TRIBUTE TO ARCHBISHOP
MOELLER HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT GOVERNMENT

HON. BOB SCHAFFER

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 21, 2002

Mr. SCHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to the Archbishop Moeller High School Student Government and its moderator Brother Robert Flaherty, S.M. The Moeller Student Government is an outstanding organization of student leaders at the forefront of youth statesmanship.

Archbishop Moeller High School is a Cincinnati-based all-male Catholic high school. It is among America's finest secondary academic institutions. Operated by the Catholic Archdiocese of Cincinnati, the school is staffed and assisted by the Society of Mary—the Marianists. The school's philosophy is based on the ideas of Father William Chaminade, the founder of the Marianist order.

Moeller has achieved national success in academics and athletics; and, in developing the spiritual character of its students. Christian values, moral integrity, and a properly trained conscience, combined with physical health, intellectual strength, and social responsibility define the men of Moeller. The Moeller Student Government is one place these characteristics come together and are perfected through authentic, meaningful exercises in practical leadership.

Brother Robert Flaherty has moderated the Moeller Student Government for decades. He has shepherded young leaders through character-building trials and errors and developed a program that serves more than the entire school, but the entire community. Under his tutelage, boys are taught the principles necessary in becoming accomplished leaders of men. The program raises, budgets, and appropriates considerable funds needed to support events and activities designed to develop important life skills for the whole school.

Flaherty is a devoted Marianist brother, a dedicated Christian and a great American. He is a compassionate counselor, a professional teacher and a trusted, reliable friend to thousands. He has been the constant guide in the formation of leadership qualities among Moeller's students.

According to its Constitution, the Moeller Student Government was founded in covenant with the school's administration. The student-led organization exists to inform the administration of the needs of the student body, to provide for the student participation in school government, to foster school spirit, to promote the general welfare of the students, and, "in general to further Christianity."

Mr. Speaker, as the 1979–80 student-body president of the Moeller Student Government, I am proud to recognize this outstanding organization for its excellence in leadership and maintenance of various traditions that make Moeller High School a first-class institution. I am personally grateful for the lessons imparted to me by the school's administration and faculty, by my peers, but most of all, by Bro. Flaherty. These instructions and accompanying skills clearly formed the foundation of my own experiences and prepared me to serve in the United States Congress representing the people of the great state of Colorado.

Together with an outstanding team of Freshman Class officers, these men comprise the top leadership of the Moeller Student Government. They are reinforced by other student leaders who represent the homerooms of the entire student body constituting the General Assembly, and appointed chairmen of various student committees.

Mr. Speaker, the House has every right to be proud of the Moeller High School Student Government, Brother Robert Flaherty and the Marianist Community. A splendid example of student leadership and Christian statesmanship, the Moeller Student Government is making a positive difference in the preparation of the nation's future community leaders.

It is upon the basis of these observations and truths that I hereby ask the House to join me in extending warmest congratulations and heartiest commendations to Brother Robert Flaherty, the student-leaders of the Moeller High School Student Government and the entire Moeller family. May they continue to thrive and serve by the blessings of the Almighty God of our country.

ON THE 75TH ANNIVERSARY OF
JEFFERSON DAVIS HIGH SCHOOL

HON. GENE GREEN

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 21, 2002

Mr. GREEN of Texas. Mr. Speaker, I rise to commemorate the 75th anniversary of Jefferson Davis High School, located in Houston, Texas. As a teenager, growing up in Houston's North Side neighborhood, I had the pleasure of attending this fine school.

Opened on November 2, 1926, the first senior class of 38 students graduated on May 30, 1927. Over the decades, this school has excelled in educating our youth, giving them the skills they need to become leaders in the community, city, state, and nation.

The alumni of Jeff Davis are known for a variety of achievements and accomplishments. Many have served with distinction on our local school board, City Council, state legislature, state Supreme Court, and in the U.S. Congress, as well as professionals in all fields—doctors, lawyers, architects, and engineers. It has also produced nationally known entertainers, such as country and western star Kenny Rogers.

In athletics, the fighting Panthers have excelled at every level. Slater Martin led the school to two state basketball championships in 1942 and 1943. He went on to become an All-American at the University of Texas, a key contributor on several championship Minneapolis (later Los Angeles) Laker teams, and is enshrined in the NBA Hall of Fame. In the international sports arena, several boxers from Davis have excelled, including Jesse Valdez, an Olympic bronze medalist in 1960, and Ricardo "Rocky" Juarez, who won the World Championships in 1999 and a silver medal at the 2000 Olympics.

Although our school receives recognition for our famous graduates, the most important accomplishment over the past 75 years is its continued ability to produce educated citizens who are a credit to the community they live in. Jefferson Davis is more than a school. It is a living community of goals, dreams and accomplishments where students are pushed to excel.

In this community, we like to say, "Once a Jeff Davis Panther, always a Jeff Davis Panther." Our alumni are key to our school, and provide critical support to our mission. You can see our graduates in the community, and they are always willing to help, regardless of the task. They serve as examples of what students can do, of what they can become, if they work hard and believe in themselves. In this spirit of giving, and sacrifice, I would note that more than 80 Jeff Davis students have given their lives to protect our freedom in the wars and conflicts of our country.

The demographics of the community have changed over the years, but the commitment to excellence has never faltered. This school community sees a high school diploma not as an end product, but as a stepping stone for higher education. The focus of its program is to prepare students for post-high school education. Recently, 724 students took the PSAT exam in preparation for the SAT that is required for college admission. In partnership with Tenneco, El Paso Energy, and Project: GRAD, graduates can receive a $4,000 scholarship to pursue higher education.

According to the U.S. 2000 census data, only 26 percent of Hispanics who enter college graduate, and the national Hispanic dropout rate is 34 percent. At Jeff Davis, however, a school that is more than 80 percent Hispanic, the dropout rate is less than 1 percent, over half of the students go to college, and 42 percent of those who go to college graduate. Some choose community or local junior colleges, but the list of universities with Jeff Davis alumni includes top-flight schools like the University of Houston, the University of Texas, Texas A&M, Princeton, Duke, Rice, Cornell, and the University of Virginia.

Our school is truly a community of learners. Parents, students, educators, and businesses come together to provide support so that students can succeed. The power of this learning community to realize its potential has remained constant throughout its 75 years. Jefferson Davis High School is successful because it is a vibrant, caring, community that encourages students to not only dream big, but to follow those dreams.

In that way, the first students who walked through these doors in 1926 are not that different from those here in the year 2002. Success is expected, and with support from our community, it is achieved—38 students graduated in 1927, and more than 300 will graduate in 2003. The goals, desires, and dreams of the students is the one constant over that time. I am proud of the progress this school is making, and proud to be a graduate of Jefferson Davis High School.

TRIBUTE TO MR. GILBERTO
MELENDEZ, IN MEMORIAM

HON. FRANK PALLONE, JR.

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 21, 2002

Mr. PALLONE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call the attention of my colleagues to a distinguished gentleman who resided in the 6th District of New Jersey. It is with great respect that I pay tribute to Mr. Gilberto Melendez, who is being honored, In Memoriam, by the Latino American Committee of Monmouth County.

Mr. Gilberto Melendez was born in Fajardo, Puerto Rico on November 1, 1943. He and his family moved to the United States in 1944. His mother, Bernardina R. Melendez, worked as a bookkeeper for the newly founded ASPIRA in New York. He lived in New York until he moved to Neptune in 1968.

In 1973, Mr. Melendez was elected to the Neptune Township Committee and served two, three-year terms. In 1977, he was hired by Monmouth County as Secretary to the County Tax Board, a position that was later changed to County Tax Administrator. In 1979, he served as mayor of Neptune and served on the Planning Board. In March 1991, he was reappointed to the Planning Board of Neptune to serve a two-year term.

Additionally, Mr. Melendez was a member of the Kiwanis Club and the Liberty Fire Department in Neptune as well as the Puerto Rican Civic Association. Gilberto Melendez was a pioneer in the field of politics. He was recognized by County leaders and served as Mayor of Neptune at a time when very few Latinos were active in politics. He is remembered as a tax expert and a fair man who often spoke up on behalf of the average taxpayer.

Gil, as his sister, Elba Figueroa, called him describes him as, "A wonderful brother, always there when he was needed and just as caring as an older brother could possibly be. His sense of humor is what we most remember about him. Our parents brought us up with much love for each other and to love God because without Him we were nothing."

Stories of Mr. Melendez's popularity and compassion were legendary in the county. Friends would say that everywhere he went he knew somebody and everyone loved him.

Mr. Speaker, it is my sincere hope that my colleagues will join me in paying tribute to Mr. Melendez, as the Latino American Committee of Monmouth County honors him, In Memoriam, for his unwavering dedication and commitment to the advancement of Latinos.
