

million barrels a day from Saddam Hussein.

So if the President was to do that, it would be a terrible travesty; it would be wrong for the people and wrong for Alaska. But, most of all, it would be wrong for the people that are buying oil from abroad.

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, what is missing from all of this discussion is the fact that all of us, every American, is interested in environmental quality. We do not want anything but clean air and clean water and a good area in which to live. But we are in a state of almost-crisis now where we have to talk about survival and meeting the needs of the American family.

I am talking about the basic needs of the American family. That is why we have to put the environmental concerns on an equal balance, not on a priority, and try to develop our resources as we need them.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, we can do both. As the gentleman from Pennsylvania knows, in Alaska we have a bigger caribou herd, more wildlife, a better environment just from the development of Prudhoe. And I say this can happen again in ANWR.

But more than that, if we want to see environmental damage, do not have the energy available and keep being dependent upon those countries overseas.

I keep stressing the fact that now, this year, remember gas was $2 per thousand cubic feet last year; this year, right today, it is $9.42. That means the average home buying gas today, their heating bill will go up 300 percent this winter. And that is a jolt economically, and it also means we are running out of natural gas because we have not been allowed to develop those fields in the lower 48.

So Alaska has got gas and we want to sell it to you, but the fact is we ought to be developing those gas fields in Wyoming, Montana, New Mexico, and, yes, in Pennsylvania, they have gas in Pennsylvania, and go after those fields so we can have it available for the constituents that my colleague and I serve.

Mr. GEKAS. Mr. Speaker, we are not adverse to developing a plan of tax incentives to give our fellow Americans, the entrepreneurs, the incentive to go ahead and drill where they might fail; but we ought to give them that incentive to do so and to otherwise bring technology into place for the development of all these resources.

Mr. YOUNG of Alaska. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank the gentleman for doing this tonight on the floor of the House. I do appreciate his bringing this to light.

He is from Pennsylvania. I am from Alaska. We recognize the need for an energy policy. Hopefully this new Congress and with the new President, this Nation will come forth with an energy policy that can deliver the needed Btus to every family and improve the way we live today and not have anyone suffer.
