RECOGNIZING THE PIZZA FACTORY

HON. GEORGE RADANOVICH

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 1, 2001

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the Fowler Pizza Factory for being named Business of the Year. The Fowler Chamber of Commerce will present the award to the Pizza Factory at Fowler's annual Community Recognition Banquet.

Tim and Denise Hamblet are the proprietors of the Fowler Pizza Factory. From 1986 until 1998 the Hamblets owned and operated a heavy equipment business in San Bernardino. Denise also worked for several car dealerships during that time. A Hamblet family friend, who had bought the Pizza Factory in Firebaugh, persuaded the couple to look into the Fowler franchise. The couple liked the Pizza Factory and decided to buy the restaurant and relocate.

Since the fall of 1998, the Hamblets have developed the Fowler restaurant into the fourth-rated franchise out of about 100 in the entire chain.

Tim has served on the Fowler Planning Commission. Denise has plans to become involved in various community activities in Fowler. Both are originally from Southern California. They were married in 1973 and have 3 children.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize Fowler Pizza Factory for their Business of the Year Award presented by the Fowler Chamber of Commerce. I urge my colleagues to join me in wishing the Hamblet family and Fowler Pizza Factory many more years of continued success.

TRIBUTE TO HERBERT PUNDIK

HON. TOM LANTOS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 1, 2001

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, I invite my colleagues to join me today in paying tribute to Mr. Herbert Pundik—a man who has dedicated his life to promoting greater understanding and tolerance between people of different cultures, especially the Palestinians and the Israelis. His commitment to humanism and his many commentaries have had a great influence in both his native Denmark and his adopted Israel.

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Pundik was only 16 years old when he himself was a victim of intolerance and racism. Born September 23, 1927, in Copenhagen, Mr. Pundik was brought up in a Jewish family, and he was only 12 years old when the Nazis invaded Denmark on April 9, 1940. Initially the occupation did not bring much change to lives of the Danish Jews as the Danish government and the Danish laws remained in effect until August 29, 1943, ensuring, among other things, that no Jew in Denmark ever had to wear the yellow star.

On October 1, 1943, the Nazis decided to round up all the Danish Jews and deport them to concentration camps. Fortunately, G.F. Duckwitz, a German diplomat with contacts among the Danish Social Democrats, tipped off the leading Danish Social Democrat, Hans Hedtoft, regarding the deportation. Hedtoft quickly alerted the Jewish community, and a spontaneous and courageous rescue action developed among Danes. During the evacuation Mr. Pundik and his family, along with most other Danish Jews, were transported by fishing vessel to neutral Sweden. In 1945 Mr. Pundik joined the Danish voluntary forces in Sweden (Den Danske Brigade), and when Denmark was liberated in May of that year, he returned to Denmark to complete his high school education.

Mr. Speaker, Herbert Pundik recently wrote a book published in November 1998 about the incidents surrounding the great rescue of the Danish Jews—In Denmark it Could Not Happen. I urge all my colleagues to read this book to learn the details of how the Danish population courageously committed themselves to common human decency and saved virtually their entire Jewish community.

Mr. Pundik later went to Israel, where he was a member of the Israeli voluntary forces from 1948–49 when Israel fought its war of independence. He returned briefly to Denmark and married Susie Ginzborg in 1951. In 1954 they immigrated to Israel where they raised their three children. Their oldest son was killed as a soldier in the 1973 Yom Kippur War. Another son was one of the two Israelis who initiated the Oslo peace talks between the Israelis and Palestinians.

Professionally Mr. Pundik pursued a career as a journalist. He was a co-founder and editor of the Danish periodical Israel, and through the years he has worked at both Danish and Israeli newspapers covering major international crises such as the Vietnam War, the Kashmir conflict, and the Middle East struggle. In 1963 he began working as an international correspondent for one of the largest Danish newspapers Politiken and in 1967 he became a permanent employee. Three years later he was promoted to editor-in-chief. Under terms of a unique agreement, Mr. Pundik managed Politiken for 23 years, commuting forth and back between Denmark and Israel each month and spending roughly three weeks in Copenhagen and one week in Tel Aviv.

Mr. Speaker, Mr. Pundik's dedication to human rights and tolerance has earned him many prizes—among those are honorary citizenship of Latvia in 1991 because he was the first person to suggest that Denmark send a cultural representative to Latvia, even though the country was then technically a part of the Soviet Union. In 1993 Mr. Pundik retired from his position as editor-in-chief at Politiken, but he has continued his humanitarian efforts. He is a member on the board of Politiken, the coordinator for the International Alliance for Arab-Israeli Peace and a member on the board of directors of Humanity in Action, an exchange student program with participants from the U.S., the Netherlands, and Denmark.

Mr. Speaker, often in today's world too much attention is focused on the violent aspects of society. Today however, we have the opportunity to pay tribute to an extraordinary man who is a consistent and eloquent advocate for peace and tolerance. Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in recognizing Mr. Herbert Pundik.

RECOGNITION OF THE SERVICE OF RABBI MARVIN BASH

HON. JAMES P. MORAN

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 1, 2001

Mr. MORAN of Virginia. Mr. Speaker, I rise today on the occasion of the retirement of Rabbi Marvin Bash to extend my sincere thanks to him for his service to the Eighth District of Virginia. For more than thirty-five years, Rabbi Bash devoted himself to the Arlington-Fairfax Jewish Congregation as Arlington's only congregational rabbi, making him the longest serving active congregational rabbi in the Metropolitan Washington area. As a community leader and activist, he led his community in a fight for civil rights, support for Israel, Jewish education, and tolerance. He taught our children, cared for our sick and elderly, and served as an example of moral leadership to all of us. I am honored to be a part of this celebration of his service. I send Rabbi Bash warm wishes for a blessed retirement and hope that his time as Rabbi Emeritus will be filled with the return of the love and support he has given his community.

NAVAL AIR STATION JACKSONVILLE COMMUNITY SERVICE PROGRAM

HON. ANDER CRENSHAW

OF FLORIDA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 1, 2001

Mr. CRENSHAW. Mr. Speaker, this week I had the honor of participating in the Annual Volunteer Service Recognition Program held at Naval Air Station Jacksonville, Florida. The event was held to thank and acknowledge departments and residents commands at NAS Jacksonville for the volunteer work their personnel gave to the local community this past year.

The NAS Jacksonville community service program falls under the larger Navy Community Service Program. The NCS program was developed by the Chief of Staff of the Navy in 1992 to expand the role of Navy military and civilian personnel by encouraging community service projects and partnerships that strengthen the academic and personal growth of local youth.

During calendar year 2000, military and civilian personnel of NAS Jacksonville contributed 434,457 hours of volunteer service to the Jacksonville community. As recently as last year, the House Armed Services Committee discussed a certain disconnect that has developed between American society and the United States military. The NCS program was designed to break down those barriers and enable military and civilian military personnel to interact with their local communities in constructive ways.

The Jacksonville community is a wonderful example of a strong partnership between the United States armed forces and their neighbors. The military and civilian personnel at NAS Jacksonville wholeheartedly embraced the opportunity to build a sense of community between themselves and the Jacksonville community.

Today, our youth are exposed to many aspects of life that have potentially negative repercussions on their social decisions. Military and civilian personnel from NAS Jacksonville have become role models to local youth through teaching, coaching, and offering advice. Local families can feel more confident about the decisions their children are making, NAS Jacksonville personnel are given the opportunity to discuss how they contribute to the national security of the United States and society is strengthened by the strong community bonds developed.

Mr. Speaker, in closing I would like to commend the volunteers of the Navy Community Service Program and thank the military and civilian personnel at NAS Jacksonville for their tireless commitment to their local community.

HONORING BOY SCOUT TROOP 76 OF WILMINGTON ISLAND

HON. JACK KINGSTON

OF GEORGIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 1, 2001

Mr. KINGSTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor a great achievement by Boy Scout Troop 76 of Wilmington Island, which is in my district. I believe that the Boy Scouts of America play a wonderful role in the life of many young men throughout our nation. The life lessons and morals taught by this organization should be heralded daily by all of us. What happened at a recent outing of Troop 76 to the Delta Plantation in Hardeeville, South Carolina is proof of this.

In late March, Boy Scout Troop 76 went on a weekend camping trip to the Delta Plantation, a privately owned 1600 acre tract of land in Hardeeville, South Carolina just outside of Savannah. The area is completely unspoiled and teeming with wildlife.

During the weekend, the owner of the property approached the Scout Troop and informed them that an American Bald Eagle was injured and stuck in the marsh nearby. One of the troop leaders, Will Jarvis, and several of the older Scouts went to help.

Upon their arrival at the scene, they found a baby American Bald Eagle in the marsh struggling to escape. Disregarding their own safety, Will and several of the Scouts went into the alligator and snake invested water to help the scared animal. The eagle was wrapped in a blanket and rushed to the only veterinarian who is allowed to treat endangered species. The eagle is currently under the doctor's care where it will be nursed until it can be safely released.

I believe that this is a perfect example of what Scouting is all about. If it were not for these Boy Scouts' quick response and disregard for their own personal safety, we would have lost yet another of an already endangered species. I applaud Boy Scout Troop 76 for their bravery and I applaud the Boy Scouts of America for what they teach.

TRIBUTE TO PROFESSOR HELLE
PORS DAM

HON. TOM LANTOS

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 1, 2001

Mr. LANTOS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to a most talented and remarkable Danish scholar—Professor Helle Porsdam. Professor Porsdam is affiliated with the University of Southern Denmark, Odense and is a well known scholar and commentator on American society. Her most recent publication is Legally Speaking: Contemporary American Culture and the Law, which offers an insightful analysis of American culture and discusses the social impact of law in the United States.

In addition to her outstanding scholarship, Dr. Porsdam is known for her involvement in human rights. She was instrumental in the creation of the European Master's Degree in Human Rights and Democratization in 1997. Some 90 students from the 15 European Union partner universities earn this Masters degree after a year of intensive study.

This summer, Dr. Porsdam will be one of the Danish Speakers at the Humanity in Action Program (HIA), which conducts two educational programs that run simultaneously in both Denmark and the Netherlands. Some 20 students from the United States participate together with 10 students from both host countries. HIA has been established in association with Johns Hopkins University and in cooperation with the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. The goal is to strengthen the participants' commitment to democratic values and broaden their knowledge of the resistance struggle against human rights violations today and in the past. A special focus of the program is the protection of European Jews during World War II.

Mr. Speaker, Dr. Porsdam is an associate Professor of American Studies at Odense, and she holds an M.A. in English from the University of Copenhagen and a Ph.D. in American Studies from Yale University. She teaches American history, and her research interests include American intellectual history, law and American culture, and literature. In 1992–93 she was an American Council of Learned Societies Visiting Scholar and a Liberal Arts Fellow at the Harvard University Law School. She is currently involved in a research Project on Danish legalization as a form of Americanization. In this project Dr. Porsdam explains how the U.S. has exported a tendency to the rest of the world to define major issues in terms of rights.

Dr. Porsdam is an extraordinary scholar and ardent defender of human rights and I urge all my colleagues to join me in paying tribute to her today.

TRIBUTE TO DRINA COLLINS

HON. ZOE LOFGREN

OF CALIFORNIA

HON. MICHAEL M. HONDA

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 1, 2001

Ms. LOFGREN. Mr. Speaker, we rise in gratitude to Drina Collins, who is leaving the Pacific Gas and Electric Company after more than twenty years of service.

Drina Collins has helped the company and the community through countless crises: floods, mudslides, fires and more. Ms. Collins has been the tirelessly cheerful and efficient public face of PG&E for San Jose and Santa Clara County since long before the area was known as the Silicon Valley. During her tenure in the Government Relations department of Pacific Gas and Electric, Ms. Collins managed the public affairs programs, answering questions from customers and elected officials alike with accuracy and enthusiasm.

A glance at Drina Collins' résumé reveals a lifelong commitment to Santa Clara County. Before beginning her job at Pacific Gas & Electric she served as the Chief of Staff for the Honorable Dom Cortese, a Santa Clara County Supervisor. She is currently the Chairperson of the Santa Clara County Redistricting Committee 2000 and the Silicon Valley Economic Development Corporation. Ms. Collins serves on the board of the San Jose Conservation Corps and the Guadalupe River Park and Gardens Corporation.

Drina Collins has a knowledge of and love for Santa Clara County that is unmatched, and we know she will be much missed at PG&E. Moreover, we want to say that we are both grateful to her for her caring friendship and wise counsel through our careers, which we are confident will continue through the years. Our families wish her nothing but the best in the next chapter of her life.

RECOGNIZING JOHN GOODE

HON. GEORGE RADANOVICH

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, May 1, 2001

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize John Goode for receiving the Friend of Fowler Award. The Fowler Chamber of Commerce will present the award to John at Fowler's annual Community Recognition Banquet.

While Mr. Goode currently lives in the Bay Area, he remains involved in Fowler affairs. John regularly contributes to the Fowler High School and Sutter Middle School bands. He has also recently endowed a scholarship in memory of his parents to the University of California, for which preference is given to Fowler High graduates. He plans to host the 40th reunion of the Fowler High School Class of 1962 in conjunction with the 2002 Fowler Fall festival.

John credits many of the values he learned growing up in the Fowler-area as guides for his career. He has been honored as a "Forbes Honor Roll" winner for his skills in risk management. He has managed the Smith Barney Fundamental Value fund for 10 years. John is currently the chairman and chief investment officer of Davis Skaggs Investment Management.

Mr. Speaker, I rise to recognize John Goode for his Friend of Fowler Award presented by the Fowler Chamber of Commerce. I urge my colleagues to join me in wishing John Goode many more years of continued success.
