

emphasis on what new systems should do rather than how they should look, industry has enjoyed unparalleled opportunities to bring technical creativity to bear on the most complex requirements. Mr. Longuemare successfully ushered the reform of military specifications and standards. In fact, nearly 2,700 specifications and standards have been rescinded as formal acquisition requirements since the program's inception. Thus, barriers to industry's own rate of technology acceleration have eroded, and industry continues to improve the way they do business with the Department of Defense.

In addition to his leadership through difficult institutional changes, Mr. Longuemare personally pioneered many innovative acquisition concepts such as cost as an independent variable [CAIV] and the single process initiative [SPI]. CAIV provides program managers and engineers a practical method for treating cost as a true systems design criterion, and it directly supports the DOD transition to performance specifications. The SPI approach, which replaces separate Government and commercial processes, is one of the most powerful techniques available for reducing overhead and accelerating process proficiency.

Mr. Longuemare has been a champion within the DOD for more effective communications. He initiated a systems engineering directorate to better define this crucial, but often elusive, discipline within the acquisition system. He advocated continuing education for the acquisition work force and fostered significantly improved coordination between the military departments, particularly in the requirements definition process.

Mr. President, the work of this exceptional public servant will continue to have a lasting impact on the DOD for many years to come. Mr. Longuemare has rightly earned the highest respect of all who know him in Congress, the DOD, and private industry. I ask my colleagues to join me in extending the Senate's best wishes to Noel, his wife Julie, and their daughter Maria.●

OUTRAGE OVER MALAYSIAN REMARKS

● Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, I rise today to express my outrage and disgust at recent comments by Dr. Mahathir Mohamad, the Prime Minister of Malaysia. According to reports by official Malaysian news agencies, the Associated Press, and Reuters, Dr. Mahathir speculated last week that the collapse of Malaysian currency and the subsequent turmoil in its stock market may have been the result of an international Jewish conspiracy to oppress his predominately Muslim nation.

Malaysia is in the midst of an economic crisis. Its currency, the Ringgit, has depreciated over 25 percent, which has sent its stock market to all-time lows. The Prime Minister has blamed the crisis on currency speculators, most notably the famous hedge fund manager George Soros, who is Jewish. Soros has denied trading extensively in the Ringgit and most financial analysts agree that currency traders could not have triggered the Ringgit crisis.

I do not want to mischaracterize Dr. Mahathir's remarks, so I will quote them directly, as reported by the Associated Press. According to the AP, Dr. Mahathir said, "The Jews robbed the Palestinians of everything, but in Malaysia they could not do so, hence they do this, depress the Ringgit."

Referring to the economic progress made by Malaysia over the past decade, Dr. Mahathir said, "Incidentally, we are Muslims, and the Jews are not happy to see the Muslims progress." Finally, he speculated about a global anti-Malaysian conspiracy saying, "We may suspect that they [Jews] have an agenda, but we do not want to accuse."

Mr. President, I was shocked by these comments. They are patently outrageous, hateful, and blatantly anti-Semitic. I thought it appropriate that the Simon Wiesenthal Center, which is based in Los Angeles, immediately demanded a clarification from the Malaysian Government.

Today, the Simon Wiesenthal Center shared with me a letter it received from Hashim Makaruddin, Press Secretary to the Prime Minister. Rather than clarify Dr. Mahathir's remarks, Mr. Makaruddin's letter confirms a hostile attitude among Malaysia's leaders.

Mr. Makaruddin denies that the Prime Minister specifically alleged a Jewish conspiracy to stifle Malaysia's economic growth. He writes that Dr. Mahathir "was merely explaining that the currency crisis now being faced by Malaysia was the doing of George Soros, who is a Jew, and that among the victims which suffered were Malaysia and Indonesia, which are Muslim countries. Because coincidentally Mr. Soros is a Jew and Malaysia and Indonesia are Muslim countries, there are people who thought that this currency manipulation was a Jewish 'conspiracy' against the Muslim countries. This was what Dr. Mahathir told the crowd at the rally."

Mr. President, in other words, the Prime Minister's explanation is that he was not advancing his own anti-Semitic views, he was simply repeating the anti-Semitic conspiracy theories advanced by others without refuting them. Clearly, it is wrong for any government leader to lend official credence to such anti-Semitic views by repeating them at a widely attended rally.

I find Mr. Makaruddin's explanation of the Prime Minister's remarks wholly unsatisfactory.

I call on Prime Minister Mahathir to apologize to those who have taken offense at his remarks. I do not believe any other course of action can undo the damage done by these hateful and irresponsible comments.●

JOE CENARRUSA

● Mr. KEMPTHORNE. Mr. President, integrity. That one word encompasses the life of Joe Cenarrusa. Today, family, friends, and the people of Idaho bid farewell to a man filled with integrity whose life ended tragically on September 9, 1997.

Joe Cenarrusa, the son of Idaho Secretary of State Pete Cenarrusa and his wife Freda, was first and foremost a family man. But he was also a successful businessman who was very active in his community.

Joe Cenarrusa was born on the family ranch in Carey, ID. He was Pete and Freda Cenarrusa's only son. Joe had a love for flying—a love which he inherited from his father who was a Marine fighter pilot during World War II. At the age of 4, Joe would sit on his father's lap in the cockpit and Pete would let him take over the controls. It was clear from that early age that Joe would continue to soar to new heights.

The day he turned 16, Joe took his first solo flight. He then took his FAA check rides for the instrument, commercial, and airline transport ratings on the days he became age-eligible for them. Joe graduated from the University of Idaho where he was a flight instructor and was also active in the sky-diving club.

In 1974, he returned home to take over the ranch. He brought with him new ideas and innovative techniques which turned the operation into one of the most successful livestock operations in Idaho.

Joe Cenarrusa never shied away from a challenge. "You just can't take; you also have to give." That's how Joe lived his life, always finding ways to give back to his community—especially for causes that helped children.

Joe felt every child needed a bicycle. A young child riding a bike was only natural, but there were some children in the community whose families couldn't afford bikes. So Joe decided to do something about that. As the owner of Red Robin Restaurants, Joe would offer deluxe hamburgers for anyone who would donate a bicycle. Those bikes would be refurbished by a friend, Mike Cooley, and then donated to needy children at the start of each school year. "Burgers For Bicycles" was a program that made Joe happy. It made his friend Mike Cooley happy. And it made thousands of school-children happy each fall.

Joe also had a place in his heart for battered and neglected children who ended up at the Hays Shelter Home. He'd bring the children and staff from the home down to his restaurant once a week and let them order whatever they wanted off the menu—including dessert. What a wonderful opportunity and a very visible sign to these neglected children that someone in their community cared.

Joe is remembered as a "good, decent man, a visionary, a man of integrity, a man who loved his family, and a man who, in the best tradition of America, gave generously to his community." He never lost sight of his Basque values. He understood the value of hard work, and he learned at an early age the importance of honor and integrity.

The measure of this man is reflected in the mission statement for his company which reads, "We are a company committed to creating opportunities for success." Joe Cenarrusa's life was committed to helping all around him succeed. And for that, each of us who knew Joe have lived a richer life. My prayers are with his parents Pete and Freda, his wife Jean, and their two sons, Andy and Tyler.●

TRIBUTE TO THE COMMITTEE OF 200

● Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, I rise today to pay special tribute to the Committee of 200, a distinguished professional women's organization headquartered in my home State, on the occasion of its 15th anniversary the week beginning October 20.

The Committee of 200 is dedicated to promoting entrepreneurship and corporate leadership among women of this generation and the next. The committee is comprised of 370 members from the United States and abroad, representing 70 different industries. Each member is an accomplished businesswoman, including entrepreneurs whose companies generate annual revenue of $10 million or greater and U.S. corporate executives who manage divisions that produce more than $50 million in annual revenue.

Recognizing the needs of young women who will soon be entering the business world, the Committee of 200 established a foundation in 1986 to enhance its outreach activities. This foundation provides important assistance and scholarships for women business students and provides grants to foster entrepreneurship among young women.

The Committee of 200 exemplifies the spirit of American business, promoting entrepreneurship, corporate innovation, and community awareness. It supports the careers of young women by giving them the tools to complete effectively in an intensely competitive environment.

Mr. President, the Committee of 200 has provided critical support services over the last 15 years to business leaders and business students. It has distinguished itself as a preeminent professional organization for women. I am confident that over the next 15 years, the committee will continue to be a credit to American businesses and women corporate leaders. I want to congratulate all the members of the Committee of 200 as they celebrate this important milestone in the organization's history.●

ASTRONAUT JERRY LINENGER

● Mr. ABRAHAM. Mr. President, I rise today to congratulate Dr. Jerry

Linenger and his wife Kathryn and sons John and Jeffrey as they celebrate their homecoming to Eastpointe, MI.

Astronaut Jerry Linenger has traveled a little farther than just the ends of the Earth. Having been a crewmember of STS-64 aboard the Space Shuttle Discovery and the recent STS-81 and STS-84 missions of the Space Shuttle Atlantis, and a resident aboard the Russian Mir Space Station, Dr. Linenger has logged a total of 142 days in outerspace, clearly, he exemplifies the spirit of a modern-day American pioneer.

Dr. Linenger has made a profession of reaching for the stars, and now spends much of his time sharing his experience with the people of Michigan and of this great Nation. By bringing the stars to Earth, Dr. Linenger has inspired young minds to look beyond their immediate surroundings and has offered them a vision of an even greater future.

Tonight, there is no doubt a young Dr. Linenger in the audience. As a graduate of East Detroit High School, at one time walking in your shoes, he has shown us what can happen with hard work and commitment toward a goal. I encourage you to view Dr. Linenger's accomplishments with the thought in mind that you too may someday share the same experience.

With all of his educational, personal and professional accomplishments, Dr. Linenger has truly proven to be an American hero for his family, friends, all citizens of Michigan, especially the citizens of the city of Eastpointe.

On behalf of the U.S. Senate, I congratulate Dr. Linenger and his family and wish them the best of luck in their future endeavors.●

JANE ALEXANDER'S RESIGNATION FROM THE NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE ARTS

● Mr. DODD. Mr. President, I rise today to commend Jane Alexander on her tenure as Chairperson of the National Endowment for the Arts. Just a few days ago, she announced her resignation from the NEA and her plan to return to private life. I am truly saddened that the NEA will lose such a strong and respected leader and that the Nation will lose one of its most articulate and effective champions in the effort to preserve the NEA.

I am proud to be a strong supporter of the arts. It is clear that future generations will remember us not for our gross national product or our stockpile of advanced weapons, but for the content of the artistic and cultural expression that characterizes our civilization. The arts give us an opportunity to leave our mark on history.

Jane Alexander's tenure has not been easy. Her term has spanned four of the most challenging years in the NEA's history, filled with annual fights over its survival. Each year we have seen assaults mounted on the arts and the NEA in particular. But the supporters of the arts in the Congress have met each of these challenges and emerged victorious thanks to the leadership of Jane Alexander.

Perhaps as important as her leadership in these legislative battles has been her efforts throughout the country as an articulate voice in support of the arts and a Federal role in supporting the arts. She has visited schools and community centers as well as theaters and galleries across the country and has reminded Americans of the strength and importance of the arts.

Beyond these efforts on the national scene, she has proved an able and adept manager of the NEA. She has implemented the mandated staff cuts at the NEA and restructured the agency without compromising its mission. She has compensated for fewer resources by forming partnerships with other agencies and encouraging all arts organizations to work more closely together. In addition, under her leadership, grant-making processes have been reorganized, accountability measures have been put in place, investments in arts education have increased, and new communication tools including a website have been developed.

From the stage and the big screen to the halls of Congress, Jane Alexander has proven she is a remarkable individual, a great voice for the arts in America, and a true national treasure. I thank her for her dedication and her tireless efforts, and I wish her the best of luck in her future endeavors.●

THE AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS MARKET ACCESS ACT

● Mr. GORTON. Mr. President, I would like to add my name as a cosponsor to S. 219, the Agricultural Products Market Access Act of 1997 and to commend Senators GRASSLEY and DASCHLE for their excellent work on behalf of American agricultural exports.

S. 219 will set up a system for agricultural trade identical to that used to identify violations of intellectual property rights—the "Special 301" procedure. Specifically, the bill requires the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative to annually designate as priority countries those trading partners having the most egregious trade barriers to U.S. agricultural products. USTR would then initiate a streamlined 301 investigation of the trade practices of those countries identified to determine whether their agricultural trade barriers merit sanctions or other retaliatory actions.

As many of my colleagues know, my home State of Washington is a major producer and exporter of agricultural products. In fact, agriculture is Washington's No. 1 industry employing well over 100,000 people directly and accounting for 20 percent of the State's total exports. I and my constituents, however, are continually frustrated by the unfair and irrational barriers erected to our agricultural exports in countries throughout the world.
