

the health care reform bill today, the Republican leadership is essentially killing health care reform. What they are doing is making it possible for the wealthy and the healthiest among us to get into these medical savings accounts and take away their contribution from the risk pool, so that what is left is that the average person's premiums are going to go up, because if someone is not wealthy and they are not healthy and they have to stay in the traditional health insurance pool, they are actually going to have to pay more, and the bill is going to be less affordable.

Do not load down this bill. Just listen to this quote from Senator ROBERT BENNETT, a Republican who says, "The Republicans on the House side are going to turn this bill into the vehicle to attach MSA's and other things, and if they do that, it'll die."

That is what the Republican leadership is doing today, killing this bill with all this extraneous material that only helps wealthy people and exposes the rest of the country to higher premiums for their health insurance.

LASALLE LANCERS: 1996 OHIO STATE DIVISION I HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

(Mr. CHABOT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. CHABOT. Mr. Speaker, I want to take a moment this morning to pay tribute to the 1996 Ohio State Division I high school basketball champions, the LaSalle Lancers of Cincinnati, OH.

After finishing in last place in their league during the regular season, LaSalle refused to give up. The team confounded the experts by going all the way to Columbus, knocking off powerhouse Toledo St. John's in the State championship game on Saturday night and winning the entire State championship.

I will admit to some personal bias in this instance. LaSalle High School is not only in my congressional district, it is my alma mater. In fact, I got my start in politics at LaSalle running for student council office. I realize some people probably still hold LaSalle responsible for getting my political career off the ground, but that is life.

Coach Fleming and Coach Scott Tillett, about whom a wonderful front page article appeared in the Cincinnati Enquirer yesterday, and all of the fine young men that were on the team at LaSalle, they brought so much glory to our hometown, they certainly are entitled to our tribute.

I want to thank the LaSalle Lancers and congratulate them for winning the State championship this year. Way to go, Lancers.

PRESERVE BIPARTISANSHIP IN SUPPORT FOR HEALTH CARE REFORM

(Mr. WYNN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WYNN. Mr. Speaker, as Members well know, bipartisanship are those rare occasions on which the Democrats and the Republicans agree. We have found some agreement. We agree we need health care reform that provides portability so people can change jobs and keep their health insurance. We agree that we need to prevent people from being barred from insurance because of preexisting conditions. The question becomes, why do we not pass the bill that we both agree on. I will tell Members why: because the Republicans want to ruin this bill, kill this bill with extraneous material to benefit their wealthy friends.

Once again, they ruined bipartisan support by putting on benefits for the wealthy. Just like the tax breaks, here they come again. These medical savings accounts are basically a boondoggle to benefit wealthy, healthy people. They take their money and put it in savings accounts and get a tax advantage. That leaves the rest of us, those who are poor, those who are sick, the regular working guy, to pay higher insurance rates. That is not right.

Every major editorial paper in this country has criticized these medical savings accounts because they only benefit a few wealthy people. We need bipartisanship. We have an opportunity. Please, Republicans, do not ruin it.

VOTE FOR THE REPUBLICAN HEALTH CARE REFORM PLAN

(Mr. KINGSTON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KINGSTON. Mr. Speaker, when it comes to this health care debate, we have to ask ourselves: What are the Washington liberal Democrats afraid of? Why are the Democrats so anticonsumer choice? Why are they so against power to the people? Why are they doing everything possible to defeat medical savings accounts, which would allow their own constituents to have more health care choices without the edicts and interference of insurance companies, health care agencies, managed care business types? Why are Democrats afraid of consumer choice?

It is simple. If their constituents find out that they are in a better position to make choices that suit themselves better than what Washington liberals want them to do, then their consumers and constituents are going to figure out, you know, "We do not need all the bureaucracy that the Democrats keep taxing us for. In fact, we do not need these Democrats." They will probably invite them to come home. That, Mr.

Speaker, seems to be why they are so afraid of anything that would give more decision-making power to the American consumers and less to the Washington bureaucracy. Vote for the Republican health care reform plan.

SUPPORT GOOD HEALTH CARE REFORM: SUPPORT THE KENNEDY-KASSEBAUM BILL

(Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise this morning in the name of bipartisanship and good health reform, but I wonder if many of us know the story of Robin Hood and the seven thieves, because that is just what we have today. The whole issue of health reform has already gotten bipartisan support. The Kennedy-Kassebaum bill simply says we want to give people the ability to have health care if they lose their job. If, tragically, they have a preexisting disease, lung disease, cancer, or heart disease, then we still care about them, and they can have insurance and be able to survive.

But Robin Hood and the seven thieves, the House Republican leadership, wants to say, "We want to give the money to the rich. We want to make sure we have a medical savings plan," which allows people to hoard money away, and those who are working and the working poor and those who are sick will not have the ability to have good health insurance because the medical savings plan is applicable only to the wealthy and the healthy. We will find out that under this Republican medical savings plan, working people will be left out in the cold. They would leave less healthy people to buy ordinary medical insurance at elevated prices because of this proposed medical savings plan. People who in fact lost their jobs would not have insurance.

Let us not kill this bill. Let us support good health reform. Let us pass the Kennedy-Kassebaum bill in a truly bipartisan manner for all Americans to have portability in health insurance coverage and coverage if you have a preexisting condition.

SUPPORT H.R. 3103, THE HEALTH CARE COVERAGE AVAILABILITY AND AFFORDABILITY ACT

(Mr. NORWOOD asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mr. NORWOOD. Mr. Speaker, today we will make a great step forward, in my opinion, in making health care available to all Americans. The Health Care Coverage Availability and Affordability Act will give Americans the two things they need most: increased access to health care and decreased cost. We will give hardworking Americans increased access by addressing the issues of preexisting conditions and portability. We will decrease the cost by tax deductibility for the self-employed, authorizing small employers' purchasing pools, and allowing Americans to have medical savings accounts. We are going to accomplish this without increasing government bureaucracy or writing thousands of pages of new regulations.

Mr. Speaker, we are increasing access while lowering costs. Should that not be the goal of any health care legislation? We are doing it with as little government influence as possible, or interference. I urge my colleagues to support 3103, and I would remind them that when we talk in this body about rich and wealthy, the liberal Democrats define that as anybody with a job.

DO NOT LET THE REPUBLICAN PARTY OBSTRUCT HEALTH CARE REFORM TODAY

(Mr. DOGGETT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DOGGETT. Mr. Speaker, among the greatest failures of this failed Republican Congress is the failure to address the real health care needs of the American people. Mr. Speaker, the failed Contract on America was essentially silent on this question. Last year Speaker GINGRICH's entire program on health care was, to use his words, let Medicare wither on the vine for the health care security of our seniors.

This year the strategy is a little different. It has been spelled out here in black and white in the House Republican national strategic plan for 1996. The health care plan they outline is, and I quote: "We will pursue a targeted inoculation strategy on Medicare"; not to inoculate against illness among the American people, but to inoculate against one of the most highly contagious illnesses politically in this country, and that is that the American people are beginning to understand the neglect and the failure of this Congress brought on by this Republican Party that cares more about special interests than the true national interests of the American people. Do not let them obstruct health care reform today. Let us do something for the 42 million American people who lack health insurance, health insurance coverage.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE SPEAKER'S REMARKS ON HCFA AND MEDICAL SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

(Mr. WELDON of Florida asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WELDON of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I rise to correct the RECORD. The Speaker of the House stated that he would like to see the Health Care Financing Administration, which is the big bureaucracy created by liberal Democrats in Washington that processes all the claims, he would like to see that wither on the vine, and the gentleman from Texas has misquoted the Speaker.

I would also like to rise in support of medical savings accounts. One of the biggest reasons why we have terrible health care inflation in American is because the providers and the consumers, both the doctor and the patient, are not the ones picking up the tab, and in medical savings accounts, the patients suddenly become wise and discriminating consumers. Where medical savings accounts have been implemented, cost savings average 17 percent. A 17-percent reduction in our health care costs in this Nation would be a huge benefit to our economy, a huge benefit to our industries, and a huge benefit for our competitiveness in the international markets.

It is good for consumers. Support the Republican health care bill.

THE HEALTH CARE REFORM BILL

(Ms. MCKINNEY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. MCKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, last Friday was political payday for the NRA with a vote to repeal the assault weapons ban. Yesterday was political payday for the antichoice crowd with a vote to ban an extremely rare abortion procedure. And today, Mr. Speaker, is political payday for the Golden Rule Insurance Co. and its medical savings account scheme.

Today we will vote on a health insurance reform bill which includes medical savings accounts, at a cost of $2 billion to taxpayers. It is no coincidence, however, that the Golden Rule Insurance Co. has given more than $14 million to Republicans.

This chart, Mr. Speaker, demonstrates how a few large, well-placed contributions to the GOP resulted in today's vote on medical savings accounts.

Mr. Speaker, the old saying is true: He who has the gold, rules. And while the American people want serious health insurance reform, all they are getting from the GOP is cash-and-carry government.

RECOGNIZING A GOOD IDEA: MEDICAL SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

(Mr. MICA asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. MICA. Mr. Speaker, I was going to speak on another subject, but I have to comment on the lack of information that the other side has on medical savings accounts. I, in fact, as chair of the Subcommittee on Civil Service of the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight, held hearings on this. We found that in every instance, for almost every State and local government that testified on these, we found lower costs, lower premiums, expanded coverage.

Because it was not a Washington command and control idea, they do not like it. Because it does not limit your choices, the other side does not like it. Because it is not an old government idea or solution, they do not like it. Mr. Speaker, I think if we had a new idea and it came up and bit them on the leg, they would not even recognize it. Mr. Speaker, this is a new idea. It saves costs. It saves premiums. It is a good idea. It is time for it.

REPUBLICAN ADD-ONS MAY DERAIL BIPARTISAN HEALTH REFORM TRAIN

(Mrs. SCHROEDER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. SCHROEDER. Mr. Speaker, health insurance has really not been insurance for a very long time, because we have allowed those companies to refuse coverage to anybody who needs it. So today we have a great chance to do something about this. We have a chance to free people up who have been locked in their jobs because they do not dare lose their health insurance, and we have the ability of people to be able to port around their insurance coverage. And the Republican extremists in the House are about to derail this bipartisan train, this bipartisan train that came speeding out of the Senate, and this bipartisan train that the New York Times is talking about today, as they say, "The House Republicans have added amendments that are not only bad health policy, but could delay passage of this useful health care reform."

Mr. Speaker, I think it is time we stand up and say to the extremists, "Please, stop this. America has been waiting much too long for this portability and for having some price constraints, and ending the denying of these preexisting conditions as a way to shut you out of your health care. Stand up to the extremists, finally. Please, let us get some health care reform."

SUPPORT NEEDED AMENDMENT TO HEALTH CARE REFORM TO PROVIDE FOR LONG-TERM CARE

(Mr. ENSIGN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ENSIGN. Mr. Speaker, the Senate bill was, frankly, inadequate. I offered an amendment in the Committee on Ways and Means, which was accepted, which will address long-term health care for Americans. Most elderly Americans are unaware of the magnitude of long-term care costs and of the limits of Government assistance. Many Americans wrongly assumed that Government programs or their general insurance will cover the costs of any long-term care services they might need. The reality is that the cost of
