STATEMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Mr. THOMAS (for himself and Mr. HELMS):

S. 322. A bill to limit the acquisition by the United States of land located in a State in which 25 percent or more of the land in that State is owned by the United States; to the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce the no net loss of private lands bill. This legislation has to do with acquisition of lands by the Federal Government, particularly lands to be acquired by the Federal Government in the West. This is a commonsense proposal, I believe, to Federal land acquisitions in public land States of the West.

The Federal Government continues to acquire large amounts of land throughout the Nation. In many instances, it is justified. There are many reasons why land should be acquired, but there does become a question of how much land in any given State will belong to the Federal Government.

In almost every State, officials and concerned citizens are saying we need to address this question of public land needs before we continue to increase the holdings of the Federal Government. The Federal Government is not always the best neighbor of the people in the West, largely because so much land in our States—in my State, 50 percent of the State—belongs to the Federal Government. Even though everyone wants to protect the lands, and that is an obligation we all have, we also have an opportunity for the most part to use these lands in multiple use. We should be able to have both access for hunting, fishing, grazing, for visitation and camping, and use the lands for other economic activity in such a way that we can protect the environment.

What we have run into from time to time is the effort to lock up the public lands and restrict access. We find this happening in a number of ways, including excessive emphasis on roads, where people cannot have access to the lands they occupy.

Interestingly enough, we hear from all kinds of people. Often they say it is the oil companies. As a matter of fact, it is often disabled veterans. For example, they say they would like to go into the back country and get into some of the public lands, but if we don't have highway access for doing that, it is impossible.

This setting aside and this decision-making that comes from the top down creates great hardships for many local communities, destroys jobs, and depresses the economy in many places around the West. As we provide funds—and there is always a proposition to provide automatic funding for acquisition—it threatens the culture, it threatens the economics of many of our States and local governments, and the rights of individual property owners throughout the Nation. Even this proposed language would put constraints on mandatory spending and Federal land acquisition. If we don't do that, we will see it increasing at a faster and faster pace.

How does it work? The bill limits the amount of private land the Federal Government acquires in States where 25 percent or more now belongs to the Federal Government. When a Federal Government has reason, and they will have reasons to purchase 100 acres or more, it will require disposing of an equal value of amount away from Federal ownership. If there is 40-percent Federal ownership in your State, and there were good reasons to acquire more, there would have to be an exchange of lands so the 40-percent factor continues.

Fifty percent of Wyoming and much of the West is already owned by the Federal Government. Many people throughout the country don't realize that. They know about Yellowstone Park. But much of the State was left in Federal ownership when the homestead proposition was completed and these lands were never really set aside for value of the land. They were just there when this homestead stopped. They came under Federal ownership, not because of any particular reason but because that is the way it was at that time.

I think it is time for the Federal Government to make a move to protect private property owners and use restraint in terms of land acquisition. The no net loss of private lands acquisition bill will provide that discipline. As I mentioned, this amendment does not limit the ability to acquire pristine or special areas in the future, areas that have a particular use and that use should be under Federal ownership. They can continue to acquire more land in many areas. But in order to do that, as I mentioned, there would have to be some trading.

Regarding the Federal land ownership pattern, I suppose many people expected more, but in Alaska almost 68 percent of the State belongs to the Federal Government. Even in Arizona, as highly populated as it is, almost half, 47 percent, is Federally owned. In Colorado, it is 36 percent; in Idaho, 61 percent of the State is in Federal ownership; the number in Montana is 28 percent, and Nevada is 83 percent federally owned. Really, you could make a case that much of this land could be better managed by local or State governments or if it were in the private sector. In New Mexico, the percentage of Federal land ownership is 33 percent; Oregon, 52; Utah, 64; Washington, 29; and Wyoming, 49 percent.

So we are talking about providing an opportunity for the Federal Government to continue to acquire those lands if there is good reason to do that, but to recognize the impact that it does have on private ownership, on the economy, and on the culture of the states. We have some offsets.

In our State, we have 23 counties. They are quite different, but in some of those counties—for instance, my home county, ark County, Cody, WY, which is right outside of Yellowstone Park—82 percent of that county belongs to the Federal Government. In Teton County, next to Yellowstone, it is 96 percent. Four percent of Teton's land is in non-Federal ownership.

I think this is a reasonable thing to do. It certainly does not preclude the acquisition of lands the Federal Government has a good reason to acquire. It simply says if you want to acquire some, let's take a look at the other 50 percent that you already own of the State and see if we can't dispose of something in equal value.

By Mr. SHELBY:

S. 324. A bill to amend the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act, to prohibit the sale and purchase of the social security number of an individual by financial institutions, to include social security numbers in the definition of nonpublic personal information, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

Mr. SHELBY. Mr. President, I rise today to introduce the Social Security Privacy Act of 2001. This legislation would prohibit the sale and purchase of an individual's Social Security number by financial institutions and include Social Security numbers as "nonpublic personal information" thereby subjecting the sharing of Social Security
