PRAYER

Let us pray using words from Psalm 90:

Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, from everlasting to everlasting thou art God.

For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, or as a watch in the night.

So teach us to number our days that we may get a heart of wisdom. Amen.

No. 105-190) on the bill (H.R. 2203) making appropriations for energy and water development for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1998, and for other purposes, which was referred to the Union Calendar and ordered to be printed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. All points of order are reserved on the bill.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

A message in writing from the President of the United States was communicated to the House by Mr. Edwin Thomas, one of his secretaries.

SPECIAL ORDERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 7, 1997, and under a previous order of the House, the following Members will be recognized for 5 minutes each.

53D ANNIVERSARY OF THE LIBERATION OF GUAM

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Guam [Mr. UNDERWOOD] is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. UNDERWOOD. Madam Speaker, today is July 21, 1997, and it represents the 53d anniversary of the liberation of Guam, the landing of American marines and soldiers which occurred on this day some 53 years ago. On that day a number of the Third Marine Division landed and the First Marine Provisional Brigade landed on the beaches of Asan and Agat, and the 77th Infantry, also playing a supportive role, landed on the beach of Agat, and therefore followed the battle for Guam in which over approximately 15,000 Japanese were killed, some 1,500 Americans were killed, and the island was finally declared secure on August 10, 1944.

As we take time in this special order and on this particular day, which is very special for the people of Guam and by far the largest holiday in our annual calendar, I want to draw attention to a couple of issues. One, of course, is to pay the highest tribute and the highest honor to the men in American uniforms, the heroic marines and the heroic sailors and soldiers who worked hard and who suffered tremendous deprivations and who risked their lives and many of whom paid the supreme sacrifice to liberate the people of Guam from Japanese occupation.

I also want to draw attention to the experience of the Chamorro people, the Guamanians of Guam, who endured roughly 32 months of Japanese occupation, and during this time period themselves suffered many deprivations as they tried to keep their families together, and, in the final total, we will never know how many actually died in the process as a result of hostile action or who were executed by the Japanese or, in many instances, suffered and died simply as a result of starvation, malnutrition, and disease. But we must also take time to honor these people.

In Guam right now it is already July 22, so the celebration is long over, and I am sure that the celebration gave the appropriate honor. It always has a long parade attached to it, and, of course, the marines are always given the highest level of applause as they march by.

The reason why we should draw attention to this is not simply that it was a momentous occasion during World War II, but there are a couple of unique things about this. Guam is the only U.S. territory to be occupied by a foreign enemy during World War II. It was the only U.S. territory with U.S. nationals on it to be occupied since the War of 1812. So what Guam has as a unique contribution to the American experience during the Pacific theater was that they were the only Americans to be occupied and the people of Guam had the only American territory that endured all these deprivations.

Madam Speaker, yet despite all of the unique circumstances of this, there still remains the issue of meritorious claims that have been submitted by the people of Guam and have been ignored by Congress. Just to give a little background, most U.S. citizens and U.S. nationals were taken care of by two pieces of legislation, one in 1948 and one in 1962. Neither of those mentioned the people of Guam. Every other U.S. citizen, every other U.S. national, received their war restitution as a result of those pieces of legislation.

Madam Speaker, that is why I have introduced H.R. 2200, which will make the people of Guam whole, which will bring honor to this experience, and which will fully retribute the people of Guam from their horrible experience. I understand that Senator INOUE in the other body will be introducing a companion measure in the Senate sometime this week, and I hope that the Members of this body will support this legislation. It not only brings honor to the people of Guam, it brings honor to that most fundamental experience, an expression of patriotism which the people of Guam gave to this country as a result of their experience during World War II.

REPORT CONCERNING EMIGRATION LAWS AND POLICIES OF MONGOLIA—MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES (H. DOC. 105-108)

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House the following message from the President of the United States; which was read and, together with the accompanying papers, without objection, referred to the Committee on Ways and Means and ordered to be printed:

To the Congress of the United States:

On September 4, 1996, I determined and reported to the Congress that Mongolia is in full compliance with the freedom of emigration criteria of sections 402 and 409 of the Trade Act of 1974. This action allowed for the continuation of most-favored-nation (MFN) status for Mongolia and certain other activities without the requirement of an annual waiver.

As required by law, I am submitting an updated report to the Congress concerning the emigration laws and policies of Mongolia. You will find that the report indicates continued Mongolian compliance with U.S. and international standards in the area of emigration.
