

court. Because the last increase in the maximum compensation level was enacted 14 years ago, federal and community defenders are forced to seek payment waivers in a significant number of cases. As a consequence, judges are forced to spend more time acting as an administrator (attending to ministerial matters) and less time acting as a judge (attending to their civil and criminal dockets). The amendment remedies this problem.

In addition, the amendment contains a provision designed to address the growing trend of Criminal Justice Act ("CJA") panel attorneys being subject to unfounded suits by the defendants they formerly represented. Under current law, CJA panel attorneys must pay their own legal expenses in defending malpractice suits brought by former clients. The result is a chilling effect on the willingness of attorneys to participate as CJA panel attorneys—a chilling effect that serves only to make the obtaining of adequate representation for defendants more difficult. Under current law, the Director of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts is authorized to provide representation for and indemnity to federal and community defender organizations for malpractice claims that arise as a result or furnishing representational services. No such provision, however, is made for CJA panel attorneys. The amendment rectifies this situation and provides CJA panel attorneys with the same protection afforded other federal defenders.

Importantly, the amendment contains provisions designed to assist handicapped employees working for the federal judiciary. These provisions bring the federal judiciary into alignment with the Executive Branch and other government bodies.

The amendment also contains a provision extending for four years the authority of the U.S. Supreme Court Police to provide security beyond the Supreme Court building and grounds for Justices, Court employees, and official visitors. Under current law, this authority will terminate automatically on December 29, 2000. Because security concerns of the Justices and employees of the Supreme Court have not diminished, it is essential that the off-grounds authority of the Supreme Court Police be continued without interruption.

I have touched on only a few of the provisions contained in this amendment. This amendment sets forth a number of other provisions designed to improve judicial financial and personnel administration, judicial process, and other court-related matters. Each of these provisions is intended to enhance the operation of the federal judiciary. It is my hope that my colleagues in the Senate will agree to this amendment quickly, that the House will do likewise, and that this legislation will be signed by the President in short order.

Mr. SESSIONS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the amendment be agreed to, the committee amendment, as amended, be agreed to, the bill be read the third time and passed, the motion to reconsider be laid upon the table, and that any statements relating to the bill be printed in the RECORD.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The amendment (No. 4332) was agreed to.

The committee amendment in the nature of a substitute, as amended, was agreed to.

The bill (S. 2915), as amended, was read the third time and passed.
