TRIBUTE TO MR. AND MRS. PHIL
AND CHARLOTTE PETERSON

HON. CARRIE P. MEEK

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 23, 2000

Mrs. MEEK of Florida. Mr. Speaker, it is indeed a great privilege to pay tribute to Phil and Charlotte Peterson, who will be feted by hordes of friends and admirers this Sunday, March 26, 2000, beginning at 6:30 p.m. at historic Miami Shores Country Club. If there was ever a dynamic duo that genuinely enhances the good name and stellar reputation of a particular community, then Phil and Charlotte would admirably fit that billing.

Phil Sheridan Peterson, Jr. was born in Sturgeon Bay, WI and comes from a very distinguished lineage. Named after his grandfather, the legendary General Philip Sheridan, Phil faithfully upholds to this very day the tradition of duty to country and honor to God that buttressed the much-heralded exploits of his granddad. Growing up during the Depression era and losing his mother at the tender age of three, Phil had to quickly become the steady hand and exemplar to three other younger siblings, a sister and two brothers.

His wife Charlotte, on the other hand, was delicately schooled in the appreciation of music and the arts. As fate would have it, she met Phil when she was barely 12 years old, while picking cherries to contribute to her family's sustenance at a Wisconsin orchard managed by him. It was indeed love at first sight, and as she is wont to say: " * * * from that day on, I've been working for him ever since."

As World War II unleashed its fury, young Phil, then a fresh high school graduate, unhesitatingly responded to his country's call to duty and joined the U.S. Navy. His tour of service sent him to the Baltic Sea where he soon braved numerous air raids, sea battles and killer storms that wrecked havoc on his fleet ships, tragically claiming the lives of some 1,200 brave Americans. Having survived the war's harrowing ordeals, Phil Peterson returned home a much-decorated hero and thereby earned his rightful niche in the annals of the greatest generation of Americans who ever lived.

Upon his discharge from the U.S. Navy, Phil went back to school to finish his education at the University of Wisconsin where he became an extraordinary feature on the school's football and wrestling team. During this time Charlotte was also at the end of getting her college degree. Upon graduation from college, Phil and Charlotte got married on December 27, 1947. Through this union they were blessed with five wonderful children, who are now themselves successful and productive adult members of society.

While they managed to get back and tend to the family Peterson orchard farm in Wisconsin, their adventurous spirit soon propelled their relocation in Florida's Key West, finally settling down in what was then called Miami's model community of "Liberty City." Working as entrepreneurs for the first Harley Davidson's motorcycle franchise in South Florida, Phil and Charlotte found time to immerse themselves in key leadership positions helping several civic organizations, such as the American Red Cross, the Muscular Dystrophy Association, Easter Seals, the Covenant House, Toys for Underprivileged Children, St. Jude's and Miami Children's Hospital, Shelters for Abused Women, Miami Rescue Mission, Ronald McDonald House, Paralyzed Veterans of America, the Florida Motorcycles Dealers Association, the Knights of Columbus, St. Vincent de Paul Society, and many local schools.

Phil & Charlotte Peterson truly epitomize the preeminence of ordinary and decent folks who have tried to do their level best toward contributing to the amelioration of their community and the welfare of their fellow human beings. Indeed, we have tremendously benefitted from their unique brand of tireless commitment and generosity.

In fact, Phil's first-hand experience, thorough knowledge and solid reputation at Harley Davidson motivated him to address the varied issues and complex problems surrounding America's burgeoning motorcycle business. Accordingly, his compelling testimonies before the U.S. Congress paved the way for shedding light on the devious schemes of fast-buck entrepreneurs who were illegally dumping foreign-made substandard motorcycles in the American market. His expert observations subsequently led to the adoption of important pieces of initiatives that have now become our nation's laws in this area.

In their own quiet but dignified way, Phil & Charlotte Peterson have been and continue to be our community's consummate activists. They genuinely abide by the dictum that those who have less in life, through no fault of their own, deserve the help of community leaders to help them get back up and lead normal, productive lives. Friends and admirers are oftentimes touched by their unique sincerity and selfless giving. The numerous accolades from various organizations represent an unequivocal testimony of the utmost respect and admiration they both enjoy from our community.

Their word is their bond to those who have dealt with them not only in their moments of triumphal exuberance, but also in their quest to help us transform our community into the kind of a caring neighborhood where the young and the old, the rich and the poor, the mighty and the humble converge together to hasten the emergence of the spirit and optimism that nobly represent the true character of America.

I am deeply honored to extend my best wishes and utmost gratitude to Phil & Charlotte Peterson for what they have done to our community. They truly exemplify a genuine leadership whose courage and kindheartedness appeal to our noblest character as a nation.

OIL PRICE REDUCTION ACT OF 2000

SPEECH OF

HON. LOIS CAPP

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, March 22, 2000

The House in Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union had under consideration the bill (H.R. 3822) to reduce, suspend, or terminate any assistance under the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 and the Arms Export Control Act to each country determined by the President to be engaged in oil price fixing to the detriment of the United States economy, and for other purposes:

Mrs. CAPP. Mr. Chairman, I am an original cosponsor of the Oil Price Reduction Act. We simply must take some common sense steps to reduce the price of gas. In my district, which normally has some of the highest gas prices in the country, gas now costs over $2 per gallon. My constituents are hurting and need help.

In its original form, H.R. 3822 would have allowed the Administration to halt arms sales to countries that are gouging American consumers by raising oil prices. But the House leadership has weakened the bill and now it only counsels diplomacy.

I'm all for diplomacy and have encouraged the Administration to forcefully engage all the OPEC countries about this issue. But diplomacy has its limits. Simply put, this country should seriously reexamine our policy of selling arms to countries that seek to gouge American consumers and hurt our economy.

And to add insult to injury, these are some of the same countries that American men and women risked their lives for in the Persian Gulf war. Today, thousands of dedicated soldiers, sailors, airmen and women continue putting their lives on the line to keep Saddam at bay and these countries safe.

I will vote for this bill, but we need to take a much firmer stance with the OPEC nations. For example, while the original bill would allow the administration to restrict arms sales, I might have gone further and required that arm sales be halted. Amendments to that effect won't be allowed in today's debate.

In addition, I am very disappointed that the House is not going to be voting on other key issues to address high gas prices.

I believe we should stop exporting Alaskan oil to foreign countries and I have cosponsored legislation to do that. While our gas prices have doubled over the last year, we send 60,000 barrels of oil a day to Asia. If not exported, this oil would go to the west coast. We should be voting to halt those exports and give American families the benefit of American oil.

We should also consider proposals to swap oil out of the Strategic Petroleum Reserve. Making available oil from the SPR could offset the shortages produced by the OPEC countries production cuts. This would weaken OPEC's ability to unilaterally raise our gas prices.

Finally, we should be aggressively developing renewable energy sources and alternative fuels. This would reduce our reliance on foreign fuels, while at the same time helping to preserve our environment.

But we must also make sure we don't do certain things that would not lower the price of gas, but would reduce safety on our roads and threaten the Central Coast economy and environment.

For example, some have advocated getting rid of the 4.3 cents federal gas tax. That won't help consumers who have seen a gallon of gas double in price. And it would cost California alone over $1.7 billion over the next 2 years in funds to build and maintain our roads and bridges. This funding has provided for the installation of call boxes on Highway 166 near Santa Maria and will support the widening of the dangerous Highway 46 near Paso Robles in my district.

Others have advocated more oil drilling off the California coast. This would be a huge mistake—most of the oil there is for making roads and tar, not gasoline. And new oil drilling threatens to devastate the local economy and environment.

Mr. Chairman, we need to take some serious steps to address high gas prices and I am deeply disappointed that the House will only be allowed to vote today on one, largely symbolic gesture. The American people deserve a lot more than that.

HONORING ALICE RUMBAUGH

HON. LORETTA SANCHEZ

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 23, 2000

Ms. SANCHEZ. Mr. Speaker, I proudly recognize a wonderful citizen and community member from my Congressional District in California. Alice Rumbaugh will be recognized this weekend by the Sister City Association of Garden Grove.

This is a local grassroots, citizen-directed effort to promote international understanding and build bridges between communities. The association carries on a relationship with Garden Grove's sister city, Anyang, South Korea. In a city that is home to so many Korean Americans, the association is to be commended for its work.

And it is clear why Alice Rumbaugh was chosen for this honor. Alice is a master teacher who has proved her dedication to teaching our children to appreciate Hispanic culture. She was key to the establishment of the Spanish culture program at Pacific High School, a program that now travels throughout the district.

Alice's colleagues, and all our city students, are fortunate to have the opportunity to take advantage of these resources and of Ms. Rumbaugh's tireless work.

She is an award-winning educator, a master educator who has never given up in her efforts to inspire and empower her students. She is also known for her work as a mentor and a peer leader among her colleagues. Ms. Rumbaugh has been honored repeatedly for her innovation and excellence in her field.

Mr. Speaker, I want to thank Alice for her work. I am proud to honor her in Congress today.

SALUTING THE NCAA DIVISION III NATIONAL CHAMPION CALVIN COLLEGE KNIGHTS

HON. VERNON J. EHLERS

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 23, 2000

Mr. EHLERS. Mr. Speaker, it is with great pleasure that I rise today to honor the NCAA Division III National Basketball Champion Calvin College Knights from Grand Rapids, Michigan. The Knights capped off their magical season on March 18, by defeating a very strong and talented Wisconsin-Eau Claire squad in the championship game, 79–74. The Knights finished their dream season with a 30–2 overall record enroute to the school's second national basketball title.

Under the tutelage of fourth-year Head Coach Kevin VandeStreek and assistants Tim VanDyke and Chris Fear, the Knights provided excitement every time they hit the floor this season. Not only did these young men provide numerous memorable moments for the Calvin faithful, they did so with a strong sense of teamwork both on and off the floor.

Members of the 1999–2000 Calvin College Knights include Kyle Smith, Bryan Foltice, Jon Potvin, Aaron Winkle, Dave Bartels, Nate Burgess, Nate Karsten, Tim Bruinsma, Jason DeKuiper, Jeremy Veenstra, Brian Krosschell, Nick Ploegstra, Jon VanderPlas, Derek Kleinheksel, Josh Tubergen, and Rob Dykstra.

National championships are becoming the norm at Calvin College. In addition to the men's basketball championship, the women's cross country team has captured national titles the past two seasons. And if there were a championship for fans, Calvin would also be in the running for that title. Calvin College fans, also known as the best fans anywhere, are also to be commended for the tremendous support they provide to the student-athletes that represent Calvin College.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me today in saluting these young men for their fine conduct and stellar play throughout this storybook season. Not only did they serve as fine representatives for Calvin, they also served as ambassadors for all of West Michigan and for their league, the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Congratulations and best wishes to everyone associated with the Calvin College Knights!

TURKEY REMAINS A STRATEGIC U.S. ALLY

HON. ROBERT WEXLER

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, March 23, 2000

Mr. WEXLER. Mr. Speaker, President Clinton's trip to South Asia, home to one-fifth of the world's population and to two nuclear powers, reminds us of the volatility of the world around us. It reminds us as well of our obligation, as the world's remaining superpower and as the world's greatest exponent of democracy, to seek a strengthening of the democratic principles wherever we are.

Over the years, we have forged a network of allies who have shared this burden with us, often at considerable human and economic cost to themselves. Few of our allies have been as important to us as Turkey.

During the Cold War era, Turkey guarded NATO's southern flank. For five decades, Turkey stood as a bulwark against the Soviet Union's southern expansion. Its soldiers stood side by side with ours in Korea and its land was utilized by our armed forces for bases.

During the Gulf War, Turkey was integral to our strategy for blunting and then defeating the aggression launched by Saddam Hussein. Turkish bases were the launching pad for the northern attacks and our large base at Incirlik continues to offer protection for Iraqi opposition as part of Operation Northern Watch. Turkey's alliance with us cost it $35 billion in foregone trade and pipeline fees—a sum whose equivalence in the U.S. context would be $900 billion.

Today, even as the Cold War is a decade gone, Turkey remains one of our most steadfast and crucial allies. Their contributions to the United States, and the policies we seek to implement remain crucial to us. Let me offer several examples:

Turkey is the only secular democracy in the Islamic world. At a time when Islamic fundamentalism and its attendant anti-American stance are on the rise, Turkey provides a model for the co-existence of Islam and a pluralistic society.

Turkey is central to the containment of Saddam Hussein and ultimate removal of him from office. There can be no successful anti-Saddam strategy without the full involvement and support to Turkey.

Turkey was the first Muslim nation to recognize Israel and remains one of only a few Muslim nations to establish full diplomatic relations with that nation. The two have forged close military and political linkages that serve as a means to help bring peace and security to the Middle East.

Turkey will be home to new pipelines carrying oil and gas from the Caspian Basin to U.S. and Western markets. Turkey is integral to our long-term energy security.

Turkey is partnering with the United States in an effort to provide economic and technical
