

BASS) for his efforts on a companion House bill. Both of these men are to be congratulated for constructing this commendable piece of legislation.

S. 1367 is a simple bill that would modify the boundary and increase appropriations for the Saint-Gaudens National Historic Site in the State of New Hampshire. Dedicated to the great American sculptor Augustus Saint-Gaudens, this historic site was the first park dedicated to an artist. Authorized in 1964, the site consists of 150 acres of land, 11 historic buildings, 15 acres of wetlands, 2.5 miles of trails, and a large collection of the artist's original artworks.

This is a good bill that will help bring much-needed improvements to one of our Nation's most unique and beautiful national historic sites.

I urge my colleagues to support S. 1367.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, we support S. 1367, the boundary changes to Saint-Gaudens National Historic Site.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) that the House suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill, S. 1367.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the Senate bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

INDIAN LAND CONSOLIDATION ACT AMENDMENTS OF 2000

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I move to suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill (S. 1586) to reduce the fractionated ownership of Indian lands, and for other purposes.

The Clerk read as follows:

S. 1586

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Act may be cited as the "Indian Land Consolidation Act Amendments of 2000".

TITLE I—INDIAN LAND CONSOLIDATION

SEC. 101. FINDINGS.

Congress finds that—

(1) in the 1800's and early 1900's, the United States sought to assimilate Indian people into the surrounding non-Indian culture by allotting tribal lands to individual members of Indian tribes;

(2) as a result of the allotment Acts and related Federal policies, over 90,000,000 acres of land have passed from tribal ownership;

(3) many trust allotments were taken out of trust status, often without their owners consent;

(4) without restrictions on alienation, allotment owners were subject to exploitation and their allotments were often sold or disposed of without any tangible or enduring benefit to their owners;

(5) the trust periods for trust allotments have been extended indefinitely;

(6) because of the inheritance provisions in the original treaties or allotment Acts, the ownership of many of the trust allotments that have remained in trust status has become fractionated into hundreds or thousands of undivided interests, many of which represent 2 percent or less of the total interests;

(7) Congress has authorized the acquisition of lands in trust for individual Indians, and many of those lands have also become fractionated by subsequent inheritance;

(8) the acquisitions referred to in paragraph (7) continue to be made;

(9) the fractional interests described in this section often provide little or no return to the beneficial owners of those interests and the administrative costs borne by the United States for those interests are inordinately high;

(10) in Babbitt v. Youpee (117 S. Ct. 727 (1997)), the United States Supreme Court found the application of section 207 of the Indian Land Consolidation Act (25 U.S.C. 2206) to the facts presented in that case to be unconstitutional, forcing the Department of the Interior to address the status of thousands of undivided interests in trust and restricted lands;

(11)(A) on February 19, 1999, the Secretary of Interior issued a Secretarial Order which officially reopened the probate of all estates where an interest in land was ordered to escheat to an Indian tribe pursuant to section 207 of the Indian Land Consolidation Act (25 U.S.C. 2206); and

(B) the Secretarial Order also directed appropriate officials of the Bureau of Indian Affairs to distribute such interests "to the rightful heirs and beneficiaries without regard to 25 U.S.C. 2206";

(12) in the absence of comprehensive remedial legislation, the number of the fractional interests will continue to grow exponentially;

(13) the problem of the fractionation of Indian lands described in this section is the result of a policy of the Federal Government, cannot be solved by Indian tribes, and requires a solution under Federal law.

(14) any devise or inheritance of an interest in trust or restricted Indian lands is a matter of Federal law; and

(15) consistent with the Federal policy of tribal self-determination, the Federal Government should encourage the recognized tribal government that exercises jurisdiction over a reservation to establish a tribal probate code for that reservation.

SEC. 102. DECLARATION OF POLICY.

It is the policy of the United States—

(1) to prevent the further fractionation of trust allotments made to Indians;

(2) to consolidate fractional interests and ownership of those interests into usable parcels;

(3) to consolidate fractional interests in a manner that enhances tribal sovereignty;

(4) to promote tribal self-sufficiency and self-determination; and

(5) to reverse the effects of the allotment policy on Indian tribes.

SEC. 103. AMENDMENTS TO THE INDIAN LAND CONSOLIDATION ACT.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to the rule, the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) and the gentleman from California (Mr. GEORGE MILLER) each will control 20 minutes.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG).

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, S. 1586, the proposed Indian Land Consolidation Act Amendments of 2000, would reduce the fractionated ownership of Indian trust lands.

Fractionated ownership describes the division of ownership of a parcel of land among a large number of individuals. This has become a significant problem as Indian owners have died without wills and the undivided ownership of those parcels has passed to multiple heirs. In many instances, parcels of lands are owned by several hundred individuals, some of whom are unaccounted for and cannot be located.

The administration of these lands by the Federal Government has become very expensive and extremely complicated.

The Indian Lands Consolidation Act has been amended on various occasions. Unfortunately, the Supreme Court has found a portion of the 1928 act to be unconstitutional.

S. 1586 is intended to prevent further fractionation of Indian trust lands, consolidate fractionated interests, and vest beneficial title to fractionated lands in tribes.

It allows tribes to adopt their own probate codes and to probate the estates of their members in their tribal courts.

S. 1586 would also add new sections to create a pilot program for the acquisition of fractional interests. These provisions are intended to compliment the pilot program started in 1994 to solicit input on how to address land fractionation. S. 1586 requires the Secretary to continue this project for 3 years and then report to Congress on the feasibility of expanding the program.

Mr. Speaker, may I say this is an issue that has caused great concern. I have had calls from Secretary Babbitt and this administration and previous administrations that support this legislation because it is very nearly impossible for the agency, the BIA, or any form of the Interior Department to manage these fractionated lands. Consequently, there are many things that cannot be done that should be done especially for the natives themselves.

So I urge passage of this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. GEORGE MILLER of California. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of S. 1586 and urge my colleagues to support this legislation along the lines that the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) has explained it.

Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I yield back the balance of my time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The question is on the motion offered by the gentleman from Alaska (Mr. YOUNG) that the House suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill, S. 1586.

The question was taken; and (two-thirds having voted in favor thereof) the rules were suspended and the Senate bill was passed.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.
