

cutting the programs that bring better science to bear on environmental problems. It reduces funding for key environmental research in global change by cutting NASA's Mission to Planet Earth and research at NOAA and EPA.

Unwisely in our opinion, it would effectively terminate much of the research to determine the validity of the global warming phenomenon.

It continues the attack on the National Science Foundation's research in social and behavioral sciences without the benefit of hearings or oversight.

It damages our ability to stay competitive in international markets, by eliminating the Advanced Technology Program and severely cutting the Manufacturing Extension Program.

All in all, Mr. Speaker, this omnibus bill represents a massive disinvestment in our civilian research and development efforts, at a time we should be doing just the opposite.

We shall be supporting the substitute to be offered by the ranking member of the Science Committee. It is a good alternative that maintains a proper level of funding in technology development and environmental research programs. We must continue our strong support for our Nation's R&D programs, and we believe the substitute deserves support.

Mr. Speaker, to repeat, we support this open rule. It is especially important for a bill that is so seriously lacking in the type of thoughtful committee consideration that it deserved.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. GREENE of Utah. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, in terms of the process on this bill, we feel confident that there is no intentional violation of the rules, and there is not a pattern of disregarding the rules of the committee. The substance of the bill will be addressed through this open rule, and any Member who has concerns about any shortcomings they feel are present in the bill will have an opportunity to offer such amendments as they feel appropriate.

Mr. BEILENSEN. Mr. Speaker, I have no further requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. GREENE of Utah. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time, and I move the previous question on the resolution.

The resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 3286, ADOPTION PROMOTION AND STABILITY ACT OF 1996

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, by direction of the Committee on Rules, I call up House Resolution 428 and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the resolution, as follows:

H. RES. 428

Resolved, That upon the adoption of this resolution it shall be in order without intervention of any point of order to consider in the House the bill (H.R. 3286) to help families defray adoption costs, and to promote the adoption of minority children. The amendment in the nature of a substitute recommended by the Committee on Ways and Means now printed in the bill shall be considered as adopted. The previous question shall be considered as ordered on the bill, as amended, and on any further amendment thereto to final passage without intervening motion except: (1) one hour of debate on the bill, as amended, equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Ways and Means; (2) an amendment to title II of the bill, as amended, if offered by Representative Gibbons of Florida or his designee, which shall be considered as read and shall be separately debatable for thirty minutes equally divided and controlled by the proponent and an opponent; (3) the amendment recommended by the Committee on Resources (applied to the bill, as amended), if offered by Representative Young of Alaska or a designee, which shall be considered as read and shall be separately debatable for thirty minutes equally divided and controlled by the proponent and an opponent; and (4) one motion to recommit, which may include instructions only if offered by the minority leader or his designee.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mrs. MORELLA). The gentlewoman from Ohio [Ms. PRYCE] is recognized for 1 hour.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, for the purpose of debate only, I yield the customary 30 minutes to my good friend, the gentleman from Ohio [Mr. HALL], pending which I yield myself such time as I may consume. During consideration of this resolution, all time yielded is for the purpose of debate only.

GENERAL LEAVE

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that all Members may have 5 legislative days within which to revise and extend their remarks and that I be permitted to insert extraneous materials in the RECORD on H.R. 3286.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentlewoman from Ohio?

There was no objection.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, House Resolution 428 provides for the consideration of H.R. 3286, the Adoption Promotion and Stability Act of 1996, under a modified closed rule. The rule provides for 1 hour of general debate equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

The rule also provides for consideration of the bill in the House without intervention of any point of order, and makes in order the amendment in the nature of a substitute recommended by the Committee on Ways and Means, now printed in the bill.

The rule provides for the consideration of an amendment to title II of the bill, as amended, if offered by Representative GIBBONS of Florida, or his designee. The amendment will be considered as read, and will be debatable for 30 minutes equally divided between the proponent and an opponent.

The rule further provides for the consideration of the amendment recommended by the Committee on Resources, if offered by Representative YOUNG of Alaska, or his designee. That amendment will also be considered as read, and will be debatable for 30 minutes equally divided between the proponent and an opponent.

Finally, the rule provides for one motion to recommit, which may include instructions only if offered by the minority leader or his designee.

Madam Speaker, let me say that with respect to the amendment process, the Rules Committee has tried to be fair and balanced, allowing one amendment to be offered from each side of the aisle. Although the Committee heard testimony on several worthwhile amendments to the bill, some of which I individually supported, many of the proposals would have affected titles under the jurisdiction of the Ways and Means Committee.

As my colleagues may know, in the past the Rules Committee has observed the bipartisan custom of carefully limiting amendments to matters within the jurisdiction of the Ways and Means Committee, especially proposals that would directly affect the Tax Code and Federal revenues, as we continue to do so under this rule.

Madam Speaker, today, under the terms of this fair rule, the House will consider important legislation that seeks to promote and encourage the practice of adoption. As an adoptive parent myself, I can say quite honestly that being able to provide a child with a safe, stable, and loving family environment through a successful adoption can be one of life's most rewarding experiences.

Unfortunately, adoption in the United States is all too rare. The best available information indicates that roughly 450,000 children live in foster care at any given moment.

Although Federal programs exist to support adoption, foster care, and family services, significant obstacles still remain. Adoption costs alone present a major disincentive, but in addition, parents are forced to think twice out of fear that an adoptive placement may be reversed, and a close family unit tragically torn apart.

The bill, and this rule, reflect our belief that Federal policy must be directed toward removing the barriers that currently discourage adoption. To that end, H.R. 3286 contains three elements that are essential to any successful pro-adoption strategy.

First, the legislation recognizes that the very costs associated with adoption, which can be as much as $15,000 or more in some cases, are a significant obstacle. To help families defray these costs, the bill includes an invaluable tax credit for up to $5,000 for qualified adoption expenses, and recommends specific revenue offsets to pay for that tax credit.

Second, H.R. 3286 seeks to remove barriers to inter-ethnic adoption. The bill would prohibit a State or any other entity that receives Federal assistance from denying or delaying a child's adoption because of the race, color, or national origin of the child or the person seeking to adopt the child. Hopefully, this provision will help ensure that more minority children will find their way into loving homes across the country, regardless of the race of the family seeking to adopt.

Finally, this legislation addresses a subject which many of my colleagues and I believe is critical to preserving the long-term protection of children and stability of adoptive placements once they are made. Title III of the bill contains provisions to make very modest reforms to the Indian Child Welfare Act, which is the 1978 law governing the custody of Native American children.

Let me be clear about one thing, Madam Speaker: I believe the act, or ICWA, as it is also known, was well-intentioned legislation, and I remain very supportive of its original and intended objective. The former practice of placing Indian children outside of their tribes merely due to cultural differences was clearly shameful.

However, the subsequent misapplication of ICWA to overturn and disrupt adoptions where the children involved have no tribal affiliation and only a minimal degree of Indian lineage, is equally shameful.

Clarification of this law is absolutely essential. The act's overly broad interpretation by Government-paid lawyers and liberal courts has had unintended and very very tragic consequences for children, adoptive parents, and birth parents alike. In many cases, voluntary adoptions, consented to by birth parents, have been prevented by courts that have misapplied ICWA. And, children with as little as 1/64 of Native American heritage have been deemed to be covered under the act, and removed from the only homes they've known.

As a result, the law's broad application has discouraged adoption, even of Indian and non-Indian children alike. It has generated extensive and expensive litigation, and it has led to the heart-wrenching anguish of removing children from the only parents and homes they have ever known. Indian children are now more likely to languish in foster homes because some tribes will not allow their adoption by non-Indian parents, or because prospective parents are not willing to consider adoption of children who may be subject to ICWA claims at a later point in time. This modest proposal removes one more obstacle for couples who want to offer loving homes to children, but don't because they fear becoming the next front page news story of an adoption tragedy.

Madam Speaker, I know that the distinguished chairman of the Resources Committee, Mr. YOUNG, and I have different views on the ICWA issue. Under this rule, the gentleman from Alaska will have the opportunity to be heard on his amendment to the bill. But, I hope my colleagues will understand that the language in title III provides nothing more than a common sense clarification of ICWA, to the benefit of all children in need of loving, permanent homes, without infringing upon the sovereignty and rights of the Native American community.

My concern is simply that we have lost sight of what is in the best interests of the children involved. Children are not chattel, Mr. Speaker, nor are they the personal property of Indian tribes or their parents. They are individuals who have precious, unique, fundamental rights and needs. Above all, they have the right to permanency in a loving, nurturing family environment with stability and security. They have these rights regardless of their race, as do all American children. So, I would ask my colleagues to do what is right for the children, and keep this essential title part of the pro-adoption package.

In closing, Madam Speaker, let me urge Members on both sides of the aisle to support this resolution. It is an appropriate and fair rule which is consistent with our past bipartisan practices. We have the opportunity to strengthen the American family by passing this adoption legislation today, and I urge every Member to vote "yes" on the rule, and to vote "yes" on the bill.

Madam Speaker, I include the following for the RECORD.

THE AMENDMENT PROCESS UNDER SPECIAL RULES REPORTED BY THE RULES COMMITTEE,¹ 104TH CONGRESS V. 104TH CONGRESS

¹ This table applies only to rules which provide for the original consideration of bills, joint resolutions or budget resolutions and which provide for an amendment process. It does not apply to special rules which only waive points of order against appropriations bills which are already privileged and are considered under an open amendment process under House rules.

² An open rule is one under which any Member may offer a germane amendment under the five-minute rule. A modified open rule is one under which any Member may offer a germane amendment under the five-minute rule subject only to an overall time limit on the amendment process and/or a requirement that the amendment be preprinted in the Congressional Record.

³ A modified closed rule is one under which the Rules Committee limits the amendments that may be offered only to those amendments designated in the special rule or the Rules Committee report to accompany it, or which preclude amendments to a particular portion of a bill, even though the rest of the bill may be completely open to amendment.

⁴ A closed rule is one under which no amendments may be offered (other than amendments recommended by the committee in reporting the bill).

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

(Mr. HALL of Ohio asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I thank my colleague from Ohio, Ms. PRYCE, for yielding me the time. I recognize the very special importance this bill has to my Ohio friend.

House Resolution 428 is a modified closed rule which will allow consideration of H.R. 3286, the Adoption Promotion and Stability Act of 1996.

As my colleague from Ohio described, this rule provides 1 hour of general debate, equally divided and controlled by the chairman and ranking minority member of the Committee on Ways and Means.

It provides for only two amendments. Representative GIBBONS or his designee may offer one amendment to title II of the bill. Representative YOUNG of Alaska or his designee may offer the other amendment.

The rule provides for one motion to recommit, which may include instructions, if offered by the minority leader or his designee.

H.R. 3286 provides a tax credit to parents of an adopted child of up to $5,000 to cover certain adoption-related expenses. H.R. 3286 aims to bring more children from foster homes into loving families, which should be an important goal of our Nation.

Under the rule, no floor amendments may be offered to titles I and IV of the bill. This continues the custom of closed rules for tax-related bills from the Ways and Means Committee.

However, neither title II nor title III deals with tax matters, and title III falls under the jurisdiction of the Resources Committee. For these reasons, titles II and III should be subject to an open rule and fully amendable on the House floor.

Unfortunately, the Rules Committee chose to make only two amendments in order.

Madam Speaker, this bill makes an important contribution to strengthen American families by promoting adoption. I regret that under this rule, the House will be denied the full opportunity to amend the bill and add to the contribution that the bill makes.

Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I yield such time as he may consume to the gentleman from New York [Mr. SOLOMON], my good friend who has been such a big help on this bill and the chairman of the Committee on Rules.

Mr. SOLOMON. Madam Speaker, I certainly thank the gentlewoman from Ohio [Ms. PRYCE] for yielding the time and I commend her for her leadership in bringing this legislation to the floor, along with the gentlewoman from New York [Ms. MOLINARI] and others, like the gentleman from Kansas [Mr. TIAHRT], because without all of this effort this bill would not be here today. It is so terribly, terribly important to the children of this Nation, Madam Speaker, that are really the future backbone of our Nation.

Madam Speaker, I am not going to bother to explain the rule and the contents of all of this legislation, except to say that there is one section in this bill, title III, that addresses what I consider overly broad interpretations of the Indian Child Welfare Act of 1978, and that needs to be clarified because its broad interpretations has prevented even voluntary adoptions by birth parents to other families. That is the part that is so sad.

This has caused the removal of children already settled in caring, in secure adoptive homes because the child may have as little as $\frac{1}{32}$ Native American blood or even $\frac{1}{64}$, and that is such a shame because, Madam Speaker, the Indian Child Welfare Act was passed in response to a terrible problem that existed back at that time because of unwarranted removals of children from public and private agencies.

Madam Speaker, this was clearly an unjust situation that needed to be corrected in order to protect the sanctity of the Native American family. But the way the Indian Child Welfare Act has been implemented has been, even voluntarily, extremely difficult. As a matter of fact, it has been impossible.

Therefore, this bill would fix that problem, and this is so important if Members are listening back in their offices, or whenever they are, because by exempting from tribal court those Indian child custody proceedings involving Indian children whose parents do not maintain significant social, cultural, or political affiliation with the tribe of which the parents are members, whether it is reining in government spending, providing tax breaks for families, or providing a healthy home life for all American children, this Congress has not lost its focus on ensuring a prosperous future for our children and our grandchildren.

Madam Speaker, let me speak from a personal experience just briefly. I almost never do this, Madam Speaker, but my dad walked out on me and my mom when I was born and we never laid eyes on him again. This was in 1930, back in the very beginning of the Depression.

Because of extenuating circumstances, I was separated from my mother for many, many years, 15 years. I can recall being shuttled from one home to another. But the thing I noticed the most was when I went to some other children's house and there was a mother and father there, I looked at them with such envy.

And then I look today at all of these children, 600,000 of them today that live in foster homes, and Madam Speaker, there are 2 million of them that are homeless that need homes, not just 600,000. And only 10 percent of those in foster care today have any kind of chance at all of being adopted.

Madam Speaker, that is not right. This legislation will correct that from the $5,000 tax credit, from the interracial problem that we are straightening out, and by saying to Indian children, even if you are registered with a tribe, that is fine. But you cannot come 6 months or 5 years later and snatch the children away from these loving, caring parents. That is not what is right. That is what we are trying to correct here today.

Madam Speaker, I say to my colleagues, please, please come over here and vote for this rule. But more important than that, vote against the amendment to be offered by the gentleman from Alaska [Mr. YOUNG], my dear friend, that would leave things exactly as they are, leave the status quo, and nothing would improve for all of these homeless children in America for another 4 or 5 years. We cannot let that happen.

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Missouri [Mr. GEPHARDT], our very distinguished minority leader.

Mr. GEPHARDT. Madam Speaker, I rise to urge my colleagues to support this rule and to support this bill to make it easier and more affordable to adopt a child in this country.

We talk a lot about the issue of families in this Chamber, and what we can do to strengthen them, support them, and help them. This is a bill with broad bipartisan support that will actually make it easier to create families.

Too many precious young children grow up in foster care, shuttling from foster home to foster home without even one real parent to raise them to teach them basic values and decency, indeed to love them.

Right now, there are more than 5,000 children in foster care in my State of Missouri, over 1,100 in St. Louis city and County alone. But the simple fact is that there are parents longing to adopt them and care for them who simply cannot afford or think they cannot afford to do it.

Imagine this, that there are couples who are desperate to open their homes to children without families, yet they simply cannot meet the price tag. An adoption can cost as much as $20,000 in this country. I do not know of many families who can afford that kind of money. If we as a society really believe in family values, if we really want to put families first and fight for the children who will inherit this country, we have got to do all we can to encourage adoption to make it cheaper and to make it easier.

This bill will not solve all the problems, but it is an important start. A $5,000 tax credit could make the crucial difference for many middle-class families, families trying to get in the middle-class who want to adopt a child. By voting for this bill, we put our money where our mouths are. We create thousands of loving families where today there are shattered dreams. If you ask me, these are the kind of votes that we ought to have in this Chamber.

So, I urge my colleagues to support this rule, support this bill, and give children a chance at the kind of family life they need and so richly deserve.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to my friend, the gentlewoman from Utah [Ms. GREENE].

□ 2045

Ms. GREENE of Utah. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support of this rule and of the Adoption Promotion and Stability Act. This rule provides for fair consideration of these important issues. The House has traditionally considered legislation affecting revenues under a structured rule. This rule continues that tradition, and it also provides for a clear up or down vote on proposed changes to the Indian Child Welfare Act.

Madam Speaker, this bill will help eliminate the financial barriers that discourage families from adopting children. As an adopted child myself, I am very grateful that my parents had the means to complete the adoption process. But unfortunately, there are too many children today who need loving homes and who could be adopted but whose prospective families cannot afford the associated expenses, which can total $10,000 or $15,000 or more per adoption. This bill will give willing families the financial assistance they need to adopt children into stable, caring homes.

In addition, this bill will help ensure that more minority children are adopted. Currently about half of all children eligible for adoption in our country are minorities. Too often, current practice regarding racial preferences stands in the way of these children becoming part of a loving family. This bill will ensure that a child's adoption cannot be denied simply because of that child's race or national origin.

Finally, this bill will address some of the unintended consequences of the Indian Child Welfare Act. That act was established to correct the egregious situation of Native American children being forcefully removed from their homes without due process and for unwarranted reasons.

Unfortunately, however, the Indian Child Welfare Act has not always served the best interests of the child. The act has been applied beyond its intended purpose of protecting Indian children and their families, resulting in tragic consequences as the rights of prospective children and parents are made subordinate to tribal claims. This has had a chilling effect on adoptions. Most tragically, we see the anguish of children being removed from the only homes they have ever known.

I believe this bill will help clarify the scope of the Indian Child Welfare Act so that we can prevent these tragic situations and promote the adoption of children whose parents have no significant affiliation with the tribe.

I urge my colleagues to give more children the benefits of a loving home and parents that I had. I urge adoption of the rule and the bill.

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I yield 7 minutes to the gentleman from California [Mr. MILLER].

Mr. MILLER of California. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding time to me.

I commend the authors of this legislation for bringing it to the floor. I have spent almost my entire public life trying to make it easier for children to be adopted and to try to find permanent placements for children in foster care. The tax provisions of this bill, the tax credit here will obviously be very helpful in helping those families defray the cost of adoption, which for all too many families is in fact a very real barrier to adoption.

Madam Speaker, I am also happy with the changes that have been made. Unfortunately, they continue to be necessary on the interethnic adoption. I joined Senator Metzenbaum and others a couple of years ago to try to reduce these barriers and get rid of these barriers so that race would not become a barrier to adoption for those children.

As was stated here, we have some 450,000 children in adoption, most of whom are looking for permanent placement. We know the impacts of permanent placement on these children. They do much better in permanent placement, in a loving situation, than bouncing from foster home to foster home where their interests very often are just simply not taken care of in spite of the hundreds of thousands of wonderful foster parents that take children in, sometimes in the middle of the night with little or no notice.

Madam Speaker, I rise tonight to take issue with title III of this legislation that would take from Indian tribes of this Nation and of those Indian nations jurisdiction over the adoption of those Indian children. It would do so in the most egregious fashion under this legislation. While we have spent the last 14 months talking about devolving authority back to the State Governments and to local governments, in one fell swoop in this legislation what we would do is we would federally describe what is membership in a tribe. We would do that even in the case of where half of the largest tribe in this Nation probably could not meet that membership test.

But that is not a membership qualification for us to set. It is very difficult for people to understand that the Indian tribes in this country are sovereign nations. What the Indian Child Welfare Act sought to remedy, and that is not to suggest that it did it perfectly and that it cannot be improved, but what it sought to remedy was the invasion of those sovereign nations and their children being drained away from their nations, those children being adopted outside, out of sight of the tribe, far in excess of their numbers.

But it does that now to suggest that somehow, if the parent does not meet a two-part test, that the tribe has no interest in that child and maybe even the grandparents have no interest in that child, no matter how loving those grandparents might be of that child, because perhaps their child left the reservation, went to live in the city, maybe for whatever reasons got married, did not get married but had a child. We are now going to test the interest of that child and that tribe and those grandparents against the actions of the parent of that child. We are now determining who is and who is not a member of a tribe for the purposes of the enforcement of tribal laws, customs and heritage.

We do not do that with adoptions in the State of California, the State of Ohio, the State of Indiana, State of Florida. We do not do that. But the suggestion here is that somehow the tribes have mismanaged this or somehow the tribes are not doing a decent job or somehow the tribes are coming and yanking children out of adoptions when they are finalized. That is not the case.

Madam Speaker, the case that has been cited very often in pursuing this amendment is one where one of the adoptive parents simply engaged in fraud during the adoptive process. We all have copies of the documents. He chose not to notify the tribes and chose to conceal his Indian background, however limited.

That was the intentional effort to engage in fraud. So now in reaction to that, what we are suggesting is we are going to wipe out the qualifications for memberships that tribes may set for their own members and may have set for decades or for hundreds of years. We are going to impose some notion of our sense of percentage of blood to satisfy us as opposed to what the tribe makes a determination of what an enrolled member is or is not. I am deeply concerned about that. I am deeply concerned because it is an invasion of that sovereignty.

This is not to suggest that somehow there are not loving parents, there are not loving grandparents, there is not extended family on the reservations who want those children, who adopt those children and in fact do it all of the time. But their rights are completely destroyed by our interpretation of the parents' actions with respect to the birth of that child, whether they chose to enroll that child immediately or did not. We now negate the interests of all of the other family members around that tribe.

Madam Speaker, we would not do this to grandparents anywhere else. We would not do this to grandparents. We would not destroy their standing, their ability to compete, to have the tribe represent them, to try to see whether or not they could take that child, perhaps as opposed to another placement. Yet that is what it is.

The gentlewoman and others have raised legitimate concerns about the administration of this act. In fact, the tribes of this Nation that were not consulted with this amendment are meeting in June to discuss how to better administer this act. We have been holding off legislation to let the tribes come together in June and make those determinations. But what we in fact now have is a rush to judgment here about the future of these children, about the interests of the tribes, about the membership in those tribes that far exceeds, far exceeds the problems that have been raised with this act.

I would hope that the chairman of the committee tomorrow, in the debate on this amendment and elsewhere, will commit to reporting out a bill. But it ought to have the airing, and it ought to be run by the tribes that are affected. This has not been. This has not been.

So I raise these concerns because this is most serious. It is most serious. It ought not to be rushed to. The rest of this legislation is important and good and valuable, and we ought to get on with it because there are parents who are waiting for the opportunity and families who are waiting for the opportunity that the rest of this bill provides.

With respect to the custody of Indian children and the adoption of Indian children, we ought to just pause for a minute, because we are speaking in much broader terms here, much broader terms than can be justified under the most difficult cases.

I just want to say, in closing, let us not pretend that somehow the State courts do adoptions right, that people do not show up late in the process, that parents do not change their mind. So we are not going from an imperfect system to a perfect system. We are going to a process that we all know pains us all. It is a most difficult process.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Indiana [Mr. BURTON], who does so much work for the cause of adoption.

Mr. BURTON of Indiana. Madam Speaker, I want to compliment the gentlewoman from Ohio for her participation and hard work on this. I know she has done yeoman service.

Let me just say that we also ought to thank a fellow who started with nothing, who became one of the greatest entrepreneurs in the world, started at 15 as an orphan, almost, Dave Thomas of Wendy's. He came up here on the hill a number of times and testified. Without his help, I am not sure we would be here tonight with this bill. So, Dave, if you are watching, thanks a lot for all your help.

I spent some time in the Marian County Guardians Home. Kids who are in foster care in a guardians home want to get out. They want a loving home, and they want loving parents. And to keep them incarcerated, incarcerated in foster homes for long periods of time is just dead wrong.

We had a hearing this week and the gentlewoman from Ohio [Ms. PRYCE] brought in a gentleman to testify. I want to tell you a story, a practical story about what happens because of the problem we are having with the tribes as far as adoption is concerned.

This fellow adopted a child who was $\frac{1}{16}$, I believe, 2 children, twins that were $\frac{1}{16}$ Indian. He had complete cooperation from the parents. I do not think he even knew at that time that they had any Indian blood in them. Nevertheless, he adopted them. Two years later, 2 years later actions were taken to try to take those children away from him because they were $\frac{1}{16}$ Indian.

Let me tell you what happened to that family. He has spent $300,000 trying to keep his children; the children love him. He loves them. The mother loves the kids. They love her. And the children are in constant danger of being taken away from that family. The family is just about bankrupt. I think they have even mortgaged their home.

That is not right. That has to be changed. There ought to be some constraints, some limits on how long any Indian tribe or any group has to take a child back in that kind of a case.

I tell you, to take a child that has its roots established like a tree in that family for 2 years out of that family is just absolutely unconscionable. So this law needs to be passed in its entirety right now. It does not need the amendment.

I love the gentleman from Alaska, DON YOUNG. I have great respect for the gentleman from California. But we need to think about the families who adopted these kids. We need to think about the children who we want to get out of foster care into loving homes and after 2 years and $300,000 and taking a second mortgage on your home and losing everything and still have the possibility of having those children taken away from you is wrong.

People across the country who watch television, who have seen these heart-rending cases where children are taken out in the middle of night by sheriffs because of a law in one State or another or because of a tribal law, people in this country do not like that. They want to change it.

This is a good law. It needs to be kept intact. I love DON YOUNG. He is a good friend of mine. We are working on other legislation. But, DON, you are wrong on this one. Let us let this thing as it is.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER PRO TEMPORE

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mrs. MORELLA). The Chair must remind all Members that remarks in debate should be addressed to the Chair and not to the viewing audience.

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I yield 30 seconds to the gentleman from California [Mr. MILLER].

Mr. MILLER of California. Madam Speaker, I just want to say to the gentleman from Indiana, we ought not to base this on those hard anecdotal cases. We all witnessed a young child in State court where TV cameras were there and as she was screaming for her adoptive parents, screaming and taken away and put in a car. That was in State court. We know that adoptions are tough and difficult and people change their minds and now you have got unrelated parties.

This is about the forum. There is nothing that prevents the Indian court from awarding the child to those individuals. I just think you have got to be very careful here. This is not about who is right or wrong. It is about being careful with respect to what we are doing.

□ 2100

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Kansas [Mr. TIAHRT], the coauthor of title III of this legislation.

Mr. TIAHRT. Madam Speaker, I want to thank the gentlewoman from Ohio for spearheading this effort. I really appreciate her efforts for the children who I think are the most neglected Americans, the children without parents.

Madam Speaker, I think this bill is very important because it does remove the barriers that have hampered us from placing children out of foster care into loving homes. I support the three major provisions of this bill: The $5,000 adoption tax credit, and also the portion that removes interracial barriers from adoption so the kids are not trapped in foster care, waiting for a like racial home. But I think probably the most controversial part and the one that I most strongly support is the reform to the Indian Child Welfare Act.

I know there was a grave need for this act, and I think it has just gone beyond the scope of it. In the State of Kansas where I am a Representative, we have seen Kansas State courts try to put some boundaries on the Indian Child Welfare Act and bring some common sense into it. For example, we heard testimony Tuesday of a young woman who is 13 years old. She had been placed in this home since she was 8 months old. It is like she is dangling over the fire. She is worried about being withdrawn from this home into an institutional setting or into foster care instead of staying with loving parents.

Let us not just base it on one example. I have seen so much debate occur on this floor based on one limited example. But there is story after story after story where these children are at risk of being pulled out of their loving homes. I think it is time, if we want to encourage adoption in America, that we remove some of these legal barriers, remove these financial barriers, and make it easy to transition them out of child care or out of foster care into loving, warm homes where they have a bright future.

There are many tremendous success stories. I think of Representative Ben Reifel, who was an adopted child, who represented the State of South Dakota in the early 1950's and early 1960's. Because he had warm, loving parents who took him in, gave him a bright future, he served this body right here on the floor of this House. I think there are other wonderful stories out there waiting to be created if we can only remove the barriers that exist today in this adoption language and adoption law.

Madam Speaker, I support this rule, I support the bill, and I am anxious to pass it in whole, and not take out any part.

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from New Mexico [Mr. RICHARDSON].

(Mr. RICHARDSON asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. RICHARDSON. Madam Speaker, first of all, this is a good bill. We are doing the right thing by passing this bill. I commend the authors.

Madam Speaker, I am going to vote against the rule because of the provision on Indian adoptions. First of all,

Madam Speaker, the gentleman from Alaska [DON YOUNG] chairs the Committee on Resources. In our committee, we unanimously, Republican and Democrat, took out the provision that deals with Indian adoptions. The last time I checked, the Committee on Rules does not have the job of creating American Indian policy. The rule dictates to 557 sovereign Native American nations what is best for their children.

I think what we are doing here with respect to Indian adoptions is a tragic mistake. There are 20 glaring cases and they are tragedies, and I am sure they will be discussed here, but that should not dictate what we impose on tribes. Tribes care for their children. Not one Native American tribe was consulted on this provision.

Can Members imagine first Americans, sovereign nations; we have sovereign treaties with them. Yet, not one tribe is supporting this provision. I think that is a lack of respect. What we are doing here, Madam Speaker, is affecting the Indian family, the Indian culture. The extended family has a special role in caring for Indian children. In nearly every instance when the extended family has knowledge of a child needing care, they are willing to adopt that child. Unlike many other minority adoption cases, in Indian country there are more than enough relatives and families who are willing to assume custody of children.

The provisions included in this rule undermine the basic rights of Indian tribes to ensure the survival of Indian culture and the future of their children. If we are going to have family values in Indian country, it is best for Indians to make those determinations.

Madam Speaker, we have a trust responsibility with our tribes. I am not saying that the current system works. We need to improve it. The gentleman from Alaska [DON YOUNG] has called for hearings and new legislation. A lot of the tribes were told, "Let us make June the month that we come up with legislation that deals with some of these very egregious cases that very clearly have been pursued by those that are authoring this bill." But let us not jeopardize this legislation, which will be contested by the tribes; it will go all the way to the Supreme Court; the entire bill may be jeopardized. I hope not. But this is not a good provision, and we should defeat the provision tomorrow.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I yield 2½ minutes to my good friend, the gentleman from Florida [Mr. STEARNS].

(Mr. STEARNS asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. STEARNS. Madam Speaker, I thank my distinguished colleague from Ohio for yielding time to me.

Madam Speaker, we heard the gentleman from California [Mr. MILLER] say, do not give me anecdotal information. Remember when he said that? What in a sense he is saying is, do not give me the facts. The speaker before me said that this program is not working. We have here for the first time a program that is going to work. That is why I support the rule. I would like to commend all those who are involved for all the hard work they have done on this bill.

I think it is now important that we pass this rule and move on to this legislation. It will bring stability into the lives of almost 500,000 children who are currently in the foster care system waiting to be adopted, waiting for a family. When children needlessly languish in foster homes and close to 2 million couples are desperately seeking to adopt, it is clearly apparent that the current adoption system is not working, and clearly, the current system ignores the best interests of the children. By implementing the simple changes we have in this bill, we will provide children with loving parents, a healthy home environment, and something that every child needs and deserves.

Madam Speaker, let us enable couples to create secure American families by easing the burdensome costs and complex regulations now associated with the option. I think this clearly does it with this bill. We all know that the American family is the backbone of our Nation, so we should encourage the creation of American families, not impede them. I urge my colleagues to vote for the rule.

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from New York [Mrs. MALONEY].

Mrs. MALONEY. Madam Speaker, this is a closed rule. Therefore, I am opposed to it. I do support the adoption bill, but it simply does not go far enough. What about the 400,000 children in foster care who are not candidates for adoption?

As David Liederman of the Child Welfare League writes in today's New York Times: "Many foster children have emotional and physical disabilities. The adoption of these kids will require more than just a one-time tax credit."

Madam Speaker, I proposed several amendments to the Committee on Rules that would have helped build important bridges between foster care and adoption. My amendments would have streamlined the bureaucracy, which too often keeps children languishing in foster care when there are people ready to adopt them. My amendments would have strengthened the ability of caring relatives and standby guardians to step in and care for and, in some cases, adopt foster children.

I favor a bill to expedite adoption. This is a good first step in our efforts to move children from the care of the State to the care of loving families, but a simple tax credit is not the whole answer. It would be a tragedy if we did not use this important opportunity to move forward and reform a foster care system that is and that leaves thousands of children in difficult and dangerous environments.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I yield 1½ minutes to my friend, the gentleman from Iowa [Mr. GANSKE].

Mr. GANSKE. Madam Speaker, prior to November 1994, as a practicing physician, I counseled parents who were seeking to adopt. Many times they would come to me with a letter and a photograph of a child that they were going to adopt who might have a birth defect. Many of these children were from overseas. It always struck me as a wonderful thing for those families when they would bring those children to the United States and we would work with them to make them whole.

But I also saw a lot of children in foster care, so while I was seeing the children that were being brought into the country for adoption, I was wondering, why are these children who are in foster care not getting homes? Foster care many times is a wonderful thing. The foster parents do a good job. The tragedy is that some of them do such a good job that they attach, they form attachments to those children, and the children also, but it is a temporary situation, and then they are torn apart.

So part of what we are doing is this bill, and I speak in favor of the rule and in favor of the bill, this is a happy bill, is that we are doing to address one of the impediments, and that is the issue of race matching that I think has kept many of those children who are in foster care from getting the permanent homes that they need. I am very, very pleased that this bill is coming to the floor. It is one of the best things we have done in Congress.

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from American Samoa [Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA].

Mr. FALEOMAVAEGA. Madam Speaker, I want to say, preliminarily, that I certainly have the highest respect for the gentlewoman from Ohio, Ms. PRYCE, as we have tried earnestly to find a middle ground and see how we can resolve this very important issue.

Madam Speaker, I rise today in strong opposition to title III of H.R. 3286 which amends the Indian Child Welfare Act. If enacted, title III will harm helpless Indian children, damage the Federal relationship with Indian tribes, and allow States to decide who is and isn't Indian.

In 1978, Congress passed the Indian Child Welfare Act to stop the hemorrhage of Indian children being separated from their families. This act was passed after long and careful deliberation which included all affected parties. Hearings were held, drafts were circulated, and questions were asked. On the other hand, the provisions before us today have never been given a comprehensive hearing and not one Indian tribe was consulted or included in any discussion. The proponents of the language are taking a shotgun approach in reaction to a couple of badly handled adoptions.

Democrats and Republicans alike on the Resources Committee rejected the method and the language used in this title by striking the language from the bill before reporting it. The Resources Committee has the jurisdiction and the expertise over Indian matters yet the Chairman had to fight just to have the bill referred to the committee for only 6 days. The original leadership plan was to once again bring an important piece of legislation to the floor without benefit of Member or committee involvement. The Resources Committee takes the Federal trust responsibility toward the more than 550 Alaska Native and American Indian tribes very seriously. As I said the committee overwhelmingly supported removing the offensive language that was reinstated in the floor package before us today.

Title III of this bill would require that a child's significant cultural, social, and political contacts with a tribe determine his or her "indian-ness" instead of tribal membership. It ignores the important role of the extended family in Indian culture and would lead to increased litigation.

The outrage that prompted the passage of the Indian Child Welfare Act were numerous. Prior to its enactment, the rate of adoptions of Indian children was wildly disproportionate to the adoption rate of non-Indian children. Indian children in Montana were being adopted at a per capita rate 13 times that of non-Indian children, in South Dakota 16 times that of non-Indian children, in Minnesota 5 times that of non-Indian children. The act's principal sponsor and my good friend Chairman Mo Udall, said during the floor debate, "Indian tribes and Indian people are being drained of their children and, as a result, their future as a tribe and a people is being placed in jeopardy."

I realize that there are problems with the Indian Child Welfare Act. I know that one problem is with adoption attorneys who pressure parents not to acknowledge their Indian heritage on adoption forms. But I also know that there have only been problems with less than one-half of 1-percent of the total number of Indian adoptions since the act was passed.

Let us work together to solve any problems with the current act. During the last several decades this body has worked hard not to be paternalistic toward Indian tribes. We must allow tribes to be involved when we move to amend an act of such magnitude. I implore my colleagues to strip the Indian language from this bill.

I urge my colleagues to strike out title III of this legislation.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to my friend, the gentleman from Washington [Mr. NETHERCUTT].

Mr. NETHERCUTT. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for her leadership on this very important issue.

Madam Speaker, before I was elected to Congress, I was a practicing attorney in Spokane, WA.

□ 2115

I estimate that I have handled well over 1,000 adoptions and well over 1,000 children of those adoption cases. Certainly it is the most important thing, I believe, any human being can do for another, and that is to adopt a child and provide a stable, loving home for that child. An environment of stability is extremely important.

I have handled not only foreign adoptions, I have handled many, many Indian child welfare cases, and my experience is this: The Indian Child Welfare Act needs adjustment.

Many of the Indian Child Welfare Act cases I handled were handled perfectly, and the Indian tribe's heritage and the interest of the Indian tribe was fully protected, but there were many cases that I have handled where there were not only problems that prevented a final adoption but problems that resulted in delays. For a child who is waiting to be adopted and waiting to have the finality of an adoption and a loving home, the wait is as bad as anything. The uncertainty for a young child is extremely detrimental.

What we have to keep our eyes focused on, I believe, today on this particular legislation, which I think is good legislation, provides an appropriate adjustment to the Indian Child Welfare Act, we have to keep our eyes on who is most important here. Is it the child and the interests of the child, or is it the tribe?

There is no reason that the Indian Child Welfare Act should impede a loving family placement in a non-Indian home or perhaps with an adoptive parent who is maybe not of the same affiliation, tribal affiliation. My experience is that many adoptive parents have recognized that Indian child welfare connection and the tribal connection.

This is a good bill, a good rule, and we should support it.

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, how much time do we have remaining on both sides?

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mrs. MORELLA). The gentleman from Ohio [Mr. HALL] has 9½ minutes, and the gentlewoman from Ohio [Ms. PRYCE] has 5½ minutes remaining.

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to my friend, the gentleman from Iowa [Mr. LIGHTFOOT].

(Mr. LIGHTFOOT asked and was given permission to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LIGHTFOOT. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding me the time, and I rise in strong support of not only the rule but the bill, as well.

I think it is gratifying to know that finally we are doing something to make adoption easier and more affordable. A child who does not go home with his or her birth parent, they are very lucky to be given a home with a loving mother and father, people that want to be parents, who want to give that child a happy and a healthy environment to grow up in.

I know how lucky such children are because I am one of them. I had the good fortune to be given a home with two people who have been very wonderful, loving parents; in their eighties, they are retired today on the farm and I hope enjoying it.

But as we have heard tonight, there are about half a million kids out there that are waiting for the chance right now. We know that only about 10 percent, 50,000 of them, are going to get that chance, and one of the biggest reasons they are not getting that chance is because of the high cost of adoption, up to $20,000 or more.

It seems to me when there are so many children that are waiting and there are so many parents who want these children, why should we not remove the roadblocks and let it happen? We as a society pay a far greater human cost in allowing those children to languish and those parents to agonize than anything that we could ever put in a checkbook.

And as a result, I think that no child should be kept from being placed in a home in which that child could thrive. It should not be held up because there may be some ethnic difference between that child and the prospective adoptive parents. If there is love and there is understanding and there is a desire to work together, what difference does it make what color their skin is?

So I would like to thank SUSAN MOLINARI for offering this piece of legislation, DEBORAH PRYCE for her leadership in the Committee on Rules. I think it proves that Republicans and Democrats can work together to come up with a good solution to a very difficult problem, and I urge strong support of not only the rule but the bill, as well.

Madam Speaker, I rise in the strongest support for H.R. 3286, the Adoption Promotion and Stability Act. It is gratifying to know we are finally doing something to make adoption easier and more affordable. A child who does not go home with his or her birth parents is very lucky to be given a home with a loving mother and father who want to be parents and want to give that child a happy and healthy environment in which to grow up. I know how lucky such children are because I am one of them. I had the good fortune to be given a home with two people who have been wonderful, loving parents.

But I know there are about 500,000 children in this country who are waiting for that chance right now. But they are not getting that chance because so many couples cannot afford the average $20,000 cost associated with adopting. And nearly half of those children are minority children who will wind up waiting twice as long to find a home. When there are so many children waiting, no couple should be kept from taking those children in simply because of cost. We as a society pay a far greater human cost when we stand in the way of putting needy children in loving homes. And no child should be kept from being placed in a home in which that child would thrive simply because of the ethnic group to which the child and prospective adoptive parents belong. It is in all our best interests to get those children to parents who will be responsible, loving, and attentive. This bill is very much needed. This is one of the best ways we can show that we do care about children and that we are able to work together, Democrats and Republicans, to really make a difference. I strongly urge my colleagues to support this measure and I thank Ms. MOLINARI for bringing this measure in front of the House and I thank the leadership for bringing this bill to the floor so quickly.

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from Minnesota [Mr. OBERSTAR].

Mr. OBERSTAR. Madam Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding.

Madam Speaker, 15 years ago or so, I proposed legislation to help with financial cost of adoption. I was very modest in proposing a tax deduction for adoption. Before us today is a bill that provides a very generous $5,000 tax credit. It is a long step forward and it is very good. It is very needed.

I was very disappointed, though, that the Committee on Rules did not make in order my proposed amendment to equalize the paid leave provisions of the family medical leave act for birth families and adoptive families. I listened with great interest, captivated by the chairman of the Committee on Rules speaking with such passion and giving such personal witness. I do not think he has ever spoken so warmly and so convincingly about his own experience.

So I think clearly with three committees involved, clearly my amendment could have been made in order, but we will make an effort to go back to the Committee on Educational and Economic Opportunities and try to work it in that aspect.

What I am really disappointed about, though, is that this language I proposed was not made in order. There is language, title III, made in order, that I have heard from the reservation leadership in my district, of which I have six tribal councils, all calling this an affront to the Indian community. Let me put it in their words, not my words.

Marge Anderson, who is chairman of the Blacks Band:

For years the BIA put Indian children into boarding schools to cleanse them of their Indian identity. These children have become lost souls as a result of the effort to assimilate them into the white community. They often become alcoholics.

Myron Ellis, the chairman of the Leech Lake Tribal Council, said:

The Indian Child Welfare Act has stopped the raids on Indian children. It is bringing stability to Indian families. It is strengthening the future of Indian tribes. Title III language would turn back the clock on those efforts and result in more prolonged litigation to the detriment of innocent Indian children.

I think we ought to listen more to those who are on the front line, those whose families, whose lives and livelihoods, whose children are caught up in this adoption issue, those of the Indian tribes themselves. I put their words out, not mine, not anecdotal stories, because I think they are the ones who understand their situation best.

I will support the effort by the Committee on Resources tomorrow to strike this language and to hopefully ameliorate the bill.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I yield 2 minutes to my friend, the gentleman from Arkansas [Mr. HUTCHINSON].

Mr. HUTCHINSON. Madam Speaker, I rise in strong support of the rule and the bill, H.R. 3286, a measure which would help families defray adoption costs and promote the adoption of minority children.

Today, there are more couples who want to adopt and more children in need of a loving home than ever before. According to estimates by the National Council for Adoption, at least 2 million couples would like to adopt. Yet only about 50,000 adoptions occur annually.

Madam Speaker, the subject of adoption is one that hits very close to our office. My legislative director is herself adopted. She described her feelings on adoption to me in the following eloquent words:

Mom and Dad took me home, gave me their name, their protection and their love. They shared with me their family—brothers, aunts, uncles, cousins and grandparents—who claimed me as their very own. Together they provided a foundation from which I have been able to return a small portion of the abundant love and care that they have given me to the world in which I live.

Madam Speaker, would that every child in America be able to make such a statement. I urge the swift passage of H.R. 3286.

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I yield 3 minutes to the gentleman from North Dakota [Mr. POMEROY].

Mr. POMEROY. Madam Speaker, I rise to speak on this bill with a very unique association with the subject matter. On February 3, 1993, after a frantic day as a Member of Congress representing the State of North Dakota, I went to National Airport, met my wife who also had gone to the airport, and we eagerly, anxiously awaited the arrival of our soon-to-be daughter, an infant born in Korea, flown over and placed with us and now an adopted part of our family.

To tell my colleagues that this has so profoundly, fundamentally changed and improved our lives is a hopeless understatement of the glory we have experienced as adoptive parents, and I am very pleased to tell the House tonight that we are within two weeks or three weeks of going back to National Airport and coming home with a son, also born in Korea.

As I looked at what the legislation before us is trying to accomplish in terms of breaking down barriers of interracial adoption, as the parent of a daughter who is a member of another race, I cannot speak passionately enough in terms of the importance of breaking these barriers down. Children need families. Families need children. Some notion of political correctness that would leave people languishing in foster homes rather than reach across racial barriers for parents who will love them, love them as their very own, has got to be ended and I am so pleased with this facet of the legislation that puts an end to it.

Second, the financial burdens of adoption can keep many beautiful families from enjoying this experience. I have had people in my home State tell me that looking at foreign adoption costs now running between $10,000 and $20,000, they just cannot manage. I know they would be beautiful homes and that the children would be immeasurably enriched by being placed with them, and they would in turn be immeasurably enriched by the children. We have to help with the affordability of adoptions. I am very pleased with the facet of the bill that addresses that.

I have some difficulty with the way the Indian Child Welfare Act has disrupted certain prospective placements. On the other hand, I must acknowledge difficulty with the provisions of the bill that would amend this act in a way so offensive to the four reservations that I represent. I will support the motion to strike, but I will continue to work for evaluating where this law has failed children who need families and moving forward the changes in the law necessary to make certain that Native American children needing families do not have that, their precious right, frustrated by application of this statute.

In summary, this is very, very positive legislation. This is the kind of legislation where the two parties so often at loggerheads in this Chamber can arm-in-arm step forward and do something positive for the people of this country, and I am very proud to support the legislation, commend DEBORAH PRYCE for her leadership on the bill.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I have no further requests for time.

Mr. HALL of Ohio. Madam Speaker, I would simply say that this is a good proposal. It is a good bill. The rule is somewhat restrictive, but occasionally we do support a closed rule and in this particular case I do. I think it is important that both sides come together on this. We need to do more of this and be for things that we can be for, and some of the things we cannot be for, try to set them aside. But this is one of the things where we have good bipartisan support.

□ 2130

Madam Speaker, I support the rule and the bill.

Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Madam Speaker, I certainly appreciate the words from the gentleman from Ohio [Mr. HALL].

Madam Speaker, this is a good bill. It will do good things. The changes to the Indian Child Welfare Act are common sense and minor. They keep fully intact the original well-meaning intention of protecting Indian culture and heritage.

But, Madam Speaker, the Congress wrote this law, and it is morally responsible for correcting it in this minor way, to avoid the continuous disastrous tragedies of broken homes and children languishing in foster care. This is not just a handful of stories. There are many, many, many from all across the country.

Madam Speaker, this issue did not just develop overnight. I have been trying since the beginning of this Congress to get the Committee on Resources and the native American community to help me to address this issue. If the Indian community is affronted, I am sorry. I wish they would have answered my letters and come to my meetings. But, as it is, we did the best that we could to try to develop a fair solution.

Madam Speaker, as was said before, this is a happy bill. It is a good day for this Congress. I would urge all my colleagues to cast a vote in strong support of adoption and in support of keeping loving families together. Vote "yes" on the rule and the bill, and vote "no" on any attempt to weaken this legislation.

Madam Speaker, I rise today to express my concerns regarding the modified closed rule for H.R. 3286. While I applaud the fact that this legislation would make it possible for more families to provide a loving and permanent home for adoptive children, I am concerned that this bill might not recognize that cultural sensitivity, without delaying adoption, is important to give the child the full measure of their background.

Madam Speaker, approximately one-half of the children awaiting adoption today are minorities. In my home State of Texas, the number of children under the age of 18 living in foster care in 1993 was 10,880. This represents an increase of 62.4 percent from 1990, and the number continues to climb. Similarly, the number of children living in a group home in 1990 was 13,434. Approximately one half of these 13,434 children are minorities. There are wonderful foster care parents but these numbers of children in non-permanent homes are way too high.

The sponsors of this legislation argue that current law, which states that race cannot be used as the sole factor in making an adoption placement but can be used as one of multiple factors in the decision, has resulted in adoptions being delayed or denied because of race. This of course is the result of local agencies misinterpreting the law. Should we not penalize directly the agencies incorrectly using the law? According to the sponsors, because of the inherent bias among many social workers, the real-world outcome of current law is that race ends up becoming the sole factor when placements are made. I have worked with social workers and they consistently over-all try to work in the best interest of the child.

While I do not believe that race should be the sole criteria in adoption placements, I do believe that we should be sensitive to cultural backgrounds. Had I been permitted, I would have offered an amendment to this bill which would have required that in making adoptive parent placements, the State or appropriate entity shall make every effort to ensure that a prospective adoptive parent is sensitive to the child's ethnic or racial background. It should not, however, delay drastically such adoption.

Adoptive parents and children need not be of the same race. However, it is important that adoptive parents are sensitive to the cultural backgrounds of the children they adopt. It is important that such children grow up in an environment that is respectful and appreciative of the child's heritage. Unfortunately, our society is not color blind, and therefore States and agencies must ensure that adoptive parents of a different race from the minority and Indian children are sensitive to the issues that may arise as the child gets older, including discrimination and questions the child may have about his or her cultural background.

In no way, however, should this policy result in children languishing in foster homes for extended periods of time or in adoptions being delayed or denied when loving, caring parents are ready to adopt.

I urge my colleagues to consider these issues so that we can make better adoptions for all children, including minority children, while not delaying or denying adoptions.

Ms. PRYCE. Madam Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time, and I move the previous question on the resolution.

The previous question was ordered.

The resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

REPORT ON RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 3230, DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE AUTHORIZATION ACT FOR FISCAL YEAR 1997

Mr. SOLOMON, from the Committee on Rules, submitted a privileged report (Rept. No. 104-570) on the resolution (H. Res. 430) providing for consideration of the bill (H.R. 3230) to authorize appropriations for fiscal year 1997 for military activities of the Department of Defense, to prescribe military personnel strengths for fiscal year 1997, and for other purposes, which was referred to the House Calendar and ordered to be printed.

ANNOUNCEMENT REGARDING AMENDMENT PROCESS FOR BUDGET RESOLUTION

(Mr. SOLOMON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. SOLOMON. Madam Speaker, the Budget Committee is expected to order the budget resolution reported later tonight. Copies of the resolution approved by that committee will be available for review in the office of the Budget Committee.

The Rules Committee is planning to meet next Wednesday, May 15, to grant a rule which may limit the kind of amendments offered to the concurrent resolution on the budget for fiscal year 1997.

Members are strongly advised to submit only amendments in the nature of a substitute which provide for a balanced budget not later than the year 2002.

Any Member who is contemplating an amendment to the budget resolution should submit 55 copies and a brief explanation by noon on Tuesday, May 14, to the Rules Committee, room H-312 in the Capitol.

Members should use the Office of Legislative Counsel and the Congressional Budget Office to ensure that their amendments are properly drafted and should check with the Office of the Parliamentarian to be certain their amendments comply with the rules of the House.

ADOPTION PROMOTION AND STABILITY ACT OF 1996

Mr. ARCHER. Madam Speaker, pursuant to House Resolution 428, I call up the bill (H.R. 3286) to help families defray adoption costs, and to promote the adoption of minority children, and ask for its immediate consideration.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 428, the amendment in the nature of a substitute printed in the bill is adopted.
