To the Congress of the United States:

As required by section 410(c) of the National Emergencies Act, 50 U.S.C. 1641(c) and section 204(c) of the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (IEEPA), 50 U.S.C. 1703(c), I transmit herewith a 6-month periodic report on the national emergency with respect to Sudan that was declared in Executive Order 13067 of November 3, 1997.

WILLIAM J. CLINTON,
THE WHITE HOUSE, May 17, 2000.

RESPONDING TO CHALLENGE ISSUED IN OTHER BODY

(Mr. HAYES asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. HAYES. Mr. Speaker, I come to the floor today to respond to a challenge issued in the other body, the Senate.

Mr. Speaker, during the course of debate, the Democrat Senator from Iowa issued a challenge to Republican lawmakers. The Senator challenged any takers to a contest in trap shooting.

He said, and I quote, I take a back seat to no one in being a legitimate hunter. I hunt every year. I've hunted since I've been a kid. I'll take on anyone over there in trap shooting.

Mr. Speaker, the Congress and the Senate gathered on Monday to have a shoot-off. We had great competition. Conservation was the beneficiary.

I gladly accept the senior Senator from Iowa's challenge and will be glad to meet him for a charity shoot-off event. I look forward to coordinating this with him.

PREVIEW OF UPCOMING SPECIAL ORDER REGARDING PNTR FOR CHINA

(Mr. DREIER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. DREIER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to inform my colleagues that after we get through the wonderful 5-minute special orders that people are going to be delivering here, I am going to take an hour or a good part of that 1-hour to talk about the single most important vote that will be casting this year, and that is whether or not we are going to pry open the markets with 1.3 billion consumers in the People's Republic of China so that our workers can export goods and services and other great things, including American values, into that very repressive society in the People's Republic of China.

We have got a lot of very, very interesting things, so I want to encourage my colleagues who are here in the Chamber to stay because it is going to be a very, very enlightening special order that I plan to deliver.

TRIBUTE TO HONORABLE PATRICIA A. HEMANN

(Mrs. JONES of Ohio asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. JONES of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor a very special constituent and friend of mine, the Honorable Patricia A. Hemann, magistrate judge of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio on the occasion of her receipt of the Ohio Women's Bar Association's Justice Alice Robie Resnick Award of Distinction. The award is the OWBA's highest award for professional excellence.

Pat Hemann was the first woman magistrate judge of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio. Previously she was in private practice for 11 years, litigating complex cases and becoming a member of the board of directors of Hahn, Loeser & Parks, LLP in Cleveland.

At the same time she actively mentored women and minorities, taking on issues that were vital to their inclusion in the legal community. In 1991, she along with Justice Alice Robie Resnick and another attorney, Pam Hultin, founded the Ohio Women's Bar Association.

It gives me great pleasure to rise today and join with the OWBA in congratulating Judge Hemann and wishing her continued success.

Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor a very special constituent and friend of mine, The Honorable Patricia A. Hemann, magistrate judge of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio, on the occasion of her receipt of the Ohio Women's Bar Association's Justice Alice Robie Resnick Award of Distinction. This award is the OWBA's highest award for professional excellence and is bestowed annually on a deserving attorney who exhibits leadership in the areas of advancing the status and interests of women and in improving the legal profession in the state of Ohio. It gives me great pleasure to wish Judge Hemann my warmest congratulations on this truly special occasion.

Patricia Hemann was the first woman magistrate judge of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio. Previously, she was in private practice for 11 years, litigating complex cases and becoming a member of the Board of Directors of Hahn, Loeser & Parks LLP in Cleveland.

At the same time, Judge Hemann actively mentored women and minorities, taking on issues that were vital to their inclusion in the legal community. In December 1991, Judge Hemann, along with The Honorable Alice Robie Resnick and Cleveland attorney Pamela Hultin, founded the Ohio Women's Bar Association. The OWBA is the only statewide bar association within Ohio solely dedicated toward advancing the interests of women attorneys while encouraging networking and the creation of statewide mentor program for women attorneys.

Judge Hemann volunteers at the Cleveland Public Schools and is also active in the Cleveland Bar Association as a trustee and as chair of the Justice for All Initiative.

Today, May 17, 2000, OWBA President Jami Oliver will be presenting Judge Hemann with the Ohio Women's Bar Association's Justice Alice Robie Resnick Award of Distinction at its annual meeting in Toledo, Ohio.

It gives me great pleasure to rise today, Mr. Speaker, and join the OWBA in congratulating Judge Hemann and wishing her continued success.

AGAINST PNTR FOR CHINA

(Mr. TANCREDO asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks and include extraneous material.)

Mr. TANCREDO. Mr. Speaker, I have in front of me a letter from the Reserve Officers Association of the United States to the gentleman from Virginia (Mr. WOLF). I would like to refer to excerpts from it and then enter it into the RECORD.

DEAR CONGRESSMAN WOLF: Just within the past few weeks, China has made military threats against Taiwan and threatened military action against the United States if we defend Taiwan. Just 4 years ago, China fired several live missiles in the Taiwan Strait, necessitating deployment of two American carrier groups to the area.

A report issued last month by the CIA and the FBI indicates that Beijing has increased its military spying against the United States. Less than a year ago, the Cox Committee reported that China stole classified information regarding advanced American thermonuclear weapons.

Additionally, Beijing has exported weapons of mass destruction to Iran and North Korea, in violation of treaty commitments. Finally, China's record of human rights abuses is well documented.

A recent Harris Poll revealed that 79 percent of the American people oppose giving China permanent access to U.S. markets.

RESERVE OFFICERS ASSOCIATION OF THE UNITED STATES,
Washington, DC, April 27, 2000.

Hon. FRANK R. WOLF,
House of Representatives,
Washington, DC.

DEAR CONGRESSMAN WOLF: The Reserve Officers Association ("ROA"), representing 80,000 officers in all seven Uniformed Services, is concerned about the proposal to grant Permanent Normal Trade Relations ("PNTR") to China.

ROA acknowledges the importance of our relationship with China, including our growing economic ties to China. Nevertheless, ROA believes that it would be a mistake to grant PNTR to China at this time. The annual process of reviewing trade relations with China provides Congress with leverage over Chinese behavior on national security and human rights matters. Granting PNTR would deprive Congress of the opportunity to influence China to improve its human rights record and behave as a more responsible actor on the national security stage.

Just within the past few weeks, China has made military threats against Taiwan and threatened military action against the United States if we defend Taiwan. Just four years ago, China fired several live missiles in the Taiwan Strait, necessitating a deployment of two American carrier battle groups to the area.

A report issued last month by the CIA and FBI indicates that Beijing has increased its military spying against the United States.

Less than a year ago, the Cox Committee reported that China stole classified information regarding advanced American thermo-nuclear weapons.

Additionally, Beijing has exported weapons of mass destruction to Iran and north Korea, in violation of treaty commitments. Finally, China's record of human rights abuses is well documented.

A recent Harris Poll revealed that fully 79% of the American people oppose giving China permanent access to U.S. markets until China meets human rights and labor standards. On this issue, Congress should respect the wisdom of the American people. Now is not the time to grant Permanent Normal Trade Relations to China.

Sincerely,

JAYSON L. SPIEGEL,
Executive Director.

TRIBUTE TO WAYNE SHACKELFORD

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. COLLINS) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. COLLINS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a friend and colleague, one of the most outstanding transportation leaders in the Nation, Wayne Shackelford, Commissioner of the Georgia Department of Transportation. Commissioner Shackelford is retiring from the Georgia DOT in June, though he is a man of much energy and many talents who clearly will not retire from his involvement with the transportation community.

Wayne Shackelford has served as Commissioner of the Georgia DOT since 1991. During this time, he has guided the State, the region and the Nation through a decade which has experienced immense growth with massive demands on transportation and infrastructure requiring new and innovative solutions.

Commissioner Shackelford met the challenges head-on. He is a man who chose to personally be involved in developing solutions for congestion and gridlock and exploring transportation alternatives.

Under the leadership of Commissioner Shackelford, Georgia has repeatedly been cited as having one of the most outstanding highway systems in the Nation. And as the State experienced explosive growth, the Commissioner worked to develop plans for commuter rail, light rail, increased intercity rail and improved bus service. With Georgia being one of the first States to have construction plans halted due to nonconformity with the Clean Air Act, Commissioner Shackelford worked with Federal, State and local officials to determine how best to meet both transportation and environmental demands.

As if these challenges were not enough, during his tenure the Centennial Olympic Games were held in Atlanta and under Commissioner Shackelford's leadership, the most comprehensive traffic and incident management system in the world was developed for the event.

Commissioner Shackelford also has been a leader in aviation. Well before Hartsfield Atlanta International Airport became the busiest airport in the world, he was an outspoken and vigorous supporter of the airport, recognizing its contribution to jobs and the economy of the State and entire Southeast. He has been an active supporter of general aviation and regional airport development and was involved in the development and implementation of the 1998 governors regional airport enhancement program to bolster small airports across the State of Georgia.

From Georgia to the Nation's capital and all across the country, Wayne Shackelford's involvement in transportation activities has earned him the admiration and respect of transportation officials at every level. Georgians were proud that one of their own was selected as President of the prestigious American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials. Heading this national association, whose membership is composed of highway and transportation officials from each State, Commissioner Shackelford worked closely with his peers and colleagues, administration officials and Members of Congress to shape transportation policies for the 21st century, benefiting all States and particularly Georgia.

He also served as Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Transportation Research Board, perhaps the foremost national organization involved in transportation research, renowned for its professional and balanced approach to the issues. Commissioner Shackelford also served as National President of the Southeastern Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials as well as Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Intelligent Transportation Society of America.

As one can imagine, Commissioner Shackelford has also received innumerable citations and awards for his contributions to the transportation arena through the years. The record is clear that Commissioner Shackelford is one of the most outstanding officials in his field. However, it is the person of Wayne Shackelford that causes so many of us to hold him in such high esteem. He has always taken the time to listen and to answer. Though we have served in opposite political parties, he has always done everything possible he could to help.

He is known for a forceful voice that booms above most others, yet his attitude is just the opposite. He is known for treating others with the highest respect and regard. He has reached out to those representing every viewpoint, to bring about cooperation and coordination in the best interests of the citizens of Georgia and beyond.

So, Mr. Speaker, today it is my great pleasure to pay tribute to Wayne Shackelford, for the outstanding job that he has done, and for the awards, the citations and the offices which he has held. But, Mr. Speaker, more importantly, I pay tribute not to just his professionalism, but to Wayne Shackelford, the person. I am proud to have worked with him on behalf of the citizens of Georgia, and I am proud to consider him a friend.

SHOW OF FORCE WAS NOT NECESSARY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Tennessee (Mr. DUNCAN) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. DUNCAN. Mr. Speaker, a few days ago on this floor I mentioned that most polls showed that the people thought that Elian Gonzalez should be
