EXTENSIONS OF REMARKS

IN RECOGNITION OF NURSING HOME WEEK

HON. ROBIN HAYES

OF NORTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, May 15, 2000

Mr. HAYES. Mr. Speaker, today I recognize National Nursing Home Week and pay tribute to the health care professionals who work in nursing homes across the country. The average life span of Americans has extended over 10 years in the past century due to advancements in health care and our increased knowledge of our own well being. With more Americans living longer, our society is having to meet the needs of caring for our older citizens.

Thousands of hardworking men and women are looking for affordable, quality health care for their older friends and relatives who need additional medical attention. Nursing homes provide stable and caring environments for seniors to receive the medical attention they may need, while maintaining a community feel.

The unsung heroes of this profession are the people that work in nursing homes. These tireless dedicated professionals and volunteers form a network of caring support in our Nation's vast health care system and deserve special recognition. There is one specific nursing home in my district in North Carolina, Five Oaks Nursing Home in Concord, whose nursing staff is exceptional in their care for Five Oaks residents.

We in Congress need to fundamentally change the way health care for senior citizens is administered. Medicare, as it is structured now, will not support the millions of baby boomers who will be in need of nursing home services in the 21st century. I will continue who work for a Medicare system that will support our health care providers and will not compromise the quality of care for our seniors.

I'd like to voice my appreciation for the nursing home care givers in North Carolina and across the nation for their continued efforts to improve the quality of life for all Americans.

HONORING THE GLENSIDE FIRE COMPANY ON ITS 100TH ANNI-VERSARY

HON. JOSEPH M. HOEFFEL

OF PENNSYLVANIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, May 15, 2000

Mr. HOEFFEL. Mr. Speaker, today I congratulate the Glenside Fire Company on its 100th anniversary. The town of Glenside was founded in 1888 when Philadelphians sought residential summer homes in the newly developing suburbs of Montgomery County.

Glenside was a small town of fewer than 200 inhabitants 100 years ago, but with the advent of the railroad the town began to flourish. In February 1900, W.T.B. Roberts,

George D. Heist, and Frederick Smith led an initiative to create a local volunteer fire department. By March the fire company was officially founded. On May 17, 1900, the county officially granted the Glenside Fire Company a charter.

The Fire Company progressed quickly. In June 1900, the company's first foreman and assistant foreman were elected. The fire-fighters bought a wagon with a hose and constructed a fire alarm by striking the rim of a steam locomotive with a sledgehammer.

The Glenside Fire Company set up a temporary location near Mount Carmel Avenue and Easton Road. It was in 1901 the Weldon Hotel caught on fire and the company made its first official response. By 1907, the company established a permanent location about 100 feet away from its present location.

In the past 100 years, many dedicated people have volunteered at the Glenside Fire Company. I am proud to have such an extraordinary Fire Company in my district. This anniversary should serve as a long-standing tribute to hard work and dedication for all who have made the Glenside Fire Company the wonderful organization it is.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION—VOTE CLARIFICATION ON H.R. 701—THE CONSERVATION AND REINVEST-MENT ACT (CARA)

HON. LARRY COMBEST

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Monday, May 15, 2000

Mr. COMBEST. Mr. Speaker, I submit for the RECORD a clarification of my vote during final passage of H.R. 701, the Conservation and Reinvestment Act. Mr. Speaker, during final passage, I was gathering together Members of the House Agriculture Committee to catch a flight to Idaho for a committee field hearing. I mistakenly voted "yea" when I intended to vote "no" on final passage.

Let me clearly state for the record my opposition to H.R. 701 is due to the concerns I have over its impact on private property rights, federal budgeting, and the troubling shift in policy to acquire more federal land instead of properly maintaining what the United States government already owns. During consideration of H.R. 701, I supported numerous amendments that sought to remedy these concerns and improve the bill. Unfortunately, the measure in its final form was still not a bill that I could support and is why I intended to vote "no" on passage. I would ask that this statement follow debate on H.R. 701 in the permanent CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

Again, I regret this error and appreciate the opportunity for clarification.

IN HONOR OF THE 100TH ANNIVER-SARY OF LOYOLA SCHOOL

HON. CAROLYN B. MALONEY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, May 15, 2000

Mrs. MALONEY of New York. Mr. Speaker, today I pay special tribute to an exceptional independent school in the New York Metropolitan Area as it celebrates its 100th Anniversary. The Loyola School is a prime example of independent and progressive education at its best.

Loyola school is an institution filled with rich history. It was founded by a most visionary educator, The Reverend Neil McKinnon, S.J. In October of 1900, McKinnon, Pastor of the Parish and founding Principal of the school, opened the door to eight young men of various ages and academic readiness. Since its conception 100 years ago, the school has survived and thrived through its early days of struggle, the depression, two World Wars, rising educational costs, and the struggle to maintain the ever important Jesuit tradition.

Throughout its history the school has overcome a century filled with challenges in order to encourage and establish the highest of educational and religious standards. The Loyola School strives to provide every student with an excellent education complimented by diverse and enriching extra-curricular activities.

Loyola is nationally recognized as a School of Excellence and regionally respected as one of the finest independent schools in the Metropolitan area. They enjoy success in sports, both old and new. To complement the success of the staff and students, the school also enjoys a growing endowment and an expanded faculty. All of these factors have proven successful to the students.

In addition to the excellence of the staff and student body, Loyola school also enjoys the convenience of new network wiring and learning curriculum to incorporate technology into a vibrant and interesting juxtaposition of traditional heritage and forward-thinking education.

Loyola's rich history provides the school with a promising future. The school now educates some 200 of the brightest boys and girls in a comprehensive program which works to mold its young individuals into conscious, competent and compassionate graduates. Their hope is to enrich students with intellectual ability, religious clarity, and a commitment to justice. The graduates of Loyola move forward armed with the "strength from the past and faith in the future." I ask my colleagues to join me in commending the faculty, students and individuals involved in creating and maintaining the standard of excellence at The Loyola School.

PERSONAL EXPLANATION

HON. LYNN C. WOOLSEY

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, May 15, 2000

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Speaker, on Wednesday, May 10, 2000, I missed rollcall vote No. 154. Had I been present, I would have voted "yea" on this procedural vote on H.R. 3709, the Internet Nondiscrimination Act.

While I regret my absence from the floor, I was at the White House with the President and many of my Democratic colleagues speaking out on the need for prescription drugs for our seniors. Nearly every day I receive letters and calls from individuals in the North Bay who are worried if Medicare will be there when they need it. That's why I have consistently been pushing the Republican-led Congress to consider legislation to protect the future of the Medicare Program and expand Medicare to cover medications. It is my hope that the Republican leadership will open the debate so that we may consider meaningful health care reform for Medicare beneficiaries. With a projected Federal budget surplus, it only makes common sense to make the Medicare Program a top priority. I look forward to working with the President and my House colleagues to make this happen.
