducing legislation to ensure the future of commercial airline service in rural America.

When Congress passed the Airline Deregulation Act in 1978, it was understood that rural air service would deteriorate as airlines raced to compete in high-volume markets. Therefore, to preserve an integrated national air service network, Congress created Essential Air Service, a program to support air carriers that maintain routes in smaller, rural markets. For the last 15 years, EAS has continued to achieve this objective and has received bipartisan support in Congress.

A link to the national air transportation system must be maintained for rural states to foster economic development. The fact is that without reliable air service, it is difficult to retain existing businesses and industries, and even more difficult to attract new ones. As farming operations continue to mechanize and consolidate, rural America must aggressively pursue efforts to diversify its economy.

Key to that diversification is access to the national network of air transportation. With the air service supported by the EAS Program, small cities from North Dakota to Texas and Maine to California can market themselves to investors around the country and indeed around the world. However, if the EAS Program were discontinued and rural air service allowed to evaporate, it would be nearly impossible for communities in rural America to attract new business opportunities.

But EAS is about more than just rural economic development. Air travelers around the country, whether urban or rural, benefit from an interconnected, national air service network. In fact, the majority of passengers on EAS routes are not residents of EAS cities but people from around the country who are able to reach rural destinations thanks to this program.

In recent years, the EAS Program has been under increasing assault in the appropriations process. In fact, the fiscal year 1996 Transportation Appropriations Act reduced the program by over 30 percent, forcing airlines to sharply reduce the number of round trips in small cities across the country, threatening the viability of rural air service. The legislation I am introducing today will extract EAS from the annual appropriations battle and give rural communities and air carriers a greater degree of certainty about the future of their air service.

The Rural Air Service Survival Act would transform EAS, placing the program on solid fiscal grounds by creating a required expenditure within the FAA budget. Funding for the program would be provided by a user fee assessed to foreign carriers that utilize U.S. air traffic control services. As a result, the legislation will have no impact on overall Federal spending. I should also point out that almost every major U.S. competitor nation levies similar overflight fees on foreign carriers.

Senator DORGAN introduced similar legislation in the Senate which was adopted by unanimous vote in the Commerce Committee as an amendment to the FAA reform legislation. I am hopeful that this proposal will be enacted as part of FAA reform when the House and Senate consider this legislation in the coming weeks.

Mr. Speaker, I urge all Members to cosponsor and support the Rural Air Service Survival Act.

In between, he covered and recorded on film and tape the events related to the assassination of San Francisco Mayor George Mascone and the trial of his accused killer, Dan White, the antiwar and civil rights demonstrations of the 1970's; the Oakland-Berkeley hills fire storm of 1991; the 1989 and 1993 earthquakes in the San Francisco Bay Area and Los Angeles as well as the Nicaraguan earthquake in 1988; the O.J. Simpson murder trial; the training camps and opening season games of the Oakland A's, San Francisco Giants, and the San Francisco 49'ers. Bill did films for television on location in Haiti, Italy, and Brazil. His skill with the camera is as legendary as his good natured way of dealing with his fellow workers.

TRIBUTE TO PLATO (BUDDY) MATHIS

HON. CLIFF STEARNS

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 6, 1996

Mr. STEARNS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to an outstanding employee who has worked at Munroe Regional Medical Center in my home town of Ocala, FL. Munroe's longest serving employee and his name is Plato "Buddy" Mathis. He will be soon retiring.

Mr. Buddy Mathis' loyalty and dedication to Munroe spans over 50 years. He first came to work at the hospital in 1946 as a young boy. In fact, back then he had to stand on a wooden box to perform many of his chores.

Munroe Regional has seen many changes both in its physical makeup, not to mention changes in personnel. But, one thing that did not change over the years at Munroe was Buddy Mathis. He remained a constant in the lives of the people who worked in the medical center and a constant in the community.

Buddy should serve as a role model to all of us. He is the exemplification of the true work ethic. He started working at Munroe when he could barely reach the counter tops without standing on a box. And through the years he moved up, performing a variety of duties, including putting away stock and gathering vegetables from a small garden on the north side of the building. He also assisted fellow employees such as Felicia Stevens—head cook—Mrs. Annie Lee Stroud, and Mrs. Luella Strupp, among others.

In 1951, he joined the military to serve in the Korean war and served for several years. After the war, he returned to Munroe as a cook and was also in charge of inventory. He then attended night school under the GI bill and finished his education.

During the last 10 years, he and Jim Ruth have worked as a team, running the dietary department. Buddy has seen many changes take place in the building and operations of the hospital.

Everybody who has or is still working at the hospital loved working with Buddy and I'm sure they will all hate to see him go. Buddy is respected by all. I am pleased to be able to join with his many, many friends and colleagues in paying tribute to Plato "Buddy" Mathis for his hard work through the years and his kindness and generosity over the years.

I sincerely wish him the best in his retirement and congratulate him on his outstanding service to my hometown hospital, Munroe Regional Medical Center.
