

abused or neglected. Each year, an estimated 2,000 children—most under the age of 4—die at the hands of parents or caretakers.

A study shows that abused children are more likely to commit crimes both as juveniles and as adults. Abused children are more prone to commit a violent crime during their lives. It is also more probable for abused children to grow up and abuse their children, starting the whole cycle over again. Congress must take action to end this cycle of abuse and crime that ruins the lives of thousands of our children.

Some states and communities have found a solution that has proven 99 percent successful in preventing child abuse and neglect among those families most at-risk. Modeled after a program pioneered by the State of Hawaii, these programs utilize existing social services to provide counseling to at-risk families that volunteer to participate in the program.

Today, I am introducing the same bipartisan legislation that I introduced in the last Congress to create the Healthy Families Initiative. This bill would enable the Federal Government to help States and communities that decide to create one of these programs. Simply put, my bill would make Healthy Families programs eligible for funding as crime prevention programs under the 1994 Crime bill—at no new cost to the Federal Government.

This legislation is an innovative way to help communities fight child abuse, and has many substantial benefits. My bill helps programs that have proven effective preventing child abuse. Healthy Families programs have a solid record of success in the State of Hawaii and in communities across the Nation, including Port Angeles, in the district I represent.

This bill will create no new bureaucracy and no new programs within the Department of Justice. Most importantly, no new costs will be created by my legislation—Congress will not be required to spend one additional dollar on this program. This bill will merely enable programs to compete for existing crime prevention grant moneys. Also, qualifying programs are required to coordinate with other organizations to avoid duplication of services.

States and communities will retain control. This bill will give them a hand, but States and communities will still be in charge of their own programs.

I would like to thank each of the 21 Representatives and delegates from around the country for cosponsoring this bipartisan initiative. I urge every Member to support this strong, bipartisan solution to one of the most damaging problems afflicting our children.

HONORING PHILLIP W. LACY AND METHODIST HOSPITAL OF HOUSTON

HON. KEN BENTSEN

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 3, 1997

Mr. BENTSEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize the tremendous contributions that Phillip W. Lacy and Methodist Hospital of Houston have made to the fight against AIDS in Houston and across the Nation. I congratulate them as they are honored by the national AIDS Action Foundation at a dinner in Houston this Thursday, September 4, 1997, for their leadership, courage, and commitment in the fight against HIV and AIDS. Phil Lacy and Methodist Hospital are certainly deserving of this honor.

Phil Lacy has been on the front lines of every battle against AIDS and is a tremendous advocate for people living with HIV and AIDS. He has lent his time, talent, commitment, and energy to countless local and national organizations and events, serving as the founder, leader, and organizer of many. It is rare that a host committee or a board of directors does not include Phil's name. But Phil is not only a supporter, but an active participant in these causes, especially in the tireless work of raising the funds necessary to turn dreams into reality.

Phil Lacy has organized or served organizations such as the Houston Black Tie Dinner, Inc., DIFFA/Houston, AIDS Action Foundation, American Foundation for AIDS Research, HIV Medical Care Fund, Inc., Bering Community Service Foundation, the Montrose Clinic, the NAMES Project, and the Texas Human Rights Foundation. An honors graduate of the University of Texas School of Law and a member of the State Bar of Texas, he has also provided pro-bono legal advice to numerous community organizations, including those dealing with HIV and AIDS.

Phil Lacy has truly made a difference in fighting AIDS and helping those facing the challenge of living with HIV and AIDS. His dedication has won him admiration and respect not only in Houston, but across the Nation, as exemplified by this recognition from the AIDS Action Foundation.

Methodist Hospital has also demonstrated tremendous commitment to helping people living with HIV and AIDS. Methodist has set the standard for giving back to the community through its generosity both to the Bering Community Service Foundation and to the SEARCH Project for the Homeless for their Tiny Treasures Program. Methodist has dedicated funds, resources, and time to help these organizations provide direct care to Houston's HIV/AIDS populations, including dental care, adult day care, and pediatric AIDS care. Methodist is a national example of how to effectively target resources for the maximum benefit in addressing the multiple health care challenges of AIDS.

Phil Lacy and the dedicated staff of Methodist Hospital remind all of us of the ways we can become involved and make a difference in the fight against AIDS.

TRIBUTE TO RADIO STATION WGAP

HON. JOHN J. DUNCAN, JR.

OF TENNESSEE

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 3, 1997

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, while we were on our district work period in August, radio station WGAP of Maryville, TN, celebrated a great milestone—its 50th anniversary.

Local radio stations are very important to this Nation. They not only help our citizens stay informed, but they also help promote the local economy and support the general well-being and cohesiveness of a community. WGAP has certainly done this, and has provided great community service to the citizens of Maryville and throughout Blount County.

In a day when many people do not stay with one company for very long and loyalty is not regarded as highly as it once was, I especially want to call attention to and commend the career of Carl Wells. Mr. Wells has been with WGAP from the very first day and has certainly been instrumental in keeping this station on the air and successful over the years. Not many small businesses are able to survive for this many years, and I want to congratulate station owner Steve Corbitt and all of those who have worked for this outstanding radio station over the years.

Walker Johnson wrote a very interesting and informative article about a small part of the history of this station for the August 15, 1997, Knoxville News Sentinel. I would like to call this article to the attention of my colleagues and other readers of the RECORD.

[From the Knoxville News Sentinel, Aug 15, 1997]

WGAP PROUD OF ITS SPORTS HERITAGE
(By Walker Johnson)

Maryville's WGAP turned 50 years old Aug. 13. To get a true historical perspective of the station, I talked with a group of men who had been connected with WGAP from the beginning. When I asked them about the station's sports history, they all told the same story.

WGAP was the first member of the Vol Network. Steve Corbitt, third owner of the station, said that when Lindsey Nelson and University of Tennessee Coach Robert Neyland formed the Vol radio network, the Knoxville flagship station was WKGN, but due to a certain sponsor, WGAP was to be included in the first broadcast. The first sponsor on the Vol Network was Aluminum Company of America, and the execs there told Nelson the Maryville station had to be included in the broadcast or they would not sponsor the games.

Over the next five decades, WGAP carried the Vols, Maryville College football, the Brooklyn Dodgers, NASCAR and high school sports. The local sports announcer positions have been held by Tom Lyons, Ken Kribbs, Pete Williams, Steve Corbitt and Maryville's mayor, "Skeeter" Shields. Glen Morton is currently doing local play-by-play.

The fuel that has kept WGAP running over the past 50 years had been their wide and loyal client base. Carl Wells started with the station on Day One and is still selling advertising. Wells told me he has about 20 clients on his list, and he tries to touch base with most of them every day.

My father, Charles W. Johnson, held the title of the longest-running client of the station until he retired in the late 1970s. Dad's show fired up at 6:45 every morning, and the theme song was Eddy Arnold's "Cattle Call."

If you are not familiar with the tune, let me inform you: It starts cold with Eddy yodeling. I cannot begin to describe the mental state that can be induced by a clock radio awakening someone from a sound sleep to the sound of a long, high, drifting yodel.

I knew the show was working when my first-grade teacher, Mrs. Timmons, asked her class to stand and introduce themselves. When I stood up and proudly said, "Walker Johnson, and my daddy has the J&K Super Stores," that yodel drifted up from the back row.

Carl was my dad's account executive. Today the title of longest-running account in held by Maryville Furniture, and Carl is also their link to the station. A strictly unconfirmed report places Carl's age at 81; if that is true he holds seniority over every broadcast account executive I've ever known.

There is a absolutely no way I can begin to cover the entire history of WGAP in two short columns. An entire book could be written about the Sunday live broadcasts when preachers and singers would lift the roof off the station.

Another chapter could tell of the station's involvement with Blount County's "Hillbilly Homecoming" and how WGAP provided emcees to introduce such acts as the Lennon Sisters, Pat Boone, Red Foley and Patsy Cline.

And somewhere in that book there might be a tiny paragraph about a fine-looking 22-year-old announcer who was discovered by the station through the help of his father, who just happened to be their oldest advertiser.

WGAP is a classic example of the need to preserve our broadcast heritage before the memories and the pioneers all fade away.

I promised you last week I would tell about the cherry-bombing of the Blount County Courthouse. I'll give you the Cliffs Notes version.

When the station was across from the courthouse, a certain current station owner and a former Blount County politico and pizza proprietor came to the realization that the Blount County jail was well within sling-shot range.

Late one evening a fine and accurate sling was procured, along with a number of cherry bombs. Yardage was carefully calculated, windage checked, and repeated launchings commenced.

Heavily armed officers charged out of the jail doors, looking for the gun battle that must be taking place in the street. The launch team quickly faded back into the shadows of WGAP, and to this day, their identity is a deeply guarded secret.

QUICK TAKES

WMYU's morning co-host is leaving the station. Dean Scott told me he is running two businesses, and he just ran out of time for radio. Scott said his last day on the air will be Aug. 22.

Account executive Jamie Lewis has also resigned from WMYU; she will be the sales manager for Praise 96.3 WJBZ.

My 102 Boomsday activities will not include the My 102 Boomsday 5K race on Saturday, Aug. 30. Promotions Director Mary Deschamps said the station has expanded the program to such an extent on the day of the show that they will no longer do the race.

TRIBUTE TO JUDITH AND ARTHUR HIRSHBERG

HON. HOWARD L. BERMAN

OF CALIFORNIA

HON. BRAD SHERMAN

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 3, 1997

Mr. BERMAN. Mr. Speaker, my colleague Mr. SHERMAN and I are honored to pay tribute to my good friends Judith and Arthur Hirshberg, who are receiving the 1997 Annual Achievement Award from Action Democrats of the San Fernando Valley. We cannot think of any two people more deserving of an award that recognizes party loyalty and community involvement.

Judith has spent much of her life involved in politics and civic causes. She began her career in Massachusetts, where she was president of the Swampscott Chapter of the League of Women Voters.

After moving to California Judith became a member of the Wednesday Committee, a Los Angeles County organization of women's PAC's. She is also vice president of Penny Lane, a residential treatment facility for emotionally disturbed and abused adolescents, and vice president of Project Focus, a drug and alcohol abuse education center.

Judith is probably best known for having spent the past 9 years as a deputy for Los Angeles city councilman Marvin Braude, who retired in 1997. Before that she worked for former Los Angeles mayor Tom Bradley. Through the years Judith used her political positions to help many people and organizations.

Arthur displays a similar devotion to his community. He was a board member of YEOP, the youth program administered by the EDD. In the aftermath of the Los Angeles riots, he served on President Bush's Commission on Los Angeles riot relief. Arthur is also a board member of the Valley Jewish Business Leaders Association, a support group for the Jewish Home for the Aging.

We ask our colleagues to join us today in saluting Arthur and Judith Hirshberg, whose dedication to politics and their community is a shining example to us all. These are two people who have truly made a difference.

HONORING THE 100TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE PARISH OF THE NATIVITY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY, WILLIMANSETT, MA

HON. RICHARD E. NEAL

OF MASSACHUSETTS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, September 3, 1997

Mr. NEAL of Massachusetts. Mr. Speaker, it is a privilege for me to have this opportunity to congratulate both the Roman Catholic Diocese of Springfield and the Parish of the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary in Willimansett, MA as they celebrate their 100th anniversary. Representing and serving the parishioners of this church is indeed an honor. The Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary has responded tremendously to the needs of its ever expanding faith community. Providing a strong foundation of Christian values for its spiritual community and offering a forum for Christian worship, this parish has generously given 100 years of devoted service to the residents of Willimansett and beyond. I am proud to share the history of this fine parish as I submit the following historical notes in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

PARISH OF THE NATIVITY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY, WILLIMANSETT (CHICOPEE) MA

HISTORICAL NOTES

THE FOUNDATION

Until 1894, Catholics living in Willimansett travelled either to Holy Name Parish, Chicopee Center, or to Saint Joachim's (now Saint George's) in Chicopee Falls, to fulfill their religious obligations. In the summer of that year, however, representatives of local families petitioned The Right Reverend Thomas Daniel Beaven, Bishop of Springfield, to establish a mission church in the village. The Bishop readily agreed to their request, and delegated Father Alexis Delphos, Pastor of Saint Joachim, to found the mission. Father Delphos rented Perreault Hall, on Olivine Street, as a temporary chapel. On Sunday, December 23, 1894, three Masses were said in the chapel, the first by Father McCoy, Pastor of Holy Name, the others by Father Delphos.

The following year, the catholic population of Willimansett had grown sufficiently to consider establishing a parish with resident pastor. September 1st 1897, Bishop Beaven named Father Hormisdas Hamelin as pastor of the new parish, which would serve the Catholics of the districts of Willimansett and Aldenville. September 12, 1897, Sunday within the Octave of the patronal feast, the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Father Hamelin was officially installed in his new parish.

THE EARLY YEARS

During the twelve years he spent in Willimansett, Father Hamelin was to oversee the construction, in 1898, of a parish church as the corner of Chicopee and Newton Streets; in 1901, that of a rectory. Soon, the pastoral needs of the two districts required the opening of a mission church in Aldenville, and the naming of a curate, Father Peter Higgins.

In 1909, Father Hamelin was named to the pastorate of Notre Dame Parish, in Adams. He was replaced by the Reverend Doctor James Francis McGillicuddy, who served as pastor of Nativity until 1916. Father McGillicuddy purchased the church bell which has since been placed in the bell tower of the new church. He was replaced by Father Emilien Delage, who remained Pastor until his death in 1919.

Father Delage was succeeded by Father Louis Arthur Simard. From the time he arrived at Nativity, Father Simard began a campaign to build a parochial school. To this end, he obtained title to the land adjoining the rectory, between Newton and Division Streets. On September 5, 1922, Our Lady of Mount Carmel School was opened, under the supervision of the Sisters of the Presentation of Mary. At first, the Sisters were lodged in the school, using classrooms converted into chapel, community room, dining
