

sales practice rules just because a bank traded the security.

The role of the Federal Reserve Board with respect to new hybrid products would be at odds with the regulatory structure for security futures products under H.R. 4541. There is no reason to undermine the structure of H.R. 4541 by giving the Federal Reserve Board a role in the regulation of broker-dealers that trade securities futures products.

If this provision remains in the bill, I believe that in order to comply with the intent of Congress, as expressed in title II of this bill, the SEC would have to proceed by rule to require all bank Futures Commission Merchants seeking to sell single stock futures to, at minimum, notice register with the SEC. In addition, the CFTC would have to bar bank futures commission merchants from selling the product unless they have notice registered with the SEC. This is a convoluted way of dealing with a drafting problem that we could and should fix right now, but it is the only way to prevent gaping loopholes from opening up that could harm investors.

Because there has been an effort over the last several days to address some of the concerns that Democrats have had about tax parity, swaps language in section 107 of the bill, mutual fund language, and numerous other important provisions, I am reluctantly going to vote for this bill today. It is not the bill I would have crafted. It still contains some serious flaws. But it is a much better bill than the bill that passed out of the Agriculture Committee.

However, I must also say that if, when this bill goes over to the other body, some of the outrageous and anticonsumer provisions that were deleted from the House bill in recent days are to be restored, or other equally objectionable new provisions are added, I will fight hard to defeat this bill. And so, I would suggest to the financial services industry and to the administration, if you really want to get this bill done this year, you need to forcefully resist anticonsumer or anticompetitive changes to the legal certainty language, the tax parity language, the single stock futures language, and instead strengthen the consumer and market integrity and competitive provisions of the bill in the manner I have just described.

I look forward to working with Members on the other side of the aisle and in the other body to achieve that goal. And I hope that we can have more of a direct dialog on this bill as it moves forward than we have had over the last few weeks.

CONGRATULATING RICHARD JOHNSON OF WOODSTOCK, CONNECTICUT ON WINNING THE BRONZE MEDAL IN ARCHERY AT THE 2000 SUMMER OLYMPICS

HON. SAM GEJDENSON

OF CONNECTICUT

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 23, 2000

Mr. GEJDENSON. Mr. Speaker, today I join the residents of Woodstock, Connecticut in congratulating Richard "Butch" Johnson for his continued success in the sport of archery. During the 2000 Summer Olympics in Sydney, Australia, Mr. Johnson won the bronze medal in team archery. This follows his gold medal performance in the 1996 Olympic games.

Over the past year, Mr. Johnson has built a tremendous record of achievement. He won the National Target Championship, the National Indoor Championship and the Gold Cup. He was the runner up in the U.S. Open. During the Pan Am Games in 1999, Mr. Johnson won the bronze medal in individual competition and a gold medal as part of the U.S. archery team. His performance in the Olympics is a crowning moment in a year of many victories.

Mr. Johnson is clearly one of the best archers in America and the world. He is an incredible competitor and a great ambassador for his community, the State of Connecticut and our nation. I am proud to join with his neighbors and friends in Woodstock in celebrating his Olympic bronze medal performance. We wish him much success in the years to come.

TRIBUTE TO ART EDGERTON

HON. MARCY KAPTUR

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 23, 2000

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Speaker, I wish to pay tribute to an extraordinary man from my district, Mr. Art Edgerton. Art unexpectedly passed from this life on Tuesday, September 26, 2000 in his home in Perrysburg, Ohio. Art exemplified artistry, humanitarianism, and zest in every aspect of his being.

Well known to Northwest Ohioans, Art was a most talented and accomplished musician who made his mark nationwide. Though he began his professional career as a drummer at the tender age of nine, Art's piano playing was legendary and he played with various bands through the early 1950s. Even after settling in Toledo, Ohio and pursuing other employment, Art continued playing the piano, entertaining audiences in his adopted hometown.

In 1957, Art entered into a new career, that of broadcasting. Beginning as a part time disc jockey with the former WTOL radio station, he soon transitioned to a report for both radio and television covering civic affairs. Art broke into this field at a time when his race and his disability made this pursuit very difficult. Still he persevered, enduring prejudice with grace, covering the 1963 March on Washington and, blind since birth, taking notes in Braille. An early colleague best summed up Art's style: ". . . a very accomplished reporter. He was extremely sensitive at a time when being a black reporter presented him with a lot of obstacles." The colleague noted how it was not easy for many people to accept Arts' use of Braille writing as he reported an event, and highlighted "Art's ability to maintain his composure and to deal fairly with everyone he dealt with, even if they didn't deal fairly with him." Even as he continued in his journalism and music careers, Art took on a new challenge in the late 1960's becoming an administrative assistant in the external affairs office of the University of Toledo and later, the Assistant Director for Affirmative Action.

Active in community affairs as well, Art served as Board President of the Ecumenical Communications Commission of Northwest Ohio, Board Member of the Greater Toledo Chapter of the American Red Cross, member of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, President of the Northwest Ohio Black Media Association, and the National Association of Black Journalists. In 1995 he was inducted into that organization's Regional Hall of Fame. Among all of his awards and accolades, Art was perhaps most proud of receiving the 1967 Handicapped American of the Year Award which was presented to him personally by Vice President Hubert Humphrey. Coming from an unhappy childhood in which his parents could not accept his blindness, his wife explained why this particular award affected him so deeply, "With his upbringing, how he had to scuffle, he just figured he would never be recognized. The fact that somebody recognized what he done gave him that much more determination to continue and do better."

Mr. Speaker, Art Edgerton was a friend and a trusted advisor throughout the years I have served in this House. I shall miss deeply, as will our entire community. He made us better through his caring and talents spirit. He always advocated for the rights of people with disabilities. Exceedingly gracious, completely endearing, unfailingly honest, yet with a core of steel, Art Edgerton was a man among men. We offer our profoundest and heartfelt condolences to his wife of 35 years, Della, his sons Edward and Paul, his grandchildren and great-grandchildren. May their memories of this truly great man carry them forward.

IN HONOR OF THE GRAND OPENING OF THE POLISH NATIONAL ALLIANCE'S NEW BUILDING

HON. DENNIS J. KUCINICH

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 23, 2000

Mr. KUCINICH. Mr. Speaker, today I recognize the Polish National Alliance of Council 6, in Garfield Heights, Ohio. The Grand Opening of the Alliance's magnificent new building is on Saturday, October 21, 2000.

The Polish National Alliance is the largest ethnic fraternity in the world. Established in 1880, the PNA was formed to unite the members of the Polish immigrant community in America behind the dual causes of Poland's independence and their own advancement into mainstream American society. In 1885, the Alliance established an insurance program for the benefit of its members. Throughout its nearly 120-year-long heritage, the Alliance has grown to include education benefits for its members, newspapers promoting harmony and the Polish National cause, and has worked to promote Poland's independence. Since World War I, the PNA and its members have given generously to help meet the material and medical needs of Poland's people, as well.

Today, the Alliance has grown enormously in both numbers and influence, with a proud record of serving the insurance needs of more than two million men, women and children since 1880. As one of over nine-hundred local lodge groups, the Polish National Alliance Council 6 has carried on the great tradition and character of the PNA.

I ask that my colleagues join with me to commend the Polish National Alliance for years of service to both the local and national Polish communities, and also the diverse world community at-large. I rise to wish them many more years of accomplishments and achievements in their new building.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE 75TH ANNIVERSARY OF UNION CITY

HON. ROBERT MENENDEZ

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 23, 2000

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. Speaker, today I recognize the 75th anniversary of Union City, NJ, the city I love, the city that allowed me to enter public service, and the city I proudly serve to this day.

Since it was founded on June 1, 1925, Union City has become home to people of varying ethnicity, many of whom made the difficult journey from their native land to build a new life in America, the land of opportunity. As a result, Union City represents the best of America, reflecting the melting-pot diversity that contributed to our Nation's great success.

Union City's 75th anniversary is a wonderful time to celebrate the history and future of a city whose culture is so rich in diversity. Union City's ethnic makeup includes Germans; Italians; Irish; Armenians; Puerto Ricans; Cubans; South Americans; Central Americans; Haitians; Asian Indians; Koreans; and Arabs; as well as many others.

With a population of approximately 60,000 individuals, living and working in 1.4 square miles, Union City is an amazing example of diversity in harmony. The residents of Union City proudly share their experiences, and I am proud to have had the opportunity to share my life with them.

Today, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing the 75th anniversary of Union City.

IN HONOR OF FRANK KOPLOWITZ
ON THE OCCASION OF HIS 80TH BIRTHDAY

HON. ANNA G. ESHOO

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 23, 2000

Ms. ESHOO. Mr. Speaker, today I honor an outstanding American, a devoted husband, a loving father, an exceedingly proud grandfather and a superb friend on the occasion of his 80th birthday—Frank Koplowitz.

Born in New Britain, Connecticut on October 17, 1920, Frank has dedicated much of his life serving to our nation in the Air Force. Upon graduating from high school, he began studying airplane engine mechanics. He received his wings and graduated as a Second Lieutenant after his training at the University of Montana in Missoula and subsequent training in Santa Ana, California. During World War II, he was sent to overseas to England where he flew 37 missions as a bombardier with the 486th B.G. of B17s. On his 22nd mission, he was shot down over France and despite head injuries and a hospital stay, he requested that he be returned to his crew to finish his missions. He was awarded the D.F.C. and the Air Medal with six Clusters.

Frank continued his service in the Air Force Reserve for 26 years and retired as a Lieutenant Colonel. In addition to his service to our nation, he is a respected businessman who was in the jewelry manufacturing business for over fifty years. Today he remains active in many charitable organizations such as the Masonic Order and the City of Hope.

Mr. Speaker, Frank Koplowitz is an authentic American hero, a distinguished member of our community and an individual who is genuinely loved and admired by everyone who has met him and knows him. It's a privilege to have the opportunity to pay tribute to him on the occasion of his eightieth birthday and to recognize him for his profound contributions to our nation. We are indeed a better country because of him.

IN HONOR OF DR. PAUL
GREENGARD, 2000 NOBEL PRIZE
WINNER IN MEDICINE

HON. CAROLYN B. MALONEY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 23, 2000

Mrs. MALONEY of New York. Mr. Speaker, I enthusiastically rise today to honor Dr. Paul Greengard, the 2000 Nobel Prize winner in medicine, who resides and teaches in my district. Dr. Greengard received the Nobel Prize for his discovery of how dopamine—a human neurotransmitter that controls one's movements, emotional responses, and ability to experience pleasure and pain—affects the central nervous system. His advancements in the field of neuroscience have greatly increased our understanding of the relationships between neurobiological chemicals and some of the world's most widespread neurological disorders, such as Parkinson's Disease, Alzheimer's Disease, and Schizophrenia. Such an achievement is one I hold in tremendous regard and I truly hope my colleagues recognize the importance of Dr. Greengard's groundbreaking discovery.

Neurological diseases touch most every human being in some way. As the founder and Co-Chair of the Congressional Working Group on Parkinson's Disease, I am especially energized by Dr. Greengard's research. I sincerely hope that medical and academic professionals, buoyed by Dr. Greengard's achievements, continue their pursuit of uncovering the causes of the most pressing neurological disorders.

Dr. Greengard is a genuinely fascinating individual. He currently serves as the head of the Laboratory of Molecular and Cellular Neuroscience at The Rockefeller University in New York City and is the director of the Zachary and Elizabeth M. Fisher Center for Research on Alzheimer's Disease, also at Rockefeller. The Fisher Center, where I serve as a member of the Board of Trustees alongside Fisher CEO Michael Stern, is an extraordinarily valuable research center where Dr. Greengard has made pioneering discoveries in neuroscience which provide a more conceptual understanding of how the nervous system functions at the molecular level. His research into the abnormalities associated with Dopamine serves as a window through which scientists can examine the effects that Dopamine has on psychiatric disorders of human beings, such as substance abuse and Attention Deficit Disorder.

Dr. Greengard has dedicated his life to scientific exploration. Since 1953, when he received his Ph.D. in biophysics from Johns Hopkins University, Dr. Greengard has worked as a scientific professional in every sense of the word. From his days as a scholar at Cambridge University in London, and years as a professor of pharmacology at Yale University, Dr. Greengard has possessed a passion for knowledge into the scientific basis of human existence. His life is nothing short of an admirable testament to the joy of scholarship and the rewards of knowledge.

Mr. Speaker, I am immeasurably proud to have such an esteemed American living and working within my district. Dr. Greengard's Nobel Prize is a well-deserved honor and a tremendous reward for his dedication and tireless pursuit of scientific truth.

CONGRATULATING MIRIAM LOPEZ

HON. ILEANA ROS-LEHTINEN

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 23, 2000

Ms. ROS-LEHTINEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this opportunity to warmly congratulate Miriam Lopez for her new position as President of the Florida Bankers Association.

After obtaining a Masters in Business Administration from the University of Miami, Miriam began her career as a commercial loan officer with Southeast First National Bank of Miami. In 1985, she became President and CEO of TransAtlantic Bank becoming responsible for all the daily operations of the bank. Previously, she held senior positions with Republic National Bank and Intercontinental Bank.

Being active in civic and charitable organizations, Miriam is a member of the finance council of the Archdioceses of Miami, Board Member of the Downtown Development Authority, and St. Thomas University Board of Directors. She was appointed to the Florida Comptroller's Banking Sunset Task Force and the State of Florida International Affairs Commission. Among her illustrious honors, the Coalition of Hispanic American Women nominated Miriam for the Vivian Salazar Quevedo "Women of the Year" Award.

Since 1992, Miriam became part of the American Bankers Association. She served on the Community Bankers Council and on its executive committee. She also chaired the American Bankers Association Community Council and its Banking Advisor Program.

With a personal and professional interest in furthering education for public school children in our area, Miriam frequently addresses educational forums and community groups on the value of education, savings, and honesty.

We are privileged to have her as the first Cuban-American woman President of the Florida Bankers Association and to have the benefit of her banking expertise. It is my great pleasure to join Miriam's family, especially her husband, Peter, friends, and colleagues in celebrating this special occasion. We all wish her continued success in her future endeavors.
