

Mr. President, this legislation would place a reasonable sublimit on tailored wool apparel exported through the TPL to the United States by Canada. The size of the TPL would not change, but Canada would be prohibited from using it in a damaging way. This language is necessary because NAFTA eliminated the safeguard for U.S. industries to prevent injurious imports from flooding the U.S. market. Due to NAFTA, the domestic apparel industry has no recourse in stemming the damage caused by Canada while all other industries have this protection. Therefore, legislation is needed to correct this inequity.

Mr. President, I hope this measure can be expeditiously considered to bring relief to the domestic textile and apparel industry.

By Mr. INOUE (for himself, Mr. MCCAIN and Mr. AKAKA):

S. 1983. A bill to amend the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act to provide for native Hawaiian organizations, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

THE NATIVE AMERICAN GRAVES PROTECTION AND REPATRIATION ACT AMENDMENT ACT OF 1996

Mr. INOUE. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce a bill, cosponsored by Senators MCCAIN and AKAKA, which would amend the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act to clarify certain provisions of that act as they pertain to native Hawaiian organizations.

In 1990, the Congress enacted the native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act [NAGPRA] to address the growing concern among Indian tribes, Alaska Native villages, and native Hawaiian organizations associated with the disposition of thousands of native American human remains and religious objects currently in the possession of museums and Federal agencies.

The act requires museums and Federal agencies in the possession of such cultural items to compile inventories and written summaries of human remains, associated and unassociated funerary objects, sacred objects, and objects of cultural patrimony.

The act further establishes a process governing the repatriation of such items to appropriate Indian tribes or native Hawaiian organizations.

In the years since its enactment, native Hawaiians have been at the forefront in the repatriation of ancestral remains.

Hundreds of native Hawaiian kupuna (ancestors) have been returned to Hawaii—released from the confines of over twenty museums in the United States, Canada, Switzerland, and Australia—and returned to the lands of their birth.

Despite these accomplishments, native Hawaiian organizations have experienced great difficulty in ensuring the act's implementation—ironically, not abroad—but in Hawaii.

In written testimony submitted to the Committee on Indian Affairs by Hui Malama I Na Kupuna O Hawaii Nei, a Hawaiian organization recognized under the act, for a December 9, 1995, oversight hearing on the act, a number of concerns were raised—concerns which this bill seeks to address, namely—the lack of written consent where native American remains are excavated or removed for purposes of study; following an inadvertent discovery of remains, the lack of assurances that the removal of native American remains will adhere to the same requirements as an intentional excavation; and the lack of notification to native Hawaiian organizations when inadvertent discoveries are made of native American human remains on Federal lands.

As one of the original sponsors of the act, it is my view that the amendments which I propose are consistent with the original purpose, spirit, and intent of NAGPRA, and are necessary to clarify the existing law.

It is my expectation that, if adopted, these amendments will ensure better cooperation by Federal agencies in the implementation of the act in the State of Hawaii.

The responsibility born by those who choose, or who are called upon to care for the remains of their ancestors is a heavy one.

By acting favorably on this measure, I hope that we can assist these individuals and organizations as they continue in their efforts to bring their ancestors home.

Mr. President, I thank you for this time today, and I urge my colleagues to support this bill when it comes before the Senate for consideration.
