

The mayors and police chiefs of 21 cities in the East Bay are backing the ordinance, hoping to send a signal to legislators.

"Maybe it won't stop smuggling or crime," Mayor Ralph Appezatto said. "Symbolic? Maybe, maybe not. But we've got to try."

Alameda was among seven cities along the I-880 corridor to approve or at least study the junk gun ordinance ban in the first reading of the law this week.

Oakland and Berkeley have given the ban approval on a second reading, which is required for final passage.

REGION TAKES THE LEAD TO CORRAL 'JUNK GUNS'

The new push by Bay Area civic leader's to take "junk guns" out of circulation probably won't take the weapons off the streets altogether. But it is likely to have some success. And it stands as a powerful statement by those who lead our local governments: We've had enough, and we're going to work together, as a region, to solve this problem.

"We are standing together, and sending a message that no matter where you live, in what city or county, violence is there and we need to do something about it," said Berkeley Mayor Shidey Dean, chairwoman of the East Bay Public Safety Corridor Partnership.

The partnership, the largest regional approach to fighting junk guns in the nation, encompasses Fremont, Newark, Union City, Hayward, San Leandro, Alameda, Berkeley, Oakland, Piedmont, Albany, Emeryville, El Cerrito, Richmond, San Pablo and Pinole. Dean wants other cities to join.

San Francisco and Alameda County have already outlawed the weapons, and San Jose is considering a ban.

The regional approach is being taken up by Bay Area politicians who have given up on the federal and state governments. "Politicians on the state and federal level, quite frankly, are afraid of the gun lobby," said Oakland Mayor Elihu Harris.

Junk guns, also known as Saturday night specials, are, generally speaking, poorly constructed and therefore less safe. They also are less expensive to buy. More technical definitions will be refined by those who write the local ordinances banning them. Suffice it to say, junk guns are easy to get and dangerous to use. They are used by gangs and considered status symbols.

BAY AREA HOMICIDES

People are dropping like flies in the Bay Area because of the availability of guns. Between 1991 and 1993, six out of every eight homicides in Alameda County involved a firearm, according to the Alameda County Injury Prevention program. Homicide rates were highest for those between 20 and 24.

If this push is going to succeed, other cities are going to have to climb on board. Several are considering gun bans. We urge them to follow through.

At least one East Bay civic leader, Dublin Mayor Guy Houston, wants no part of the regional gun ban. Using rhetoric that sounds as though it were written for him by the National Rifle Association, Houston eschews a ban on murderous weapons and says tougher penalties are the solution to the gun problem. The "Three Strikes, You're Out" law is taking care of the problem, Houston says.

Tougher penalties are fine, but by themselves they have not done the job. More is needed. At least Houston didn't utter the old NRA line, "Guns don't kill people; people kill people." That's true; people do kill people—with guns. Fewer guns, fewer deaths. ●

AUTHORIZING SENATE LEGAL COUNSEL REPRESENTATION

Mr. DODD. Mr. President, on behalf of the Democratic leader, I send to the desk a resolution to authorize representation by the Senate counsel, and ask for its immediate consideration.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The assistant legislative clerk read as follows:

A resolution (S. Res. 281) to authorize representation by Senate legal counsel.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection to the immediate consideration of the resolution?

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the resolution.

Mr. DASCHLE. Mr. President, the plaintiff in Lockhart versus United States brought a civil action in May 1996 in Federal District Court in the Western District of Washington. The suit is against the United States and a number of legislative, executive, and judicial branch officials, including Senator LOTT and then-Senator Dole, as well as various members of President Clinton's Cabinet. The plaintiff seeks damages for a variety of injuries that he alleges the defendants inflicted upon him. The complaint's only connection with the majority leader and former Senator Dole consists of vague references to statutes that Congress has passed or repealed.

The complaint fails to establish any legitimate grievance with Senator LOTT or Senator Dole. This resolution authorizes the Senate Legal Counsel to represent these Members in this action.

Mr. DODD. I ask unanimous consent the resolution be agreed to, the motion to reconsider be laid on the table.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The resolution (S. Res. 281) was considered and agreed to as follows:

S. RES. 281

Whereas, in the case of James Lockhart v. United States, et al., No. C95-1858Z, pending in the United States District Court for the Western District of Washington, the plaintiff has named Senator Trent Lott and former Senator Robert J. Dole as defendants;

Whereas, pursuant to sections 703(a) and 704(a)(1) of the Ethics in Government Act of 1978, 2 U.S.C. §§288b(a) and 288c(a) (1) (1994), the Senate may direct its counsel to defend its Members in civil actions relating to their official responsibilities; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate Legal Counsel is authorized to represent Senator Lott and former Senator Dole in the case of James Lockhart v. United States, et al.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection to the immediate consideration of the bill?

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the bill which had been reported from the Committee on Labor and Human Resources, with an amendment to strike out all after the enacting clause and inserting in lieu therefore the following:

Mr. COATS. Mr. President, child abuse is a critical issue facing our Nation. Each year, close to 1 million children are abused or neglected and as a result, in need of assistance and out of home care. CAPTA is a small but vital link in the provision of these services.

S. 919, which was unanimously reported by the Senate Labor Committee nearly 1-year ago, streamlines State plan and reporting requirements; eliminates unnecessary research and technical assistance activities; and encourages local innovation through a restructured demonstration program.

Additionally, we have consolidated the Child Abuse Community Based Prevention Grants, Family Resource Centers, Family Support Centers into the Community and Family Resource and Support Grants.

Finally, S. 919 repeals the Temporary Child Care for Children with Disabilities and Crisis Nurseries Act, Title VII (F) of the McKinney Homeless Assistance Act, and the Emergency Child Abuse Prevention Grants.

Mr. President, each day, hundreds of children and families come into contact with, and are affected by, our nation's child protective system. For many, it is a frightening experience. For others—for those on the front lines, it is sometimes an opportunity to rescue children from horrific circumstances.

Unfortunately, the issues facing this overburdened system are seldom easily resolved. Too often—overworked, under paid, untrained, and sometimes overzealous caseworkers have a tremendous and devastating impact on families.

Decisions are routinely made to remove children and place them in foster care—into situations that are sometimes more dangerous than the one they were removed from. Other times, because of mounting paperwork and case files, a serious case goes uninvestigated—or a decision to return a child to an unsafe home is made because there are no more out of home placements available. These are all difficult circumstances that require balance, training, and resources.

Since 1974, CAPTA, through a relatively small program, has assisted states in meeting child protection needs. It is a small, but important program, because it mandates have radically changed how we view child protection.

Unfortunately, not all of these changes have been helpful. CAPTA has, until now, been viewed as a very prescriptive program, with States judged, not on how well they protect children, but on how close they come to mirroring Federal requirements.

The 1995 CAPTA Amendments are an important first step toward addressing some of the problems in CAPTA while at the same time, building upon its strengths. Most experts agree that what CAPTA can do, and do best, is provide guidance to states; assist States with training and technical assistance; and promote better research and dissemination of information while allowing for maximum flexibility in approach and response. With that in mind, S. 919:

Eliminates unnecessary bureaucracy by repealing mandates for a National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect, the U.S. Advisory Board, and the Inter-agency Task force on Child Abuse. Instead, the Secretary may use discretion in deciding whether or not they are an essential function.

Restructures and consolidates various research functions into one coordinated effort.

Places a significant emphasis on local experimentation by expanding Demonstration Grants to encourage local innovation and experimentation. One of these areas involves a triage system approach which we heard very exciting reports about during a Subcommittee on Children and Families hearing. Others include training for mandatory reporters, families, service providers, and communities and a demonstration program for kinship care as an alternative to foster care placements.

Reforms the Basic State Grant by allowing greater flexibility to the States in determining the circumstances and intensity of intervention that is required, while encouraging them to look to other preventative services that can be provided to families, where intensive intervention is not called for.

Determining the appropriate level of intervention is a very important consideration. We have studied closely the numbers of abuse and neglect reports that have been filed. Of the close to 3 million reports that have been filed, only one-third are eventually substantiated. This means that over 2 million are either unsubstantiated or false. And while I know that these numbers and their interpretation are the source of some disagreement, the fact remains that for whatever reason, over 2 million investigations at some level, are occurring, and possibly resulting in inappropriate interventions—including removal of the child from the home.

Members of the Labor Committee may recall the testimony of Jim Wade who spoke of his three year ordeal, in which his daughter was wrongfully removed from his home. I have received many such reports and complaints, and while we should be mindful not to legislate by anecdote, these stories involve real people and are chilling.

With the State grant, we have worked to find ways to improve reporting so that caseworkers are able to assess and effectively respond to cases of abuse and neglect with an appropriate response. S. 919 stresses the importance of case workers using risk assessment procedures to ensure that priority attention is given to those children who are at great risk of harm. I think particularly of the tragic case of Elisa Izquierdo of Brooklyn, the 6 year-old girl brutally murdered by her mother on the day before Thanksgiving this past year. Elisa was well known to the overburdened case workers who were assigned to monitor her, however it appears that they simply didn't have enough time to keep a close watch on Elisa, nor maybe enough training to realize the tremendous seriousness of her situation. S. 919's focus on better training and the use of risk assessment procedures should help to improve the safety of children.

We have also ensured that persons who maliciously file reports of abuse or neglect will not longer be protected by CAPTA's immunity for reporting. Only good faith reports will be protected.

Finally, we have clarified the definition of child abuse or neglect to provide additional guidance and clarification to states as they endeavor to protect children from abuse and neglect.

Let me briefly mention the other programs authorized in the 1995 CAPTA Amendments: the Community and Family Resource Grants is the result of nearly a full year's effort to consolidate the Community Based Prevention Grant, Respite Care Program, and Family Resource Programs; the Family Violence Prevention and Services Act which provides assistance to States primarily for shelters; the Adoption Opportunities Act which supports aggressive efforts to strengthen the capacity of States to find permanent homes for children with special needs; the Abandoned Infants Assistance Act which provides for the needs of children who are abandoned, especially those with AIDS; the Children's Justice Act; and the Missing Children's Assistance Act and Section 214 of the Victims of Child Abuse Act.

Mr. President, I would like to thank the Members for their attention. These are important programs and they will affect many children and families. I urge the adoption of the 1995 CAPTA Amendments.

Mr. ROTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be considered as read, and agreed to, the committee amendment be agreed to, the bill be deemed read a third time, passed, as amended, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, and that any statements relating to the bill be placed at the appropriate place in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment (No. 4926) was agreed to.

The bill (S. 919), as amended, was deemed read a third time, and passed.

(The text of the bill will be printed in a future Edition of the RECORD.)
