

the source of funds for payment, and to generally license implementation (except exports or reexports that are subject to export license application requirements of Federal agencies other than the Department of the Treasury's Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC)) as well as payment of awards or settlements in cases to which the United States Government is a party.

Sections 560.525(a)(3) and (a)(5)(i) were amended to generally license the provision of legal services to initiate and conduct U.S. court and other domestic legal proceedings on behalf of persons in Iran or the Government of Iran and to initiate proceedings to resolve disputes between the Government of Iran or an Iranian national and the United States or a United States national, notwithstanding the prohibition on exportation of services to Iran. On August 25, 1997, general reporting, record keeping, licensing, and other procedural regulations were moved from the ITR to a separate part (31 CFR Part 501) dealing solely with such procedural matters. (62 Fed. Reg. 45098, August 25, 1997). A copy of these amendments is attached.

5. During the current 6-month period, OFAC made numerous decisions with respect to applications for licenses to engage in transactions under the ITR, and issued 12 licenses. The majority of denials were in response to requests to authorize commercial exports to Iran—particularly of machinery and equipment for various industries—and the importation of Iranian-origin goods. The licenses issued authorized certain financial transactions, including those relating to disposal of U.S.-owned goods located in Iran and extension of, but not payment under, standby letters of credit. Pursuant to sections 3 and 4 of Executive Order 12959 and consistent with the Iran-Iraq Arms Non-Proliferation Act of 1992 and other statutory restrictions concerning certain goods and technology, including those involved in air-safety cases, Treasury continues to consult with the Departments of State and Commerce on these matters.

The U.S. financial community continues to scrutinize transactions associated with Iran and to consult with OFAC about their appropriate handling. Many of these inquiries have resulted in investigations into the activities of U.S. parties and, where appropriate, the initiation of enforcement action.

6. On March 20, 1997, a seven-count indictment was returned by a grand jury in the District of Maryland against a U.S. resident and two Iranian co-conspirators. The March indictment superseded a two-count indictment handed down on February 13, 1997. Each indictment charged violations of IEEPA and the ITR involving the attempted exportation from the United States to Iran of sophisticated state-of-the-art gas chromatographs used in the electric power industry, which were prevented from reaching Iran.

The U.S. Customs Service has continued to effect numerous seizures of Iranian-origin merchandise, primarily carpets, for violation of the import prohibitions of the ITR. Various enforcement actions carried over from previous reporting periods are continuing and new reports of violations are being aggressively pursued. Since my last report on March 14, 1997, OFAC has collected four civil monetary penalties totaling nearly $22,000. The violations relate to the unlicensed import from or export of goods to Iran. Civil penalty action is pending against 37 companies, financial institutions, and individuals for violations of the Regulations.

7. The expenses incurred by the Federal Government in the 6-month period from March 15 through September 14, 1997, that are directly attributable to the exercise of powers and authorities conferred by the declaration of a national emergency with respect to Iran are approximately $850,000, most of which represent wage and salary costs for Federal personnel. Personnel costs were largely centered in the Department of the Treasury (particularly in the Office of Foreign Assets Control, the U.S. Customs Service, the Office of the Under Secretary for Enforcement, and the Office of the General Counsel), the Department of State (particularly the Bureau of Economic and Business Affairs, the Bureau of Near Eastern Affairs, the Bureau of Intelligence and Research, and the Office of the Legal Adviser), and the Department of Commerce (the Bureau of Export Administration and the General Counsel's Office).

8. The situation reviewed above continues to present an extraordinary and unusual threat to the national security, foreign policy, and economy of the United States. The declaration of the national emergency with respect to Iran contained in Executive Order 12957 and the comprehensive economic sanctions imposed by Executive Order 12959 underscore the United States Government opposition to the actions and policies of the Government of Iran, particularly its support of international terrorism and its efforts to acquire weapons of mass destruction and the means to deliver them. The Iranian Transactions Regulations issued pursuant to Executive Orders 12957 and 12959 continue to advance important objectives in promoting the nonproliferation and antiterrorism policies of the United States. I shall exercise the powers at my disposal to deal with these problems and will report periodically to the Congress on significant developments.

WILLIAM J. CLINTON.

IN THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Accordingly, the House resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the consideration of the bill, H.R. 2378, with Mr. LATOURETTE, Chairman pro tempore, in the chair.

The Clerk read the title of the bill.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to the order of today, the bill is considered as having been read the first time.

Under the unanimous consent agreement, the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. KOLBE] and the gentleman from Maryland [Mr. HOYER] each will control 30 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. KOLBE].

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, today I present to the House H.R. 2378, the fiscal year 1998 Treasury, Postal Service and General Government appropriations bill, a bill that is consistent with our objectives of achieving a balanced budget by 2002, a bill strong on oversight of the agencies that come under this subcommittee's jurisdiction. I present to my colleagues legislation that very dramatically changes and improves the way the White House accounts for political events held there; a bill that continues the aggressive oversight over the Internal Revenue Service's modernization program; and a bill that tackles important issues of integrity in the Customs Service.

Mr. Chairman, this bill balances the competing demands of being fiscally responsible and providing what is needed to fully fund drug and law enforcement programs under our jurisdiction. As reported, H.R. 2378 provides $12.5 billion in budget authority and is exactly as it's 602(b) allocation in both budget authority and outlays. At the same time, we continue our strong commitment to counter-narcotic and law enforcement programs, providing $3.4 billion for these efforts, an increase of $287 million over fiscal year 1997 funding.

This includes $1.5 billion for drug-related activities, including $195 million for the Office of National Drug Control Policy's proposed media campaign that is targeted to the youth of this country—that is $20 million more than the President requested. It also includes $10 million for the recently authorized Drug-Free Communities Act, and $47 million for additional Customs Service equipment for drug interdiction and passenger processing.

I am also pleased to report a bill that I think makes a strong stand on oversight. During the fiscal year 1998 hearing cycle, the committee learned of instances of taxpayer subsidization of political events in the White House, overspending in GSA's Federal Building Fund, vulnerability within the Customs Service operations, and an ongoing need to get the Internal Revenue Service on track in the development of a modernized tax collection system. H.R. 2378 addresses each of these issues.

Let me just highlight a couple of the ways in which we do that. First, there is a moratorium on construction and major repair projects within GSA's Federal Building Program. There are no GSA construction projects funded in this bill.

Mr. Chairman, I cannot think of a time when we have had a bill that had no Federal building projects in it.

It includes a requirement that the Office of Professional Responsibility within the Treasury Department undertake a comprehensive and aggressive review of Customs Service operations in order to address concerns that agents and inspectors may be vulnerable to corruption, and it includes a continuation of the requirement that IRS complete and submit a comprehensive capital investment blueprint prior to obligating a penny toward computer modernization.

Let me briefly address one issue all Members should be aware of. As I mentioned earlier, we did discover in our hearing process that taxpayers have traditionally, this is not a new thing, subsidized the cost of political fundraisers in the Executive residence of the White House. I fully acknowledge the political hat that the President wears, and I have no intention of limiting the President's duties as the head of his political party. However, all of us in this body and as American citizens should be opposed to using Federal dollars to pay for political events. Apparently, and despite initial protests, the White House now agrees with that position and supports the changes in this bill that would ensure that taxpayers no longer support political events in the Executive residence.

This bill establishes an entirely new appropriation account to be used for official and political events within the White House. It requires that all political events be paid for up front without the use of taxpayer funds. It requires prompt reimbursements for political and official events held in the Executive residence. It requires the Executive to develop a standard definition for the classification of political or nonpolitical events and, based on input from the minority side, it establishes a $25,000 revolving fund, capitalized by the national political party of the President who sits in the White House, to accommodate those political events which cannot be scheduled in advance, such as the spontaneous meetings on legislation that the President may have with congressional leaders from his party.

The changes made to the accounting structure of the Executive residence are based on good budgeting, good government and the fundamental principles of appropriation laws. The changes proposed here are the exact ones I would have proposed for a Republican administration, had we known about this practice of Federal taxpayers paying for political events in the White House.

Mr. Chairman, before I yield back my time I do want to thank the gentleman from Maryland, Mr. STENY HOYER, my ranking member, who has worked with me and my staff to produce a bill that all Members can support. I have never had a Member that I have worked with as closely as the gentleman from Maryland [Mr. HOYER] and I appreciate the cooperation that he has shown.

Mr. Chairman, I would like also to note the work that has been done by our staff. I think the really exceptional work by our staff, two of them of course are now national media figures with the Wall Street Journal, are: The clerk of the subcommittee, Michelle Mrdeza, and Betsy Phillips, who is also the staff assistant. Without their work and the work of our other staff, Jeff Ashford, Melanie Marshall, Jennifer Rouse, and from the minority side Pat Schlueter, we would not have the bill that we have today.

Let me finally mention the personal work of my assistant Jason Isaak and Mr. HOYER's assistant Seth Statler, who have been instrumental in getting this bill to us.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

□ 1430

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I want to begin by complimenting the chairman, the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. KOLBE], for the fine job he and his staff have done in producing this bill. This bill represents a measured and responsible effort to allocate sufficient funds to each of the agencies covered by the bill so that they can carry out the duties assigned to them in an effective way.

Very frankly, I believe this is the best bill that we have passed in last 3 years; and I congratulate the chairman, the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. KOLBE], and our famous staff and others for this accomplishment.

Overall, within the constraints of the Budget Act, our allocation in this bill includes a reduction of $596 million in budget authority from the 1998 requested sum.

Mr. Chairman, basically this bill deals adequately with the IRS. We have had problems with that. That is the biggest component of the bill. Unfortunately, it does not fund law enforcement quite as much as I would like to see done. That is because of the fiscal constraints that confront us. That is understandable.

With respect to other portions of the bill, the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. KOLBE] has pointed out that there are no, I repeat, no GSA projects in this bill. That is unfortunate, I know, from the standpoint of many Members who know that there are needs in their districts. But again, the fiscal constraints that have confronted us have compelled us to that objective.

Mr. Chairman, I simply want to restate that the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. KOLBE] has done an outstanding job. The members of the committee have worked very hard on this bill. I think it is a bill that Members can be proud of and will feel meets the Congress' responsibility to fund the important agencies that come within the ambit of this bill.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, I have no requests for time, and I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time in general debate.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. LATOURETTE). All time for general debate has expired.

Pursuant to the order of the House today, the bill shall be considered for amendment under the 5-minute rule. The Chairman of the Committee of the Whole may postpone a request for a recorded vote on any amendment and may reduce to a minimum of 5 minutes the time for voting on any postponed question that immediately follows another vote, provided that the time for voting on the first question shall be a minimum of 15 minutes.

The Clerk will read.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. KOLBE (during the reading). Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that the bill through page 65, line 11, be considered as read, printed in the RECORD, and open to amendment at any point.

The CHAIRMAN. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Arizona?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Are there any points of order to that portion of the bill through page 65 line 11?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. COLLINS. Mr. Chairman, I make a point of order against an item within the bill found on page 15, line 7 through 11, on the ground that it violates clause 2(b) of rule XXI of the Rules of the House.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Will the gentleman identify the proviso that begins on line 7.

Mr. COLLINS. On page 15, line 7 through 11.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does any other Member wish to be heard on the point of order?

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, we would concede to the point of order that the gentleman from Georgia [Mr. COLLINS] has raised.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, I concede the point of order.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The point of order is conceded and sustained. The proviso that begins on line 7 is stricken from the bill.

Are there any further points of order against that portion of the bill through page 65, line 11?

Are there any amendments to that portion of the bill?

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. BLAGOJEVICH

Mr. BLAGOJEVICH. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Has the gentleman from Illinois supplied the desk with the amendment?

Mr. BLAGOJEVICH. Yes. We have plenty of copies.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, I would reserve a point of order, not being sure which amendment.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The point of order is reserved.

The Clerk will report the amendment.

The Clerk read as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. BLAGOJEVICH:

Page 5, line 6, after the first dollar amount, insert the following: "(reduced by $1,000,000)".

Page 12, line 2, after the dollar amount, insert the following: "(increased by $1,000,000)".

Mr. BLAGOJEVICH. Mr. Chairman, I will be very brief.

The amendment that I am sponsoring today with my colleague, the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. MEEHAN], is simple and straightforward. Our amendment will appropriate $1 million in the Treasury-Postal appropriations bill to be used to expand the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Youth Crime Gun Interdiction Initiative, an initiative which works with local law enforcement officials to trace the source of illegal guns found in the possession of juvenile criminals.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. BLAGOJEVICH. I yield to the gentleman from Maryland.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for his amendment. And on our behalf, we would certainly accept the amendment.

I yield back to the gentleman.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. BLAGOJEVICH. I yield to the gentleman from Arizona.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, I withdraw my reservation of a point of order, and I accept the amendment of the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. BLAGOJEVICH]. But I would like to note that I do have concerns about other high priorities in this bill that are not being met at this time.

The amendment would rescind, as the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. BLAGOJEVICH] has pointed out, the $1 million funding for the Inspector General of the Treasury and place that money in the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms for funding of the youth programs. And I would accept that amendment.

Mr. BLAGOJEVICH. I thank the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. KOLBE], and again, I want to thank the ranking member.

Before yielding back the balance of my time, I would simply close by saying that both the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. KOLBE], the chairman, and the gentleman from Maryland [Mr. HOYER] are great Members worth emulating; and since they were complimentary to their staffs, I would like to thank my staffer, Deanne Benos, for her work, as well as the staffer of the gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. MEEHAN], Glen. I do not know his last name. I only met him 7 minutes ago. But he seemed to be very devoted and diligent, and I want to thank Glen for his help, as well.

Mr. Chairman, I rise to urge support for an amendment I am offering in conjunction with Mr. MEEHAN to increase funding for the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Youth Crime Gun Interdiction Initiative by $1 million. This successful program has proven to be an effective blueprint for local law enforcement in shutting the doors of the black market of illegal guns that supplies juvenile criminals.

Crimes committed with increasingly accessible available guns account almost entirely for the terrible surge of violent crime by youths that the Nation has experienced over the past decade. In my hometown of Chicago, where 15,000 to 20,000 crime guns are confiscated by police each year, the plague of gun violence has become the leading cause of death for teenagers, and individuals too young to purchase handguns legally, commit the largest number of firearm homicides than any other age group.

As a matter of fact, gun crime is virtually the only type of juvenile crime that is on the rise in our Nation. While juvenile arrests for homicides with guns have quadrupled, arrests for most crimes without guns haven't risen since 1984.

Now more than ever, law enforcement officials need to get to the source of these guns. We are learning that combating juvenile crime goes beyond simply apprehending the culprit. There are deeper layers to this problem that must be examined: Most notably, cutting off the illegal flow of these weapons to young criminals and gang members through both black markets and the iron pipeline that supplies guns to criminals in States with tough guns laws from States with weaker gun laws.

For the past year, the Youth Crime Gun Interdiction Initiative has created partnerships in 17 cities throughout our Nation to trace guns used in juvenile crimes. In the program's first year, 37,000 crime guns were traced back to their sources. On many occasions, this information has led to the arrest of individuals who supply guns to young people—young people who later use them to commit violent crimes.

By expanding the volume of tracing, participating cities have not only provided data needed to identify community crime patterns, but have contributed important analyses that can be useful in deciding how best to focus investigative resources to reduce the illegal firearms supply that has had such a devastating effect on our Nation's youth.

Studies from the program have also led us to some startling, yet helpful information that is leading local law enforcement officials in communities across our Nation to decide how best to focus investigative resources to reduce the illegal firearms supply used in violent crime.

As a representative of the city of Chicago, I look forward to the expansion of this successful program, which will give our law enforcement officials more tools to stop violent juvenile crime I urge adoption of the amendment.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Illinois [Mr. BLAGOJEVICH].

The amendment was agreed to.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Are there further amendments to the portion of the bill read through page 65, line 11?

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. SUNUNU

Mr. SUNUNU. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Will the gentleman supply the Clerk with a copy of the amendment.

Mr. HOYER. Reserving a point of order, Mr. Chairman, I do not have the amendment in front of me.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. A point of order is reserved.

The Clerk will report the amendment.

The Clerk read as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. SUNUNU:

Page 50, line 7, after "chapter 35" insert the following: "including $200,000 to be used under those provisions to coordinate implementation of chapter 8 of title 5, United States Code (popularly known as the Congressional Review Act)".

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SUNUNU. I yield to the gentleman from Maryland.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman is amenable to this, we quickly reviewed the amendment. We believe if his staff indicates that there may be flex, because this is a very small number, that we would not object to this amendment.

Mr. SUNUNU. Mr. Chairman, I am pleased that the gentleman will accept the amendment, and I will yield back the balance of my time.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does the gentleman from Maryland withdraw his reservation of a point of order?

Mr. HOYER. Yes, sir, I do.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, I also accept the amendment. I would like to reserve the option to review the resource requirements that OMB has when this bill proceeds to conference with the Senate. I realize it does not create any new money, but it earmarks money within the OMB.

What the gentleman from New Hampshire [Mr. SUNUNU] is trying to do I think is correct, to provide for efficient implementation of the Congressional Review Act, but I would simply like to review this issue when it does get to conference. But I would accept the amendment of the gentleman from New Hampshire.

Mr. SUNUNU. Mr. Chairman, if the gentleman will yield, I thank him very much. Just to emphasize that point, this allocates $200,000 of the $5 million reserved for administrative cost at OMB to implement an important piece of the legislation, the Congressional Review Act, that was passed as part of the 104th Congress to try to ensure proper congressional oversight on new rules and regulations that have a tremendous effect on small business.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The question is on amendment offered by the gentleman from New Hampshire [Mr. SUNUNU].

The amendment was agreed to.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Are there further amendments to this portion of the bill as read?

If not, the Clerk will read.

The Clerk read as follows:

SEC. 413. Section 201(b) of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 (40 U.S.C. 481) as amended to read as follows:

“(b) The Administrator shall as far as practicable provide any of the services specified in subsection (a) of this section to any other Federal agency, mixed ownership corporation (as defined in chapter 91 of title 31, United States Code), or the District of Columbia, upon its request.”

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. DAVIS of Virginia. Mr. Chairman, I make a point of order against language on page 65, lines 12 through 20, because it proposes to change existing law and constitutes legislation in an appropriation bill and therefore violates clause 2 of rule XXI.

The rule states, in pertinent part, that “no amendment to a general appropriation bill shall be in order if changing existing law.”

The amendment modifies existing powers and duties and changes existing law. I would ask for a ruling from the Chair.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does the gentlewoman from Kentucky [Ms. NORTHUP] desire to be heard on the point of order?

Ms. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, regarding the point of order, I understand that this probably will be considered legislating on appropriations, to be subject to the point of order. However, I want to reserve my right to strike the last word and speak to the merits of it when this is concluded.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does any other Member desire to be heard on the point of order?

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, we concede the point of order.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, we also concede the point of order. This was a spirited debate in our subcommittee and full committee, but it is clearly, given the fact of the circumstances under which this bill has been brought to the floor, it is legislation on an appropriation and clearly would not be protected as a result of that.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does any other Member wish to be heard on the point of order?

Mr. MORAN of Virginia. Mr. Chairman, I would ask be heard on the point of order. I will not take but a few seconds.

As the Chair and ranking member have said, this was fully debated in the full committee consideration. It clearly is legislation on an appropriation bill. It belongs in government operations. It does not belong on an appropriations bill. I personally think the Cooperative Purchasing Agreement is a good government measure. I am glad that it is in this bill, and it certainly does not deserve to be taken out by an amendment that is not in order for debate.

So I strongly support the point of order having been raised, and I thank the chairman for his attention.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does any other Member wish to be heard on the point of order?

If not, the point of order is conceded and sustained and section 413 is stricken from the bill.

Ms. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the last word.

Mr. Chairman, recognizing that the provisions of the Cooperative Purchasing Agreement have been struck, I do want to bring to the attention of the House that the language that was struck was passed in its entirety by the Senate and that that language was also voted by the Committee on Appropriations to be included in this bill.

So while it has been struck on the technical provisions, I do think that the intent and the interest and the perspective of the Committee on Appropriations, the entire committee in the House and the Senate, are clear on this issue. And so I look forward in the conference committee to look at this again and to see if we cannot resolve the questions that divide us.

In particular, I want to bring up that the blind community is very concerned about the fact that the complete repeal repealed provisions that have allowed them for many years, under other statutes, to engage in certain business arrangements with the Federal Government and local and State governments.

While I understand that they support the repeal with regard to State and local governments, they do have concerns about their continued operations of the supply depots. I think it is very important, when we iron out these substantive problems that we have, that we make sure that we do not do anything that would upset the existing arrangement with that community.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Clerk will read.

The Clerk read as follows:

Mr. HOYER (during the reading). Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that the text of the bill through page 80, line 6, up to but not including section 516, be considered as read, printed in the RECORD, and open to amendment at any point.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. LATOURETTE). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Maryland?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Are there points of order to the portion of the bill now read, from section 502 to 516, up to but not including section 516? Are there amendments to that portion of the bill?

If not, the Clerk will read.

The Clerk read as follows:

SEC. 516. No funds appropriated by this Act shall be available to pay for an abortion, or the administrative expenses in connection with any health plan under the Federal employees health benefit program which provides any benefits or coverage for abortions.

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MRS. LOWEY

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The Clerk read as follows:

Amendment offered by Mrs. LOWEY:
Page 80, strike lines 7 through 15.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Chair would note that the gentleman's amendment touches not only section 516, but also section 517. Is there objection to its being considered at this time?

There was no objection.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that all debate on this amendment and all amendments thereto close in 20 minutes and that the time be equally divided.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Arizona?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman from New York [Mrs. LOWEY] and the gentleman from New Jersey [Mr. SMITH] each will control 10 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York [Mrs. LOWEY].

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, the Lowey-Hoyer-Morella amendment will allow Federal employees to choose a health care plan that covers the full range of reproductive health care services just like other American workers. Right now women working for the Federal Government are the only group of American women legally prohibited from obtaining employer-provided insurance that includes abortion coverage. These women cannot use their own money. Remember, it is their salary. They cannot use their own money to purchase such coverage.

Let me be very clear. Congress has taken away the right to choose for more than 1 million American women of reproductive age who rely on FEHBP for their medical care. Two years ago, before we enacted this ban, just about half of the plans covered abortion services. Now women relying on FEHBP for health care must go to an abortion provider on their own and pay for the services out of their own pocket. This prohibition has made it more difficult and more dangerous for Federal employees to get an abortion.

Let me give Members an example, real life, what this is all about. I received a letter from a woman in Alabama whose story shows how destructive lack of coverage for abortion services can be. Kim Mathis and her husband, who works for the Federal prison in their town, were expecting twins, but during the pregnancy things went terribly wrong. They learned that the twins had a rare malady with many complications, and there was a very slim chance of either twin surviving the pregnancy.

After consulting with the doctor, Kim and her husband made what she calls "the hardest decision of my life," to terminate the pregnancy. Knowing that that kind of abortion could cost up to $12,000, the doctor asked them about their insurance. They went home, checked the booklet for the insurance they had through Kim's husband's job at the Federal prison, and saw that all legal abortions were covered. Unfortunately, their booklet was 1 year old.

After the procedure was done, they started getting notices from the insurance company stating that their claims were denied. They found out that because of the law enacted by Congress in November 1995, their coverage for abortion had been terminated. Soon the hospital began harassing them for payment, turned the case over to a collections agency, and after receiving threatening letters and phone calls at work, they were forced to file for bankruptcy.

As Kim wrote to me in a letter, "Our lives and financial future have been ruined. Families like ours should not have to go bankrupt in order to receive appropriate medical care."

We have been wrong, my colleagues, for the last 2 years to pass this restriction. I urge Members to vote for the Lowey-Hoyer-Morella amendment.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

First of all, Mr. Chairman, I want to thank the gentleman from Louisiana [Mr. LIVINGSTON] for his very humane and courageous leadership in ensuring that the legislation before the body today does not have an authorization to provide money to pay for abortion. The Livingston amendment, which is a continuous effort that has been made over the years going back to the early 1980's when I first offered this amendment to the Treasury-Postal bill, ensures that taxpayers and premium payers do not subsidize abortion on demand, and that is what the issue is before us today.

Let me make it very clear that taxpayers pay into this program approximately 73 percent of the total funding for our health insurance. The premium payers, and that is all of us, myself included, and my other colleagues, we pay the remaining 27 percent. But the major share, three-fourths of the money that goes into the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program comes from the U.S. taxpayers, and they have shown consistently in every poll that they do not want to pay for abortions on demand.

The Hyde amendment and the vote that we had last week, one of the high water marks in terms of the votes that were garnered for the Hyde amendment, make it very clear that even people who take the other side of this issue recognize that there are many of us who conscientiously believe we should have no complicity in the killing or the maiming of unborn children.

Let me also say, Mr. Chairman, and this does afford us this opportunity, that when we talk about abortion, we very often sanitize it. We try to treat it euphemistically. Some people always like to refer to it as choice, but the bottom line is abortion is violence against children. It takes the life of a baby whether it be by dismembering that unborn child or by injecting poisons like salt poison into the baby's amniotic sac, which kills the baby in a very slow and a very painful way.

As we saw earlier in this session, Mr. Chairman, there are other hideous methods of abortion as well, like the partial-birth abortion. Yes, it was banned by the House and by the Senate. The legislation has not yet gone to the White House, but that, too, could be paid for under the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program if we do not have this language contained within it.

Let me also point out to my colleagues that the language in the bill makes exceptions for rape, incest and life of the mother, but the majority of the abortions, the majority of those children who otherwise would have their lives snuffed out and subsidized by this body and by the premium payers, would not happen if this language stays in the bill.

I urge Members to vote against this amendment that has been offered. It would subsidize abortion on demand, no doubt about that.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the distinguished gentlewoman from Maryland [Mrs. MORELLA].

Mrs. MORELLA. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding me this time. She has been a great leader in the prochoice movement and for Federal employees.

Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong support of the amendment. It is going to simply prevent discrimination against Federal employees. Two years ago, Congress voted to deny Federal employees coverage for abortions provided to most of the rest of the country's work force through their health insurance plans. This decision was discriminatory, and it was another example of Congress chipping away at the benefits of Federal employees in their opportunity to choose an insurance plan that best meets their own health care needs.

The coverage of abortion services in Federal health plans would not mean that abortions are being subsidized by the Federal Government. Currently the government simply contributes to the premiums of Federal employees in order to allow them to purchase private health insurance. The many participating plans in the FEHBP may or may not choose to include coverage for abortion services, and prior to last year's decision, about half of the participating plans provided this coverage. Thus an employee who did not wish to choose a plan with abortion coverage could do just that.

Unfortunately, Congress denied Federal employees their access to abortion coverage, therefore discriminating against them and treating them differently from the vast majority of private sector employees. Currently two-thirds of private fee-for-service plans and 70 percent of HMO's provide abortion coverage. It is really insulting to Federal employees that they are being told that part of their own compensation package is not under their control.

Thousands of Federal employees struggle to make ends meet. Many Federal employees are single parents or the sole wage earners in their families. For these workers, the cost of an abortion would be a significant hardship, interfering with a woman's constitutionally protected right to choose. For these women, the lack of this health coverage could result in delayed abortions occurring later in the pregnancy, an outcome no one here wants to see.

Mr. Chairman, this amendment simply restores the rights of Federal employees to the same health care services covered by most private sector health plans. I urge my colleagues to support this amendment and reverse the unwise decision made 2 years ago.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Chairman, I yield 2 minutes to the gentlewoman from Maryland [Mr. HOYER], the very distinguished ranking member of this subcommittee.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding me this time, and I very much appreciate the leadership she has shown on this issue. I want to say that I appreciate the leadership that the gentleman from New Jersey [Mr. SMITH] has shown as well.

This is a very wrenching issue for every Member of the House. It is my perspective, as the Members know, on this particular issue that this is really not about abortion. It is about Federal employees' pay and benefits. Every other employee in America gets certain benefits from their employer. Those benefits are paid in consequence of and in consideration of the services rendered by the employee to the employer. Therefore, the benefit in this case is not the Federal Government's nor the taxpayer's any longer. It is, in fact, the compensation paid to the employee.

Having said that, Mr. Chairman, I know that there is a very serious disagreement on this issue and perception as to whether or not this is the application of taxpayers' funds towards a procedure that many taxpayers find unacceptable; in fact, most taxpayers find unacceptable, whether or not they are for Government action to prohibit it.

□ 1500

Mr. Chairman, I would simply say that it has been historically my position and continues to be that this is the Federal employees compensation package. It is not ours to control one way or the other. I know there is a significant dispute on that.

I thank the gentlewoman for offering this amendment so it could be brought again for our attention before the House.

Mr. SMITH of New Jersey. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume, just so the body is very clear that we are voting on whether or not to permit abortion on demand in the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program.

The Committee on Appropriations wisely included language that would preclude the use of funds under the Federal Employees Health Benefits plan for that, and just to remind Members that just under three-fourths of all of the funding that goes into that health plan comes from the taxpayers, and roughly a quarter of that comes from the premium payers, which, again, is us as well. For that reason, this is a publicly funded abortion scheme.

Just to follow up to what my friend from Maryland said a moment ago, it really is up to the Congress to set it. This is not a collective bargaining issue, and it is up to the Congress to establish the parameters of what this program will look like. That is in the statute. There is nothing out of the ordinary with regards to what we are doing here today.

Let me also remind Members that this pro-life rider was in effect from 1984 to 1993, and it has also been in effect for the last two years.

It has already passed in the other body, and my hope is it will continue so we have no complicity in the killing of unborn children.

I urge a no vote on the amendment Lowey-Hoyer-Morella amendment.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Chairman, I am very pleased to yield 2 minutes to my good friend, the distinguished gentlewoman from the State of Connecticut [Mrs. JOHNSON].

Mrs. JOHNSON of Connecticut. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentlewoman for yielding me this time.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to clarify what we are talking about here. First of all, respectfully, I totally and completely disagree with the comments of the gentleman from New Jersey. We are not talking about abortion on demand. The Supreme Court decision does not allow abortion on demand and we all know that, and in the third trimester it is very hard in America to get an abortion, as it should be, and in the mid-trimester it is very difficult, as it should be.

Now, we are talking about whether or not Federal employees ought to have access to the same legal medical procedures as other Americans. Remember, these are people who are paying taxes to fund the health benefits of the people who work at General Electric. We spend $80 billion every year subsidizing private sector health plans, and our Federal employees pay that. Yet you would deny them the same benefits that they are funding for other Americans.

If you want to make abortion illegal, bringing the bill to the floor and let us vote on it; but do not make Federal employees second-class citizens. Do not make the kind of woman that the gentlewoman from New York [Mrs. LOWEY] just described.

I have one here, but it takes too long to talk about it. Here was a 36-year-old mother, she and her husband dying to have a family. She had a child with no brain at all. On medical advice she was urged to abort it, did, wants to have another child. She is an older mother, there are risks. She is trying to preserve her fertility because she desperately wants to have not one child, but several. After extensive testing, the medical community said this child has no chance of life at all, it has no brain at all, and you need to abort it and go on.

So I just ask for equal treatment of Federal employees. It is only fair.

Mrs. LOWEY. Mr. Chairman, I am very pleased to yield the balance of my time to the gentlewoman from Connecticut [Ms. DELAURO], a woman who has been a fighter on this issue and so many others.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore (Mr. LATOURETTE). The gentlewoman from Connecticut is recognized for 30 seconds.

Ms. DELAURO. Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong support of this amendment, which will end the prohibition of abortion coverage for American women, coverage under the FEHB health plan. It seems that every time we turn around we see that some on the other side of the aisle would like to draw back the line of a woman's right to choose.

This is a constitutional right to choose. This is a choice and decision that should be made by a woman, her family, in consultation with her clergy, and with her doctor. No matter what income level, no matter where she lives or what she does for a living, every woman has a right to make this decision on her own. We have no right to take that decision away.

I urge my colleagues to support this amendment. Let us stop discriminating against government workers.

The CHAIRMAN. All time under the unanimous-consent agreement has expired.

The question is on the amendment offered by the gentlewoman from New York [Mrs. LOWEY].

The amendment was rejected.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Clerk will read.

The Clerk read as follows:

SEC. 517. The provision of section 516 shall not apply where the life of the mother would be endangered if the fetus were carried to term, or the pregnancy is the result of an act of rape or incest.

CERTAIN HISTORIC U.S. ORIGIN FIREARMS IMPORTS

SEC. 518. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, none of the funds appropriated or otherwise made available under this Act or any other Act may be expended or obligated by a department, agency, or instrumentality of the United States to pay administrative expenses or to compensate an officer or employee of the United States in connection with the denial of an application for the importation of military firearms (or ammunition, components, parts, accessories, and attachments for such firearms) submitted under section 38(b)(1)(B) of the Arms Export Control Act (22 U.S.C. 2778(b)(1)(B)), as added by section 8142(a) of the Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 1988), if the application meets the otherwise applicable requirements of section 178.112 and 178.113 of title 27, Code of Federal Regulations (as in effect on January 1, 1996), and the application is not for the importation of articles on the United States Munitions Import List from a proscribed country. For purposes of the preceding sentence, the term "proscribed country" means a country with respect to which the proscriptions contained in section 47.52 of title 27, Code of Federal Regulations, apply.

POINT OF ORDER

Mrs. MCCARTHY of New York. Mr. Chairman, I rise to a point of order.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentlewoman will state her point of order.

Mrs. MCCARTHY of New York. Mr. Chairman, I make a point of order against section 518 on page 80 because it proposes to change existing law and constitutes legislation in an appropriations bill, and, therefore, violates clause 2 of rule XXI.

The rule states in pertinent part no amendment to a general appropriations bill shall be in order if in changing law. The amendment does not apply solely to the appropriations under consideration.

I am asking for a ruling from the Chair.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does the gentleman from Maryland [Mr. HOYER] wish to be heard on the point of order?

Mr. HOYER. Yes.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman is recognized.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, reserving the right to speak on the point of order, we will concede the point of order. We have reviewed it, and the gentlewoman is correct.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does any other Member wish to be heard on the point of order?

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, we would concede the point of order is correct. While I strongly favor this provision, given the circumstances that this bill is brought to the floor, this provision is clearly legislation on an appropriations bill.

Mrs. MCCARTHY of New York. Mr. Chairman, if section 518 were passed as part of the Treasury and Postal Operations Appropriation bill, I believe the result would be an increase in gun violence and increased danger to the lives and safety of our Nation's police officers.

Section 518 would effectively allow foreign governments to resell millions of dangerous, high-powered M1 carbine semiautomatic weapons, M-1 garand rifles, and .45 caliber M1911 pistols in the United States as curios and relics. Importing such high-powered weapons would flood the U.S. gun market, thereby lowering the price of these military weapons, making them more affordable for dangerous criminals.

Congressman PATRICK KENNEDY and Congresswoman CAROLYN MALONEY introduced legislation earlier this year that would help keep our streets safe by permanently banning the importation of these military weapons. The point of order offered today will only prevent the importation of such weapons for 1 year. It is time for Congress to follow Mr. KENNEDY's leadership and pass his bill to provide protection for America's families and police officers by ending the importation of these high-powered military weapons once and for all.

If anyone thinks that these curios and relics are not dangerous and should be imported freely into the United States, I would like to draw their attention to two critical facts. First, with the addition of three inexpensive pieces of hardware, the M-1 carbine—a semiautomatic weapon—can be easily converted into an automatic submachine gun with the potential of firing up to 30 rounds in a matter of seconds. This would effectively squash any rapid response law enforcement officers could ever hope to give.

Second, in the last several years, police officers have been killed and crimes committed at an alarming rate by these dangerous weapons. Nine officers have lost their lives to these so-called relics since 1990. According to the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, nearly 2,000 M-1 garand rifles and M1911 pistols were traced to crime scenes in 1995 and 1996. In New York, 71 of these so-called curios and relics were linked to crimes committed during the past 2 years.

Foreign governments should not be allowed to profit off of our misery. We need to make sure that we put a stop to that while trying to reduce gun violence. It is bad policy to allow anyone, including our own Government, to profit off of the agony and pain of others.

Gun violence takes a serious financial toll on our society and on our Nation's healthcare system. According to a May 1997 Violence Policy Center study, firearm injuries cost society approximately $20.4 billion in 1990. Of that figure, at least $17.4 billion represents the value of lost productivity due to premature deaths. According to the Center to Prevent Handgun Violence, direct healthcare expenditures for firearm-related injuries in the United States in 1995 was $4 billion. This figure is high because firearm wounds are the most costly injuries to treat.

Aside from the physical healing that takes place after gun violence there is also the emotional healing. Gun violence leaves families in shambles. It leaves the loved-ones to pick up the pieces of their lives and an empty hole in the hearts of family and friends that can never again be filled. I know from my own experience that gun violence can completely alter the course of a person's life—it did mine.

Congress shouldn't allow foreign countries to dump their weapons in our country. We all know what happens when high-powered weapons fall into the hands of the wrong people. Although some may consider these weapons collectors' items, they are lethal weapons. We need to permanently end the importation of these weapons.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does the gentleman from Rhode Island [Mr. KENNEDY] wish to be heard?

Mr. KENNEDY of Rhode Island. Mr. Chairman, I would like to join in raising the point of order.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does any other Member wish to be heard on this point of order?

The point of order is conceded and sustained, and section 518 is stricken from the bill.

The Clerk will read.

The Clerk read as follows:

SEC. 519. No funds appropriated for the United States Postal Service under this or any other Act may be expended by the Postal Service to expand the Global Package Link Service.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Chairman, I rise to a point of order.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. MCHUGH. Mr. Chairman, section 519, found on page 81, lines 13 through 16 of the legislation before us, applies not only to current appropriations, but incorporates by reference the permanent appropriations authority contained in title 39 United States Code section 2401(a), and thus violates clause 2 of rule XXI of the House prohibiting reporting a provision which changes existing law.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does any other Member wish to be on the point of order heard?

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, regarding the point of order, I understand this provision is probably subject to a point of order and will be stricken, but I want to reserve my right to strike the last word after it is completed and make a few comments.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does the gentleman from Pennsylvania [Mr. FATTAH] wish to be heard on the point of order?

Mr. FATTAH. Mr. Chairman, I rise as the ranking minority Member on Postal Service in support of the point of order, and would hope that the Chair would concur that clause 2 of rule XXI would be in play as relates to this amendment, and that it should be struck because it attempts to add legislative language to an appropriations bill.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does the gentleman from Maine [Mr. ALLEN] wish to be heard on the point of order?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, the point of order just made by the gentleman from New York [Mr. MCHUGH] was made against section 519 of the bill, which would restrict the U.S. Postal Service's Global Package Link System.

That provision does not belong in this bill. Not only is it inappropriate in an appropriations bill, but it is also bad policy. What this provision seeks to prohibit is the expansion of the Global Package Link System by the Postal Service.

In changing the authority governing the Postal Service's operations, it violates the House rule against legislating on an appropriations bill.

Legislation affecting the Postal Service is clearly within the jurisdiction of the Committee on Government Reform and Oversight, on which I serve. The committee will be looking at Global Package Link as part of postal reform, and that is an appropriate course for review, rather than through this rider.

The Global Package Link, or GPL, is a valuable program that helps U.S. businesses gain new markets and opportunities overseas, which means more jobs here at home. GPL was established by the Postal Service at the request of U.S. catalog companies, who wanted a faster and better way to ship their packages to international customers.

One of these customers is L.L. Bean, which is in my districts in Freeport, Maine. GPL is good for American business and good for jobs. It is innovative. Other competitors like UPS could establish similar systems and streamline their own overseas delivery service.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Chair would ask the gentleman to confine his remarks to the point of order and not the merits of the section.

Does the gentleman from Arizona wish to be heard?

Mr. KOLBE. Just to say, reluctantly, I accept the point of order, that it is legislation on the appropriations bill. Given the circumstances of bringing this bill to the floor, this would not be in order on this bill.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Does any other Member wish to be heard?

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, we concede the point of order on this side.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The point of order is conceded and sustained, and section 519 is stricken from the bill.

Mr. FATTAH. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the last word.

Mr. Chairman, the Global Package Link provision, authored by Representative Northrup, (R-KY) would prohibit the United States Postal Service (USPS) from expanding its Global Package Link international parcel service for one year, while a Government Accounting Office (GAO) report is completed on the issue of international mail. The GPL, an "electronic Customs preparatory system" was developed by the USPS in direct response to its customers demands. It allows our nation's largest and leading retailers such as Lands' End, Neiman Marcus, J.C. Penny, L.L. Bean and others to deliver merchandise to their catalog customers in the United Kingdom, Canada, and Japan. These and many other companies support and rely upon the Postal Service to send their products via the GPL service.

By way of legitimately responding to a postal matter under the jurisdiction of the Subcommittee on the Postal Service, the Subcommittee in July asked the GAO to investigate charges that the GPL service enjoys any unfair advantages over shipments by private carriers. We expect to have a report on this matter early next year.

The Blair Corporation, a large mail-order company located in my State of Pennsylvania provided some very thoughtful comments on the Northrup provisions. Thoughtful, because unlike the numerous mail-order firms currently using the Postal Service's GPL service, it is not a current user. The President of Blair Corporation states:

"We cannot believe that our Congress would stop a valuable international delivery service, which has become very important to expanding the exports of U.S. direct mail companies, and could become the means by which our company and others like it are able to enter the international market, without even a hearing before the appropriate Committees of Congress, which understand postal operations and their importance to the direct mail industry.

This attempt to prevent the Postal Service from operating as any other business would, when so many in the Congress as well as the business community have pleaded with the Postal Service to become more businesslike and more efficient, is ironic. Global Postal Link and other Postal Service innovations are a serious response by the Postal Service to those pleas. This amendment will wipe out an important Postal Service effort to become more businesslike and will represent a serious blow to many mail order companies and damage this country's export efforts. We urge you to reject this effort to end-run the authorizing committees and vote "yes" to strip the "Northrup" Amendment from H.R. 2378."

In conclusion, the Northrup provision is framed as a limitation on funds, but contains legislative language. It does not belong on an appropriation bill. This is a violation of House Rules.

Mrs. NORTHUP. Mr. Chairman, I move to strike the last word.

Mr. Chairman, understanding that the last provision that we struck was the Global Package Link freeze for one year, I just want to take this opportunity to comment on the importance of this issue.

We all believe that we need to expand all trading opportunities that businesses in this country have. In particular it is important that we open and expand opportunities for overnight delivery services.

The concern that the committee had and that I raised in the committee is that when we open these opportunities, we should not allow the United States Post Office to create a monopoly so that only they can deliver overnight packages.

That is what you do when our government, a government entity, negotiates with another government that this overnight link occurs only if the packages are brought in by the Postal Service.

These arrangements allow the Post Office to bypass both customs, pricewise and timewise, so that they can deliver overnight and no private carriers can. We believe all private carriers should have an opportunity to expand trade in this country.

So it is not in an effort to limit what companies in this country have and the opportunities they have, but, rather, to expand those opportunities through multiple carriers.

We felt like the one-year freeze was a fair balance. Since that has been struck, I want to say that I am reassured by the Committee on Postal Oversight that they are going to take up this issue, that they are going to hold hearings, and that they are going to try to find the fair balance in their reauthorization bill that will come before us early next year.

We all agree that it needs to be looked at; we all agree that it needs to be examined. I look forward to the promise of the subcommittee chairman or the committee chairman of the Committee on Postal Oversight that his committee will do a fair and equitable job at looking at this.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The Clerk will read.

The Clerk read as follows:

(g) Nothing in this section shall be considered to permit or require the payment to any employee covered by this section at a rate in excess of the rate that would be payable were this section not in effect.

(h) The Office of Personnel Management may provide for exceptions to the limitations imposed by this section if the Office determines that such exceptions are necessary to ensure the recruitment or retention of qualified employees.

Mr. KOLBE (during the reading). Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that the remainder of the bill, through page 101, line 18, be considered as read, printed in the RECORD, and open to amendment at any point.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Arizona?

There was no objection.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Are there points of order to the portion of the bill read?

If not, are there amendments?

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. FILNER

Mr. FILNER. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The Clerk read as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. FILNER:
Add at the end of the bill on page 101, after line 18 the following new section:

SEC. . None of the funds appropriated by this Act may be used for any tax-related mailing to any person if the social security account number issued to any individual for purposes of section 205(c)(2)(A) of the Social Security Act is included—

(1) on the outside of such mailing, or
(2) as part of the contents of such mailing unless—

(A) the contents are in an envelope (or other appropriate wrapper) which is sealed, and

(B) such number may not be viewed without opening such envelope (or wrapper).

For purposes of this section, the term "tax-related mailing" means any mailing related to the administration of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

Mr. FILNER (during the reading). Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be considered as read and printed in the RECORD.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. FILNER. I yield to the gentleman from Arizona.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, I am prepared from the majority side to accept this amendment. I know that the Committee on Ways and Means has expressed some concerns about some of the language, and I would advise the gentleman that I would certainly protect those interests in the conference that the Committee on Ways and Means has expressed. They have not objected and suggested that this amendment should not be accepted here today. I am prepared to accept it.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. FILNER. I yield to the gentleman from Maryland.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, I thought the amendment might be offered and withdrawn, but in light of the chairman's action, I certainly am not going to object to this amendment. We will look at it and work with the gentleman between now and conference to see if it is workable, and, if it is workable, the gentleman has brought up a good idea. I understand also that Mr. BILBRAY of California is in agreement with the gentleman.

□ 1515

Mr. FILNER. I thank the chairman and the ranking member.

The amendment orders the IRS, because they have refused to do it informally, to stop the printing of Social Security numbers on the front of mailings to taxpayers or on their refund checks. This allows a practice that has become known as identity theft. People steal your Social Security number and then steal your money.

So I appreciate the Chair and the ranking member for accepting this amendment to stop the IRS complicity in identity theft.

Mr. Chairman, I stand to offer an amendment to the Treasury/Postal Appropriations bill because our constituents cannot wait to have the Internal Revenue Service protect them from identity theft. It is up to Congress to safeguard them from a serious attack on personal privacy—an insidious practice that has become known as identity theft—which is facilitated by the IRS.

My amendment to the Treasury/Postal Appropriations bill will forbid the IRS from visibly printing our Social Security numbers on the mailing labels of the tax booklets the IRS mails to us every year. It will also stop the IRS from printing Social Security numbers on the refund checks that millions of people receive annually in a way that they are visible through the window envelope. Identity theft is one of the fastest growing crimes of the 1990's. Identity thieves make off with billions of dollars each year, and each day more than 1,000 people are being defrauded.

With just your name and Social Security number, a thief can open credit lines worth $10,000, rent apartments, sign up for utilities, and even earn income. Your credit rating is ruined, you risk being rejected for everything from a college loan to a mortgage, and it's up to you to fix it all.

Law enforcement generally will not pursue identity theft cases. That is why it is crucial that we act now—to prevent the IRS from making identity thieves' work even easier by allowing public view of Social Security numbers on their mailings and refund checks.

I don't like to ask the Congress to pass judgment of a relatively simple issue. When I asked the IRS to change this practice, all I got was a bureaucratic runaround. I was told that this was a very complex issue and there is no way that they could correct it before the 1999 filing season. I find it incomprehensible that neither the agency nor its contractor can change a computer program for booklets that will be mailed in 1998. The IRS apparently has decided to be the conduit for identity theft—with the Postal Service as a de facto accomplice.

My amendment will force the IRS to make this change in time to protect one of the most precious keys to our personal information—our Social Security numbers—before the coming tax filing season.

To do any less would expose millions of us to devastating personal and financial losses, and the most important loss of all—our good name.

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. FILNER. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. BILBRAY. Mr. Chairman, I appreciate the gentleman from California yielding to me.

Mr. Chairman, what we are saying is that the IRS should not be violating the rules and the procedures that we impose on everyone else; that this is a privacy issue. The IRS has got to be kept within proper boundaries. Technologies need to reflect the privacy laws of this country, and we should be leading by example. Even the IRS should be leading through example to show the rest of society how we should operate.

Posting this information on the front of a piece of mail, where anybody can look at it that opens up that mailbox, really should be addressed. The private sector would probably go to jail for doing this. I do not think those of us in the public sector should be exempt from those privacy rules.

Mr. FILNER. I thank my colleague; I thank the Chair and the ranking member.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore [Mr. LATOURETTE]. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from California [Mr. FILNER].

The amendment was agreed to.

AMENDMENT OFFERED BY MR. SANDERS

Mr. SANDERS. Mr. Chairman, I offer an amendment.

The Clerk read as follows:

Amendment offered by Mr. SANDERS:

Page 101, after line 18, insert the following new section:

SEC. 633. None of the funds made available in this Act for the United States Custom Service may be used to allow the importation into the United States of any good, ware, article, or merchandise mined, produced, or manufactured by forced or indentured child labor, as determined pursuant to section 307 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1307).

Mr. SANDERS. Mr. Chairman, my understanding is that both the majority and the minority have accepted this amendment and I thank them.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SANDERS. I yield to the gentleman from Arizona.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, yes, that is correct. I am prepared to accept the amendment by the gentleman from Vermont [Mr. SANDERS], which would amend the bill to prohibit Customs using any of its funding to allow any imports into the United States of goods that are produced by forced or indentured child labor.

This is a limitation on an expenditure and it would underscore the existing legal barrier. This is already an existing barrier that we have on imports which sometimes, however, may not be adequately enforced. I think the provision that the gentleman is suggesting here is simply a reinforcement of what is existing law, that Customs should vigorously enforce the law with regard to imported merchandise that uses forced child labor.

So in my view it supports and clarifies the current legal requirement and a practice that is very much in law, and I urge the Members to support this amendment.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. SANDERS. I yield to the gentleman from Maryland.

Mr. HOYER. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman for his amendment. I agree with the remarks of the chairman, the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. KOLBE], and we would accept the amendment on this side.

Mr. SANDERS. Mr. Chairman, I want to thank the gentleman from Arizona [Mr. KOLBE] and the gentleman from Maryland [Mr. HOYER]. Indentured child labor is one of the ugliest forms of slavery that exists in this world. This Congress should stand up for those children. We should not be importing products made by indentured child labor, and I thank both parties for their support.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The question is on the amendment offered by the gentleman from Vermont [Mr. SANDERS].

The amendment was agreed to.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Are there further amendments to the bill?

If not, the Clerk will read the last two lines.

The Clerk read as follows:

This Act may be cited as the "Treasury, Postal Service, and General Government Appropriations Act, 1998".

Mr. SANDLIN. Mr. Chairman, it is with regret that I rise today in opposition to the Treasury-Postal appropriations bill. This bill contains many worthwhile programs that are deserving of funding. However, the manner in which this bill came to the floor denied Members the opportunity to vote for or against the cost of living pay increase for Members of Congress. I strongly believe we should be honest enough with ourselves and with the American people to openly support or oppose this increase instead of sitting silently by while it automatically goes into effect.

When I introduced my legislation, H.R. 2219, to prevent Members from receiving the 1998 pay adjustment, I did so because I believe it is irresponsible for us to increase our own pay at a time when we have not met our obligation to the American people to balance the Federal budget. Only days after I introduced my legislation, the Republican leadership in both houses was widely quoted in the press as saying the pay raise was dead for the year. But instead of letting it die a well-deserved death, they made late night, back room deals and brought this bill to the House floor in a manner accorded precious few pieces of legislation. They brought it to the floor with no rule to ensure that the pay raise would go into effect.

I made a commitment to the people of east Texas to eliminate the Federal deficit before I would agree to raise my pay. I made a commitment to ensure that Medicare is solvent before we raise our pay. I made a commitment to ensure that veterans' benefits are fully funded before we raise our pay. I made a commitment to ensure that every student has an opportunity for a college education before we raise our pay.

The infrastructure across our country is crumbling. However, this body narrowly defeated a proposal earlier this year to increase spending for the infrastructure. The Republican leadership has made it clear to members of the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee that BESTEA will break the budget agreement and that they will oppose this legislation, even though there is additional money in the highway trust fund. They want to continue to use the trust fund to mask the size of the deficit on the one hand, but on the other they are willing to raise our pay. Their logic doesn't make any sense. Why should we pass legislation to benefit 535 people when we can't get an agreement that will benefit millions of people?

The Taxpayer Relief Act raised the estate tax exemption from $600,000 to $1 million by the year 2007. There should be no estate tax. We should not be raising our pay until we have eliminated this punitive tax. Why should we pass legislation to benefit 535 people when we can't get an agreement to protect a family farm?

When I introduced my bill, I said that I hoped my fellow Members would join me in opposing a congressional pay raise until we have taken care of the people. Mr. Chairman, it seems to me that we have not taken care of the people. I can only hope that the conferees will disingenuously attempt at a pay raise.

Mrs. MORELLA. Mr. Chairman, I would like to thank the gentleman from Arizona, the distinguished chairman of the Treasury, Postal Appropriations Subcommittee, and the gentleman from Florida, the distinguished chairman of the Civil Service Subcommittee, for pledging to resolve an issue that is very important to me.

In the course of our discussions about this bill, we have all agreed to resolve the issue of pay equity between administrative appeals judges and administrative law judges. I appreciate the good work that the chairman has done on this bill. He knows that I would have liked to have offered an amendment on this subject, but I appreciate his desire to resolve pay equity issues through the authorizing committee, in this case, the Civil Service Subcommittee on Government Reform and Oversight, on which I serve. It is important to raise this issue, however, during consideration of this legislation that addresses so many Federal employee issues, and I appreciate Mr. KOLBE and Mr. MICA's pledge to resolve this issue.

Last spring, along with my colleague TOM DAVIS, I wrote to OPM in hopes that they could resolve this issue. Unfortunately, they could not; we need a legislative solution to resolve this problem. As you know, there are 23 administrative appeals judges at the Social Security Administration. These judges review numerous decisions made by administrative law judges, yet they are not compensated at the same level. The appeals council is now the only administrative appellate body whose members are paid less than the judges whose orders and decisions they review. Historically, AAJ's and ALJ's have been compensated at the same level, but in 1990, when we passed the Federal Employees Pay Comparability Act, the Congress did not include administrative appeals judges in the new administrative law judges special pay category. What I want to do is simply ensure that administrative appeals judges are paid at the same level as those judges whom they review, administrative appeals judges.

I thank Chairman MICA for his commitment to finally resolve this issue in the Civil Service Subcommittee. I look forward to working with him in this endeavor.

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Chairman, I rise in support of striking section 413 of H.R. 2378. As a former local official, I know that every dollar counts, and that local taxpayers are being asked to shoulder an ever-increasing burden of services the Federal Government no longer provides. That is why I support a money saving program for local and State governments, and why I now support striking its repeal in this appropriations bill.

The cooperative purchasing program, which Congress passed into law in 1994—section 1555 of the Federal Acquisition Streamlining Act—was designed to allow local and State governments, school districts, and public hospitals to purchase goods and services at the super-discounted Federal rate, saving local taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars per year. But special interests have manipulated the legislative process in order to repeal the program and block local entities from getting the most for their tax dollars. They would have Washington let local governments be fleeced.

Here's how the cooperative purchasing program is supposed to work: A school district has to purchase computers, chalkboards and basic furniture. Thanks to the cooperative purchasing program, the school district could buy the supplies and services it needed directly from vendors at the discounted prices the General Services Administration [GSA] negotiated. GSA is the procurement agency for the Federal Government.

These GSA-negotiated prices are often the lowest anywhere. The Federal Government is a very large consumer of all kinds of goods and services. That is why it is able to negotiate discounted prices. The 1994 law simply allowed State and local governments and public agencies to benefit from those prices. It is a good example of allowing government officials to think and act efficiently.

Nursing homes and public hospitals would also benefit, since they must purchase equipment, medical devices, and life-saving drugs for elderly citizens and the ill, especially people with AIDS. Basic local government would also operate more efficiently and less expensively, since local governments could purchase many products and services at discounted prices, saving State and local taxpayers billions of dollars.

Initiated by the National Performance Review, led by Vice President Gore, cooperative purchasing aims to bring efficient practices to local and State governments without onerous regulations or government mandates. If for some reason a locality did not want to use the cooperative purchasing program, it would not have to. Cooperative purchasing is also completely voluntary for industry, and it costs the Federal Government nothing.

The bottom-line savings would be realized by local taxpayers, who pay the bill of local government. A pilot project in West Virginia demonstrated that police departments could purchase cruisers at the GSA discount price, saving local governments close to 10 percent. Furniture is available at a discount of 25 percent. Pharmaceuticals and medical devices are available at up to a 37 percent savings.

Although saving money for local taxpayers is a good idea, there are those who oppose it. Certain industry groups benefit from government inefficiency and would like nothing more than to have the law repealed. The pharmaceutical industry wants to see the program repealed, because cooperative purchasing would entitle public hospitals and AIDS clinics to significant discounts on life-saving drugs—why sell AIDS drugs at a life-saving discount when you can sell at full price? The medical equipment industry is also mobilizing against the discounts.

I believe that a reasonable policy is to allow willing industries to participate in the cooperative purchasing program. Indeed, it has received support from a group of Fortune 500 backers, especially in the computer and software industry. In addition, every major association of elected and appointed officials has endorsed the cooperative purchasing program, from mayors to Governors, from school boards to regional hospitals.

Local police departments benefit from a similar, voluntary program administered by the Department of Defense. That program faced initial resistance from certain industry groups, but it has blossomed into a program where hundreds of local police departments are able to purchase police cars, bullet-proof vests, and other crime fighting equipment at money-saving prices.

Strong interest groups have spent large amounts in political contributions to kill the cooperative purchasing program, without even a hearing or congressional debate. Repeal of cooperative purchasing is tantamount to a tax increase on every resident in America.

We have a way to reduce the cost of government. It's called the cooperative purchasing program. Today, the House will keep this idea and this program alive by striking its repeal with a point of order. Let us hope that the House conferees may see to it to preserve the program in conference with the other body.

Mr. PORTER. Mr. Chairman, I am disappointed that this bill has been considered in a manner that has led to the language repealing section 1555 of the Federal Acquisition Streamlining Act being stricken on a point of order.

Mr. Chairman, section 1555 sounds like a good idea, but like many efforts to control the marketplace through Government price fixing, it can trigger certain law of unintended consequences. The most basic unintended consequence is pretty simple to understand—instead of leading suppliers to lower their prices charged to State and local buyers, section 1555 will lead them to raise their prices to the Federal Government. What else can be expected when the Government suddenly decrees that a discount price available to a volume buyer who constitutes 3 to 4 percent of a manufacturer's sales volume must be provided to perhaps to 30 to 40 percent of that manufacturer's sales volume?

Mr. Chairman, this law should be repealed and I am certain that the votes to do so exist in this body. It is unfortunate that the provision has been removed in this manner. I urge the conferees to recede to the Senate on this issue and I am certain that a conference report repealing this unfortunate law would receive overwhelming support in the House.

Mrs. ROUKEMA. Mr. Chairman, I rise to express deep regret that the committee bill for FY 1998 would not permit waiver under the rules.

My amendment would have required the creation and enforcement of new standards of security for the firearms inventories of federally licensed gun dealers. Let me explain to the committee why this amendment is so important. First, this amendment will not infringe on the rights of any gun owner to buy a gun. This amendment only creates new Federal guidelines to secure the inventories of firearms in gun shops. It, in fact, makes gun shops safer for gun owners to go and buy a new gun.

Second, this amendment meets a pressing need to make our neighborhoods and streets safer from criminals who use guns stolen from gun shops to commit horrible crimes. On April 19, 1997, a young man named Georgio Gallara age 24 was working at Tony's Pizza and Pasta, a new small business he owned in Sussex County NJ. He was joined by his employee, 22-year-old Jeremy Giordano to go on a pizza delivery. When they arrived to deliver the pizzas, they were brutally gunned down, being shot eight times in the head and neck. When police arrested two men for the murders they found that the gun used in the crime was stolen from a local sporting goods store a couple of weeks earlier.

Guns stolen from gun shops have become a major crime problem in our communities. Since September 1994, licensed firearms dealers have reported 23,775 guns stolen, lost, or missing to the BATF. Up to 32 percent of firearms used in the commission of a crime are obtained by the criminal directly by theft. Stolen guns are a serious threat to our safety.

This amendment will require the BATF, under the direction of the Secretary of Treasury, to create security standards for gun dealers. Gun inventories will have to be secured within the store in order to prevent a common thief from stealing them. Store owners use a safe to put their money in at the end of the business day. Store owners do not leave valuable inventories sitting in window displays vulnerable to smash and grab robberies. Why shouldn't we require gun dealers to secure their inventories especially when so many guns are stolen and used in crimes.

This amendment is based on common sense. Any law abiding gun owner should welcome this improvement as a real means of reducing crime. Critics may call this another form of gun control, but the only guns this amendment controls are the ones in the hands of violent criminals. Based on this, Mr. Chairman, I ask that my amendment be Treasury/Postal appropriations bill of 1997.

Mr. Chairman, this issue will not go away. I and others will use every means of persuasion to urge the Judiciary Committee to take this up on an expedited basis.

A copy of my amendment follows:

Mr. KENNEDY of Rhode Island. Mr. Chairman, I insert this letter into the RECORD, concerning H.R. 2378, Treasury-Postal Service appropriations for fiscal year 1998.

SEPTEMBER 8, 1997.

DEAR REPRESENTATIVE: In late-July, during mark-up of the Fiscal Year 1998 Treasury-Postal Service-General Government Appropriations bill, the Appropriations Committee accepted an amendment that would allow foreign governments to export to the United States for commercial sale, millions of military weapons the United States previously made available to foreign countries through military assistance programs.

For a range of public health and safety, national security, and taxpayer reasons, we strongly urge you vote to delete this provision from the Fiscal Year 1998 Treasury-Postal Service-General Government Appropriations bill.

Supporters of this amendment describe it as an innocuous measure which simply allows the importation of some obsolete “curios and relics.” In reality, the amendment would allow the import of an estimated 2.5 million weapons of war, including 1.2 million M1 carbines. The M1 carbine is a semi-automatic weapon that can be easily converted into automatic fire and comes equipped with a 15-30 round detachable magazine.

THIS IS A PUBLIC SAFETY ISSUE: Although the backers of the provision claim that these World War II era weapons are now harmless “curios and relics”, in reality they remain deadly assault weapons. According to the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms, the M1 Carbine can easily be converted into a fully-automatic assault rifle. For this reason, the Department of Defense has refused to sell its surplus stocks of these weapons to civilian gun dealers and collectors in the United States.

According to Raymond W. Kelley, the Treasury Department’s Under-Secretary for Enforcement, the inflow of these weapons will drive down the price of similar weapons, making them more accessible to criminals. Already, during 1995-1996, ATF has traced 1,172 M1911 pistols and 639 M1 rifles to crimes committed in the United States.

THIS IS A GOVERNMENT OVERSIGHT CONCERN: Nearly 2.5 million of these weapons were given or sold as “security assistance” to allied governments. Under United States law, recipients of American arms and military aid must obtain permission from the United States government before retransferring those arms to third parties. Setting a dangerous precedent, this amendment fundamentally undercuts the ability of the United States government to exercise its right of refusal on retransfer of United States arms.

The Reagan, Bush, and Clinton Administrations have all barred imports of these military weapons by the American public. The Appropriations bill explicitly overrides this policy, prohibiting the government from denying applications for the importation of “U.S. origin ammunition and curio or relic firearms and parts.” In effect, the provision would force the Administration to allow thousands of M1 assault rifles and M1911 pistols into circulation with the civilian population, thereby not only threatening public safety but also undermining governmental oversight and taxpayer accountability.

This is also a taxpayer concern. The amendment also presents a windfall of millions of dollars to foreign governments and United States gun dealers. The amendment effectively terminates a requirement that allies reimburse the United States treasury if they sell United States-supplied weapons. According to ATF, each M1 Carbine, M1 Garand rifle, and M1911 pistol currently sells for about $300-500 in the United States market. The South Korean, Turkish, and Pakistani governments and militaries stand to make millions from the resale of these weapons. South Korea has 1.3 million M1 Garands and Carbines, while the Turkish military and police have 136,000 M1 Garands and 50,000 M1911 pistols. These weapons were originally given free, or sold at highly subsidized rates, or retrieved as “spoils of war.” The United States Department of Defense does not sell these lethal weapons on the commercial market for profit. Why should we allow foreign governments to do so?

Again, we strongly urge you vote to delete this provision from the Fiscal Year 1998 Treasury-Postal Service-General Government Appropriations bill.

Thank you.

Ms. MILLENDER-MCDONALD. Mr. Chairman, I would like to thank the distinguished chairman and ranking member for their work in securing adequate funding for some essential antidrug initiatives. I am particularly proud to support the drug free communities matching grants, which will help community coalitions in the 37th District of California and throughout the country address the Nation's drug problem.

From 1991 to 1996, the proportion of eighth-graders using an illicit drug more than doubled from 11 to 24 percent. Ten years ago, 18.6 percent of high school students reported using at least one illicit drug over the course of a year, and now, 29 percent of high school students report using at least one illicit drug. That is a 58.6-percent increase.

Thanks to the drug-free communities grants, we can change these numbers and parents, teachers, churches, and entire communities can come together to prevent, treat and ultimately, end drug abuse. Creating opportunities for community coalitions to overcome the problem of drug abuse is essential in our effort to maintain and strengthen communities in the 37th District of California, and throughout the entire country.

Mr. MICA. Mr. Chairman, I would like to thank the authors of this bill for their work in increasing funding for drug enforcement activities.

One million dollars in funding for the designation of central Florida as a High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area [HIDTA] has been provided in the House Treasury, Postal Service and General Government appropriations bill. I made this request because I feel it is necessary that we commit every available resource to combat the drug scourge in central Florida.

A HIDTA designation would provide additional resources to help better coordinate Federal, State, and local drug activities. My intent is to support local efforts to combat the influx of drugs and the attending crime that results.

In the Orlando area, heroin overdose deaths went from zero in 1993 to 30 last year. More teens died locally of overdoses than almost any other major U.S. city. So you can see the situation we are in. In fact, my area in Orlando also ranked second behind Miami in total cocaine deaths in Florida. This situation has deteriorated to such an extent in Florida that I have asked our drug czar, Barry McCaffrey, to cooperate in qualifying central Florida as a HIDTA which would bring much needed resources to our area and into our State.

There already are HIDTA's operating in many cities and regions throughout the county—including a successful program in Miami—and they have proved successful in aiding with command and control, manpower and funding issues. Your support for adding central Florida to the HIDTA list guarantees that Florida will continue to have adequate funding to battle the increasing amount of illegal drugs that are trafficking through our state.

Following are additional alarming statistics about drug use which argue for strengthening our resolve to winning the war on drugs for the sake of our children:

1997 CASA (NATIONAL CENTER ON ADDICTION AND SUBSTANCE ABUSE AT COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY) SURVEY OF PUBLIC OPINION

By the Time Middle School Students Reach 13—

40% know someone who has used acid, cocaine or heroin.

29% can buy marijuana within a day; 12% can buy marijuana within an hour or less.

Two thirds can buy marijuana within a day; 44% within an hour or less.

62% have friends who use marijuana; 21% will say more than half of their friends use marijuana; 34% say at least half of their friends use marijuana.

60% have attended a party in the past six months where marijuana was available; for 30%, more than half of the parties they attend have marijuana.

Half have personally seen drugs sold on their school grounds.

One third have witnessed the sale of drugs in their neighborhood.

1 out of 4 have a schoolmate who died because of drugs or alcohol.

Only 1 in 4 are willing to report a drug user in their school to school officials.

Mr. KOLBE. Mr. Chairman, I move the Committee do now rise and report the bill back to the House, with sundry amendments, with the recommendation that the amendments be agreed to and that the bill, as amended, do pass.

The motion was agreed to.

Accordingly the Committee rose; and the Speaker pro tempore (Mr. SMITH of New Jersey) having assumed the chair, Mr. LATOURETTE, Chairman pro tempore of the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union, reported that that Committee, having had under consideration the bill (H.R. 2378) making appropriations for the Treasury Department, the United States Postal Service, the Executive Office of the President, and certain Independent Agencies, for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1998, and for other purposes, had directed him to report the bill back to the House with sundry amendments, with the recommendation that the amendments be agreed to and that the bill, as amended, do pass.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the previous question is ordered.

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is a separate vote demanded on any amendment? If not, the Chair will put them en gros.

The amendments were agreed to.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the engrossment and third reading of the bill.

The bill was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time, and was read the third time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the passage of the bill.

Pursuant to clause 7 of rule XV, the yeas and nays are ordered.
