

stance regarding its legal authority and self-perceived constraints in the statute. We believe, however, that precedent and our statute command a different treatment. We also believe that the majority ignores the modern developments in regulatory issues. Thus, in view of the explanations offered in the preamble and the decisions reached by the majority, we regretfully believe those decisions to be wrongly considered and wrongly decided.

We add a brief coda to our dissent to simply respond to our colleagues who apparently feel that their lengthy preamble insufficiently set forth their views. We begin by apologizing to the Congress by burdening it at this extraordinary time in the second session of the 104th Congress with these arcane arguments regarding the meaning of the CAA, or PL 104-1. Indeed it is precisely this time constraint which partially drives our concern over the majority's action. We have no doubt that cannery workers, construction workers or sales persons have time constraints. So do health care workers. The Congress will have less than thirty days to complete this session. Critical public business must be completed. These are the time pressures inherent in the Congress which find little parallel in other workplace environments. We respectfully question whether section 220(e)(2) employees are the same as the aforementioned employees, or indeed Executive Branch employees who must perform their critical public business of administering or enforcing the laws Congress passes over a normal full year time span. To underscore our comments in the dissent, our colleagues surely understand the constitutional difference between Article I employees and Article II employees and the constitutionally different responsibilities assigned to each.

Our colleagues suggest that we did not read or misunderstood the wealth of materials gathered during the six month period this issue has been before us. While we applaud the majority's acknowledgement now expressed that it must go beyond the submitted comments, we confess not having had the privilege of knowing that these materials existed. But of much more importance, if these materials existed and were of such weight in the majority's consideration, then its own articulately stated view of the statutory obligations of notice and comment should have required that this information be described and listed in the various notices so that the commenters could fairly respond and argue how this information impacted their comments. It wasn't.

We respectfully submit that our colleagues misconstrue the discussion regarding the American Hospital Association case. Our point was not to laud the NLRB or even our Deputy Executive Director, which we surely do. Rather it was to suggest that the Supreme Court precedent involving both labor-management laws and regulatory flexibility did provide the guidance and legal authority we understand our colleagues to be searching for. We particularly note that the Court there apparently considered the observations of an administrative law scholar regarding the need to impute into every statute establishing regulatory authority the obligation of sensible interpretation as being as of much or even more precedential weight as the prior decisions of that Court.

Too much has been written on this issue. We hope that the Congress does devote some time to considering the recommendation being sent to it by the Board of the Office of Compliance. If this dissent has some resonance, perhaps the Congress might consider returning it to the Board with some guidance as to its intentions regarding the factors to be considered and methodology to be followed by the Board in reaching its recommendations.
