BABY SAFETY SHOWER

HON. RODNEY P. FRELINGHUYSEN

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, July 24, 1997

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN. Mr. Speaker, on July 21, 1997, I hosted an event in my district, the details of which I would like to share with you and my colleagues.

The event, a Baby Safety Shower, was developed by the Consumer Product Safety Commission to help good parents become even better parents, and good grandparents become even better grandparents. I was certainly pleased to have Ann Brown, Chair of the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission [CPSC], as my guest at Morristown Memorial Hospital to share some of her extensive knowledge of consumer product safety issues with new and expectant mothers, grandparents, pediatricians, and child care providers in New Jersey.

I can tell you that when I learned about the CPSC's Baby Safety Shower program, I decided immediately that it was something that I would like to share with my constituents. As I well know, as a parent myself, babies do not come with instruction manuals and even the best new parents need to learn how to take care of their babies.

We know how much new parents want this kind of information, and CPSC has already given out over a quarter million baby safety checklists, containing safety tips that can save a baby's life, to parents around the country. Most people don't know that many of the everyday items in their homes can be hazardous to a baby, nor do they realize the extent of harm that these hidden hazards can cause.

Ann Brown shared several of the most common items with us in her presentation. For example, many individuals would never think that an old crib with sentimental value could be deadly for a new baby. To the contrary, old and previously used cribs are involved in the deaths of about 50 infants each year. To prevent these unnecessary deaths, CPSC has an abundance of information that can be used to identify these hazards.

The event was cosponsored by the New Jersey Department of Health and Senior Services. Dr. Leah Ziskin, Deputy Commissioner of Child Health, served as my cohost and offered her expertise on child health issues. The Department of Health and Senior Services offered new mothers important information on lead poisoning prevention.

I chose to host the event at Morristown Memorial Hospital to add a health emphasis on the day as well. The 11th District has a wealth of talented pediatricians and Morristown Memorial Hospital has one of the finest pediatrics and maternal health programs in the area. I want to thank Morristown Memorial and their staff for all of their assistance in planning the event and making the day run smoothly, including Dick Oths, Jeanne McMahon, Carol Paul, Dr. Kathleen Baker, Dr. Abraham Risk, Alan Robinson, Marcus DePontes, and Vicki Allen.

I would like to also thank the hospital for their excellent and informative presentations on the "TraumaRoo" program, Sudden Infant Death Syndrome, the Women, Infants, and Children [WIC] nutrition program, and Childhood Immunizations. The new or expectant mothers that I spoke with at the event were thrilled with all of the information that was made available through these displays.

Further, the 11th District has a wealth of companies that manufacture important products to keep infants and children healthy. I would like to thank Johnson and Johnson, founding sponsor of the New Jersey State Safety Council and the New Jersey State Safe Kids Campaign, American Home Products, the Warner Lambert Co., and Discovery Toys for their generous contributions of products and information that they made available to all the attendees.

Finally, I consider myself and the 11th District privileged to work with Kathy Ross, executive director of Child and Family Resources, who was also a great help in coordinating the event, sharing information on the "Rethinking the Brain" campaign, and reaching out to parents and child care providers alike.

I am hopeful that the information that was made available at the Baby Safety Shower will prevent accidents and harm to infants and children in my State. I am also optimistic that the day's events will be replicated by some of the individuals in attendance so that these important points will reach even more new parents and grandparents in our area and around the country.

THE CLINICAL LABORATORY IMPROVEMENT ACT AMENDMENTS OF 1997

HON. BILL ARCHER

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, July 24, 1997

Mr. ARCHER. Mr. Speaker, I am introducing the Clinical Laboratory Improvement Act Amendments of 1997 [CLIA '97], a bill identical to H.R. 1386 which had 131 cosponsors in the 104th Congress. H.R. 1386 was included in the House passed Balanced Budget Act of 1995 but was dropped by the Senate on a budget point of order. Like its predecessor, this legislation exempts physicians' office laboratories from the Clinical Laboratory Improvements Act of 1988 [CLIA '88], reduces the burdens on physicians who perform laboratory tests in their offices and consequently improves patient care while lowering patient costs. Also like its predecessor, this legislation would continue the regulation of any laboratory that performs pap smear analysis.

CLIA '88 has created enormous barriers to quality medical services for millions of Americans. Thousands of physicians have had to discontinue all or some portion of essential office laboratory testing, including tests for pregnancy and rapid strep. This creates a barrier to patient compliance with treatment protocols and subsequently causes patient inconvenience. For example, in those offices which have discontinued testing, a patient must now be referred to an outside laboratory to have the specimen taken and tested. This poses a substantial hardship for many patients, most notably the elderly, the disabled, and families who live in underserved areas. Oftentimes these patients cannot travel to or find someone to take them to these facilities. The result is that they do not obtain the necessary test which may interfere with their treatment or they go to a hospital emergency room when they become sicker and where the costs of testing are much greater.

CLIA '97 is an essential part of the Congress' continued efforts to provide affordable and quality health care to millions of Americans. CLIA '88 has added billions of dollars to the cost of healthcare and has significantly increased the Federal Government's expenditures for laboratory services. In the first 5 years following the enactment of CLIA '88, Medicare expenditures for laboratory services increased $3.1 billion or 110 percent to $5.9 billion annually. Last year, an independent analysis conducted by the Health Care Financing Administration's [HCFA] former Chief Actuary, using HCFA's own methodology, found that the Federal Government could save $800 million to $1.4 billion over the next 7 years by exempting physician office testing from CLIA '88.

I hope that my colleagues, on both sides of the aisle, will join me in supporting this legislation which will reduce health care costs and improve the ability of patients to receive appropriate laboratory tests conveniently and in a timely fashion.

DEPARTMENTS OF VETERANS AFFAIRS AND HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT, AND INDEPENDENT AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 1998

SPEECH OF

HON. CAROLYN C. KILPATRICK

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, July 16, 1997

The House in Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union had under consideration the bill (H.R. 2158) making appropriations for the Departments of Veterans Affairs and Housing and Urban Development, and for sundry independent agencies, commissions, corporations, and offices for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1998, and for other purposes:

Ms. KILPATRICK. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the Foley-Bachus-Miller amendment to freeze the community development financial institutions [CDFI] fund at fiscal year 1997 levels, that was considered recently in debate on VA/HUD appropriation bill and support the level reported by the committee.

The CDFI Program was established in 1994 at the request of President Clinton and received bipartisan support. Public money from the CDFI is leveraged with private capital to increase much needed investment in distressed urban and rural communities. The purpose of CDFI is to provide technical assistance, loans, and grants to institutions and programs such as micro-loan funds, venture capital funds, community development banks, and low income credit unions. These ventures are purely established for the purpose of serving underserved communities and populations and are filling the void left by traditional lenders in urban and rural communities.

The Bank Enterprise Act, [BEA] which receives one-third of the funds appropriated to CDFI, rewards traditional financial institutions that serve the credit needs of distressed communities. The money from CDFI is used to create new jobs, promote small businesses, and build affordable housing.

Congress authorized nearly $400 million for CDFI between fiscal year 1995 and fiscal year 1998. As part of the budget agreement, the President prevailed in increasing the authorization to $125 million for fiscal year 1998.

CDFI and BEA have issued one round of awards. Out of 268 applicants requesting over $300 million last year, CDFI selected 31 community development organizations to receive $35 million. BEA awarded 38 banks and thrifts $13.1 million. The demand for increased funding is evident by the level of interest that has been displayed by the increase in applicants and it is apparent that there is a lack of capital in the communities these institutions serve.

It has been alleged that the CDFI fund has no demonstrable record of success and raises questions about its practices in selecting grantees. After reviewing these allegations, the VA-HUD Appropriations Subcommittee and the full Appropriations Committee dismissed the charges. The subcommittee said in its report "the Committee wholeheartedly endorses the goals of the program" and voted to appropriate the full administration budget request.

I would like to further expand on the merits of the CDFI program by citing an example from the district which I represent. The Shore Bank Corp. received $3 million from the CDFI program that were matched with $8 million of private funds. These funds will go toward a new effort for a comprehensive community development bank holding company with a strategic plan to revitalize a well defined investment area on the east side of Detroit. This presents a promising approach to achieve large-scale community revitalization in Detroit.

The Detroit holding company, which is being established in stages, is designed to have three subsidiaries. One, a full service bank in the target area, is providing small business loans and housing loans to minority entrepreneurs and can leverage its equity many times over through deposits. The second a for-profit real estate development company, will initially focus on the development of 500 affordable houses to homeownership in a 30-square block area. The third, a nonprofit enterprise development affiliate, will have three functions—small business assistance to strengthen small manufacturers in the region and businesses in the target area, creation of a labor force development strategy to link potential workers with employers' skill needs, and homebuyer training and prepurchase services for first time homebuyers. Mr. Chairman, these services are much needed in my district, and in fact I wish I could have more financial institutions in my district with the same objective and purpose.

It has also been suggested that CDFI was making awards based on connections to the Clinton administration. In a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Robert Rubin, more than 220 CDFI's around the country said that recipients of the first round awards include "some of the strongest CDFI's in the field" and called the funds's evaluation process "exhaustive, competitive, and careful, assessing the management strength, systems, and business planning of each applicant."

Shore Bank has pioneered the field of community development finance, for over 25 years. Their work has attracted bipartisan national and international support. Mr. Chairman, I strongly urge all of my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to oppose the Foley-Bachus-Miller amendment.

AMERICAN CHEMICAL INDUSTRY

HON. BENJAMIN A. GILMAN

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, July 24, 1997

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, today, I am introducing 11 duty suspensions that should promote international commerce and improve the productivity of our American chemical industry. They include three general product categories. Four of the requests are in the category of antioxidant products which protect against heat damage during the manufacturing of finished products. Five are in the category of photoinitiators permitting the curing of varnishes and paints by ultraviolet light. And the remaining two are in the category of corrosion inhibitors.

OUTSTANDING HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS FROM THE FIRST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF NEW MEXICO

HON. STEVEN SCHIFF

OF NEW MEXICO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, July 24, 1997

Mr. SCHIFF. Mr. Speaker, the following graduating high school students from the First Congressional District of New Mexico have been awarded the Congressional Certificate of Merit. These students have excelled during their academic careers and proven themselves to be exceptional students and leaders with their scholastic achievements, community service, and participation in school and civic activities. It is my pleasure to be able to recognize these outstanding students for their accomplishments. Their parents, their teachers, their classmates, the people of New Mexico and I are proud of them.HDCertificate of Merit Award Winners 1997

TRIBUTE TO AN ANGEL

HON. COLLIN C. PETERSON

OF MINNESOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, July 24, 1997

Mr. PETERSON of Minnesota. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to an angel.

As you are aware, my district in Minnesota has been devastated by blizzards and floods for several months this past spring. The worst damage has occurred in East Grand Forks, the little city in the big flood. I was there when the dikes were breaking and we have been there ever since trying to help this brave community come back from this disastrous event.

The physical damage was an awesome sight and the water refused to recede for day after endless day. Mr. Speaker, I cannot begin to tell you the sadness we felt as we watched their hearts breaking, or the pride as we watched them struggle not to fall into despair.

And when circumstances were still at their bleakest, there appeared an angel. An anonymous donor of such generosity that all of us were astounded by her actions. A gentlewoman from another state gave the citizens of Grand Forks and East Grand Forks a total of $15 million, to be given out in the sum of $2,000 to each household that was evacuated by air raid sirens and lost property to the raging Red River. No other criteria. No strings attached. No delay allowed. She asked only that there be no red tape to the process and to remain anonymous.

I will always honor her wishes. So I use this forum to tell our angel, thank you. The impact was beautiful and immediate. The families were and remain moved to tears by your selfless actions. The community itself rose to a new level of courage and strength of purpose because of you. You fed their spirits and restored their souls.

This city will rise again, recover and rebuild and become a finer, stronger community. Of this there is no doubt in my mind. But it will not be because of a new downtown, or a new housing development, rebuilt schools, or a revitalized business sector. East Grand Forks will become a stronger community because you opened your heart to them in their darkest hour. You believed them worthy of a future. They will now believe it themselves. And they have learned from you, angel, they have learned that there is no shame in receiving help, and great joy in giving it. They will remember you for all their lives. As will I.

You have made a difference in our lives, and perhaps that is the highest achievement a person can attain on this earth. So I join the citizens of East Grand Forks in heartfelt thanks to you, our angel. We will never forget you.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. KAREN MCCARTHY

OF MISSOURI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, July 24, 1997

Ms. MCCARTHY of Missouri. Mr. Speaker, on rollcall No. 307, I was unavoidably detained at the White House.

Had I been present, I would have voted "nay."
