Mr. PORTMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Robert H. Castellini, a friend, community leader and accomplished businessperson who will have the honor of being inducted into the Greater Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky Business Hall of Fame on September 26, 2002. Bob is being honored for his outstanding business and community leadership.

Bob is a Cincinnati native. He graduated with a Bachelor of Arts from Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., in 1963, and went on to earn his M.B.A. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1967. After earning his M.B.A., he served in the U.S. Army for 2 years until 1969.

From 1970 to 1992 he was President and CEO of the company, and, from 1992 to the present, he has served as the company's Chairman of the Board of Directors. Under his leadership, the firm experienced significant growth, becoming one of the premier fresh produce distribution firms in the Midwest.

The Castellini Company is one of Cincinnati's oldest companies. It was founded in 1896 by Bob's grandfather, Joseph J. Castellini. Bob has been with the company for over 35 years, and his outstanding leadership and hard work are directly responsible for its continued success.

Bob also has been very active in our community. He serves on the board of directors of several Greater Cincinnati privately-held corporations. He also is a member of the Chief Executives Organization and the Cincinnati Business Committee in addition to serving on the Board of Trustees for the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center, Xavier University, the Good Samaritan Hospital, and the Cincinnati Art Museum. In addition, Bob has received a number of other honors and awards including the Distinguished Service Citation Award from the National Conference for Community and Justice; the People of Vision Award from Prevent Blindness of Southwest Ohio; and the Founders Award from Xavier University.

AMERICAN FRONTIERS: A PUBLIC LANDS LEGACY

HON. GEORGE RADANOVICH

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, September 24, 2002

Mr. RADANOVICH. Mr. Speaker, America has an important shared legacy in its parks, forests and other public lands. They bring us close to the natural world and its wildlife; contribute to physical and mental health; add to our understanding of history and culture; and provide important economic opportunities to many communities across the West. Unfortunately, not enough people understand the multiple facets of America's public lands. As Chairman of the National Parks Subcommittee, I am happy to see a major effort being mounted to address this issue. "American Frontiers: A Public Lands Journey" is a 3,000-mile expedition currently being undertaken by two teams of adventurers. They are crossing only public lands and waters in six states, by foot, horseback, mountain bike, canoe, SUV and boat. Their two month journey will culminate in Salt Lake City on September 28, 2002, National Public Lands Day. Along the trail, they are sharing dispatches and individual journals relating their experiences and impressions of the public lands by videophone and through an interactive Internet website located at www.americanfrontiers.net. These communication efforts are especially directed at America's youth. I applaud the efforts of Public Lands Interpretive Association, which has spearheaded this project, along with the many dedicated individuals, volunteers, and sponsors of this impressive journey. I look forward to hearing more about their experiences in America's national parks.

IN HONOR OF DENA MALLACH

HON. ROBERT MENENDEZ

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, September 24, 2002

Mr. MENENDEZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Dena Mallach for her outstanding service as Executive Director of the Jewish Family and Counseling Service (JFCS) of Jersey City, Bayonne, and Hoboken. Mrs. Mallach was awarded the 2002 Mary T. Norton Memorial Award on September 17, 2002, at the United Way Kick-Off, which was held at the Crowne Plaza in Secaucus, New Jersey.

Mrs. Mallach has devoted her life to the care of others. Her inspiring credentials include being trained a disaster mental health worker within the Red Cross system, her work in child protective and developmentally disabled youth services, on a crisis intervention team, and over fourteen years of experience at the JFCS, where she was appointed Executive Director in September, 2000.

Some of her most admirable feats have come at the darkest of times. She volunteered in the recovery efforts of countless local disasters, such as the deadly Seton Hall fire, and in numerous national emergencies, such as Hurricane George. And when her country needed her most, she worked tirelessly to help the families and colleagues of the victims of the terrorist attacks on America. In addition to personal care, she directed the opening of a branch office in Hoboken after 9/11 and brought aid and advocacy services to the distressed residents.

This award is given in recognition of the deep commitment to human services exemplified by Congresswoman Mary T. Norton. It recognizes women who have made outstanding contributions to the success of programs both in their community and throughout the nation.

Today, I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring Dena Mallach for her selfless dedication and volunteerism in her community and beyond.

HON. ROB PORTMAN

OF OHIO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, September 24, 2002

Mr. PORTMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to Ross Love, a friend, community leader, and accomplished businessperson who will be inducted into the Greater Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky Business Hall of Fame on September 26, 2002. Ross is being honored for his outstanding business career, which includes leadership roles at the Procter & Gamble Company, Blue Chip Broadcasting, and Blue Chip Enterprises.

Ross was born and raised in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and graduated from Syracuse University in 1968 with a Bachelor of Arts. Shortly after earning his degree, Ross began a very successful career with Procter & Gamble, where he worked for 28 years in marketing and advertising. After running a number of the company's key brands, he was appointed Vice President of Advertising and oversaw the marketing of Procter & Gamble's products for 10 years.

In 1995, Ross founded Blue Chip Broadcasting, which initially included an investment in just one radio station. By the time he sold Blue Chip Broadcasting last year, he had grown the company into a 19-station group—the second largest African-American owned radio broadcasting company in the United States. Currently, Ross is the President and CEO of Blue Chip Enterprises, a company he founded in 2001. Blue Chip Enterprises has helped increase the number of African-American owned businesses in the Cincinnati region.

Even while achieving great business successes, Ross has been active in making our community and our country stronger. Nationally, he led the Partnership for a Drug-Free America in developing virtually all of its anti-drug messages targeted to the African-American community. Among his important local activities, he serves as Vice Chair of the Board of Trustees of the United Way of Greater Cincinnati, and as Co-Chair of Cincinnati Community Action Now (CAN).
