

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Virginia?

There was no objection.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

A message from the Senate by Mr. Lundregan, one of its clerks, announced that the House disagrees to the amendment of the Senate to the concurrent resolution (H. Con. Res. 290) "Concurrent resolution establishing the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year 2001, revising the congressional budget for the United States Government for fiscal year 2000, and setting forth appropriate budgetary levels for each of fiscal years 2002 through 2005", agrees to the conference asked by the Senate on the disagreeing votes of the two Houses thereon, and appoints Mr. KASICH, Mr. CHAMBLISS, Mr. SHAYS, Mr. SPRATT, and Mr. HOLT, to be the managers of the conference on the part of the House.

YOUNG ROLE MODELS

(Mr. GIBBONS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GIBBONS. Mr. Speaker, this week three youngsters from Sparks, Nevada, were honored as national winners of Make a Difference Day, the largest national day dedicated to helping others.

Ten-year-old Crystal DeRuisse, her 8-year-old brother Trevor, and her friend, 10-year-old Diana Vaden, started a simple crafts project. They collected oval-shaped rocks, painted them to resemble ladybugs, and sold them at local community craft fairs.

This simple project has become a local phenomenon in a nationally-recognized charity. When Diana's mother became ill with lupus last year, the students began to sell their rocks at the local stores, donating all of their proceeds to the Lupus Foundation. To date, they have raised about $1,500 for lupus research, and plan to generate at least $1,000 more in sales by Christmas.

In addition, as national finalists, an award of $10,000 will go directly to the Lupus Foundation on their behalf.

It is truly an honor for me to recognize these young individuals, who have given so much of themselves to such a worthy cause. These young children are truly the real role models for all America.

COMMENDING COMMISSIONER CHARLES ROSSOTTI FOR CREATING PARTNERSHIP BETWEEN IRS AND NATIONAL CENTER FOR MISSING AND EXPLOITED CHILDREN

(Mr. LAMPSON asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. LAMPSON. Mr. Speaker, each day in the United States, 2,200 children are reported missing to the FBI's National Crime Information Center. Our colleagues have helped to raise the level of awareness about missing children by featuring their photos on franked mail and newsletters. Hundreds of corporations do their part. President Clinton mandated the posting of missing children's photos in Federal buildings.

Today I commend Commissioner Charles Rossotti of the IRS for creating a new partnership between his agency and the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children. All tax forms and publications this year feature the pictures of missing children where blank space once appeared. The IRS estimates that up to 600 million images of missing children are being featured.

The National Center reports that one in six missing children is recovered when someone recognizes their photo, and we are optimistic that many children featured in the new IRS program will make their way home as a direct result.

Mr. Speaker, please join me and the Members of the Missing and Exploited Children's Caucus in applauding Commissioner Rossotti for his leadership in bringing the pictures of these children to such a large audience simply by taking advantage of available space.

On behalf of all the families of missing children from our respective districts, we thank you.

IN SUPPORT OF DR. LAURA

(Mr. BARTLETT of Maryland asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BARTLETT of Maryland. Mr. Speaker, I have a button which I sometimes wear. It says, "Politically Incorrect and Proud of it." I probably ought to be wearing that button tonight, because what I am going to say is going to be deemed politically incorrect by some.

You see, I rise in strong support of Dr. Laura. Mr. Speaker, under the guise of freedom of speech, my children and my grandchildren are put into a sea of filth and violence on television and the Net. Yet, when Dr. Laura recapitulates spiritual and moral values espoused by countless civilizations through millennia of time, pagans and Christians and Jews and Muslims, she is accused of hate speech.

Mr. Speaker, I proudly rise to defend Dr. Laura and her right to freely express her religious convictions, her deeply held religious convictions, without fear of being called a bigot. If her rights are denied, all our rights are at risk.

THE CENSUS AND URGING MEMBERS TO JOIN IN RESOLUTION SALUTING MINORITY VETERANS

(Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. JACKSON-LEE of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise for two reasons this evening. First of all, I ask Americans not to forget the Census. On April 16, we will have Census Sunday in my district, where I hope all of our religious communities and all those who will be gathered under one roof will realize the importance of one vote, one person, and realize they should be part of the count and not part of the undercount.

So many of our men and women have served the United States military so that we might be free. The Census is one exercise that the United States partakes in to ensure that all Members of this Nation are counted. So I hope that those who have not sent in their forms will realize that this is a part of the obligation of being here in the United States, to be counted.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, I hope my colleagues will join me in supporting House Resolution 98 to salute and give appreciation to all of the minority veterans that served in World War II, African-Americans, Hispanics, Native Americans, who, because of discriminatory laws in the United States, were not fully acknowledged.

We appreciate all who served in World War II and who gave their lives in sacrifice, but we hope we will be able to honor them on a day of honor, May 25, 2000.

(Mr. DIAZ-BALART addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

PRESCRIPTION DRUG COVERAGE

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Washington (Mr. BAIRD) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. BAIRD. Mr. Speaker, I come before the House today to talk about one of the most serious issues affecting senior citizens and families across the country. That is the skyrocketing cost of prescription drugs and the lack of affordable health coverage for seniors.

Too many of our Nation's senior citizens are forced to make an impossible choice each month about whether they buy the food they need, pay to heat their homes, or pay for the prescription medication that will keep them alive and keep them healthy.

Mr. Speaker, in the richest country in the history of the world, it is simply wrong to force our senior citizens to make that choice. I am sure Members have noticed this giant pill bottle. The size of this pill bottle reflects the escalating costs of prescription medications in our country.

Mr. Speaker, next week I will travel throughout my district and invite senior citizens to bring to me their prescription medications, their prescriptions, and the bills they pay for them. Mr. Speaker, we are going to fill this prescription bottle with those medication receipts, and we are going to bring it back to this body and demand action.

Mr. Speaker, too many senior citizens in this country are making a choice, a terrible choice that they should not have to make. This body has now been in session more than 15 months. We have talked about naming post offices, we have traveled back and forth across the country to vote on silly suspension bills, in some cases.

What have we not voted on? We have not voted on any substantive legislation, not one piece of substantive legislation to lower the cost of prescription medications or to provide meaningful health insurance to our senior citizens.

Mr. Speaker, we must not apply a placebo false fix to this problem. We must provide a real prescription on the House of Representatives to solve a real problem that is affecting our senior citizens' health and well-being every day.

Mr. Speaker, when I am in my district next week, I want hundreds of senior citizens to come out. I want to share with Members a story. We asked many of our seniors to share with us what they are paying for prescription medication. I was particularly moved by the story of Ms. Gwen Blackman of Longview.

This is what she wrote to me recently. She is receiving $650 per month for social security disability payments, but Mr. Speaker, she must pay $360 of that per month for prescription medications. How does she do that? Mr. Speaker, she does not do that. What she is forced to do is, on some months, go without her medication.

The richest country in the history of the world, we have senior citizens not able to pay for the medication they need because we have done nothing to control the escalating costs of prescription medications, and we have done nothing substantive to provide meaningful, meaningful and real affordable health insurance that includes prescription medications for our seniors.

This House has before it several bills. I am not taking a position tonight on exactly which bill we must pass. But, Mr. Speaker, we must have this debate, and we must not pass a placebo designed to make us feel like we have done something without doing something.

I hope senior citizens from around this country will look at this giant prescription bottle and say I am going to follow the example of that Member of Congress, I am going to send my Member my prescription medication bottles. I am going to send them the receipts and say, "Sir or Madam, what would you do if you were in my shoes, and what will you do as an elected Representative to solve this problem."

IN DEFENSE OF DR. LAURA SCHLESSINGER

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. PEASE). Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Maryland (Mr. BARTLETT) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. BARTLETT of Maryland. Mr. Speaker, Americans must speak up for freedom of speech, freedom of religion, and traditional morality by defending Dr. Laura's TV show against politically correct antibigotry bigots. That is why I would like to read into the RECORD excerpts from an excellent column from the April 8 issue of World magazine by noted professor of journalism, Marvin Olasky. The article is entitled, "Support Dr. Laura: Don't back GLAAD, get mad at the anti-bigotry bigots."

Now I quote, "Long-time World readers know that I advocate political alliances between religious conservatives and libertarians, and social-issue alliances between biblical Christians and theologically conservative Jews and Muslims. We need such alliances, I believe, because God has not placed us in the ancient land of Canaan, the theme park that Israelites were told to make their own. Instead, Christians are called to live amid sin in a modern Babylon. . . ."

"Dr. Laura Schlessinger has reportedly surpassed Howard Stern and even Rush Limbaugh as the most-listened-to radio person. She regularly reaches over 20 million radio listeners on 450 stations in the United States and Canada with a message that emphasizes biblical morality. More Americans may soon hear that message: Paramount recently signed up 85 percent of U.S. television markets to air her hour-long talk format television show. But homosexual activists are now campaigning to stop her influence from expanding further. . . ."

"Dr. Laura (now 53 years old) has become an Orthodox Jew—and that means she has increasingly presented an Old Testament-based critique of homosexuality. To those who disagree she says, rightly, 'I am reiterating what God said. To them, that makes me 'hateful.' I'm sorry—talk to God about it.' Since groups like GLAAD, the Gay and Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation, don't want to talk to God about it, they have instead put pressure on Paramount to stop the Dr. Laura television show before it starts. GLAAD's posture is ironic in one respect; as Dr. Laura told our reporter Lynn Vincent earlier this year, 'I think it's quite fascinating that a group that's talking about civil rights wants to curtail my right to make a living, speak my point of view, and to have my religious convictions.'"

"Www.stopdrlaura.com, one of the new attack websites, bills itself as 'a coalition against hate.' The Stop Dr. Laura movement lists e-mail addresses and phone and fax numbers for the Paramount offices, giving homosexuals and their apologists an easy way to
