

markets for U.S. passenger and cargo carriers. Senator PRESSLER's outstanding work in this regard has rewarded our economy with enormous new tourism and export opportunities.

As chairman of the Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, Senator PRESSLER's outstanding leadership on numerous initiatives this Congress has been deservedly recognized on the Senate floor by Senators from both sides of the aisle. These significant accomplishments include passage of the landmark telecommunications law and commonsense product liability reform as well as the elimination of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Today, I want to acknowledge another area in which Senator PRESSLER's leadership is paying enormous dividends for consumers and our economy. I speak about his bipartisan leadership in the area of creating new international air service opportunities for our passenger and cargo carriers. Let me add these efforts are in addition to the tremendously important and longstanding leadership Senator PRESSLER continues to provide in the areas of air service to small communities and aviation safety—two areas of great importance to me.

For instance, just 2 months ago, Senator PRESSLER's steadfast leadership was instrumental in securing a truly historic open skies agreement with the Federal Republic of Germany. The potential long-term economic benefits of this open skies agreement are enormous. In fact, consumers traveling to Germany this summer will immediately feel the impact of this agreement. As Senator PRESSLER has predicted, the United States/German open skies agreement will be a catalyst for further liberalization of the very lucrative United States/European Union air service market.

Mr. President, I wish to bring my colleagues' attention to two recent letters further acknowledging the critical role Senator PRESSLER played in obtaining the United States/German open skies agreement.

First, Secretary of Transportation, Federico Peña, recently wrote Senator PRESSLER "[y]our strong support of the open-skies concept has been instrumental in making it possible for us to achieve this historic milestone [the U.S./German open skies agreement] in aviation. I applaud and greatly appreciate your bipartisan leadership role in the issue of great importance to all Americans." I ask unanimous consent that a copy of Secretary Peña's letter be inserted in the RECORD, at the conclusion of my remarks.

Second, German Transport Minister Matthias Wissmann recently wrote Senator PRESSLER to "express my sincere gratitude for your steadfast leadership and unwavering commitment to the goal of a fully liberalized aviation relationship between the United States and Germany. You were a cornerstone in the political process in this development." I ask unanimous consent a copy of Minister Wissman's letter be printed in the RECORD.

Mr. President, let me conclude by saying I am very pleased to call the Senate's attention to the very important work Senator PRESSLER is doing in the area of international aviation. His efforts have been enormously beneficial to our economy, consumers, and the airline industry.

There being no objection, the letters were ordered to be printed in the RECORD, as follows:

THE SECRETARY OF TRANSPORTATION,
Washington, DC, April 2, 1996.

Hon. LARRY PRESSLER,
Chairman, Committee on Commerce, Science,
and Transportation, Senate, Washington, DC.

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: Thank you for letter offering congratulations on the initialing of the U.S.-German open-skies aviation agreement.

Your strong support of the open-skies concept has been instrumental in making it possible for us to achieve this historic milestone in aviation. I applaud and greatly appreciate your bipartisan leadership role on this issue of great importance to all Americans.

The U.S.-German aviation agreement coupled with the other eleven open-skies agreements in Europe provide the critical mass that guarantees a new era in global aviation—one that relies on the marketplace to determine the kind and quality of air services that are offered to consumers and begins a process that will remove governments from a role in air service decisions. This achievement means that U.S. consumers will benefit from a much greater array of service and price options that will be tailored to their specific needs.

I, as you, appreciate the outstanding work of DAS Mark Gerchick in providing the pivotal leadership that made it possible to achieve the agreement with Germany in one round of formal talks. Mark's efforts assured that a difficult negotiation was concluded with amazing speed while achieving all of our open-skies goals.

I look forward to continuing our collaboration on this and other issues as we work hard to build a better transportation future for our country. If we can be of further assistance, please contact me or Steven Palmer, Assistant Secretary for Governmental Affairs, at (202) 366-4573.

Sincerely,

FEDERICO PEÑA.

BUNDESMINISTER FÜR VERKEHR,
Bonn, den 12, März 1996.

Hon. LARRY PRESSLER,
Chairman, Committee on Commerce, Science,
and Transportation, U.S. Senate, Washington, DC.

DEAR SENATOR PRESSLER: Thank you for your letter of January 1996.

I want to express my sincere gratitude for your steadfast leadership and unwavering commitment to the goal of a fully liberalized aviation relationship between the United States and Germany. You were a cornerstone in the political process in this development.

Looking back to our meeting in July 1995, I have the strong feeling that at that time together we started to tread the path which finally led to this fine agreement.

Your articulate advocacy of the mutual benefits of such a relationship, especially for consumers in both of our countries, continues to be critical in making our open skies accord a reality. I also appreciate your kind words recognizing the special challenge we Germans face in Europe. By working together armed with that understanding, we can convert those challenges to opportunities and, as you have noted yourself, our U.S.-German accord will be the catalyst for expanding the benefits of open skies to Europe as a whole.

In this context I also want to commend the admirable endeavors of your collaborator Mike Korens, whose work for this agreement is outstanding. His great personal commitment and constant monitoring since the very beginning of the process has been rewarded with our final success.

I want to make use of this opportunity, dear Senator Pressler, to also congratulate you on the telecommunications Law which you authored.

I was very sorry to hear that you had to postpone your visit to Germany. Of course I would be delighted to re-schedule your trip in the near future at a time convenient to you.

Sincerely,

MATTHIAS WISSMANN.
