HONORING A DISTINGUISHED PUBLIC SERVANT, WESTCHESTER COUNTY EXECUTIVE, ANDREW P. O'ROURKE

HON. BENJAMIN A. GILMAN

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. GILMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am proud to salute Andrew P. O'Rourke, a public servant who has distinguished himself as one of New York's most outstanding community leaders.

With his recent decision to retire from his position as Westchester County Executive, Andy O'Rourke leaves a legacy of goodwill, Responsiveness and genuine concern for the citizens of Westchester. This is highlighted by the many community groups, such as the Westchester Arts Council, that are now calling attention to the success of Andy's 14-year administration as county executive.

The people of Westchester have been privileged to have had a stellar county leader like Andy O'Rourke. Since he began his public career in 1965 as a representative on the Yonkers City Council, through his time as chairman of the board of county legislators, and finally his tenure as Westchester's county executive, it is clear that Andy has maintained a sincere desire to serve the best interests of his constituents. Every resident of Westchester County can take pride in knowing that such a concerned leader was looking out for them.

However, Andy is not just a public servant. He is a playwright and author, having published two novels and is recently finishing a third. Andy is also an educator, having taught students in the 1970's as a law professor at Fordham University. He has also served in the important role of humanitarian in his work with the Cardinal Newman Foundation of New York, Big Brother-Big Sisters, and campaigns to fight AIDS, drunk driving, and racism.

It is the humanitarian role that has possibly drawn the greatest and most rewarding accolades for this great citizen. The outstanding service of Andy O'Rourke has been recognized over the years by the Jewish National Fund with the tree of life award, and as the 1986 B'nai B'rith man of the year. Other honors have been bestowed by Long Island University, the National Conference of Christians and Jews, the Greater Westchester Human Rights Fund, Bar-Ilan University of Tel Aviv, and the Westchester-Putnam Affirmative Action Program.

While this list is long, it is also diverse and well deserved. Andy O'Rourke has demonstrated love and compassion for his neighbors and their communities. I am proud to have known and worked with Andy O'Rourke. Having represented a portion of Westchester County since 1982, I know how committed Andy has been to the citizens of Westchester. We all regret that he is retiring from his position as County Executive, but we can look back with admiration at the significant work he has accomplished.

Mr. Speaker, I invite my colleagues to join with me in saluting the Honorable Andy O'Rourke and wishing him and his family continued success and good health in the years to come.

TRIBUTE TO LOIS J. CARSON

HON. GEORGE E. BROWN, JR.

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. BROWN of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Lois J. Carson's years of outstanding achievement and service to the San Bernardino and Riverside communities, and to bid her a fond farewell as she retires from more than 20 years of service on the board of trustees for the San Bernardino Community College District.

Mrs. Carson has dedicated her professional, and much of her personal life to helping improve the lives of those most in need in our community by promoting education and fighting poverty. Her early days as a teacher in San Bernardino County marked the beginnings of an admirable and illustrious career that has truly made a difference in the lives of many.

Mrs. Carson, the first African-American to be elected to the San Bernardino Community College District board, has served since 1973. During her tenure, she has served twice as clerk, vice-president, and president, and as a result of her leadership, the college district now offers a child care center, the Minority Transfer Center, and Community Forms—Vision 2001. She has greatly impacted higher education not only in her district, but also on the national level, serving on the board of the Association of Community College Trustees (ACCT). In 1991, Mrs. Carson was recognized by ACCT as the top trustee in the U.S. with the M. Dale Ensing Award.

In addition to her work in the San Bernardino Community College District, Mrs. Carson served as the director of Project Upward Bound at the University of California at Riverside from 1972 to 1976, and, since 1980, has served as the director of the Department of Community Action for Riverside County. She has led the agency, whose mission is to move families out of poverty, in developing innovative, high quality community action programs for female-headed households, for minority males, for the homeless, and for all low-income residents of Riverside County.

Mrs. Carson's dedication to promoting education and fighting poverty also involves extensive community involvement. She is one of the founders of the San Bernardino Commission on the Status of Women, the Inland Empire chapter of the National Council of Negro Women [NCNW] and the Diocesan Assembly for African-American Catholics.

While she will be sorely missed on the San Bernardino Community College District board, Lois Carson has left a remarkable legacy and her work will benefit the district for many years to come. She has given, and continues to give, an invaluable amount of dedication and expertise to the people of the San Bernardino and Riverside communities, and serves as an example for us all.

SALLIE WILLIAMS, A GOOD CHRISTIAN WOMAN

HON. DONALD M. PAYNE

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. PAYNE. Mr. Speaker, Sunday, October 26, marked the Annual Women's Day program at my church, Bethlehem Missionary Baptist Church in Newark, NJ. The church and its faithful congregation are led by our progressive pastor, Rev. Toney Jackson. Occasions such as this are used to recognize those persons who make a positive difference in the lives of a church family. I am proud to inform you that Mrs. Sallie P. Williams, my aunt, was afforded this honor this year.

Aunt Sallie, as she is known by both her relatives and her church family, has been a member of Bethlehem Missionary Baptist Church for 65 years, since 1932. A deaconess since 1951, she has served as a member of the Willing Workers, the Progressive Women's Guild, and head of the church kitchen.

As a young woman, Aunt Sallie learned photography and that was her career for over 30 years. She is a good Christian woman who has served as a stalwart role model for many young people.

Aunt Sallie has always been deeply respected as the matriarch of our family, a kind-hearted and generous person with a special love of children. Following the untimely death of my mother during my boyhood, Aunt Sallie welcomed me into her home, along with my siblings.

She and her late husband, Lincoln, had a strong and beautiful marriage spanning many decades. They were totally devoted to each other, the embodiment of true family values.

Aunt Sallie has won the respect of all who know her through her strength of character, sense of purpose and commitment to her community.

I know my colleagues join me in extending congratulations and best wishes to a person of whom I am so proud, Sallie P. Williams.

COLD WAR MEMORIAL

HON. THOMAS M. DAVIS

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to introduce legislation creating a cold war memorial. This bill will authorize a commission to establish a memorial to honor the military and civilian personnel of the Department of Defense, members of the intelligence community, members of the foreign service, and others who served the United States in pursuit of its cold war aims. This legislation will also commemorate the involvement of the United States in that conflict.

Mr. Speaker, I believe that this legislation is important, not only because it honors the people who valiantly fought the cold war, but will help future generations understand and learn about one of the most dangerous times in American history. The cold war may not have been as intense as World War II or as widely viewed as the Vietnam war, but it was just as real and just as dangerous. The United States officially entered this conflict on March 12, 1947 and won it on December 31, 1991 at the stroke of midnight. During that time, America saw the creation of the Central Intelligence Agency [CIA], and the implementation of both the Marshall plan, and the Truman doctrine.

Mr. Speaker, the cold war was a war that the United States won. It took 50 years to win, but it showed the whole world what we have always known, that a democratic form of government will outlast a communist form of government. As we look at the world now we see that the former Eastern bloc countries are democratic and are now becoming partners with the United States in a whole host of issues. This would not have been possible without these cold war warriors tremendous efforts. This in itself is reason to erect a monument.

Mr. Speaker, it is my hope that all of my colleagues will support the passage of this legislation.

STATEMENT ON THE DEATH OF WALTER HOLDEN CAPPS

HON. BILL LUTHER

OF MINNESOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. LUTHER. Mr. Speaker, we all lost a friend last week with the passing of Representative Walter Capps. Walter's untimely death, coming without warning, reminds us of the fragility of life. Even though he was only here in the House for 10 months, Walter and I spent quite a bit of time together. Our committee assignments, Science, and International Relations, were identical and we also served together on the Science Subcommittees on Basic Research, and Space and Aeronautics. Walter's positive outlook, passion for service and tireless sense of humor helped make sometimes lengthy committee proceedings seem to go just a little quicker. I'm going to miss Walter Capps not just because he was a friend and a genuinely good guy but also because he was the kind of person we need more of in Congress. I am also a new person to this institution, having arrived here just 2 years before Walter and I know that he was committed to doing everything he could to change the public perception and the private reality of Congress. He was a reformer in the truest sense of the word—a person dedicated to making Government work better for our employers, the people. Our hearts and prayers go out to his wife Lois, his children Lisa, Todd, and Laura, and the people he represented. We know you'll miss him so much and we will too.

WELCOMING THE WORLD RE- KNOWNED ST. MICHAEL'S BOY'S CHOIR TO WASHINGTON, DC

HON. JAMES V. HANSEN

OF UTAH

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. HANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this opportunity to announce that some very talented young individuals will visit the House of Representatives in early December to honor us with a short musical performance in the Cannon Caucus Room. The St. Michael's Boy's Choir, representing the St. Michael's Boy's Choir School from Toronto, Canada, is visiting the Washington, DC area and has agreed to perform a Christmas medley the afternoon of December 5.

Mr. Speaker, please allow me to pass along some words of praise for this fine group of young people.

Canada's St. Michael's Choir School has been internationally acclaimed and is considered to have one of the finest boy's choirs in the world. The 150 boys who made up the choir represent over 40 different ethnic groups, and they come from many countries.

The choir school, located in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, offers training from grade 3 through grade 13, with a student body of over 370 boys. The secondary school offers a 5-year arts and science program for the 98-percent of students who continue on to a university or college program. To qualify for admission to the choir school, students must have a good voice and a musical ear. Each boy has private piano lessons weekly and may also be invited to study pipe organ, violin, or classical guitar.

The music program for this choir school was so highly regarded that it was accorded an affiliation with the Pontifical Institute of Sacred Music in Rome, one of only six in the world. This affiliation, the only one accorded to a North American school, allows the authorization to grant degrees in sacred music.

The Boy's Choir makes two trips a year out of Canada—one to Europe and one to the United States. Earlier this year, they were in Europe to sing at a major music festival where they were awarded first place and had the opportunity to sing before the Pope. Additionally, concert tours, recordings, radio and television appearances, and live performances have increased their visibility to the world audience. Their best known concert in Canada is the annual Christmas Concert which attracts over 8,000 people annually.

Mr. Speaker, we are indeed fortunate to have these wonderful young men here on December 5 to sing for us in the Cannon Caucus Room. Brian Rae, their choir director, has told us his boys are excited and honored to be coming to our Nation's Capitol and are looking forward to their performance for the House of Representatives. I invite all my colleagues and their staffs to attend this wonderful event.

SMALL TURBINE INVESTMENT CREDIT

HON. JIM McDERMOTT

OF WASHINGTON

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, last month, the World Wildlife Fund conducted a national survey regarding the attitude of Americans toward global warming. One interesting result was that voters overwhelmingly support proposals which encourage consumer access to clean energy options. In particular, 81 percent of Americans responded that tax incentives should be made available to encourage the sale of clean energy.

Since coming to Congress, I've worked on several initiatives to support wind turbine investment. Today I introduced a bill which will provide a 30-percent tax credit toward the purchase of small wind turbines, 50 kw or less. Similar legislation already has been introduced by Senators CHARLES GRASSLEY and JAMES JEFFORDS. I hope a majority of my House colleagues will join me in supporting this bipartisan legislation.

At a time when U.S. energy consumers are under international pressure to reduce CO₂ emissions, passage of the small wind turbine investment credit will, in my view, encourage alternative energy use for small users, increase the international competitiveness of U.S. alternative technology industries, and help rural communities that lack access to utility grids.

HONORING AUGUST F. SCORNAIENCHI

HON. RONALD V. DELLUMS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, November 7, 1997

Mr. DELLUMS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to honor August Scornaienchi, the Alameda County Superintendent of Schools, on the occasion of his retirement. Mr. Scornaienchi has devoted over 36 years of service in public education, 24 of those in leadership positions within the Alameda County Office of Education. He is a visionary who has worked diligently at education reform before it became fashionable. This vision, his passion, and his leadership abilities have earned him the respect of not only his colleagues, but the community as well.

Superintendent Scornaienchi has been a champion for students of minority and marginalized groups and has worked diligently to provide for their special needs. He was one of the first to develop and later expand an outstanding bilingual/multicultural education program which gained a statewide reputation as a model program. He was instrumental in developing educational programs for homeless children, recognizing the incredible hurdles that this population faces. This program included setting up a portable unit at a shelter in Berkeley and equipping it with computers and educational materials, securing grants to pay for tutoring programs, and conducting workshops for staff to learn how to better serve homeless children. He has expanded county office educational services to neglected and delinquent youth by opening four community-based school programs and an innovative "boot camp" for at-risk students in collaboration with the probation department. He has furthered the opportunities for pregnant and parenting teens by providing alternative programs, including academic and support services which allow students to complete their high school education. In addition, he was among the first superintendents in the county to publicly condemn homophobia in our schools and to encourage local schools to address the intolerance and the other complex issues facing this student population.

Superintendent Scornaienchi clearly recognizes that there are many factors that impact upon a child's education. Under his guidance, the county has taken a leadership role in the areas of school safety, dealing with hate-motivated behavior, Healthy Kids Resources and
